Legislative Journal.

Session 1941.

135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1941.

No. 57,

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 21, 1941.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS offered the following prayer:

Gracious Father in heaven, our need for Thy holy presence is more and more pronounced with each succeeding day, for we need direction and guidance in every phase of our national endeavor.

Make us aware of the dangers which confront us. Help us to see the jeopardizing influences which threaten our liberty. May we realize the enemies both within and without our nation who seek to filch from us our valued independence. Let truth triumph through a direct obedience to Thee and the ideals set forth in Thy holy word. Let the consciousness that it is better to obey than sacrifice saturate our beings.

May that which we do here today be for the utmost good of our people in legislation, thereby fulfilling our sacred trust unto them. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. CHAPMAN and Mr. GELTZ, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

MEMORIALIZING VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION OF UNITED STATES AND FEDERAL BOARD OF HOSPITALIZATION TO ERECT HOSPITAL IN PENNSYLVANIA TO CARE FOR DISABLED
WAR VETERANS

Mr. CAVALCANTE, from the Committee on Military Affairs, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Mallery on May 7, 1941, reported the same without amendment as follows:

In the Senate, May 7, 1941.

The present facilities of the Federal hospitals within the Commonwealth are becoming inadequate to properly care for the veterans in need of hospitalization and medical care.

As this need increases the facilities will become less adequate and those who made the great sacrifice for the Nation will be denied the care and attention they so richly deserve.

An additional veterans' hospital is now needed in Pennsylvania to properly care for the veterans within its borders now requiring skilled medical care and attention.

Any new hospital erected for this purpose should be located in a section of the State not now having such facilities and at a place where the inmates would have the benefit of elevation and the quietness that distance from built-up communities affords; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Veterans' Administration of the United States and the Federal Board of Hospitalization to locate as quickly as possible a hospital in central Pennsylvania to take care of sick and disabled war veterans; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Veterans' Administration, Federal Board of Hospitalization and representatives in Congress from this Commonwealth.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 428, entitled:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Somerset will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, yesterday a number of the Senators engaged in Senate debate around, about and over some of the bills on the Calendar, and the debate went to pretty far limits.

I should like to have the Senators bear with me for just a few minutes on the general subject of defense, about which I want to make some general observations.

I have considerable hesitancy in making these remarks, because what I am going to say is nothing new, but it seems to me that we are missing the fundamentals of this matter, and I think the subject of defense goes much further than the mere supplying of munitions.

In the recent public meeting of the State Council of Defense, stress was laid by the speakers on the fact that the real defense of America must be builded in the various communities all over our country—in the lives of the men and women everywhere, who make up this great nation of ours.

If we give efficient aid to Great Britain promptly, it is unlikely that our homes will be destroyed and our people slaughtered by the merciless rain of destruction poured on us by the air fleets of the barbarous invader, but nonetheless back of the armed forces of our country wherever they may be, must be the united and patriotic support of the citizens generally.

In no other part of the world, in any age of its history, have men and women enjoyed such material well being, such freedom and such happiness as in America. We have come to accept these comforts as commonplace, as our natural due, without too much effort on our part. We have become too selfish and too dependent upon others and upon the State for our means of living. But liberty of action and the benefits and privileges we enjoy were not obtained without a hard and difficult struggle by our ancestors. We have been reaping the fruits of their labor through the centuries since the first colonists landed at Jamestown.

And the fact to remember in all this is that America became great through the development of the individual and by giving full play, within proper limits, to individual effort, initiative and enterprise. As the wall of a building cannot stand if the bricks which compose it crumble and break, so a nation cannot endure if its men and women have lost faith and strength and the capacity for government.

The early settlers of America came not for gold or gain, but to secure the right to worship God in their own way, to educate themselves in their own manner and to govern themselves according to their own desires. To obtain these benefits they were willing to undergo the hardest kind of toil and whatever privations were necessary.

The pattern used by our fathers in the building of America is expressed by Mr. John Boyle O'Reilly in that beautiful poem on the "Pilgrim Fathers." He says, in part:

"Give praise to others, early come, or late,
For love and labor on our ship of state;
But this must stand above all fame and zeal;
The Pilgrim Fathers laid the ribs and keel.
On their strong lines, we base our social health,
The man, the home, the town, the Commonwealth!

We live more luxuriously than we did a quarter of a century ago. Have we, in the process of change, lost something of the fiber and quality which then went to make up manhood and womanhood?

In order to acquire present advantages and benefits we have piled up tremendous debts of our National Government and in our State and local administrations. Have we been fair to our children and grandchildren in subjecting them to the great burdens of taxation which they will have to assume to restore the country to economic health?

It was right and proper to provide that no one in this land of abundance should suffer for want of food and clothing and medical attendance. But relief became a sort of racket administered by bureaus whose interest lay in increasing the rolls of the dependent rather than in aiding the unfortunate temporarily until they had reassumed their proper places in life as partners in a government of the people.

In a time of stress it is necessary to take from those who have in order to relieve the needy, but to redistribute property indiscriminately was fundamentally wrong and if carried to its logical conclusion would have the effect of reducing all to poverty rather than raising permanently the standard of the lower strata of society. It seems to have been forgotten that the right to acquire and possess property is also a human right second only to that of life and liberty.

It was proper for people to organize for their welfare, but to deny men the right to work unless they paid large sums of labor racketeers was tyranny in its worst form, which if continued will lend argument to those who seek to impose autocratic government, and will pull down the whole temple of industry on the workers themselves.

In normal times no one is required to work in any particular line of employment but organized strikes, on account of quarrels between groups of workmen or by reason of some supposed grievance trivial in nature, and which delay the production of defense materials vital to the salvation of the country, are a kind of treason differing only in degree from that of Benedict Arnold.

Business groups and Labor have both been selfish. To prove this one need only refer to the numerous bills which have been introduced in this Session of the Legislature. Read the list of demands upon us as they appear in the Histories of the House and Senate.

It would be refreshing to receive advice upon a bill before us which is not given by one advocating the passage or rejection of the bill because of some personal interest. It should be remembered that the test of a bill is not that it helps one group but that in thus aiding some, it does not hurt others with equal rights.

The foregoing are general observations as to problems which are before us. These problems require wisdom and patience and a due regard for the rights of others in order that they may be solved in proper manner.

If these problems are properly solved they will greatly assist in strengthening America for the demands of this emergency.

By their fortitude in sustaining the ordeal of fire from the skies, the British people have displayed a heroism which will inspire the world as long as the earth shall stand. But to resist the subtle forces which undermine the character and patriotism of a nation when the foe is far distant takes a sort of courage which is really more heroic, if less spectacular.

I, in no manner, speak for the State Council, but I feel each member of this Senate can play an important part in the program for the defense of the Country by his work in the various communities of his district. A bulletin issued by the State Council makes some suggestions as to how each person may help. I trust the members will read it. If they have other thoughts and ideas in this work I know the Director will gladly receive them. I hope all Senators will give this subject thoughtful consideration.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, we always have with us certain Senators of an historical mind; I refer especially to Doctor Chapman, Senator Stiefel and Doctor Mundy—unfortunately Doctor Mundy is not present but I see our distinguished ex-Senator Sipe in the chamber. I am very glad he is present.

The longest continuous performance in government was accomplished in Venice, by the Oligarchy, Council of Ten; that is a very interesting historic fact.

We are now approaching in this country government by a council of ten, in Washington, D. C. The council of ten includes Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt. The president of the United States lost his temper when he called Colonel Lindbergh a copperhead—that was untactful.

The states of the union, of course, under war conditions—under the hysteria at least of war, have become pretty much forty-eight provinces and we do very much as we are told at Washington, D. C.

The criticism I am trying to advance is that our last estate might be worse than our first, if we give Leon Henderson, for instance, illegal power tax.

That is a very good example of what is going on and I therefore simply stand up to supplement the remarks of the gentleman from Somerset, Senator Ealy, our President Pro Tempore; not only supplement but to compliment it—with an “i”—compliment.

INTERROGATION OF THE CHAIR

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I have a somewhat unusual request to make, and it is with fear and trepidation that I ask leave to interrogate the Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Blair may proceed.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I should like to inquire if it is true that the Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth has invited the Members of the Senate to a preview of the great York County Fair on Tuesday evening, May 27.

The PRESIDENT. I do not know that it is a preview. I think the people of York County will be able to demonstrate that, we know how to prepare food down there. The Fair itself has nothing to do with it; it is the President of the Senate, who is also the President of the Fair, and he has a lot more to say at the Fair than he has up here.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the Lieutenant Governor.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Blair may proceed.

Mr. MALLERY. Are all the Members of the Senate invited to this affair?

The PRESIDENT. Everyone.

Mr. MALLERY. Including the Senator from Blair, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Oh, absolutely.

Mr. MALLERY. Then, Mr. President, I desire to call to your attention and to the attention of the Members of the Senate the fact that the Committee on Public Utilities has scheduled for the same evening a public hearing on municipal authorities, and I cannot conceive how that committee can compete with the Lieutenant Governor on that evening. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to change the time of the meeting of the Committee on Public Utilities from Tuesday evening until Monday evening, May 26, at eight o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair requests unanimous consent to second the motion.

It was agreed to.

STATEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to make a statement. Possibly he has transgressed the rules and regulations of this body, but ever since he has been in the Chair he has tried to be fair. It has not made any difference to him what legislation has been before the Senate, whether it effected him, whether he was for or against it; he ruled as he saw fit, and that is what he did yesterday, and that is what he is going to do from now on. One of the Senators, after adjournment yesterday, in a public elevator said, "I burned up Sam Lewis this afternoon; I was right and he was wrong." If that Senator thinks he was right and the Chair was wrong, and he has authority to back it up, the Chair would suggest that he produce his authority and take an appeal from the ruling of the Chair. The Chair does not profess to know it all, but thinks he quoted authority which substantiated his ruling, and the Chair thinks it comes with poor grace for any Senator to make such a statement off the floor, if he has the authority to substantiate his remarks.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am in thorough accord with your remarks, and since one of your rulings was against me, I want it thoroughly understood I am not the author of the remark to which you referred, and I have no appeal to take.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. TAYLOR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 998, entitled:

An Act to authorize the Secretary of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to sell, convey or exchange the Executive Mansion located at Front and Barbara Streets in the City of Harrisburg, County of Dauphin.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 66, entitled:

An Act to further amend the last paragraph of section four hundred thirty-nine of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," imposing additional duties on and providing for additional compensation of veterans' grave registrars.

Senate Bill No. 270, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven hundred and two of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred three), entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class; and amending, revising consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," by authorizing such townships to regulate the use of certain parks and recreational grounds; providing penalties for violation of rules prescribed therefor; and authorizing police officers to arrest violators thereof on view.

Senate Bill No. 447, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Labor and Industry to meet the obligation of the Commonwealth to pay a part of the compensation payable for certain occupational diseases; and repealing and lapsing certain appropriations.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate, signed the same.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 362, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of article four of the act, approved the ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania, and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," changing the required proportion of mine foremen to other persons to be employed in bituminous mines, and providing for the issuance of limited mine foreman's certificate.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 122, as follows:

An Act to amend subsection (b) of and to add subsection (e) to section twenty-eight of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 447) entitled as amended "An act relating to the administration and distribution of the estates of decedents and of minors and of trust estates including the appointment bonds, rights, powers, duties,

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Subsection (b) of section twenty-eight of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 447) entitled as amended (July 2, 1937 P. L. 2755) "An act relating to the administration and distribution of the estates of decedents and of minors and of trust estates including the appointment bonds, rights, powers, duties, liabilities, accounts, discharge and removal of executors administrators, guardians and trustees herein designated as fiduciaries the administration and distribution of the estates of presumed decedents' widow's and children's exemptions debts of decedents rents of real estate as assets for payment thereof the lien thereof sales and mortgages of real estate for the payment thereof judgments and executions therefor and the discharge of real estate from the lien thereof contracts of decedents for the sale or purchase of real estate legacies including legacies charged on land the discharge of residuary estates and of real estate from the lien of legacies and other charges the appraisement of real estate devised at a valuation the ascertainment of the curtilage of dwelling houses or other buildings devised the abatement and survival of actions and the substitution of executors and administrators therein the survival of causes of action and suits thereupon by or against fiduciaries investments by fiduciaries the organization of corporations to carry on the business of decedents the audit and review of accounts of fiduciaries refunding bonds transcripts to the court of common pleas of balances due by fiduciaries the rights, powers and liabilities of nonresident and foreign fiduciaries the appointment bonds, rights, powers, duties and liabilities of trustees durante absentia the recording and registration of decrees reports and other proceedings and the fees therefor appeals in certain cases and also generally dealing with the jurisdiction powers and procedure of the orphans' court in all matters relating to fiduciaries concerned with the estates of decedents" is hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) All powers to sell or let real estate on ground-rent contained in any will shall be deemed and taken to authorize sales conveyances or leases either public or private unless expressly restricted by the said instrument to one or the other mode and even though the will shall direct that the real estate or personal estate be sold at public sale if the executors deem it to the best interest of the state of the decedent to sell the same at private sale they may with the approval of the orphans' court sell said real estate and personal estate or any part thereof at private sale under such terms and conditions and after such reasonable notice to legatees, heirs and other parties in interest as the said court may direct.

Section 2 Section twenty-eight of the said act is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof subsection (e) to read as follows:

(e) In all cases wherein testators shall have devised their real estate or their personal estate or any part thereof to their executor to be sold or shall have authorized or directed such executors to sell and convey such real estate or personal estate or shall have directed such real estate or personal estate to be sold without naming or declaring who shall sell the same if such real estate or personal estate is sold at private sale under the directions contained in said instrument or under the authority of this act the orphans' court having jurisdiction over such sale shall have the power to authorize and approve the sale of such real estate and personal estate or any part thereof to the executor of said will or any one of them under such terms and conditions and after such reasonable notice to legatees, heirs and other parties in interest as it may direct and where the purchaser is the sole executor the court may make an order directing its clerk to execute a deed for said real estate to such purchaser who shall give security and shall account for the amount of said purchase money in the settlement of his accounts to said court.

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall apply to the estates of testators whether dying prior or subsequent to such effective date.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 185, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of, and to add section two and one-tenth to, the act, approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127), entitled "An act relating to adoption," further regulating adoption proceedings as to the consent of, and notice to be given to, parents of the person proposed to be adopted.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 207, as follows:

An Act to further amend subsections (a) and (b) of section one thousand two hundred five of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by further regulating the employment suspension and retirement of professional employees.

Section 1 Subsections (a) and (b) of section one thousand two hundred five of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 482) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

(a) The only valid causes for termination of a contract entered into with a professional employee in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be immorality, incompetency, intemperance, cruelty, persistent, negligence, mental derangement or persistent and willful violation of the school laws of this Commonwealth on the part of the professional employee.

In determining whether a professional employee shall be dismissed for incompetency the professional employee shall be rated by an approved rating system which shall give due consideration to personality preparation technique and pupil reaction in accordance with standards and regulations for such scoring as defined by rating cards to be prepared by the Department of Public Instruction immediately following the effective date of this act and to be revised from time to time by the Department of Public Instruction with the cooperation and advice of a committee appointed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction including representation from county and district superintendents of schools, classroom teachers, school directors, school supervisors and such other groups or interests as the Superintendent of Public Instruction may deem appropriate.

Nothing within the foregoing enumeration of causes however shall be interpreted to conflict with the retirement of professional employees upon proper evidence of disability or the election by professional employees to retire during aid period of voluntary retirement or the authority of the board of school directors (or the board of public education) to require professional employees to retire during said period of voluntary retirement or the compulsion on the part of professional employees to retire at the attainment of age seventy. Provided however, That from the effective date of this act until the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one boards of school directors (or boards of public education) may under the provisions of this section terminate the service of any professional employee who has attained to the age of sixty-eight from the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one until the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-three any professional employee who has attained to the age of sixty-six from the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-three until the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-five any employee who has attained to the age of sixty-four on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-five any professional employee who has attained to the age of sixty-two.

(b) Any board of school directors (or board of public education) may suspend the necessary number of professional employees for the following causes (1) Substantial decrease in pupil enrollment in the school district (2) curtailment or alteration of the educational program on recommendation of the superintendent concurred in by the board of school directors (or board of public education) approved by the Department of Public Instruction as a result of substantial decline in class or course enrollments or to conform with standards of organization or educational activities required by law or recommended by the Department of Public Instruction (3) consolidation of schools whether within a single district through a merger of districts or as a result of joint board agreements when such consolidation makes it unnecessary to retain the full staff of professional employees.

Whenever a board of school directors (or board of public education) decreases the size of the staff of professional employees under the provisions of this act the suspensions to be made shall be determined by the county superintendent of schools or the district superintendent as the case may be on the basis of efficiency rank determined by rating made in accordance with standards and regulations determined by rating cards prepared by the Department of Public Instruction. It shall hereafter be the duty of boards of school directors to cause to be established a permanent record system containing ratings for each teacher employed within the district and copies of all ratings for the year shall be transmitted to the teacher upon his or her request or if any rating during the year is unsatisfactory a copy of same shall be transmitted to the teacher concerned. No teacher shall be dismissed under this act unless such rating records have been kept on file by the board of school directors.

In cases in which suspensions are to be made professional employees shall be retained on the basis of seniority right where no differences in rating are found. Seniority rights shall also prevail where there is no substantial difference in rating. In cases where there are substantial differences in rating of those under consideration for suspension seniority shall be given consideration in accordance with principles and standards of weighting incorporated in the rating cards hereinbefore referred to. Provided, That in cases in which suspensions are to be made during the school term immediately following the effective date of this act professional employees shall be retained on the basis of seniority rights.

No employee suspended as aforesaid shall be prevented from engaging in other occupation during the period of such suspension except that a suspended employee who accepts employment as a professional employee under contract with another school district in which the minimum salary prescribed by law is equal to or exceeds that of the district making the suspension shall thereby lose his or her status for reinstatement in the district in which suspended.

Such professional employees shall be reinstated in the inverse order of their suspension. No new appointment shall be made while professional employees who are properly certified to fill such vacancies and who have been suspended for a continuous period of less than five years are available.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

It was agreed to.

Sections three, four and five were read and agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, speaking on the amendments introduced by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, this has not been a very interesting session and I thought I might make it more interesting by asking the Senator from Cambria what he has against apprentices. My observation is that the apprentices are the most attractive people who are in these beauty parlors, and I do not see why they should be eliminated. I was invited to a dinner party, given by the Board of Education in Philadelphia. We had obtained an extra appropriation for them and they gave us a dinner in the Merle Dobbins Vocational School, and after dinner we were asked if we would like to see the printing establishment, and other departments, and the party seemed to take more interest in the beauty parlor than any other department, so we were taken there.

There were two beauty parlors, one for white women and one for black women. In the beauty parlor for white women, the women were having their hair curled and in the beauty parlor for the black women, they were having their hair uncurled or what is called unkinked.

In the Merle Dobbins Vocational School, these two beauty parlors were beautifully illuminated and the apprentices were working on these victims or beneficiaries, and they were apprentices.

Therefore, Mr. President, I cannot conscientiously support this bill, as I do not understand the Senator's reason for eliminating apprentices.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 529, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to taxation in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth classes; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; creating a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; defining the powers and duties of such boards; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county, borough, town, township, school and institution district purposes; regulating the office of ward, borough, town and township assessors; authorizing the appointment of a chief assessor, assistants and other employees; providing for their compensation payable by such counties and abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsections (a) (b) and (c) of section one thousand two hundred and one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1053) entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities defining as public utilities certain corporations companies association and persons providing for the regulating of public utilities including to a limited extent municipalities engaging in public utility business by prescribing defining and limiting their duties powers and liabilities and regulating the exercise surrender or abandonment of their powers privileges and franchises defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons associations companies and corporations including to a limited extent municipal corporations subject to this act and administering the provisions of this act authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued assumed or kept by persons associations companies corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act conferring upon the commission power to vary reform or revise certain contracts conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction relocation protection or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities and of such facilities by or over public highways to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages providing for ejection proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities imposing upon persons associations companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation the cost of administering this act prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act" as amended by section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of September one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (P. L. 44) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1201 Assessment of Regulatory Expenses Upon Public Utilities (a) Whenever the commission in the performance of its duties under this act shall conduct an investigation of the affairs of any public utility involving an examination of the records or facilities thereof such public utility shall pay to the commission a sum equal to the salaries paid to commission employees while engaged in such examination together with such traveling and subsistence expenses of said employees as may be directly attributable to such examination. Provided however That the amount so assessed against any public utility during any one calendar year shall not exceed one per centum of the gross intrastate operating revenues thereof during the next preceding calendar year. And provided further That whenever the commission shall conduct an investigation of the affairs of two or more utilities jointly the assessment under this subsection shall be prorated among such utilities upon the basis of their gross intrastate operating revenues.

(b) On or before March thirty-first of each year every public utility shall file with the commission a statement under oath showing its gross intrastate operating revenues for the preceding calendar year. Provided however That if any public utility shall fail to file such statement on or before March thirty-first as aforesaid the commission shall estimate such revenues which estimate shall be binding upon the public utility for the purposes of this section. Periodically the commission shall determine the aggregate of its expenditures less (1) amounts assessable under paragraph (a) hereof (2) expenditures for equipment furniture and machinery (3) the estimated cost of regulating municipal corporations furnishing public service and (4) the estimated cost of regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle. The remaining balance shall be so allocated to the groups of public utilities furnishing the various types of service that each group shall have allocated to it (1) an amount equal to the expenditures of the commission directly attributable to the regulation of that group and (2) an amount equal to such proportion of the expenditures of the commission not directly attributable to any group as the gross intrastate operating revenues of the group bear to the total gross intrastate operating revenues of all public utilities. Provided however That there shall be deducted from the allocations to each group an amount equal to the fees paid to the commission by the public utilities in such group under the provisions of sections twelve hundred two and twelve hundred three of this act. Every public utility shall then pay to the commission an amount equal to such proportion of the allocation to its group as the gross intrastate operating revenues of the public utility bear to the total gross intrastate operating revenues of the group.

(c) The commission shall give notice by registered mail to each person or corporation of the amount lawfully charged against him or it under the provisions of this section. Within fifteen days after receipt of such notice the party against which such assessment has been made may file with the commission objections setting out in detail the grounds upon which the objector regards such assessment to be excessive erroneous unlawful or invalid. The commission after notice to the objector shall hold a hearing upon such objections. After such hearing the commission shall record upon its minutes its findings on the objections and shall transmit to the objector by registered mail notice of the amount if any charged against him in accordance with such findings. Each person or corporation shall pay the amount of any such assessment to the commission within thirty days after receipt of notice of such assessment unless objections are filed thereto in which case such assessment shall be paid within ten days after receipt of notice of the findings of the commission with respect to such objections. If payment is not made as aforesaid the commission may suspend or revoke certificates of public convenience certify automobile registrations to the Secretary of Revenue for suspension or revocation or through the Department of Justice may institute an appropriate action at law for the amount lawfully assessed together with an additional cost incurred by the commission or the Department of Justice by virtue of such failure to pay.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 49 CALLED FROM THE TABLE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I now call up at this time, Senate Resolution No. 49, which was laid on the table.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The Resolution was twice read as follows:

MEMORIALIZING VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION OF UNITED STATES AND FEDERAL BOARD OF HOSPITALIZATION TO ERECT HOSPITAL IN PENNSYLVANIA TO CARE FOR DISABLED WAR VETERANS

In the Senate, May 7, 1941.

The present facilities of the Federal hospitals within the Commonwealth are becoming inadequate to properly care for the veterans in need of hospitalization and medical care.

As this need increases the facilities will become less adequate and those who made the great sacrifice for the Nation will be denied the care and attention they so richly deserve.

An additional veterans' hospital is now needed in Pennsylvania to properly care for the veterans within its borders now requiring skilled medical care and attention.

Any new hospital erected for this purpose should be located in a section of the State not now having such facilities and at a place where the inmates would have the benefit of elevation and the quietness that distance from built-up communities affords; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Veterans' Administration of the United States and the Federal Board of Hospitalization to locate as quickly as possible a hospital in central Pennsylvania to take care of sick and disabled war veterans; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Veterans' Administration, Federal Board of Hospitalization and representatives in Congress from this Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President I rise on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. According to the history, Mr. President, this resolution is reposing in the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. MALLERY. It was reported out this afternoon, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. It is then being called up from the table?

Mr. MALLERY. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I have no objection to immediate consideration of the resolution. I understand that this resolution was referred to committee and reported out, precluding the necessity for immediate consideration. Am I correct, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. COLEMAN. So that immediate consideration is not necessary, and the resolution is now before the Senate for action?

The PRESIDENT. That is right.

Mr. COLEMAN. For some time past, at least within the last six or seven years, there has been a great demand for hospitalization for disabled veterans in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Some weeks ago, I noticed that the men in Philadelphia, civic and business men, as well as political leaders of Philadelphia, adopted a resolution asking that the Veteran's Administration in Washington locate within a limited number of miles from Philadelphia a Veterans Hospital, and at that time, Mr. President, I made the statement that I thought the hospital ought to be located in the Mt. Pocono area, one of the most beautiful sections in the State of Pennsylvania, and the type of neighborhood that affords to disabled veterans pure air and a plentiful supply of sparkling pure water, in contrast to the water in Philadelphia that my good friend, the Minority Floor Leader, Senator Shapiro, so aptly characterized as being a chlorine cocktail.

Mr. President, I am opposed to the passage of this resolution and I ask my friends on the Democratic side, and I know that my good friend from Monroe, Senator Crowe, who lives in the Mt. Pocono region and represents that region very ably, incidently, in the Senate of Pennsylvania, will support me in my contention that there is no place in the Commonwealth more conducive to the speedy recovery of veterans who are suffering from tuberculosis than is the area found within the Mt. Pocono region of the State of Pennsylvania.

I do not like to get into a controversy with my good friend, Senator Mallery, with whom I serve on the local government commission, but this is one thing in which we are in complete disagreement.

I think my belief is shared by the people of northeastern Pennsylvania that if there is to be a hospital located in the State of Pennsylvania, there is no better location than in the Mt. Pocono region, where people come from all over, not only the State of Pennsylvania but surrounding states, to breathe in God's pure air and to absorb the warmth of God's sunshine.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to join with me in opposing the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I can remember some time ago when I was deeply immersed in trying to get a bridge for a county, we got into a terrible controversy over where to build the bridge, and the result was we still do not have a bridge.

For about twenty years I have been deeply interested in war veterans' activities, and I have been involved in an attempt to get hospitals in Pennsylvania, and I can appreciate the difficulty of getting the Federal Government or the Veteran's Administration to determine, first, that a new hospital is necessary in the Commonwealth, and then where it should be built, and then we try to get the money appropriated so we can get the hospital built and finished in order to take care of the veterans.

Mr. President, one of the worst things that can happen to this resolution would be to have the people of Pennsylvania get into a territorial fight as to who shall win the hospital. I am not going to quarrel with the health facilities of the Pocono region and specially in Lackawanna County, which is so ably represented here on the floor of the Senate, but I do not want to agree to the belittling of central Pennsylvania, because the people up there are fairly healthy. From out of central Pennsylvania, and especially out in the center counties of Pennsylvania, come healthy groups of boys that engage in what is commonly called the game of football; they have had proud ranking in the Commonwealth for years, and if the Pocono region is half as healthy as all that, now that the hot weather is descending upon us, it would be a good idea perhaps, for the Senator from the Poconos to introduce a resolution adjourning the session of the Legislature up there, where we can all get the benefit of that healthy good air and sunshine.

I would suggest to the gentleman from Lackawanna that he remember the main purpose of this resolution is to get the Veteran's Administration to bring a hospital into Pennsylvania. We have a hospital in western Pennsylvania, and they have a hospital in eastern Pennsylvania, and the object of this resolution is to centralize a hospital in the central portion of Pennsylvania. Now, I think if he will examine this resolution very carefully he will find there is no specific county designated. It says, "Central Pennsylvania" and that covers a lot of counties and a lot of areas, and they are just as healthy and health giving as anything in the Poconos, and I would suggest to the gentleman from Lackawanna that he is seriously endangering this resolution and that his overwhelming enthusiasm and civic pride is overcoming his better judgment.

We are serious in our desire to have this hospital, the veterans need it, realized and I suggest we should get the Veteran's Administration to approve the hospital, and once we get the money appropriated for it, then I would be very happy to let anybody in Pennsylvania decide where it will be built, because it has been my observation that the Veterans' Administration will put it where it will do the veterans the most good.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, as was so ably stated by my colleague from Lackawanna, Senator Coleman, we do have a veterans hospital in the western part of the state and one in the eastern part of the state. Now, Mr. President, my good friend and colleague from Lackawanna, Senator Coleman, tells us about a beautiful place up in the Poconos.

I would like to have him come to Cambria County and see one of the greatest spots in this great nation, where the late Charles M. Schwab had an estate, and I shall say earnestly and frankly I shall do all within my power to have this hospital located in Loretta in Cambria County where Charles M. Schwab had a residence.

I think if my colleague from Lackawanna, Senator Coleman, would come up to Cambria County and look over this site I am quite certain he would agree with me the Poconos would take second place.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this resolution, but there is one word in it I do not agree with, the word "central," because in Berks County we have health resorts where for many years people have come from all over the nation, and today they are so healthy that we do not need those resorts, and the Veteran's Administration is contemplating using them for their Veterans' Hospital, and so, while I intend to vote for the resolution, I do not like the word "central" in there; I think it should just be "Pennsylvania."

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, lest the fifty members of the Senate of Pennsylvania get into an argument about the merits of the respective localities they represent in this august body, I think we ought to heed the admonition of my good friend from Berks, and delete the word "Central."

As I read the resolution, the deletion of the word "central" will end the controversy and the resolution will then impress itself upon the Veteran's Administration that we are anxious and desirous of having a hospital located in the State of Pennsylvania, and rather than get into a quarrel over the location, I suggest that we eliminate the word "central", and then I think the resolution will be in a form that everybody in the Senate of Pennsylvania can vote for it. After all, if the hospital is to be built, and we are definitely certain there will be only one, rather than have the Senate get into a quarrel over its location—it is still a dream of the future that we hope will be brought to realization—I think the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, ought to be willing to eliminate the word "central", and then I am definitely certain there will be a unanimity of agreement on the part of the membership of the Senate upon the passage of this resolution.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I am sorry I cannot acquiesce in the request of the gentleman from Lackawanna, because of the fact, as was stated by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, there are now veterans' hospitals located, one in the eastern part of the state and two in the western part of the state.

Now, Mr. President, everyone knows that I am from Blair County, and as capably as I can, I will look after the interests of Blair County. However, Mr. President, I am not appealing on the floor here that the Veterans' Hospital be located in Blair County.

I had not intended to speak on this resolution at all, but I do object to any change in the resolution, because the Central part of Pennsylvania, as the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, stated, takes in an awful lot of territory.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, pride in the counties that I represent prompts me to say that we too have fine locations in Clearfield and Center Counties for a hospital of this type and I particularly am attracted by this wording in the resolution which says any new hospital erected for this purpose shall be located in a section of the state not now having such facilities.

Mr. President, we in the central part of the state know very well we do not have those facilities there and we need them very, very badly.

I do not want to say, Mr. President, that we should not put this hospital where the Veterans Administration feels it should be placed, and I have no quarrel with the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, in setting forth the advantageous location of the Pocono Mountains—I have no doubt that is a very fine place, but we have mountains and sunshine in Clearfield and Centre Counties, we have fine water in Clearfield and Centre Counties, we have all the advantages a hospital of this kind would need, and we have invited this administration to look over a great many of these locations, and they have viewed them and we feel we have some advantages to offer.

Mr. WOODWARD. The most central part of Pennsylvania, Mr. President at least from a historical aspect, is Philadelphia. I am already in negotiation with the authorities at Washington for the purchase of a piece of land, which belongs to me, in the highest ground of Philadelphia, and while they have been arguing about the Poconos and so forth, I have been making some real progress.

In the event of failure of my offer on a historical basis to interest the veterans who have a lot of leisure time, as we know, might I suggest as a compromise that we take over the Executive Mansion as a hospital for the veterans.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not quite agree with my colleague from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward. I think if we want to compromise on this proposition, since the Governor of this Commonwealth will not give his consent to open up the big sanatorium in Butler County, and the gentleman who represented that county in the past term is sitting in this august body now, I would recommend that we take that building over and make it a hospital site. It is already there and we will not have to spend any more money.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I was standing here awaiting the opportunity to say just what Brother Cavalcante has said.

We have a tuberculosis sanatorium in Butler County, and while it is only forty miles from another veterans' hospital, it does not seem it will be used for anything else, and perhaps we could persuade the Federal Government to take it off the hands of the General State Authority.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, May 21, 1941

The House met at 12 m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

O God, in whose sight we live, and by whose holiness we are judged, we confess unto Thee our false standards of value. So often we are careful about outward things, but neglect inward things. So often we are concerned about outward appearance, and yet Thy Word tells us that Thou lookest upon the heart. Graciously restore unto us our vision, so that we may see aright the things which are truly worthwhile. Help us, we pray Thee, to earnestly seek the better things, the things that are true, and lovely and of good report. Guide us this day, and help us to build our lives upon the foundation that cannot fail. In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. PETROSKY, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. POLASKI and KOMOROWSKI.
(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 95.

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1941.

Whereas, The Polish Army Veterans' Association of America is an organization composed of veterans of the Polish Army, who enlisted as volunteers in 1917 and 1918, from the United States, for service with the Polish forces in France and in Poland; and

Whereas, By special permission of the State and War Departments, and by proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson, the Polish Military Commission was authorized to recruit from among the Poles in the United States Volunteers for the army, after this country entered as a participant in the World War on the side of the Allies; and

Whereas, In addition to the 250,000 soldiers of Polish extraction, who served in the AEF, the Poles contributed some 27,000 volunteers for service with the Polish Army in France who trained at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, at Fort Niagara, N. Y.; and

Whereas, Ninety per cent, of these men saw service in France in 1918 and later in Poland in 1919 and 1920, and upon termination of hostilities between Poland and Soviet Russia, they were returned to the United States, under an agreement between this country and Poland; and

Whereas, In May 1921, the Polish Army Veterans' Association of America was formed in Cleveland, Ohio, for the sole purpose of aiding the physically disabled and otherwise incapacitated veterans; and

Whereas, The task that lay before the founders and succeeding leaders of the organization was tremendous, in as much as neither the American nor the Polish governments felt any responsibility for the care of these unfortunates, for purely technical reasons; and

Whereas, With each succeeding year, the need for aid for these disabled veterans has grown; and

Whereas, This association has found a method of raising funds by adopting the corn flower as its official flower, and selling it on the highways in a manner similar to that in which poppies are now sold; be it therefore

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Governor be requested to issue a proclamation setting aside May 3, 1942, and May 3rd of all succeeding years, as "Corn Flower Day," so that the corn flower may be sold by the Polish Army Veterans' Association of America, and the proceeds of such sales applied to the maintenance and upkeep of disabled Polish war veterans.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Section 6 Except as hereinafter provided unless the Commission shall have taken affirmative action at an earlier time registration shall become effective thirty (30) days after receipt by the Commission of the complete application or renewal application as the case may be and the Commission upon the expiration of such thirty (30) days shall register the applicant The Commission after hearing may by order deny registration of an applicant if the Commission finds that the applicant is not of good repute or that the proposed plan of business of the applicant is unfair unjust or inequitable or that the applicant is not of sufficient financial responsibility to deal safely with the public. The order fixing a hearing on said application shall operate to postpone the effective date of registration pending final decision by the Commission upon the application but such postponement shall not operate to postpone the effective date of registration for more than one hundred twenty (120) days after receipt of the application or such longer period as the Commission and the applicant agree to. Upon registration of an applicant the Commission shall issue to him a registry certificate stating the principal place of business and address of the dealer or investment adviser the names residences and business addresses of all persons interested in the business as principals partners officers directors or managing agents and the fact that the dealer or investment adviser has been registered for the current calendar year as a dealer in securities or investment adviser as the case may be. Pending final disposition of an application the commission may for special cause shown grant temporary permission revocable at any time and subject to such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe to transact business as a dealer or investment adviser hereunder. At least ten days before putting into effect a change in the general plan and character of business contained in his application for registration every registered dealer and every registered investment adviser shall notify the commission of such proposed change. If the commission is not satisfied that the change is fair just and equitable the commission may within such ten days give notice of that fact to such dealer or investment adviser. Thereafter until he shall have been notified to the contrary by the commission such dealer or investment adviser shall not put into effect any such change. Upon request from such dealer or investment adviser filed within ten days after the receipt of such notice the commission shall fix a time and place for hearing of which ten days' notice shall be given to such dealer of investment adviser to offer evidence relating to such change. If satisfied as aforesaid as a result of said hearing the commission shall thereupon notify such dealer or investment adviser of that fact.

Section 7 The certificates of registered dealers and investment advisers shall be in such form as the commission may determine. Changes in the certificates necessitated by changes in the personnel of a partnership or in the principals officers directors or managing agents of any dealer or investment adviser may be made at any time upon written application setting forth the fact necessitating the change. Upon the issue of the amended certificates the original certificate and the certified copies thereof outstanding shall be promptly surrendered to the commission.

Section 8 Upon written application by a registered dealer or investment adviser and upon satisfactory evidence as to good repute fitness and qualification the commission shall register as salesmen of such dealer or as solicitors of such investment adviser such individuals (not already registered hereunder) as the dealer or investment adviser may request. The application shall be in such form as the commission may prescribe and shall state the residences and addresses of the individual whose registration is requested together with such information as to such salesman's or solicitor's previous history record and association as may be required by the commission. Such application shall also be signed and sworn to by the salesman or the solicitor for whom registration is requested. The commission shall issue to each individual so registered a registration certificate stating his name and residence the address of the dealer or investment adviser and the fact that he is registered for the current calendar year as a salesman of the dealer or solicitor of the investment adviser. The certificate shall be in such form as the commission shall determine. Upon application either (a) by the salesman or the solicitor if the commission finds that such dealer or investment adviser arbitrarily refuses to apply after a hearing which shall be held at the request of any salesman or solicitor and notice of the time and place of which shall have been sent to the dealer and salesman or investment adviser and solicitor at least seven days prior thereto or (b) by the dealer or investment adviser the registration of any salesman or solicitor shall be cancelled.

Whenever a salesman or solicitor leaves the employ of the dealer or investment adviser on whose application the salesman or solicitor was registered hereunder such dealer or such investment adviser shall at once notify the commission of that fact and such salesman or solicitor shall at once surrender his registration certificate to the commission.

Section 9 If the commission declines to register an applicant for registration or to renew an applicant's registration as a dealer [or] salesman investment adviser or representative hereunder the commission shall immediately give notice of the fact to the applicant and upon request from such applicant filed within ten days after the receipt of such notice shall fix a time and place for hearing of which ten days' notice shall be given to such applicant and to other persons interested or protesting to offer evidence relating to his application. If satisfied as aforesaid as a result of said hearing the commission shall thereupon register the applicant.

Section 10 All registrations shall expire at the close of the calendar year but new registrations for the succeeding year shall be issued upon written application and upon payment of the fee as hereinafter provided without filing of further statements or furnishing any further information unless specifically requested by the commission except that applications for renewals of registrations as dealers and investment advisers shall be accompanied by or the applicant shall file with the commission at such further time as the commission may authorize in any case information and evidence satisfactory to the commission as to applicant's financial responsibility and as to customers' or clients' securities in applicants' possession. Applications for renewals must be made not less than thirty nor more than sixty days before the first day of January of the ensuing year. All applications for renewals received otherwise shall be treated as original applications. Provided That if an applicant is registered after December first of any year he may immediately apply for a renewal of his registration for the ensuing year.

Section 11 Any registered dealer may and any individual named in the registration certificate as above provided as a dealer's salesman may in behalf of such dealer sell any securities in this State. Any registered person may engage in the business of investment adviser in this State but a registered salesman or solicitor may so act only on behalf of the person for whom he is registered. [But such] A dealer investment adviser solicitor or salesman shall at all times when acting on the business for which he is registered hereunder when carry with him a registration certificate or a copy thereof certified by the commission which shall at any time be shown to a prospective customer or client upon such customer's or client's request.

No dealer or salesman shall use the fact of his registry by public display or advertisement except as herein expressly provided or the registry certificate or any certified copy thereof in connection with any sale or effort to sell any security except to a prospective customer upon such customer's request.

No investment adviser or solicitor shall use the fact of his registry by public display or advertisement except as hereinafter expressly provided or the registry certificate or any certified copy thereof in connection with any effort to induce a prospective client or subscriber to subscribe to his services except to a prospective client or subscriber upon such client's or subscriber's request.

Section 12 Immediately upon receipt of a dealer's or investment adviser's registry certificate issued pursuant to the authority of this act the dealer or investment adviser named therein shall cause such certificate to be posted and at all times conspicuously displayed in such dealer's or investment adviser's principal place of business in this State and shall likewise forthwith cause a duplicate of such certificate to be posted and at all times conspicuously displayed in each branch office located in this State.

Section 13 (a) No dealer or salesman shall issue or publish in this State any analysis or prospectus until such dealer shall have been registered or temporary permission shall have been obtained as in this act provided. The inclusion on the face of or within a prospectus or in a newspaper or magazine advertisement issued or published by or on behalf of a dealer who has been registered or by whom temporary permission has been obtained as in this act provided of the names of dealers not so registered shall not constitute a violation of this act. Any advertising matter may by an appropriate readily legible legend printed thereon limit the offering thereby made to any particular character of sales or class of transactions in which event such advertising matter shall not be deemed to be for any other or additional purpose. No dealer or salesman shall issue or publish in this State any prospectus or analysis unless a copy thereof in which or on a list attached to which the dealer's name appears as a proposed vendor shall have been filed in the office of the commission or mailed to the commission at Harrisburg Pennsylvania by prepaid registered mail. No dealer or salesman shall issue or publish within this State any prospectus or analysis after notice in writing given to him by the commission that in the commission's opinion the same contains any statement that is fraudulent false misleading or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof. After three years from the receipt thereof by the commission it may in its discretion destroy any and all documents filed with it or mailed to it under the provisions of this subsection.

(b) No person registered hereunder unless so registered as a dealer or salesman shall as such engage in the issuance underwriting or promotion of securities except as hereinafter otherwise provided. No person registered hereunder unless so registered as a dealer or salesman shall purchase securities from or sell securities to his clients or subscribers without fully disclosing to such client or subscriber his interest if any in the securities. No adviser shall issue or publish within this State any analysis after notice in writing given to him by the Commission (stating fully the grounds therefor) that in the Commission's opinion the same is fraudulent or contains any statement that is false misleading or otherwise likely to deceive the reader thereof. Provided That the provisions of this subdivision shall not prevent the sale by any investment adviser to his clients subscribers or others or the underwriting or promotion by an investment adviser of the securities of an investment company if (1) such investment adviser is registered as an investment adviser under this act and is engaged principally in the business of rendering investment supervisory services (2) no sales load is charged on securities issued by such investment company (3) any premium over net asset value charged by such company upon the issuance of any such security plus any discount from net asset value charged on redemption thereof shall not in the aggregate exceed two per cent (4) no sales or promotion expenses are incurred by such company but expenses incurred in complying with laws regulating the issue or sale of securities shall not be deemed sales or promotion expense (5) such investment adviser is the only investment adviser to such investment company and such investment adviser does not receive a management fee exceeding one per cent per annum of the value of such company's net assets averaged over the year or taken as of a definite date or dates within the year (6) all executive salaries and executive expenses and office rent of such investment company are paid by such investment adviser (7) such investment company has only one class of stock outstanding each share of which has equal voting rights with every other share.

(c) No dealer or salesman shall sell any security in this State until there shall have been filed with the commission a notice of intention to sell the security in question. Provided That the provisions of this subsection (c) and of subsections (d) (e) (f) and (g) of this Section 13 shall not apply to (a) any security which prior to or within sixty days after the enactment of this act has been sold or disposed of by the issuer or bona fide offered to the public (b) the sale of any security the disposition of which does not constitute a person a dealer within the meaning of Section 2 subsection (f) of this act (c) any security registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 (d) any security exempted from any provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 by any subsection of Section 3 (a) thereof or any future similar section other than subsection 11 of said Section 3 (a) (e) the sale of any security the disposition of which is a transaction exempted from any provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 by Section 4 of said act or any future similar section (f) any security issued by a person registered under the provisions of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 374) as amended. Upon the filing of said notice such security may be sold by any dealer or salesman registered hereunder except during such period or periods as such sale may be forbidden under or pursuant to other provisions of this act. Within seven days after the filing of said notice or such further time as the commission may authorize in any case there shall be filed with the commission a statement in such form as the commission may prescribe containing the following information relative to the security and the person issuing the same:

(1) The name and address of the person and in the case of an organization the names and addresses of the partners trustees directors or other board of management president treasurer secretary auditor or corresponding officers thereof.

(2) The state or other government if the person be an organization under the laws whereof such person was organized and a reference to such laws.

(3) The general nature of the business transacted within the past five years or to be transacted by such person with if the person be an organization a statement of the purpose for which it was organized or formed.

(4) The amount of capital devoted and proposed to be devoted to the business in question with the number of and a classification of the securities issued and to be issued the amount of the secured debt and the unsecured debt with a brief description of the date of issuance maturities and character of such debt and the security if any therefor and the authorized amount of capital stock certificates of beneficial interest or other securities of like character with the number and classes of shares into which the same is divided and a brief description of the respective voting rights preferences right to dividends or profits and rights to capital with respect to each class.

(5) The purposes to which the proceeds of the security proposed to be sold are to be applied.

(d) The commission may accept in lieu of such statement or of any part thereof a reference to recognized sources of information selected by the commission and containing such information as it deems to be an adequate substitute therefor.

(e) The notice of intention above prescribed may be filed by a dealer who proposes to sell the security or by the person issuing the security. The statement shall be filed by or on behalf of the person proposing to sell as principal or the person issuing the security and shall be dated and verified by the oath of such person if an individual or if an organization by the oath of a majority of the partners trustees directors or other members of a managing board thereof or its duly authorized officers or representatives.

(f) The commission shall make such investigation of any security of which notice of intention to sell shall have been filed with it as it may deem advisable to enable it to determine whether the sale of such security would be fraudulent or would result in fraud. At any time after the filing of the notice of intention and pending such determination the commission may make an order forbidding the sale of such security which order shall remain in force until revoked by the commission. Such security shall not be sold while such order remains in effect.

(g) The failure to submit the statement required by subsection (c) when due shall in the absence of satisfactory explanation be deemed prima facie evidence of fraud. Whenever the commission is of the opinion from information disclosed or in its possession that the sale of any security is fraudulent or would result in fraud it shall fix a time and place for hearing of which notice shall be given to the issuer and the person who has filed with the commission a notice of intention to sell the security in question at which time and place testimony and evidence may be presented by all parties having an interest in the subject matter. If satisfied as a result of said hearing that the sale of said security is fraudulent or would result in a fraud it shall make a finding to that effect. Thereafter such security shall not be sold until and except in accordance with further action by the commission or by the court as provided in this act.

Section 14 (a) The commission may at any time require a dealer to file with it a list of securities which such dealer has sold in this State within the preceding six months or which he is at the time selling or any portion thereof and thereupon if it shall appear that any of such offering of the dealer either (1) have not been made honestly or (2) have not been made in good faith (3) have not been made with intent to deceive or defraud or (4) have been made without the dealer's having a reasonable amount of information concerning the issuer thereof the commission may in addition to its other powers prohibit the dealer from selling such securities in this State.

(b) The commission may at any time require an investment adviser or dealer to submit to the Commission copies of all analyses or any portion thereof issued by such investment adviser dealer or dealer's salesman to clients or prospective clients within the preceding one year and thereupon if it shall appear that any analyses of the investment adviser dealer or dealer's salesman either (1) have not been made honestly (2) have not been made in good faith (3) have been made with intent to deceive or defraud or (4) have been made without the investment adviser dealer or dealer's salesman having a reasonable amount of information concerning the subject matter thereof the Commission may in addition to its other powers prohibit the investment adviser dealer or dealer's salesman from further issuing any analyses in this state so found to be in violation of this section.

Section 15 If the commission at any time has reason to believe that any registered dealer or investment adviser has become of bad repute that his plan of business has become unfair unjust or inequitable or is being conducted in an unfair unjust or inequitable manner that he has become of insufficient financial responsibility to deal with the public that he has in any way violated or is violating or is about to violate any of the provisions of this act or has been guilty of any fraud or fraudulent practice then the commission may after hearing and having reasonable cause to [believe that the dealer has been guilty of such offense] so believe refuse to renew or revoke said dealer's or investment adviser's registration. Notice of the time and place of any such hearing shall be sent to such dealer or investment adviser. If the commission believes that the public interest may be endangered by such dealer or investment adviser continuing in business pending or during such hearing the commission may also suspend such dealer's or investment adviser's registration pending [such hearing] the commission's final order. In [either] the event of refusal to renew revocation or suspension of a dealer's or investment adviser's registration the dealer or investment adviser shall not be regarded as registered under the provisions hereof until restored to registration by the commission either on its own initiative or upon order of the court as in this act hereinafter provided. In case of revocation or suspension of a dealer's or investment adviser's registration all his registration certificates shall at once be surrendered to the commission upon its request. The revocation or suspension of the dealer's or investment adviser's registration shall constitute a revocation or suspension of the registration of all salesmen of the dealer or all of the investment adviser and notice of its operation on such salesmen's or solicitor's registration shall be forthwith sent by the commission to each of such salesmen or Until the entry of a final order by the commission the suspension thereof though binding upon the persons notified thereof shall be deemed confidential and shall not be published unless it shall appear that the order of suspension has been violated after notice.

Section 16 If the commission at any time has reason to believe that any salesman of any dealer or of any investment adviser has in any way violated or is violating or is about to violate any of the provisions of this act or has been guilty of any fraud or fraudulent practice then the commission may after hearing and having reasonable cause to believe that the salesman or has been guilty of such offense refuse to renew or revoke such salesman's or registration. Notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be sent to such dealer or investment adviser and to such salesman or solicitor. If the commission believes that the public interest may be endangered by such salesman or continuing in business pending or during such hearing the commission may also suspend such salesman's or registration pending the commission's final order in the event of the refusal to renew revocation or suspension of a salesman's or solicitor's registration the salesman or shall not be regarded as registered under the provisions hereof until restored to registration by the commission either on its own initiative or upon order of the court as in this act hereinafter provided. In case of the refusal to renew revocation or suspension of a salesman's or registration as a result of proceedings under this section or in case of the refusal to renew revocation or suspension of a salesman's or representative's registration as a result of proceedings against a dealer or investment adviser under section fifteen hereof any such event the registration certificate of such salesman or shall at once be surrendered to the commission upon its request. Until the entry of a final order by the commission the suspension thereof though binding upon the persons notified thereof shall be deemed confidential and shall not be published unless it shall appear that the order of suspension has been violated after notice.

Section 17 Any notice required by this act shall be sufficient if sent by registered mail addressed to the dealer [or] salesman investment adviser or as the case may be at the address designated in the application for registration. All testimony taken at any hearing before the commission shall be reported stenographically and a full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings before the commission on any hearing or investigation.

All decisions of the commission including decisions of the commission not to register a dealer [or] salesman investment adviser or and decisions to prohibit the issuance or publication of particular prospectuses or analyses or to prohibit the sale of particular securities shall be in writing signed by the secretary of the commission under its seal and shall fully state the grounds therefor.

Section 18 Any person aggrieved by any decisions of the commission may file within thirty days thereafter in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County a petition against the commission officially as defendant alleging therein in brief detail the action and decision complained of and praying for a reversal thereof. Every such petition shall specify the petitioner's objection to the action and decision of the commission and no objection not so specified and no grounds for such decision not stated therein shall be considered by the court. Upon service of a summons upon the commission returnable within ten days from its date the commission shall on or before the return day file an answer in which it shall allege by way of defense the grounds for its decision. It shall also on or before the return day of such summons certify to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County the record of the proceedings to which the petition refers. Such record shall include the testimony taken therein the findings of fact of the commission based upon such testimony exceptions of any a copy of all orders made by the commission in the proceedings and a copy of the action or decision of the commission which the petition calls upon the court to reverse. The cost of preparing and certifying such record shall be paid to the commission.

by the petitioner and taxed as part of the costs in the case to be paid as directed by the court upon the final determination of the case

Upon the filing of the commission's answer the case before the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County shall be at issue without further pleadings and upon application of either party the case shall be advanced and heard without further delay Mere technical irregularities in the procedure of the commissioned shall be disregarded

The case shall be heard upon the record certified to the court by the commission Additional testimony shall not be taken before the court but the court may in proper cases remit the record to the commission for the taking of further testimony

From the decision of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County an appeal may be taken by either party to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as in other cases

A judgment sustaining a revocation of or a refusal of the commission to grant or renew a registration shall not bar after one year a new application by the plaintiff for registration nor shall a judgment in favor of the plaintiff prevent the commission from thereafter revoking or refusing to renew such registration for any proper cause which may thereafter accrue or be discovered The court shall have full power to dispose of all costs

Section 19 The commission may require by subpoena or summons issued by it the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of any books accounts records papers correspondence relating to any matter which the commission has authority under this act to consider or investigate and for this purpose it may sign subpoenas administer oaths and affirmations examine witnesses and receive evidence The commission may require or permit any person to file with it a statement in writing under oath or otherwise as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the subject matter under investigation All information of every kind and nature so obtained shall be treated as confidential by the commission and shall not be disclosed to the public except under order of the court but nothing in this section shall be interpreted to prohibit or limit the publication of the commission's rulings or decisions or of summaries abstracts or reports of the evidence received at hearings which resulted in such rulings or decisions or of summaries abstracts or reports of the reasons of the commission for declining to register any applicant if the applicant does not request a hearing upon his application Provided however That no publication shall be made of lists of security holders clients subscribers or customers of any person and provided further that no provision of this act shall be construed to require or authorize the Commission to require any investment adviser engaged in rendering investment supervisory services and not having the custody of client's funds or securities to disclose the identity investments or affairs of any client of such investment adviser except insofar as such disclosure may be necessary or appropriate in a particular proceeding or investigation having as its object the enforcement of a provision or provisions of this act In case of disobedience of any subpoenas or of the contumacy of any witness appearing before the commission the commission may invoke the aid of the court of common pleas within the jurisdiction of which the principal place of business of the investment adviser dealer solicitor or salesman under investigation in this State is located or of any court of common pleas within the jurisdiction of which the witness may be found and such court may thereupon issue its subpoena requiring the person subpoenaed to appear before it and there to give evidence to produce books accounts records papers and correspondence or to file a statement under oath as aforesaid touching the matter in question Any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof

dollars ($2.00) and shall receive in addition the sum of ten cents ($.10) for each mile of circular travel by such witness by the usual route between his home and the place where his presence is required All disbursements made in the payment of such fees shall be included in and paid in the same manner as is provided for the payment of other expenses incident to the administration and enforcement of this act as hereinafter provided for

The fees for serving a subpoena shall be the same as those paid the sheriff for similar services The fees and costs of or in connection with any hearing may be imposed by the commission upon any party to the record or may be divided between any or all parties to the record in such proportions as the commission may determine

Section 20 (a) In any prosecution or proceeding under this act the accused shall be deemed to have knowledge of any fact or circumstances where in the exercise of reasonable diligence he could or should prior to the commission of the offense complained of have secured such knowledge

(b) In any prosecution or proceeding under this act all papers instruments or documents certified by the secretary under the commission's seal as appearing in the files of the commission shall be presumed to have been filed with the commission at its offices in Harrisburg Dauphin County Pennsylvania by the person on whose behalf said paper instrument or document purports to have been filed

Section 21 [No person shall by fraud or fraudulent practice induce holders of securities (a) to exchange the same directly or indirectly for any property real or personal tangible or intangible or (b) to permit such person to dispose of such securities for the holders] No person registered hereunder shall directly or indirectly enter into extend or renew any investment advisory contract or in any way perform any investment advisory contract entered into extended or renewed on or after the effective date of this act if such contract

(a) Provides for compensation to such person on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of the client

(b) Fails to provide in substance that no assignment of such contract shall be made by such person without the consent of the other party to the contract

(c) Fails to provide in substance that such person if a partnership will notify the other party to the contract of any change in the membership of such partnership within a reasonable time after such change

(d) Fails to provide for periodic accounting to the client if by the terms of the contract or in fact such person manages investment or trading accounts in securities for or has custody of the securities of his client

Provided however That nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prohibit an investment advisory contract which provides for compensation based upon the total value of a fund averaged over a definite period or as of definite dates or takes as of a definite date or to prohibit an oral investment advisory contract not in violation of this section and terminable at will by the client or subscriber

Section 22 Any dealer or salesman who shall in this State without being registered hereunder either (a) sell any security (b) engage in the business of inducing holders of securities to effect the sale thereof through a person registered hereunder or otherwise directly or indirectly in order to produce funds to pay for other investments sold by such dealer or by such salesman for a dealer or (c) engage in the business of buying securities directly from individuals who are not registered hereunder [or] and any person who shall by fraud or fraudulent practice induce holders of securities (1) to exchange the same directly or indirectly for any property real or personal tangible or intangible or (2) permit such person to dispose of such securities for the holders and any person who shall make or shall concur in making any false statement [of fact] in any statement or matter of information required by this act or by the rules or regulations of the commission promulgated hereunder to be filed with the commission or in any prospectus or communication which offers any security for sale or in any oral solicitation to purchase or in any commendatory matter concerning any security with intent to aid in the sale of the same or in any analysis or who shall represent himself as an investment adviser or solicitor without being registered hereunder who shall make any false statement or representation concerning any registration made under the provisions of this act who shall be guilty of any fraud or fraudulent practice or who shall represent that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the commission or any member thereof the Department of Banking or any officer or employee of any of the foregoing has approved of or recommended any security shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or imprisonment for not more than five (5) years or both. Any person who shall commit in whole or in part any other act declared unlawful by this statute shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment for not more than one (1) year or both.

Section 23 Neither the members of the commission nor the secretary nor any deputy examiner clerk or other employee of the commission shall publish or divulge to any one any information contained in or ascertained from any examination or investigation made by the commission or any letter report or statement sent to the commission or any other paper or document in the custody of the commission except when the publication or divulgement of such information is made by the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act or of any other law of this Commonwealth or when the production of such information is required by subpoena or other legal process of a court of competent jurisdiction or when it is used in prosecutions or other court actions instituted by or on behalf of the commission or in cooperation with any other governmental agency or when pursuant to specific written authorization by the commission it is used in investigations by the commission or when the divulgement of such information is made to any other governmental agency security exchange or association of security dealers or of investment advisers with respect to the respective members or proposed members thereof. Provided That no divulgement shall be made of lists of security holders customers subscribers or clients of any person and that no divulgement shall be made of the identity investments or affairs of any client of any investment adviser engaged in rendering investment supervisory services and not having the custody of client's funds or securities except insofar as such disclosure may be necessary or appropriate in a particular proceeding or investigation having as its object the enforcement of a provision or provisions of this act.

A violation of the provisions of this section by any member of the commission or by the secretary or by any deputy examiner clerk or other employee of the commission shall be sufficient ground for his removal from office. In addition any member of the commission or the secretary deputy examiner clerk or other employee committing such violation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be subject to imprisonment for a period not exceeding one (1) year or a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or both.

Section 24 Copies of all papers instruments or documents filed in the office of the commission certified under its seal shall be admitted to be read in evidence in all courts of law and elsewhere in this State in all cases where the originals would be admitted in evidence. Provided That in any proceeding the court having jurisdiction may on cause shown require the production of the originals.

Section 25 Nothing herein contained shall limit or diminish the liability of any person now imposed by law or prevent the prosecution of any person for the violation of the provisions of any other act.

Section 26 The administration of the provisions of this act shall be vested in the commission. The commission shall have authority from time to time to make amend and rescind such rules and regulations including rules of practice hereunder before it and to prescribe such forms as may be necessary or convenient to carry out the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the commission to see that the provisions of this act are at all times properly administered and obeyed and to take such measures and in its discretion to make such investigations upon complaint or otherwise as will or may in its opinion detect the violation of any provision hereof. In the event that it shall discover any such violation it shall in addition to revoking any registration take such measures as may be necessary to cause the apprehension and prosecution of all persons deemed guilty thereof. The commission may at any time or from time to time and with or without notice make periodic special or other examinations of the books accounts correspondence securities memoranda papers and other records of any investment adviser or dealer engaged in business in this State. Provided That the Commission may make no such examinations of any investment adviser engaged in rendering investment supervisory services and not having custody of clients' funds or securities except insofar as such examination may be necessary or appropriate in a particular proceeding or investigation having as its object the enforcement of a provision or provisions of this act which the Commission has reasonable grounds to believe may have been violated. Whenever it shall appear to the commission that any person shall have violated is violating or is about to violate any of the provisions of this act or any person registered hereunder is suffering serious impairment to his or its capital structure or is in danger of becoming insolvent the commission may in addition to any other remedies bring an action in equity in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania against any such person [to enjoin such person from doing any act or acts in violation of this act] in any of the several courts of common pleas of Pennsylvania and may ask for such equitable relief action or remedies as it may deem necessary under the circumstances and the several courts of common pleas in this State shall have jurisdiction over the subject matter and may enter judgments awards decrees or orders which they may deem fit including permanent or temporary injunctions or restraining orders without bond and the appointment of receivers to take possession of any property which may be involved real or person together with any or all books of accounts and papers relating to the same to hold operate distribute or liquidate any such property for the benefit of all persons establishing any interest in the said property. Such receiver shall have the rights powers and duties of a general receiver including the power to execute in his name as receiver any instrument incident to the exercise of any power granted to or imposed upon him as receiver. In any such court proceedings the commission may apply for and on demand shall be entitled to have issued the court's subpoena requiring forthwith the appearance of any defendant and his employee salesmen or agents and the production of documents books and records as may appear necessary for the hearing for such [petition] application to testify and give evidence concerning the acts or conduct or things complained of in such application.

A certificate under the seal of the commission showing that the persons in question have not been registered either as dealers [or] salesmen investment advisers or shall constitute prima facie evidence that such persons have not been registered hereunder and shall be admitted in evidence in all proceedings in courts of law or equity within this Commonwealth.

Section 27 The commission shall charge and collect the following fees and shall daily pay all fees received into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue.

(a) For the filing of any original or renewal application the sum of ten dollars ($10).

(b) For each registration certificate of a dealer or investment adviser whether on an original or a renewal application forty dollars ($40) except as hereinafter provided.

(c) For each registration certificate of a salesman or whether on an original or renewal application ten dollars ($10).

(d) For each registration certificate of a dealer or investment adviser issued after the first day of July of any year twenty dollars ($20)

(e) For each amended registration certificate twenty dollars ($20)

(f) For the filing of a notice of a proposed change in a dealer's or investment adviser's plan of business twenty dollars ($20)

(g) For each duplicate of a registration certificate of a dealer or investment adviser twenty dollars ($20)

(h) For each duplicate of an amended registration certificate of a dealer or investment adviser five dollars ($5)

For copies of any papers filed in the office of the commission or for the certification thereof for transcripts of testimony taken at hearings before the commission for the preparation of records of proceedings before the commission and for issuing subpoenas and summons the commission shall charge such fees as it shall by general rule or regulation prescribe. Provided however That the provisions of this section shall not prohibit the commission from issuing free of charge copies of records to other states or to the United States or any of their agencies

Section 28 This act shall become effective ten days after the final enactment thereof. Provided however That all registration certificates issued by the Pennsylvania Securities Commission prior to the effective date of this act under the provisions of the act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 273) entitled "An act for the registration and regulation of certain individuals and entities selling offering for sale or delivery soliciting subscriptions to or orders for or undertaking to dispose of inviting offers for or inquiries about or dealing in any manner in securities defined herein including securities issued by them conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Securities Commission and otherwise providing for the administration of this act providing for appeals to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County and to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania prescribing penalties and making appropriations" as amended shall be valid during the period for which they were issued unless sooner revoked or suspended by the commission for any cause for which the commission is authorized by this act to revoke or suspend a certificate of registration issued by it and all applications and proceedings pending before the Pennsylvania Securities Commission under the provisions of said act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven shall be continued before the commission and shall be disposed of according to the provisions of the said act. And provided further That this act shall not affect any suit or prosecution pending or to be instituted to enforce any right or penalty or to punish any offense under the authority of said act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven as amended

Section 29 The act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 273) entitled "An act for the registration and regulation of certain individuals and entities selling offering for sale or delivery soliciting subscriptions to or orders for or undertaking to dispose of inviting offers for or inquiries about or dealing in any manner in securities defined herein including securities issued by them conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Securities

Section 2 The provisions of this re-enactment and amendment shall be effective ninety (90) days after the final enactment hereof except immediately upon the final enactment of this act the Commission may receive applications for and register applicants for registration as investment advisers and solicitors which registration shall take effect ninety (90) days after final enactment hereof

Section 3 All registrations of dealers and salesmen made under this act prior to the effective date of this re-enactment and amendment shall be effective for the remainder of the registration year for which made unless sooner revoked or suspended

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

"When first our history began Pennsylvania played a part
 At Brandywine and Gettysburg
 Heroes fought with all their heart
 Now we sing the praises of
 This state of ours we love

Refrain

"O the rolling hills of Pennsylvania
 Finest State in all the land
 With mills and mines and fertile valleys
 And brotherhood on ev'ry hand

In the Keystone place of honor
 Cradle of our liberty
 O the rolling hills of Pennsylvania
 God will keep us free
 The azure skies reflect the flames
 Of our factories and mills
 Our farms are finest in the land
 Nestled in the fair foothills
 Teeming cities world's acclaim Honor for all our aim"

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Labor to meet during the session of the House.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 316.

An Act authorizing certain officers on active duty with the armed forces of the United States to act as notaries public; and requiring certification of their authority.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives, is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 5, by inserting after the word "advocates" the words "and adjutants of companies"; also in line 6, by inserting after the word "with" the words "the same rights and powers as though duly commissioned and qualified as such according to law including"; also on page 2, line 2, by inserting after the word "certifying" the words "the army order and the rank and company"; also on same page, line 3, by striking out after the word "held" the words "such rank"; also by striking out at the beginning of line 4, the words "such duty"; also in same line by inserting after the word "acknowledgment" the words "and containing reference to this Act."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SHAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on page 15 of to-day's calendar, Resolution No. 91, Printer's No. 623, I wish to make a very brief statement on that resolution. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, my co-sponsor and I introduced this resolution at the request of a number of Building and Loan Associations. After the resolution came out of the Banking Committee, we took it up with the minority floor leader, who in turn contacted the Secretary of his Excellency the Governor and he was informed that there was only one vacancy on the Building and Loan Board; there was no vacancy on the Banking Board. At that time we agreed to have the resolution re-committed. Unfortunately, I was unable to do so at that time.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 91 RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Resolution No. 91, be re-committed to the Committee on Banking. The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GATES, asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, to each Member of this House at some time comes an unusual pleasure, and this morning an unusual pleasure has been accorded to me in reporting out of Committee the two bills about which I will speak later.

At this time I wish to recall to the membership of this House that on the twelfth day of February I made a plea before this House, and I wish to quote from that particular address, page 286 of the Legislative Journal.

"We all know a change in direction is now appearing as a result of the stimulation of the Defense Program producing the dual relief of a downward movement of expenditures for public assistance and an upward movement of tax yields. This, of course, affects advantageously both sides of the budget."

At that particular time I also introduced an amendment to House Bill 230, which was a bill levying a four mill personal property tax for the State. I offered that amendment because as I said, it was a step in the right direction, by starting out to give our people some immediate relief from taxes which largely rest upon their shoulders. I offered this amendment to House Bill 230, to reduce the four mill property tax to three mills. I further quote from the statement:

"You say this is small and insignificant and I answer, 'yes,' but let us make a start and as this tax falls largely on the old people of our state who have passed the age when they are able to increase their income by personal efforts. I personally think it is making the start at the proper place by increasing the standard of living for these fathers and mothers rather than continuing to decrease their standard of living."

I at that time asked the members of the House to vote for my amendment. Again I quote, Mr. Speaker, from the Republican platform upon which I was elected, adopted in Pittsburgh on September 10, 1938. It had this to say about taxation:

"Taxation has become a serious burden upon our people. Taxes increase unnecessarily as public money is wasted on useless activities and political drones. After making adequate provisions for the necessary functions of government, public relief, assistance and social security, we pledge ourselves to reduce the State's tax load to the minimum."

If you will recall, Mr. Speaker, two years ago I offered to this House a tax program which would have completely done away with the corporate net income tax and the four mill personal property tax, but I was unable to have that bill considered because of opposition of those in high position. So, at this time, Mr. Speaker I have a great deal of pleasure in reporting to this House, House Bill No. 230 from the Ways and Means Committee, which was recommitted and is now returned to the House.

I also report House Bill 234 as amended from the Ways and Means Committee.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. GATES, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported as amended, House Bill No. 230, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 414), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment, collection, and lien of the same, and the distribution of the proceeds thereof; imposing duties on executors, administrators, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, prothonotaries, and court clerks, and on persons, copartnerships, associations, banks, national banks, trust companies, and other corporations receiving deposits of money, and on certain corporations and limited partnerships; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; imposing penalties; and making an appropriation," as previously reenacted and amended, by continuing the State personal property tax and the emergency rate of tax on scrip bonds, certificates and evidence of indebtedness, assumed or on which interest is paid by corporations, for further limited period of time.

Mr. GATES, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported as amended, House Bill No. 234, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the fifteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 292), entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation," by increasing the rate of tax for a further limited period of time.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FINNERTY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, you all know I am one of the representatives of the great city of Philadelphia. A city with more historical sites than any city in the country. Among these historical sites is the American Academy of Music, a place where presidents of this great country have addressed the people of Pennsylvania and Philadelphia.

This morning I read in my favorite morning newspaper, the Philadelphia Record, these head lines.

"Lindy is refused use of the Academy of Music for anti-aid talk."

The meeting sponsored by the American First Committee besides being denied the use of the Academy, the committee was denied car-card advertising in the P.T.C. trolleys and buses. Radio Stations WCAU and KYW turned down the committee's request to buy advertising on the air. John Frederick Lewis, President of the Academy Corporation, confirmed his flat refusal to rent the Academy, he said:

"We don't care to rent it for such a purpose. The front of the American First Committee here, as in other cities, consists of sincere American isolationists, but the audience such meetings attracts is made up largely of lovers of Germany and haters of England. In other words, enemies of our form of Government."

Last Sunday a meeting was held in the historical Academy of all those who became citizens of our country during the last year, and was crowded to the doors. At this time we need unity, all other issues should be discarded.

I feel we all should congratulate John Frederick Lewis, the P.T.C. Company, WCAU and KYW for their stand in this matter in refusing to assist and be a part of this un-American meeting at this time.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SARGE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I need not tell you what county I come from. I want to address the House this afternoon on a matter that I think is of the greatest importance not only to the Members of this House but to our families as well. Inasmuch as this is what might be termed my maiden serious speech on the floor of the House I feel the tantalizing and tempestuous turbulence that one usually feels under similar circumstances. However, I do feel a degree of comforting consolation in the knowledge that my subject, while of the greatest importance, is entirely non-partisan.

I am very much concerned and alarmed to know that although America is today, facing a great emergency and although this House has been in Session for three months, no definite action has yet been taken either to investigate or to combat the vicious and subversive teachings of un-American philosophies by foreign agents in the schools of our great Commonwealth.

We have every evidence that there are some teachers in our schools seeking to infiltrate the minds of our children with the rotten and repulsive theories of Communism and other foreign ideologies. Yet this Assembly has sat here complacently and supinely for three months and has done absolutely nothing about it. I say to you, Mr. Speaker and Gentleman of this House, that in this respect this Assembly has been inexcusably negligent and dilatory.

The President of this great Nation has appealed to all Americans for unity in the present emergency. The Governor of this great State has not only expressed his desire to comply with the President's request for unity but he has also appealed to this House to heed the request of the President by showing a spirit of unity in our consideration of those things which have to do with our American way of living.

And so being mindful of the emergency which confronts our nation today, I want to appeal to you, Democrats and Republicans of this House, to exhibit not only the spirit of Unity, but the spirit of speed and action as well, in a matter which I think you will agree with me, is of the greatest importance to our Nation and to this great Commonwealth which you and I represent, and a matter on which we have been inexcusably dilatory and neglectful.

Every day there are many editorials written in our daily newspapers giving evidence of the fact that a lot of foreign Poison is being dangled before the immature minds of our American Youth.

Day after day, reports of honest investigations show so much evidence of this sinister situation that there can no longer be any doubt in the minds of any Legislator that this danger does exist and that something should be done about it.

I feel how weak and futile must be any words of mine which would attempt to effectively bring out this great danger and our responsibility in this matter. And I could read to you, dozens of editorials which would tell you the story much better than I can, but I refrain from doing so because generally nobody listens to the reading of Editorials on the floor of the House. However, I want to take just less than two minutes to quote to you from an Editorial in "The Right of Way."

"One reads with amazement that the American Federation of Labor is considering the revocation of the Philadelphia Chapter of the teachers' union because it is alleged to be in control of Communists.

It is bad enough that Communism is permitted to bore from within at a time when our government is preparing to battle for its very life; it is shockingly outrageous to learn that disciples of Stalin are actually being paid to teach their destructive doctrines to our boys and girls.

It is high time that the Legislature, now in session, enact such laws as will outlaw Communism in Pennsylvania. It is high time that every Communist teacher be kicked bag and baggage from his or her perch behind a school room desk.

Failure of the lawmakers to recognize their full duty in this respect will result only in an aroused public taking refuge in the Vigilante (an always regrettable and obnoxious extreme) as a court of last resort. Despite the inroads of the radios there are still a lot of telegraph poles in the country, not to mention strong arms and plenty of hempen rope. One way or another we shall have to rid ourselves of this curse of Communism or perish, and the will to live is strong within us."

Also quoting from the Rural Legislator, edited by a former Democratic member of this House "nobody can be a Communist of the Stalin cult without being a traitor and murderer at heart." The average Communist is worse than a sneak. He has the nerve to seek the protection of the very Institutions he seeks to destroy.

While there have been several bills introduced having to do with the investigation of subversive activities and with the thought of providing proper memorials for great Americans, all of which I think are commendable, I wish to talk to you particularly about House Bill No. 396 introduced by the former Speaker of this House, the Honorable Mr. Turner. This bill was introduced on February 12, referred to the Committee on Education on February 17, and has apparently been consigned to the tongueless dust from which no bill returneth. All that this Bill does, is to amend the Act approved the eighteenth day of May, 1911, so that School Boards shall have the power to terminate the contracts of any teachers for un-American or subversive teaching or activity or membership in, or support of any party engaged in un-American or subversive activity.

I can not conceive, particularly in view of the present world crisis, how anyone could object to the passage of this Bill. The Bill is certainly of a nature that can stand on its own merits, but I also think this Bill should be brought out as a courtesy to the Honorable Gentleman who presented it, even though he is a Republican. Certainly it should be easy for any Member of this House, no matter what his party affiliation might be, to concede that when a bill is introduced for a former Speaker of this House and by a man who has the Legislative experience and the integrity of Mr. Turner, it surely must be a good bill. And yet Gentlemen of the House, this very important bill has been lying in Committee for almost three months.

We are indeed fortunate that the very large majority of our teachers are good Loyal Patriotic Americans, but a few disloyal teachers in our schools are agents of a despicable system that likes to work on the immature minds of children. These disloyal puppets of a vile and pernicious theory are agents of a foreign system that teaches what? Un-Americanism and destruction of our sacred precepts of government and corruption of our American way of life.

I think as a rule, we rural Legislators have been too complacent about this situation, usually feeling that this danger only existed in the larger cities such as Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. However, what complacency I may have had, has been rudely shattered by a letter which I recently received from one of my constituents, a young lady school teacher in the public schools, and I quote you briefly from this letter in which this young lady indicated that she is opposed to compelling school teachers to take the pledge of allegiance, and I say to you, that when a queer philosophy of this kind reaches in to such a staple and conservative County as the County of Lebanon, it is alarming and dangerous.

Mr. Speaker a few weeks ago this legislative body generously and graciously voted an appropriation of $50,000 for the study of mastitis in cattle. It also voted an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the study and prevention of Bangs disease among the cattle in our State.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House—I say to you in all earnestness and sincerity that in my opinion, the children of Pennsylvania, the children of your constituents and mine, are worthy of more protection and worthy of more consideration than all the cattle in the world.

If there are teachers in our schools filling the minds of our children with the fundamentals of Communism or Nazism, then Gentlemen, our children are confronted with a contamination that is more dangerous to America than all the Bangs disease in the world. Gentlemen, let's do something now and quickly to protect our children from these "red vultures of foreign isms." We have done plenty for the cattle of Pennsylvania, now let us do at least as well for the children of Pennsylvania; and certainly the protection of our school children is a greater responsibility, a more solemn charge than the protection of our cattle.

I would like to ask what is the reason for the delay in bringing out House Bill No. 396? Is it because it was introduced by a Republican? I hope not. Does the Democratic Party wish to assume the responsibility for obstruction of anti-Communist Legislation? I hope not. Does the Democratic Party wish to deny our school boards the power to fire teachers who have un-American or subversive ideas? I hope not.

Whatever the reason for picketing this bill in Committee, I want to declare publicly on the floor of this House and have placed on the records of this Legislature this definite and true statement, "The Republican Members of this House are waiting and ready to vote for this Bill. We strongly urge the Democratic members of this House to see to it that this Bill comes out of Committee, promptly."

The Dies Committee has spent thousands of dollars investigating the activities of those foreign agents. They have issued sheaves and sheaves of reports containing hundreds of thousands of words. Investigations and reports are alright and necessary, but the time has now come for action. This is no time for complacency.

Daniel Webster has said "God grants liberty only to those who love liberty and who are always ready to guard and defend it."

And never in the history of this great Commonwealth: never in the history of America was it more evident that "Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty." And I say to you, Gentlemen, "This Legislature can make no greater contribution to society, or to its constituents, than to protect our children by the passage of this bill."

In the name of the little children of Pennsylvania—in the name of Democracy—in the name of all that's right and decent—I now appeal to the Committee on Education to bring out this bill against subversive and un-American teachings. What we need today is more of the spirit of Valley Forge—Antietam and Gettysburg. Let's pass this bill so quickly that the Reds will know that in Pennsylvania we have no need for them. By our prompt and united action on this bill let's show, not only the people of Pennsylvania, but let us show America and the World as well that in the Schools of Pennsylvania, we want only one ism and that is Americanism.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HARKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Education Committee of the House, I believe it to be my duty to inform the gentleman that the bill which he has just been speaking about has been seriously considered by the Committee on Education from the time that it was first introduced. Not only has it been seriously considered, but various other bills of similar nature and character have also been given serious consideration.

It was interesting to me to read a similar resolution requesting such an investigation, and to ascertain that the Member who desired such an investigation, had made no careful study of the particular textbooks which he wished investigated, but had merely used some material from magazines to base his plea for an investigation.

Now, in regard to that angle of the matter I would like to quote from an editorial which appeared in the Philadelphia Record on February 25, 1941. That editorial is as follows:

Leading textbook publishers of the United States have taken up the challenge of the National Association of Manufacturers and others that a substantial number of textbooks used in American schools are un-American.

The charge is emphatically denied by the School Book Publishers' National Association, which appointed a committee to make the National Association of Manufacturers prove its charges by citing specific examples.

This committee includes representatives of some of the largest and most conservative publishing houses in the nation, including Houghton-Mifflin, Harper Brothers, Harcourt Brace, Lippincott and Rand-McNally.

Chief target of the textbook attack is Dr. Harold O. Rugg, dean of Columbia University's Teachers' College. Twenty of Dr. Rugg's books are in use in schools throughout the country. Many are used in Philadelphia, approved by a Board of Education that is about as conservative as they come.

Some of Dr. Rugg's accusers insinuate that his books betray sympathy for Communism. They do not. Here's how one of his books describes the Russian revolution:

"In November, 1917, a few Russian leaders, Lenin, Trotzky, Stalin and some others— seized the Government of Russia by armed force. They killed, exiled from the country or put in prison all those who opposed them. No one outside their own party was allowed to make suggestions, propose plans or vote. The small group of leaders decided how everything was to be owned, what wages should be paid to workers, etc."

Does that sound like a Communist sympathizer?

In contrasting the Russian dictatorship with the American system, Rugg says in the same book:

"Here government is decided by discussing things and voting. It is not done by shooting, rioting and imprisonment as under the dictators of Germany, Italy and Russia."

Does that sound un-American?

With respect to the question of the bills regarding subversive teaching, it is the attitude as I gather from discussion with the various investigators and teachers, that the teachers as a group do not wish to be exempt from any regulation imposed upon any other public employe, but on the other hand feel it is not fair to them to single out the teaching profession as a group, as a profession, and level at them an accusing finger based largely upon suspicions created mostly by inaccurate reporting at home of incidents that went on in the schools.

I would like to report what a very prominent teacher of an old conservative Republican family in the City of Pittsburgh has informed me. She was reported to have been teaching Communistic propoganda because of a misunderstanding which occurred in her class, and in her explanation of the particular incident there is no question but that she was entirely misunderstood.

She has no objection as an educator, as a teacher and as a former president of the Pennsylvania State Education Association to any regulations which apply equally to all public employes.

I would like to continue to quote from the editorial which goes on to say:

Rugg's books offend the National Association of Manufacturers because they do not take the view that all is for the best in this best of all possible lands. His books do point to the obvious defects in the working of the American system. They do take notice of a depression in 1929-33. They do call attention to the enormous gap between the poorest and the richest in this country. They do point to unemployment, insecurity, and hunger in the United States.

They should. Honest history is not boosterism—and the citizens of tomorrow are entitled to have honest history taught to them.

The generation that exercises political and economic power in our time has made some grave mistakes—it has failed to meet some fundamental problems.

Those mistakes and failures will affect tomorrow. It is not honest and it is not educationally sound to cover up those errors. Rugg calls widespread unemployment an important question before the American people. It is. And the National Association of Manufacturers cannot beg the question by attempted censorship.

Not many years ago it was revealed that powerful business interests, especially utilities, were subsidizing school textbooks that denounced Government regulation of utilities.

The N. A. M. did not cry out against that. Neither did the American Legion, nor other groups now active in the textbook fight.

What these groups want are biased textbooks, biased their way.

One of the leaders of the fight in this area has said so in so many words. Mrs. Elwood J. Turner, corresponding secretary of the Daughters of Colonial Wars, charged that Rugg's books were "unbiased." She explained:

"All the histories taught 'my country right or wrong.' That's the point of view we want our children to adopt. We can't afford to teach them to be unbiased and let them make up their own minds."

Frankly, that attitude seems more totalitarian than American to us. What's more, it doesn't work. Youngsters react against overdoses of biased indoctrination.

The worst—and the best—that has been proved about Dr. Rugg's works is that they are "unbiased."

We hope the book publishers' committee succeeds in bringing that home to the public.

Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the difficulty does not come in the purpose of various bills introduced on the subject, but does come about in the manner in which that purpose is being attempted to be accomplished. There are bills in the House which are in other Committees which probably cover the subject in a much better way. I think there is a bill, one of the co-sponsors of which is Mr. Robert Cordier—I forget the other gentleman who co-sponsored with him—I think Mr. Keneham was the other gentleman on the bill, which I think is a bill that more likely would suit the occasion than any bill which is in the Education Committee.

These bills have been and still are being considered by the committee, and they will all be acted on in due time. By that I mean that they will not be kept from a vote by the Members of the committee.

With respect to the argument or the possibility advanced by the gentleman that House Bill 396 may have been consigned to some dark dungeon because it is sponsored by a Republican, I might state that the only bills which I know of which emanated originally from the House Committee on Education which have managed to survive the test and which have also come out of the Senate Committee have been some of the Republican bills in which we have been very fair and honest about recognizing and seeing the merit of them.

If you will look at tomorrow's calendar you will find that Republican sponsored bills were released by the Committee on Education today, so that it is not a question of partisanship at all, but it is a question of the Committee seriously attempting to do a good job.

I might further say that material has constantly come to various members of the committee indicating that all of the people of the various groups interested do not support this program wholeheartedly. The Chairman of the Pennsylvania State Education Association Legislative Committee is a man named Ben Byers who is a member of the American Legion and who very definitely feels that any legislation of this sort should apply to public employees and not specifically apply to any particular group of public employees.

Before closing I would like to read a few lines of a speech which was made in the halls of Congress by a man who later became a very eminent American patriot and I say to you that if such a speech were read today by a teacher to a group of children, folks outside of the school inspired by hysteria generated by the conditions of the times, might well feel that the speech perhaps was not as American as it should have been and yet, I am certain that when I tell you the name or the person who made the remarks, there will be no question of his Americanism. This member of Congress said:

"Any people anywhere being inclined and having the power have the right to rise up and shake off the existing government and form a new one that suits them better. This is a most valuable, a most sacred right, a right which we hope and believe is to liberate the world. I or is this right confined to cases in which the whole people of an existing government may choose to exercise it. Any portion of such people that can, may revolutionize and make their own of so much of the territory as they inhabit. More than this, a majority of any portion of such people may revolutionize putting down a minority, intermingled with or near about them, who may oppose this movement. Such minority was precisely the case of the Tories of our own revolution. It is a quality of revolutions not to go by old lines or old laws but to break up both and make new ones."

I submit to the Members of the House that if a teacher today would read those words in an appropriate course in problems of democracy, even in a senior high school, a twelve year class, it could very easily lead to a situation of saying that the teacher was promulgating un-American doctrines. Yet the author of those lines, the man who gave those words utterance was Abraham Lincoln, who was speaking concerning the Mexican War in the House of Representatives of the United States Congress on January 12, 1848.

So I say to you that it ill behooves us as a deliberative group of mature people, an assembly which is supposed to reason, to rush headlong into something of this nature and to allow ourselves to take a biased view of questions of such magnitude and such importance.

I also have before me a statement signed by a group of clergymen who believe in the right of free speech and who believe that if our Democratic government is to maintain itself and to progress it must be through education in our public schools. They believe that the best way to create real Americanism is to see that we do not have cumbersome laws restricting the right of free thinking and right of free speech in our school system.

There is one point more thought that I wish to leave with this group, and that is this: if it is the thought of the gentleman that we should prohibit a teacher from teaching because he or she may be a member of any political party, that the policy of the Federal Department of Justice, which I think is best qualified to take a stand in this matter, is not to go out and arrest people because they suspect them of subversive thinking or because they suspect them of subversive teaching, but it is only to make arrests and prosecutions where there have been actual violations of Federal Laws governing these subjects.

I say to you that if the policy of the Federal Department of Justice is to recognize that its attention should only be directed to violations of the law, we ought to go slow when we proceed in the same direction. I do not think that we should establish in Pennsylvania a system of legislative inquiries and prosecutions, and I believe that we here in the House should be satisfied to accept the verdict of the Committee on Education, which I am sure will continue to give these various bills their proper study. I do not believe that the subcommittee which is studying these bills is motivated by any other than the purest of reasons from the standpoint of good government, and I believe that our efforts in this direction should be directed to the other bill, which I think is a broader bill, which I think is a fairer bill and certainly has more hope of attaining the right and the merited objectives which I am sure all of us desire.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. O'BRIEN and MELCHIORRE offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1941.

Whereas, Certain members of the House are successful in many fields of endeavor; and

Whereas, One of the members of the House today celebrates his twenty-second year of marital bliss; and

Whereas, It is fitting that the House of Representatives signalize so joyous an occasion; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives today felicitates the Honorable David M. Boies and his wife, Mabel, on this their twenty-second wedding anniversary; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House mail a copy of this resolution to the happy couple as a token of the House of Representatives's well wishes to them for many more happy and successful anniversaries.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to extend my thanks to the gentlemen from Philadelphia and to the Members of the House for their kind felicitations and all I should like to say is this, I would do the same thing over.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. CHUDOFF, TATE and VOLDOW offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1941.

Whereas, Today marks the twenty-fourth wedding anniversary of one of the members of the House; and

Whereas, During that period he has enjoyed a most happy married life; and

Whereas, His son was signally honored at a dinner in the White House by President Roosevelt; and

Whereas, All the Herman's have contributed to the renown of the name; be it therefore

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby congratulates the Honorable Mayer E. Herman on this, his twenty-fourth wedding anniversary, and wishes him many more to come; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Honorable Mayer E. Herman, and the members of his family.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Herman.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is with a great sense of gratitude that I express my appreciation this week of the privilege of being married twenty-four years. It is not a joke especially when you have to raise a family, but as the previous speaker said if I had it to do over again I would have done the same thing. It is a great pleasure to bring up a family. I appreciate having a lovely wife and three lovely children, and in their behalf and in behalf of myself I wish to thank the sponsors of this resolution and the Members of the House from the bottom of my heart. I thank you.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendments.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER, asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak briefly on a matter that has come up this afternoon in relation to un-American teachings and unamerican teachers and subversive teaching and subversive teachers in our public schools, our colleges and universities.

As has been said here before, the Honorable George E. Jones and myself early in the session presented a bill to have an investigating committee appointed to investigate such teaching and teachers not only in our public schools but also in our colleges and universities, which are partly financed or wholly financed by the taxpayers money.

The previous speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, rather intimated or implied that in introducing this bill for an investigating committee, we, more or less, went off halfcocked, that we did not read every one of the so-called Rugg text books and guides and reference books of which there are twenty. That is true, we did not read them. What brought our bill forth more than anything else was the action of private citizens of a municipality of this Commonwealth who had to go into the schools and steal books out of the school that they regarded as subversive, and when any body of citizens has to do that it is high time that an investigating committee be appointed.

There was also defended on the floor of this House a gentleman known as Doctor Rugg. May I quote? I am not going to take very much time,—I am just going to read one or two samples. Here is a pamphlet by R. Worth Shumaker, Assistant National Americanization Director of the American Legion, in which he quotes Doctor Counts, a colleague of Doctor Rugg, in which Doctor Counts says in his book entitled "Dare the Schools Build a New Social Order?"

"Almost everywhere it is the grip of conservative forces and is serving the cause of perpetual ideas and institutions suited to an age that is gone." That is on page 5. I quote further: "That the teachers should deliberately reach for power and then make the most of their conquest is my firm conviction."

In reference to Democracy, Doctor Counts writes:

"Democracy of course should not be identified with political forms and functions with the Federal Constitution, the popular election of officials, or the practice of universal suffrage."

That is from page 40.

Finally, Dr. Counts advises the teachers of the nation:

"The times are literally crying for a new vision of American destiny, The teaching profession or at least its progressive elements, should eagerly grasp the opportunities which the fates have placed in their hands."

That is from page 54.

So much for Dr. Counts. Let us go on to Dr. Rugg. Here is an extract from the Rugg social science textbooks presenting the five-year plan of the Soviet Union in a most favorable light. From "An Introduction to Rugg's 'Problem of American Culture,' published in 1931, a textbook for the first semester of the ninth grade, recently revised, I quote:

"The necessity for careful planning is now beginning to be recognized. Two things help to arouse our leaders. The first was the World War. * * * Hence, the whole must be planned. The second factor was, and is, Russia's 'Five Year Plan.'

"So are the number and kind of schools and colleges social centres and public buildings to be erected. In fact, every aspect of the economic, social, political life of a country of 140,000,000 people is being carefully planned."

That is from page 596 and 597.

And then also from his book on "Changing Governments and Changing Cultures," a second semester textbook for ninth grade, also recently revised:

"The Five-Year plan," it is the most daring and at the same time the most scientific attempt that a large nation has ever made to plan its ways of living."

That is from page 437.

I quote again:

"There were two aims behind the plan. The first was to transform a backward farming country into a rich industrial one, one in which all wastes in the production and distribution of physical goods would be eliminated, one which would be even more efficient than America. The second was to do away with private capitalism, to set up the completely socialized state."

Then in Doctor Rugg's Teachers Guide which book only the teachers have in their hands and the parents cannot see,—and I quote from pages 126-129:

"We suggest that the new regime in Russia be discussed as a great experiment. Indeed treat all the forms of government in the world today as experimental. A central concept of the entire social science course is increasing change."

I quote further.

"Thus the socialist leaders have exactly the same fundamental education idea and purpose as have the leaders of America, that is the building up of the culture of the people by the finest kind of education." And he says in his book, "Democracy in the curriculum"; "To bring forth on this continent in the form of a cooperative commonwealth, the civilization of abundance, democratic behavior, and integrity of expression and of beauty which is now potentially available"

And then he goes on and says this in Doctor Rugg's textbook—"The Great Technology".—here is what Doctor Rugg thinks of our fundamental and basic institutions and the founding fathers.

"Second, that every form of government on earth today must be regarded frankly as an experiment tentative and to be changed as new social and economic conditions develop. The trend has revealed scores of experiments, a great variety of forms and methods of collective living. The danger is that the young nationals of each of the sixty countries will grow up with the conviction that the form peculiar to his country is of proved superiority rather than that it is one of many experiments and could very likely be greatly improved by the substitution of many foreign practices." That is from page 270.

And he goes on to say.

"Thus through the schools of the world we shall disseminate a new conception of government one that will embrace all of the collective activities of men; one that will postulate the need for scientific control and operation of economic activities, in the interest of all people."

He clearly sets forth in this book "The Great Technology" that he believes in collectivity. I don't know the brand of Americanism that Doctor Rugg lays down as a standard for me. I will take the brand of Americanism that the American Legion believes in and formulates and which the American Legion is trying to teach to the young Nationals of this country, and not the kind of patriotism, nationalism or Americanism as put out by these men, Dr. Rugg, Dr. Counts, and by Dr. Stoddard of Philadelphia, if you please, and others of like ilk. They are deliberately seeking to brand their opinion and what kind of government we should have on our school children of tender age of the sixth grade and up rather than trying to teach facts, as facts should be taught in our public schools.

I could go on and on all afternoon, Mr. Speaker. I have here in my hand a report of investigating committees which have made investigations throughout this country, which shows that Dr. Rugg and his colleagues are very much not to be desired. This man is dangerous. He should be thrown out, together with all of his text books, and teachers like him should be thrown out of our public schools. I submit to you, Mr. Speaker, that this question does call for investigation by the Members of this House.

Referring to the $50,000 which is asked to be appropriated, as has been previously stated by a speaker we appropriated $50,000 for soil erosion, we appropriated a couple of million dollars for Bangs disease and so forth, but apparently we cannot spare one cent to see whether or not our school children are receiving the proper kind of education in our schools.

The Board of Education in the City of Philadelphia said that there is nothing wrong with Dr. Rugg, but they threw some of his books out of the school system and tried to whitewash the whole thing. I can show you Members of the House a report which knocks into a cocked hat the conclusions reached by the Board of Education of Philadelphia. They say that school boards are the proper people to do that. I will grant that, but when the school board refuses to do a good job it is time for the Legislature sitting down here to see that they do it.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Education Committee give every possible consideration to House Bill No. 201 and that this bill for the purpose of appointing an investigating committee, be reported out of committee. There won't be anything unfair about it, as the personnel of the committee is to consist of three Senators, three Representatives and three laymen, which would be undoubtedly, an unbiased committee. Certainly nothing can be lost, but everything can be gained by reporting out this bill now and that an investigating committee be appointed.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HOLLAND. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. SPEAKER, I am a member of the American Legion, I am a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. I have just heard it quoted on the Floor of the House that the American Legion was back of a certain movement, and I want to point out to the gentleman from Blair and to the gentleman from Lebanon that all the laws in the world will not stop the growth of communism. The only way that growth will be stopped is by good government. Russia had laws that put to death those in the day of the Czars who fought the government. We read of those days in Russia when the Cossacks rode down those people who asked for more money for their work, and who asked for good food for their starving children. What did that government send them? They sent them the Cossacks. I want to point out to the Republican members of this House that in the Republican days of Pennsylvania we had those same Cossacks in State Police and in the Coal and Iron Police who rode down those workers of Pennsylvania who asked for more living wages and food for their children. What has stopped the growth of communism in Pennsylvania was the Democratic Party who put an end to the Cossacks and an end to the Coal and Iron Police.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CULLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. SPEAKER, a few minutes ago my good friend, Mr. Finnerty from Philadelphia, called the attention of this House to the fact that the Academy of Music had refused to permit an American citizen to make a free American speech. In line with that and in answer to my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Finnerty, I would like to say this, American tolerance is a thing of the past when United States citizens noted for their bravery and integrity are condemned and vilified because they voice their honest opinions and convictions concerning war in Europe.

We reap as we sow. And just as long as American sows these seeds of fear, hatred, paganism and political gangsterism, just so long will America reap the fruits of physical, political, and moral disintegration. Christian America is decaying because old world politics, fear, intolerance and paganism are preached from the highest sources in our land.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HARKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have five or six of the books of Doctor Rugg back here and I do not propose that we go into a Committee of the Whole to investigate them now. I do wish to call to the attention of the Members a brief part of an article which appeared in the issue of Time under date of September 9, 1940, on page 65, where under a picture of Doctor Rugg the following statement is made, after some preceding paragraphs that have described several bits of book burning. This article says:

"Last month Professor Rugg looking harassed and unhappy, rose before summer students at Teachers College denounced 'Witchhunting.' Cried he: 'Those who say that we don't believe in private enterprise lie.' Meanwhile Professor Rugg's publishers, Ginn and Co. announced that Fall orders for Rugg books were bigger this year than last."

I believe that the school boards of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have sufficient discretion and sufficient power to buy the text books that they believe are proper. I do not believe we should impose upon the school boards our will or our wisdom in buying certain text books.

With respect to one of the books of Dr. Rugg which I have just picked up and opened at random, while I have no interest in the question whether Dr. Rugg's books are used in the Commonwealth or not used in the Commonwealth, other than the interest that we ought to allow free speech and to that end ought not take any action which would interfere with or proscribe free speech and the privileges that we have through free speech, and I would like to read a brief page or two from a book written by Dr. Rugg called "The Building of America."

Chapter III is headed "People of Many Countries Built America," and it goes on to say:

"Look at the picture on Page 29 and see this crowd of 'Americans.' All of them live in our country, the United States of America, and all are proud to call themselves Americans.

"Very likely the parents of many of these children came from countries far away. Some may have come from Russia; others from Italy or Spain or Mexico; still others from Great Britain or Germany or Denmark. In a large group or high school pupils like this every country may seem to be represented. Yet they are all Americans.

"As we read the stories in this book we shall often ask ourselves: 'Who were the people that settled the vast wilderness that is now the United States? What people had the courage to cut down the forests, cross the plains and prairies, climb up and down the mountains?'

"The answer is that no one people did it. It was people from many lands, many countries, many races. Daring and restless people came from England and Scotland. In all, several million came from the British Isles.

"The Dutch came from Holland and the Swedish immigrants from Sweden. Irishmen filled many boats for years and years, crossing the Atlantic from Ireland to North America. Later it was the Germans, who came by the tens of thousands, and the Danes and Norwegians, and still more Swedish people.

"If you will recall the countries of Europe as you studied them in Peoples and Countries, you will notice that all these peoples we have named came from western and northern Europe. For nearly 300 years those who built America came mostly from northwestern Europe. The negroes from Africa were almost the only exception.

"Only a few years ago millions of people began to come from southern and eastern Europe. Today there are several million Italians, an equal number of Jews, and even more Slavs from Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, and other parts of eastern Europe.

"From Mexico, to the south of us, have come quite a number of Mexicans, and from Asia came Chinese and Japanese. From Islands in the Pacific Ocean came Filipinos and Hawaiians. From still other places came other peoples.

"So we see that many, many different peoples built our country. From all over the world they came to North America. Their children and their children's children are the people we call Americans today.

"The pictures of this chapter show some famous Americans. If you were skillful in the study of faces, you would see from the photographs that most of these men and women came from families belonging to the British Isles or Germany or Scandinavia. Indeed, the ancestors of most of our presidents, lawyers, scientists, writers, architects, and teachers were from northern and western Europe. But some of our finest artists, lawyers, musicians, and leaders in government today were born of parents from Italy or Poland, from Russia, or from other parts of eastern and southern Europe.

"Let us remember that nearly every race and every country has sent us some fine people who have helped to make our America the country that it is today."

Mr. Speaker, I wish to say again I rise to defend the action of our committee and I believe that the committee is giving the serious consideration to this matter that it deserves. I again call to the attention of all the Members that the bill which I spoke of a few moments ago, which I think is House Bill 413, and I understand it is in the Committee on State Government. I believe that whatever we do should be done so that it will apply universally and will not apply to any individual group. I did not mean to reprimand or censure the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auken, or to be impertinent to him, but I do recall that he indicated to me he had not read these books which he wished investigated. I have several of these books. They have been up in the Committee room for quite a while and anybody who wants to read them may borrow them from me if they will give me a receipt for them because I will have to return them to the State Library. If anybody wants to read them, I will be glad to let them have them.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to call to the attention of the Members that reservations are still available for the dinner to be held at Hershey Hotel next Wednesday, May 28th, in honor of our able floor leader, the majority floor leader. Tickets for the dinner may be procured from Walter Miller in the Chief Clerk's Office, and for those who do not intend to drive transportation will be made available. The evening of May 28th will be devoted to the consumption of fine food and the dissemination of good fellowship. There will be no talk on budgets or anything of that kind, and since none of the money from the tickets is going into the Democratic party coffers I expect to see a great many Republicans there.

Mr. BRETHERICK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins. I have heard him prate about freedom of speech, and prattle about democracy. It seems to me if we are going to be able to maintain democracy we ought to bring this bill out on the floor of the House and let the Members of this General Assembly as a whole, pass upon its merits or its demerits. There is much to be said for it and much to be said against it but I think a bill which has aroused as much public interest as this bill has, ought to be brought on to the floor of the House so that every man in the House would have a right to cast his vote either for or against it.

I heard the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland rise to say that he was a member of the American Legion, and I too am a member of the American Legion. I want to object to the imputation contained in the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins to the effect that the American Legion is a selfish group, opposed to the Rugg Books. I am the president of a school board which is now considering those Rugg text books and I tell you that those books are definitely subversive. No books in all the history of this Commonwealth have tended more to create class hatred, partisanship and a feeling of hatred between brother and brother than these books have done. I do not favor an appropriation of fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of studying these books. I think the matter lies with the school districts within our Commonwealth, and I say to you gentlemen that these books are subversive nevertheless.

With regard to the bill introduced by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, I say to you it is only fair, if we are going to be able to maintain our democracy, that a bill of this vast importance ought to be brought on the floor of this House and passed upon by every Member on it.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL NO. 401.

An Act to further amend section five hundred eleven of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An Act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof, and the administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges, abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions, defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administration departments, boards, commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards and commissions, and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined," appropriating to the Department of Military Affairs, the proceeds of the sale of certain products to be expended for the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL NO. 66.

An Act to further amend the last paragraph of section four hundred thirty-nine of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" imposing additional duties on and providing for additional compensation of veterans' grave registrars

SENATE BILL NO. 270.

Whereupon,

The Speaker, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

MAJORITY REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOIL CONSERVATION

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to submit the report of the committee appointed by the Speaker pursuant to House Resolution No. 15, Serial No. 36, to investigate the operation and procedure of the Pennsylvania Soil Conservation Board and the extension service of Pennsylvania State College.

The report was read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journals of the House and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr. MOUL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the majority Members of the committee who have submitted this report, I want to call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that we have placed a complete copy of this report on the desks of each Member.

At this time I want to call particular attention to the findings of fact as noted on page '16 of that report, and the recommendations of the majority Members of the committee.

I quote from the report as follows:

1. The officials responsible for the promotion and operation of the soil erosion control program—Hon. John H. Light, Secretary of Agriculture, the State Soil Conservation Board, Dr. M. S. McDowell, director of Agricultural Extension of Pennsylvania State College—are guilty of gross dereliction of duty, having deliberately and openly refused to carry out the mandate of the Legislatures of 1937 and 1939.

2. As a result of the failure of the Soil Conservation Board to organize prior to June 13, 1939, funds for erosion control appropriated in 1937 were allowed to lapse, virtually no funds were appropriated to carry on the program after 1939 with a result that the erosion control program of the Commonwealth was almost wiped out.

3. Under the law it is the duty of the Secretary of Agriculture, ex officio head of the State Soil Conservation Board, to see to it the Board performs the functions for which it is responsible under the law. John H. Light, Secretary of Agriculture, is opposed in principle to federal soil erosion legislation, is opposed in principle to the Pennsylvania statute providing for and governing the creation of soil erosion districts. Through his personal leadership and through the activities of his department, an atmosphere of hostility and uncertainty was created which hampered the progress of the cause the State Soil Conservation Board of Pennsylvania was created to promote. The Chairman of the Board, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursued a policy of delay where sentiment in favor of the creation of soil erosion districts rendered open hostility inexpedient.

4. The Chairman of the State Soil Conservation Board of Pennsylvania was actively supported in his efforts to sabotage the 1937 act by Dr. McDowell who is opposed in theory, in practice and in principle to federal soil erosion legislation and to the Pennsylvania Erosion District Statute of 1937, and who does not intend in the future to do anything calculated to place the Pennsylvania Erosion District Statute in full force and effect.

5. The program for which the State Soil Conservation Board of Pennsylvania was primarily responsible was consistently undermined by county agents, operating under Dr. McDowell's direction, who, in a majority of instances, either openly or covertly opposed the formation of soil erosion districts. Dr. McDowell himself exerted direct pressure on his county agents with a view of inducing or requiring them to oppose the formation of erosion districts and to influence those residing within the proposed districts to vote against the district plan.

6. The activities and utterances of both the Secretary of Agriculture and the director of Agricultural Extension at the Pennsylvania State College have been persistently calculated to discourage the formation of erosion districts and promote active hostility to them.

7. Both Mr. Light and Dr. McDowell maintained the position it was not their duty to promote soil erosion by advocating the creation of erosion districts under the law, but that it was instead the duty of the Board and the duty of the Agricultural Extension executives simply to assist in the administration of such districts as were thrust upon them. On the other hand, Dr. S. W. Fletcher, dean of the School of Agriculture, Pennsylvania State College, was consistently interested in furthering the creation of soil erosion districts by means of educational and promotional programs. Dr. Fletcher's attitude, as a member of the State Soil Conservation Board of Pennsylvania, was distinctly helpful to those desirous of operating under the erosion district law. Dr. Fletcher's attitude and activities were in marked contrast to the attitude of the Secretary of Agriculture and the director of Agricultural Extension.

We recommend:

1. That the Soil Conservation Board be reorganized and be made up as follows:

The Secretary of Agriculture

The Dean of the State College Experimental Station

The Pennsylvania State Coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Four duly elected representatives from among local soil erosion control district boards.

This will give control to the men who are intimately connected with the problem and who are working on it and will insure the farmers of the State sympathetic hearing of their problems and wholehearted cooperation in bringing to them the benefits of this national conservation program.

2. That John H. Light, Secretary of Agriculture, be cited by this House for gross dereliction of duty in his deliberate refusal to follow the mandate of the Legislature, and that he should be dismissed by the Governor if he is unwilling to cooperate during the remaining term of his office.

3. That the House cite Dr. M. S. McDowell, Director of Agricultural Extension of State College, to the Board of Trustees of State College for his refusal to cooperate in the Erosion Control program and for his failure to use the county agents of the Extension Service for the furtherance of the soil erosion program and the assistance of the districts already formed.

At the same time we would cite with approval to the Board of Trustees Dr. S. W. Fletcher for his interest and determined activity in behalf of the program. That he did not succeed is no fault of his.

4. That the House of Representatives cite Dr. McDowell to the United States Department of Agriculture for his failure to cooperate in this program.

5. We recommend that the appropriation to the Soil Conservation Board and the local districts be increased to $57,500, to enable them to carry out the wishes of the Legislature and that it be made clear in the Act making the appropriation that local boards are not to be denied reimbursement of proper expenses.

6. We recommend that the usual appropriation be made to Pennsylvania State College with the stipulation that funds for the Extension Service be paid only if full cooperation is given by it to the soil conservation program.

7. Our investigation has compelled us to give serious thought to the proper function of Pennsylvania State College in relation to the Commonwealth as a whole and to agriculture in particular.

It is not our function to determine the future conduct of the College in relation to any other matter other than soil erosion control. We urge, however, the State College in planning its future curricula lay greater emphasis upon preparing its students for participation in their post-college life in modern methods of farm and forestry technique.

MINORITY REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOIL CONSERVATION

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I herewith present to the House the minority report on Resolution No. 15, Printer's No. 20.

I am offering this report for several reasons. First, I feel that the report of the majority fails to cover much of the evidence produced before the investigating committee, and secondly, I sat through all these hearings and gave careful consideration to all of the evidence submitted and I am convinced that the present soil conservation law does not meet with the approval of the farmers generally in the State of Pennsylvania, and for that reason I am going to introduce a bill which I think will be acceptable to the farmers of this state.

The report was read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journals of the House and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act."

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

HONORING THEODORE ROSEN BY PLACING PORTRAIT IN CITY HALL AT PHILADELPHIA

Mr. DiSILVESTRO offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 22, 1941.

Whereas, The Courts of the County of Philadelphia and the 315th Infantry Association have honored the memory of a splendid American, the late Honorable Theodore Rosen, by placing a portrait of this distinguished soldier, citizen and judge in the City Hall of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, Judge Rosen was one who made a lasting impression upon his community because of his patriotism and sincerity; and

Whereas, Born and raised in this great country, he enlisted in the United States Army in 1917; commissioned a lieutenant in the 315th Infantry, 79th Division, he was twice cited for bravery under fire on the battlefields of France. He lost an arm, an eye and sustained twenty-four other wounds as a result of his heroic deeds, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross in 1919, while still in the hospital; and

Whereas, Notwithstanding such physical handicaps, he completed his schooling and was admitted to practice law in this Commonwealth. In 1922 he was appointed Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War of the United States of America. In 1926 he was appointed an assistant district attorney in Philadelphia County. In 1931 he was appointed to the bench of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County, and in 1937 he was elected Judge of the Court of Common Pleas No. 2, in Philadelphia; and

Whereas, He was likewise active in the county, state and national affairs of the American Legion, serving as Commander of his post and as Chairman of the County Council; and

Whereas, In 1940, he enrolled for training in the Citizens Military Training Camp at Camp Meade, Maryland, and it was there that he contracted the illness which caused his untimely death; and

Whereas, The Honorable Theodore Rosen lived and died in the service of mankind, fighting for an ideal and it is fitting and proper that this service be forever dedicated to the memory of the men and women of this Commonwealth; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Department of Military Affairs of the Commonwealth is hereby requested to enroll the name of Theodore Rosen among those whose memory shall be honored in imperishable stone in the city where he lived and which he loved.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT, from the Committee on Agriculture, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 915, (House Bill No. 124), entitled:

An Act to amend the title and the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 417), entitled "An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor; requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment for milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of subpoenas by the commission; conferring jurisdiction upon courts to punish contempts and to prohibit violations of this act and of rules, regulations and orders of the commission; authorizing the commission to adopt rules, regulations and orders, and to enter into interstate and Federal compacts; requiring persons who weigh, measure, sample or test milk to procure permits or certificates, to take examinations, to pay fees therefor, to furnish certain notices, records and statements, and to use certain methods of weighing, measuring, sampling and testing; authorizing the commission to examine the business, papers and premises of milk dealers and producers, requiring the keeping of records and the filing of reports by milk dealers, and permitting, with limitations, the use of information obtained thereby; authorizing the commission to fix prices for milk and certain milk products subject to the approval of the Governor, and conferring certain powers upon the Governor with respect thereto; providing for appeals to the courts from decisions of the commission, and for the burden of proof upon such appeals; prescribing penalties, fines and imprisonment for violations of this act and rules, regulations and orders of the commission; defining perjury; defining remedies; repealing legislation supplied and superseded by this act, and saving rights, duties and proceeding thereunder; and making appropriations," by adding the term "handler" as a synonym for the term "milk dealer"; defining the terms "handle" and "handler"; extending the provisions of the act to those who handle milk by bailment, brokerage, consignment or purchase; authorizing special agents or examiners to conduct hearings on behalf of the commission enabling certain officers, employees and agents to administer oaths, providing the method and effect of service of certain orders and the posting of rules, regulations and certain orders, enabling employees of the commission to photograph, photostat, mark or stamp for identification books and papers that they have inspected, providing for action with milk control agencies of other states and of the United States in holding hearings and promulgating and enforcing orders, requiring milk dealers or handlers to be licensed, stating grounds for refusal, suspension, revocation of licenses or the right to apply for a license or for refusal to transfer licenses, stating the effect of service by registered mail when the addressee refuses to accept or receive such mail, enlarging requirements of milk dealers or handlers to file bonds to secure payment to producers and certain milk dealers or handlers, prescribing the effective date and term of such bonds and providing for their release, providing for the increase or decrease of the amounts of bonds, prescribing the effect of orders and findings of fact of the commission relating to licenses in suits on bonds, providing for payment to those entitled thereto of moneys in the hands of the commission owing to milk dealers or handlers or producers, increasing the scope of regulation of sub-dealers making certain information available to cooperatives and producers' groups, clarifying the requisites of orders fixing prices for milk, providing for the competency of certain statistical testimony and data, providing that all provisions of price-fixing orders shall be presumed valid and placing the burden of proving invalidity or partial invalidity of any order, defining violations of orders of the commission fixing prices, making milk dealers or handlers responsible for acts of directors officers agents or other persons acting for on behalf of them, giving certain additional rights to cooperatives and producers' and farmers' unions or organizations of producers of milk, further regulating and imposing duties on milk dealers or handlers, setting up a price fixing procedure, restricting powers of the Governor, prescribing procedure on appeal from orders of the commission, further defining and prescribing penalties defenses rights and remedies, and providing for the payment of funds in the hands of the commission owing to producers and handlers.

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Carr on April 14, 1941 reported the same without amendment as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE FEDERAL FUNDS TO STATES PROVIDING ASSISTANCE TO BLIND PERSONS

In the Senate, April 14, 1941.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania recognizing the duty of the Commonwealth to provide for its unfortunate blind citizens has provided for the payment to them of a pension; and

Whereas, The Federal Government contributes toward the care of blind persons but insists that moneys apportioned to any state for such purpose must and can only be contributed on a basis of the actual need of the blind; and

Whereas, This Commonwealth receives no part of Federal funds apportioned for blind persons because its system of assistance for the blind is on a liberal pension basis instead of the basis of actual need as required by the Federal Social Security Act; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the Congress of the United States is hereby memorialized to amend the Social Security Law of the Federal Government by providing for the contribution of Federal funds for assistance to blind persons to states which provide for such assistance either on a basis of actual need or on a pension basis; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy hereof be transmitted to the President and Vice President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to the Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States from this Commonwealth.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it is somewhat difficult to interest the members of the Senate or the Legislature in memorializing Congress to do this and that. Frankly I have been opposed to the policy of voting for such resolutions because I do not think it is a proper sphere for the Legislature to tell Congress what to do or what not to do. Neither have I been in favor of getting up on the floor of the Senate, even though it has been called the sounding board in Pennsylvania, and criticizing, especially through constructive criticism, any of our public officials, and in spite of differences of opinion that might exist politically, I always resent any criticism of the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth or the Chief Executive of our Nation.

I would like to call to the attention of the Senators an article appearing in one of the Pittsburgh newspapers, not because calling it to your attention will correct the situation which exists, but I think we owe it to our State and to our Nation to take cognizance of something that has increased and is increasing in popularity in this country recently and I for one will not stand idly by without raising my voice in protest.

Some very distinguished and long dead French statesman said with regard to freedom of speech, and this statement has been repeated over and over, something to this effect: "I do not have to agree with my opponent in what he says but I will defend with my life his right to say it."

In these United States in very recent weeks there has been publicized an incident all over the Nation, in which the Chief Executive of the Nation had a difference of opinion with Colonel Charles Lindbergh, who at one time was the idol of America and Americans. Colonel Lindbergh has a certain philosophy of government, on which he has expressed himself publicly and privately, and that philosophy of government does not agree with the philosophy of government as expressed by the Chief Executive of the Nation. I think, Mr. President, differences of opinion are very healthy things and it was differences of opinion which promoted the representative form of government that has been a bulwark of our form of democracy since 1776.

Without taking sides, Mr. President, with either Colonel Lindbergh or the Chief Executive—because I still respect Colonel Lindbergh for what he has given to America in the past, and without taking sides with the Chief Executive of the Nation, as to the views he holds and the thing he is trying to do for the nation as he sees best, Mr. President, when I see an item which appears under a Philadelphia date line, over the Associated Press wires—which makes it doubly damned in my opinion, because I have always looked upon Philadelphia with a great deal of respect—it is the Cradle of Liberty; there is housed the building that is represented on the walls of this Senate Chamber—there sit a group of men who drafted our documents of liberty, guests in the City of Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love, the Cradle of Liberty, the home of the Liberty Bell, and under a Philadelphia headline there appears an Associated Press article which I would like to read, as follows:

LINDBERGH SPEECH ADS ARE REJECTED

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Transportation System announced today it would not accept trolley and bus displays advertising the appearance of Charles A. Lindbergh here next week because it considers the subject "too controversial."

The America First committee, which will sponsor Lindbergh's address at the Arena May 29, also was refused advertising time today by two Philadelphia radio stations, KYW and WCAU.

Now I say this, Mr. President, I do not care whether we agree with Colonel Lindbergh or whether we side with the Chief Executive of the Nation in the philosophy of government which they exercise but I want to say it is high time we stop kidding ourselves under war hysteria. Colonel Lindbergh or anybody else has a right to get up at any time anywhere and voice his opinion. That is democracy in operation and when we get to a situation in Pennsylvania of permitting the throttling of free speech, whether it be in this Senate Chamber, whether it be in the House of Representatives or whether it be in the Halls of Congress or on our street corners or in our public halls, we are being just as un-american as those who attempt to destroy this government by force or by subversive activities and I say to you, Mr. President, it is time we took cognizance of the fact that free speech is being throttled not only in the United States but here within the confines of Pennsylvania, and you and I, as Pennsylvanians, ought to take cognizance of it and do something about it. "Of course you can say, what can we do?" I say this, Mr. President, we can stand up in this Chamber and say to the people of Pennsylvania, who we are their representatives, we still believe in liberty, we still believe in justice and equality, and we still believe in freedom of speech, and we resent the throttling or suppression of freedom of speech, whether we are in favor of Colonel Lindbergh or anyone else, and our philosophy of government, gives him the right to stand up anywhere in Pennsylvania and make his statements and voice his opinions.

That is Americanism in operation and to those people in the City of Brotherly Love, right in the Cradle of Liberty and the Cradle of Democracy in this Country, I want to say it is high time Philadelphia looks to its past in preserving its future.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, recently in this Senate there was a bill known as the Walker—Cavalcante Bill. That bill as I understood it, and as I interpreted its provisions, deliberately took from a certain segment of our people the right to believe and say the things they desired to believe and say. In the voting on this bill I stood out probably as the one "no" vote on the measure.

Mr. President, I recently received a resolution from the Westmoreland County Council of the American Legion, which I would like to read to the members of this Senate. It is as follows:

"THE AMERICAN LEGION

"DEPARTMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA

"Westmoreland County Council Resolution

"Whereas, John H. Dent, State Senator of the 39th District, Westmoreland County, Penna., has voted against Senate Bill No. 172.

"And Whereas, Senate Bill No. 172 would eliminate from our Election Ballot, the name of any Political Party or Parties, that advocate the over-throw of our Government by force or violence.

"And Whereas, Senate Bill No. 172 should have had the support of every true American Citizen.

"Now Therefore, It is resolved that the Westmoreland County Council of the American Legion go on record, condemning the action of Senator John H. Dent for voting against the Senate Bill No. 172 and that this Resolution be spread upon the minutes of this organization, and that a copy be sent to Senator John H. Dent.

"Resolution unanimously adopted at the regular meeting of the Westmoreland County Council of the American Legion, held at West Newton on Wednesday, April 16, 1941.

"C. P. LARRABEE, Sec.,

"Westmoreland County Council,

"American Legion.

C. R. BARCLAY, Chairman,
Westmoreland County Council,
American Legion."

In reply to the resolution, Mr. President, I penned this epistle yesterday.

"Mr. C. R. Barclay, Chairman,

"Westmoreland County Council,

"American Legion.

"Dear Mr. Barclay:

"I have just received a Resolution passed by the Westmoreland County Council of the American Legion, and in which, I find that I have been condemned for my Legislative action in voting against Senate Bill No. 172.

"It may interest the County Council to know that no where in the bill is there anything that specifically details what persons or parties would be eliminated from the official ballot.

"I took the position that this bill was born in a moment of hysteria, and that a strict application of its provisions would cause an unfair situation. I say this because the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth are always members of the same political party, and if they so desired, they could remove from the ballot, any persons or parties of an independent nature, thereby, obstructing the proper process of Democratic Government.

"I further stated on the floor of the Senate that the thing to do with Communists, Fascists, and Nazis, would be to allow them to be out in the open, where you and I, as good Americans could count them, and by so doing, present our defenses against them.

"I can say to you, that many Senators expressed the same opinion, but lacked the political courage to vote their convictions. It has always been my belief that if we vote honestly on legislation, we can depend upon the good judgment of unbiased citizens.

"Your resolution fails to take cognizance of the fact, that the Miller Bill, which specifically outlawed Communist Teachers, who mold the opinions of the youth of our state, was supported whole-heartedly by me. In so doing, I took the position that School Teachers have sufficient safe-guard against any political frame-up and that in their cases, if the charges were proven against them, then they should be dismissed.

"Pertaining to the third whereas clause in your resolution, "Senate Bill No. 172 should have had the support of every true American Citizen." I wish to say that my Americanism has never been questioned and measured in the light of my past performances. I do not hesitate to consider myself a true and good American Citizen.

"This may be incidental, but I think that it would be enlightening to some of the Members of the County Council to know that I, too, have served in the Armed Forces of our Country. I have served in the United States Marines for four full years, in the Aviation Corps, and if the occasion arises, where I can be of any service to my Country, rest assured that I stand ready at all times.

"Ever since I have been in Harrisburg, I have cooperated on the Americanization Program of the American Legion. I have always cooperated in the Scholarship Awards and intend to do so, so long as I am in my present position.

"I regret that I was not given an opportunity to present my case to the Legion before action was taken. However, if at any time in the future, I can be of any service to the Members of the Legion, I will continue as I have in the past, to always comply with their wishes.

"If the Legion will extend me the courtesy of an opportunity to present my side of the story at one of their meetings, I will be grateful for the same.

"Assuring you that I always try to give the other fellow the same privilege and opportunity that I, myself, desire, I remain, Very truly yours, JOHN H. DENT."

I feel as does the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, only a man does not have to have a name like Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who was an outstanding hero at one time to the people of Pennsylvania, to get from me the same consideration that I would want for myself. I have always stood firm for the right of all persons to stand up and say the things they want to say, when they want to say them and where they want to say them. I believe in that principle deeply and that is why I voted against Bill No. 172, because it fundamentally took away from the people of this State of Pennsylvania certain rights which were theirs under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

I stand on that position and I will continue to stand on it, Mr. President.

The difference in conditions presented in Bill 172 and Charles A. Lindbergh is this; 172 controls persons who talk loud and long in their denunciations but now we allow Lindbergh to go around the country entirely upon his past record, that same Lindbergh whose feat was duplicated by an Irishman who did not even know where he was going, if you please, in a worse crate than Lindbergh flew.

At the time Lindbergh flew across the ocean I was serving my country in the Island of Haiti and when Lindbergh was on his goodwill tour he flew to the field where I was and I had to take care of his ship and give it a routine inspection and if ever a man took a blasting—you should have heard what I got when he landed there.

That man has no tolerance for opinions of others, and yet I think he ought to have the right to say and do all he can for Nazi Germany, if that is what he wants to do. I do not feel that way about it.

Now he says, because he is mad at President Roosevelt, he does not have to serve in the army. Well, I have a kid brother who is about to be drafted. I wonder if he would pick a fight with Roosevelt whether he would not have to join the army.

I do not believe in the things Lindbergh believes in; I am wholeheartedly against the things he stands for. I am wholeheartedly in favor of full fledged support to England, because to me there is no greater danger of this country being destroyed than by the very men like Lindbergh and the men whom he represents. It was that kind of argument that has caused the downfall of every nation in Europe, which is now under the heel of the Germanic Hitler over in Germany and the Fascists in Italy.

I want to say that is the type of persons who are today trying to blind the people of this country most to the real threats and the real dangers in which we find ourselves, and just because he happens to be Charles A. Lindbergh he can get away with things that you and I could not possibly get away with—we would be lynched to the first telephone pole if we would stand up and say the same things he does.

What if I refused to serve in the armed forces of this nation? Would I be treated like he has? I would be called a slacker like Bergdoll and that is all he is.

However, Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman from Allegheny, if he wants to say it he has a right to say it, and of course we have a right to disagree. I want to tell the American Legion I want for myself the same rights I want for Lindbergh and, if I am wrong I will stand the consequences.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, that I appreciate his comments on the newspaper article which I read to the members of the Senate. I do not want to confuse the issue; I do not want even in jest to suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland that even though Colonel Lindbergh, when he was just a Captain and making a goodwill tour, dusted off a grease money in Haiti, I do not think that should confuse the issue between freedom of speech and subversive activities.

I want to say in all seriousness that fundamentally the gentleman from Westmoreland is entirely correct; he can hate the individual that is involved, he can despise the ground upon which he stands, but here he can get up on the floor of this Senate to say this man Lindbergh has a right to express his philosophy of government.

As to whether or not there is a difference between the Communist Party, their opinions and what they are doing, and Colonel Lindbergh and what he is doing, that is a debatable issue which has many collateral points, and I do not want to confuse the issue on the minds of the members of the Senate in presenting this discussion this morning.

Mr. President, I want to impress upon the members of this Senate the fact that freedom of speech, regardless of collateral issues, is being seriously denied to Americans in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and regardless of any of the individuals involved I say to you as members of the Senate that it is time we took cognizance of what is happening and attempt to stamp it out, because regardless of whether we agree with Lindbergh or President Roosevelt or Senator Dent or Senator Walker, any and all of those individuals pass into insignificance as long as the philosophy of government we represent is being threatened.

We should gladly and willingly extend that right to any American as long as there is freedom in this country, but the minute you try to stamp out these conditions by ignoring them, by ignoring them and by disregarding the principles of free speech; the minute you start that freedom in Pennsylvania and in the United States is on the downward path and that is why I urge you, even though this is one of those sleepy Thursday sessions, that we do recognize in our own minds and hearts that we are standing on the threshold of elimination of free speech, which has been a foundation stone of this nation for almost two hundred years.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, listening to the discussion on the floor of the Senate this afternoon my mind went back to the Revolutionary Days and the formative period of American history. We have contributed to this nation the best of all the great people of the European countries. The English came to give us the many great institutions, dating back many, many centuries; the Dutch came to encourage faith and commerce; the Jews came solemnly on business; the French came with a touch of spontaniety; the Spaniards came with a touch of the spirit of bravado; the Irish came to help us with their humor which has aided in our American history, and so from the cold practicality of Scandinavia to the warm impulsiveness of the people of Southern Europe we had contributed to these shores the greatest people in all the world and their coming has been one of the most thrilling stories of human history. They came here to build a home, a church and a school, thereby laying deep and strong the foundation of a future liberty that may be the last hope of the world. I have a great deal of respect for the nation that has taken my family—my mother and father—and absorbed it into this great American way of life.

Mr. President, I am a great believer in freedom of speech. One of the greatest orators of American history was Bob Ingersoll, who was a contemporary of Abe Lincoln. Bob Ingersoll, I believe, for brilliancy of language and profundity of thought, was one of the greatest orators of American history. Bob, however, was an agnostic—one particular thing with which I disagree—but Bob believed that his religion was doing good on earth and he said something on one occasion I think my good friend the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, will be entirely in accord with. Some of the Republican leaders of the State of Illinois visited Bob Ingersoll in his office around 1860, sat down with him, and told Bob, "You can be Governor of the State of Illinois if you will cease your attacks on the church," and Bob looked at these people, who represented the leadership of the Republican party in those days, and who could very easily have guaranteed him, just by a promise, that if he would cease his attacks on religion, promise him Governorship of the State of Illinois, and he said, "Gentlemen, my religion is my own, doing good on earth here is my religion, and I would not smother the sentiment of my heart to be emperor of the globe."

That is a great spirit, I think, my good friend from Allegheny, Senator Walker, is defending. I have always been a great admirer, up until recently of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, I shall not forget, as will not 130,000,000 other Americans, when this fellow came from the mid-west in 1926, unheralded and unsung, and flew, without any fanfare [without any] panoply, across the ocean, alone and unaccompanied. His action, his deed, was a dramatic illustration of the possibilities of American boy-hood imbued with a firm determination to make good, and he won world wide acclaim, Americans drew Charles A. Lindbergh into the hearts, everybody who observed that particular incident; he won their love, challenged their respect and compelled their admiration.

This nation has been very, very kind to Charles A. Lindbergh. True it is he had an unfortunate occurrence, an unfortunate tragedy in his home, but the people of America and the American nation were in no way responsible, because what happened to him challenged the universal sympathy of the people of America generally.

Because Charles Lindbergh flew the Atlantic and flew across the Atlantic Ocean does not qualify him in my opinion as an expert on military affairs, and while I think we ought to have freedom of speech I sharply disagree with what Charles Lindbergh is doing here in America. I certainly think that we ought to permit everybody to express their opinion, but Charles Lindbergh I think is going just a little bit too far; he is going a little bit too far in the nation that has cradled him, the nation that has given him freedom and world-wide fame, and while I ordinarily would grant anybody the right of freedom of speech, I think Charles Lindbergh by his utterances is encouraging the gentleman who has thoughts, who has aspirations of world domination, and I want to publicly enter my protest to speeches delivered by Charles Lindbergh, no matter where they are delivered. I do not think anybody who is a proponent of democracy today ought to go to any lecture at which Charles Lindbergh is expressing what I think is necessarily a biased opinion.

I do not believe we ought to hide our heads in the sand, in not being cognizant of what is happening beyond here, neither, however, do I believe we ought to permit anybody by their public utterances to lend succor to people who want to destroy our American way of life and I want to join with my good friend, Senator Dent—John H. Dent—who at the age of sixteen gave four years of his life to the service of the American Nation. We ought to have freedom of speech but there is a line of demarcation, which reminds me of somebody's description of liberty, that liberty ends where the other fellows begin.

Mr. President, I want to add my humble word of protest and agree with the gentlemen in Philadelphia who are responsible for the suppression of Colonel Lindbergh's speeches, which I think are against the American Nation.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, now that we have paid just tribute to free speech, the merits of which have been illustrated, I suggest we now proceed to consideration of the Calendar.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, a couple of weeks ago, there was being considered in connection with a bill which was sponsored by the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Miller, and I made a statement that there are certain spineless jelly fishes, mollycoddles in our land today. I feel every member in this Senate and our friend John Frederick Lewis ought to pay a little more attention to somebody really nearby, in the City of Philadelphia, right in the city hall, rather than by losing time going after Lindbergh, whom I too despise and detest for speaking as he does at a moment like this when the world is in turmoil.

Mr. President, I suggest that John Frederick Lewis look in the city hall in Philadelphia for a certain class of individuals he will find there. I will keep on referring to my friend the spineless jelly fish and mollicoddle who resides in city hall.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 185, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of, and to add section two and one-tenth to, the act, approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127), entitled "An act relating to adoption," further regulating adoption proceedings as to the consent of, and notice to be given to, parents of the person proposed to be adopted.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 262, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twelfth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 335), entitled "An act creating a temporary commission to examine, report upon, and recommend measures to improve the economic, cultural, health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the State, and making an appropriation of the expenses of such commission," by extending the term of such commission until the next regular session of the General Assembly; and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that if there is any question about this bill I would suggest that it go over in its order until Monday.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to have it go over in its order until Monday.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 262, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 500, (House Bill No. 708), entitled:

An Act enabling city county poor institution district ward school borough and township tax collectors their executors and administrators if they are deceased or either surety or sureties to collect taxes for the payment of which they have become personally liable without having collected the same by the expiration of the authority of their respective warrants or by the expiration of their terms of office extending the time for the collection of the same for a period of two years from the passage of this act and validating collections and proceedings for collections made or commenced without previous authority

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like someone to explain this bill to me. I do not want to interfere with its passage but it seems to me it provides for a revival of taxes which have long since been overdue and given up by the collector.

It seems to me that the bill ought to be further considered before it is passed.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 500, (House Bill No. 708), on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections? The Chair hears none.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 571, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Local Government Commission to continue its work

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) together with the unexpended balance of the moneys appropriated for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one or so much thereof as may be necessary are hereby specifically appropriated and reappropriated to the Local Government Commission created by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 244) for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one to continue the work of the Commission and to make a study of and a report on a simplified efficient and less expensive system or systems for the collection of delinquent taxes of local government and for the payment of the expenses of the numbers of said commission for the payment of the compensation and expenses of the secretary counsel and other appointees of the commission for printing postage supplies telephone telegraph and miscellaneous expenses and generally for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of said act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I should like to ask the amount of appropriation, if anybody knows.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is ten thousand dollars.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, is the bill in our desks.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands it is; Printer's No. 147.

Mr. EDMONDS. It is in my desk.

Mr. WALKER. That is all I ask, Mr. President. It is not on my desk but I am advised copies are on the desks of some of the Senators. I do not like to have bills in which I am interested passed up because they are not on our desk and have others voted on for the same reason.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—35

Barr,	Deltrick,	Homsher,	Stiefel,

L. 1206), entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," authorizing the furnishing of meeting rooms to veterans' organizations and the payment of rentals of certain buildings and rooms by such organizations

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, at the request of the sponsor, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 55, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to add clause twenty-two to section seven hundred and two of the act, approved, the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103), entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," authorizing the furnishing of meeting rooms to veterans' organizations and the payment of rentals of certain buildings and rooms by such organizations

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 213, on second reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies acting for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to acquire by gift from the owner thereof, Pottsgrove Mansion with tract of land situate in the ninth ward of the Borough of Pottstown, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania; providing for the control, management, supervision, improvement and maintenance thereof by the Pennsylvania Historical Commission; authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to make and enforce rules and regulations for the preservation, maintenance and visitation thereof; and creating an advisory board to assist in such functions

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 387, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (8) of subsection A of section one thousand two hundred eight and section one thousand two hundred nine of the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 624), entitled "An act relating to the business of banking, and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations; providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers, and of banking corporations, with or without fiduciary powers, including the conversion of National banks into State banks, and for the licensing of private bankers; defining the rights, powers, duties, liabilities, and immunities of such corporations; of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business, with or without fiduciary powers, of private bankers, and of the officers, directors, trustees, shareholders, attorneys, and other employes of all such corporations or private bankers, or of affiliated corporations, associations, or persons; restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation, association, or person, and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts, prothonotaries, recorders of deeds and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," by further changing provisions relating to authorized investments of savings banks not under special charter and special charter savings banks.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, I intend to move that this bill be recommitted.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I should like to know the purpose of the bill, Mr. President.

Mr. EDMONDS. The purpose of the bill, Mr. President, is that there were a number of bills sent in by the Housing Authority to allow investment by banks, saving fund and trust companies, fire insurance companies, life insurance companies and everything else, in housing bonds. This bill relates to saving fund societies particularly. They were turned down by the various committees that had them under consideration and later on there was an appeal from one of the saving funds.

This bill is being revived on the ground that is a safe investment and therefore they could properly from that point be reconsidered.

Personally, Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill. After all, guaranteeing that security I think is a mistake, as it will make an investor more careless than if he had to stand on his own judgment. That is why I am opposed to this kind of legislation, but there is a demand and the demand comes from reputable authorities with reputable business back of it and I am willing to alter my own judgment in the matter.

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 387, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 555, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board," as amended, by regulating the use or disclosure of public assistance lists and records, and adding to penal provisions go over in its order, the bill not being up from the printers.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1004, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance, and providing for certain allocations therefrom, for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, this bill, which is an appropriation bill, Senate Bill No. 1004, was just introduced today but in view of the fact that it is an appropriation bill, amounting to eleven million dollars, in order that relief shall not be discontinued on the first of June or at the beginning of the next biennium, and because of the fact that the appropriation bills have been tied up for such a long period in the House, without this bill being passed those people on relief who are in need and hungry would not get the relief necessary because of the tie-up which has occurred.

MOTION TO READ BILL THE FIRST TIME

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, because of the urgency of this appropriation measure, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of Senate Bill No. 1004 reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.
It was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1004, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance, and providing for certain allocations therefrom, for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 508, entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand three hundred twenty of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by authorizing the State Council for the Blind to furnish certain aids and services to needy blind persons or persons with impaired vision for the purpose of restoring or improving their vision, and authorizing the State Council for the Blind to accept and expend Federal moneys in furtherance of such purpose.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 509, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Council for the Blind for use in supplying medical treatment, surgical operations, eye-glasses or other necessary aids or services to needy blind persons or persons with impaired vision.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 906, entitled:

An Act prescribing the powers and duties of the Department of Forests and Waters in respect to the Brandywine Battlefield; and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 915, (House Bill No. 124), entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 417) entitled "An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor; requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment of milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of sub-

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, May 26, 1941, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:15 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time until Monday, May 26, 1941, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, May 22, 1941

The House met at 10 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall offered the following prayer:

O Lord and Saviour, be not wroth with us as we look up into heaven praying for the manifestation of Thy might in this wicked world. Our best efforts seem to fail, and dreams of holiness for ourselves and our fellowmen are so far from realization. We long for greater progress in the building of the heavenly Kingdom on earth and we often yearn for Thee to bare Thy holy arm in the sight of all the nations. Teach us to patiently await the coming of the Spirit and to trust his power to make us living and effective witnesses unto the ends of the earth. Hear our prayer. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. HERSCH, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. McFALL and ELLWOOD B. WELSH.
HOUSE BILL No. 1767.

An Act to further amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1518), entitled, as amended "An act regulating the construction, equipment, maintenance, operation and inspection of elevators; granting certain authority to and imposing certain duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry; providing fees for inspection of elevators, certificates of operation, and approval of plans; providing penalties for violations of this act; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act" by defining and making further provision relative to the installation and use of "man lift" elevators.

Referred to the Committee on State Government.

By Mr. PRESLEY N JONES. HOUSE BILL No. 1677.

An Act to prevent the concealment of assets and the evasion of inheritance or transfer taxes by prohibiting the delivery or transfer of certain personal property belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent or belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent and one or more other persons, unless and until the Department of Revenue or its designated agent has been notified of an consented in writing to such transfer or delivery; prohibiting the concealment of assets for the purpose of evading inheritance or transfer taxes; and providing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

By Mr. SHAFFER. HOUSE BILL No. 1678.

An Act to further amend section one thousand one hundred thirty-three of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by removing certain limitations of the appointment of district superintendents.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. PRESLEY N. JONES. HOUSE BILL No. 1679.

An Act to enable the county commissioners of counties of the fourth, fifth and sixth classes to establish by resolution the requirements of responsible bidders for county printing; and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

Referred to the Committee on Printing.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. CORDIER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 96.

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1941.

Whereas, There is now pending before the Congress of the United States, a bill which provides for the regulation and restrictions of natural gas and oil line extensions; and

Whereas, Such legislation, if passed, would result in a conservation of the natural resources of this country; and

Whereas, It would further result in establishing fair competition between the anthracite industry and other fuel producing industries, so that both might achieve a stabilization and a comparatively prosperous condition;

Whereas, Such a result would be highly beneficial to all these industries, as well as to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The enactment of such legislation would further control the transportation into the State of products of other states in direct competition with those produced in our own; be it therefore

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes Congress to pass such legislation in the interest of national defense and national prosperity; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed to all Congressmen and Senators representing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, urging them to use their fullest efforts in order to effect the passage of this remedial legislation.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as I said in a speech a few weeks, ago, I am a very modest fellow, and I wouldn't for anything blow my own horn, but again I cannot resist the temptation to renew remarks that I made a short time ago when the Liquid Fuel Tax Bill was being debated by this House. You will recall at that time I made some remarks about the possibility of curtailment of the use of gasoline and made mention of the high price of gasoline which is the deterrent to its use which existed during World War I, and the gasless Sundays, which of course further curtailed the use of it.

At the time I was answered by the majority floor leader of this House by stating that he had investigated the facts and found that there was plenty of oil on hand and that there was no need to be concerned about gasless Sundays or a shortage of gasoline.

Making a budget for two years is making a budget for a long time, particularly in these times when it is difficult to foresee exactly what is going to happen over such a long period of time, and I really had no hope of being justified in my prediction quite as soon as I have been.

Those of you who have been following the papers may have noticed that not the cabinet members, not any minor officials of the government of the United States, but the President himself, realizing that the situation was serious enough to warrant attention directly by him, made a statement this week stating that the use of gasoline on the eastern seaboard, which includes the state of Pennsylvania, would have to be curtailed in the very near future if certain things were not done quickly, and a review of those things which must be done will show that it is practically impossible for them to be done quickly.

I am going to make reference to an article which appears in the issue of May 26th of "Time" magazine which is just off the press:

"For months," the article starts, "the U. S. has been heading towards a transport bottleneck. Last week it was just around the corner, and so, as a result, were gasolineless Sundays."

Then it goes on to explain about the transfer of fifty tankers, reducing the number of tankers hauling gas and oil from a total of 345 to 295, and it calls attention to the fact that 25 of those have already been transferred, and states that when the second 25 follow soon, the seaboard oil stringency will be acute.

"Already Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has begun to convert part of its great Bayway, New Jersey refinery to burn coal instead of oil. This week Socony announced it would follow suit and that it had already converted the heating system of its downtown Manhattan office building." * * * "The East has enough surplus of stored gasoline for thirty-one days."

When that supply is exhausted, or approaches exhaustion, it will be necessary and the government will require that the use of gasoline on the eastern seaboard be curtailed.

And what is it necessary to do in order to get this gasoline into the Eastern Seaboard? It is impossible to haul it in sufficient amounts by railroad, and it is necessary to build new pipelines. The article goes on and points out that some companies are prepared to spend up to seventy-five million dollars for this job, and claim they could finish it in six to nine months if, and here is an awfully big "If", if they can get the steel. States of this Union, a number of them, refuse to permit the building of oil lines through them, or have such rules and regulations concerning them that they deter the building and use of oil lines in those states. Those things will have to be overcome, but in spite of all those facts we have here on hand in the Eastern Seaboard a thirty-one day supply of gasoline, and as that amount decreases the government will unquestionably, as suggested by the President of the United States himself, begin the curtailment of the use of gasoline in the state of Pennsylvania and the other eastern States.

That will mean that the estimates of the Liquid Fuel tax made by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Department of Revenue are themselves too high in consideration of those facts, let alone the estimates which have been made by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

Mr. Speaker, I am a very modest person; I wouldn't want any of the members to refer to the Journal and see the predictions I made about two weeks ago when there was no public mention by any of the officials of this situation, and when there was nothing in the press or the news magazines about it.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. MIHM asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Cities Second Class to meet during the session of the House.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Wolf for Mr. DOLON.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I understand that the minority leader of the House made some remarks relative to the estimates of receipts on the Emergency Gasoline Tax. The remarks, so I have been informed were to the effect that the estimates as we submitted them to this House were in error.

Mr. Speaker, I do wish that his party could get together on their estimates of receipts from the gasoline tax. As a matter of fact, the committee on this House and Senate controlled by their party, are in accord with the estimates which I submitted to the House. They got their figures, so I am informed, from the Highway Department, but here is the oddity of the entire situation, while the gentleman says we are in error, at the same time his Department of Revenue is going to the distributors and compelling them to increase the bond they now give to the Commonwealth to secure the payment of the gasoline tax, and when they are requested to state the reason why the increased bond they say, "Why, the reason is because our taxes, the amount of money that you are going to pay, are going to be substantially increased."

Now, that is the direct answer and contradiction to the remarks of the minority leader of this House. I feel that the Republican Party in this House should certainly urge their Governor and their department heads finally to meet and make up their minds whether or not there will be any increase or decrease, and then after making up their minds they should not be running helter skelter over the state of Pennsylvania insisting on increase in bonds from these individuals who must pay the tax, and instead of that they ought to decrease the bonds or leave them where they are. But of course, you know the answer and I know the answer, the Revenue Department is protecting itself because it knows as you know and I know, and the parties on the other side of the House should know, that taxes are going up, receipts are increasing, and those bonds are needed, and it is futile and of no purpose for the minority leader to come to this House today and say "You are in error with your estimates."

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 79

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1941.

Whereas, The 11th day of October, 1779 is the date in American history of the heroic death of Brigadier General Casimir Pulaski, who died from wounds received on October 9th, 1779, at the siege of Savannah, Georgia; and

Whereas, The States of Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Nevada, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and other States of the Union, through legislative enactment, designated October 11th of each year as "General Pulaski's Memorial Day"; and

Whereas, It is fitting that the recurring anniversary of this day be commemorated with suitable patriotic and public exercises in observing and commemorating the heroic death of this great American hero of the Revolutionary War; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby requests the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by virtue of the authority vested in him to issue a proclamation designating October 11, 1941 as "General Pulaski's Memorial Day," so the memory of this great man may be appropriately honored.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1098.

An Act to apportion the State into congressional districts

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 6, line 19 by striking out the words "Clinton, Lycoming" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Indiana, Jefferson, Elk".

Amend Section 1, page 6, line 26 by striking out the words "Warren, Elk" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Armstrong".

Amend Section 1, page 7, line 4 by striking out the word "Clearfield" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Clinton, Lycoming".

Amend Section 1, page 7, line 12 by striking out "Armstrong, Indiana, Jefferson" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Clearfield".

Amend Section 1, page 7, line 16 by inserting after the word "Erie" the following: "Warren".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the bill along with the amendments be laid on the table temporarily to give the Members an opportunity to examine them and their effect? These amendments affect the counties of Clinton, Lycoming, Indiana, Jefferson, Warren, Armstrong, Erie and probably a number of others. The Members ought to have some opportunity to examine them and have the data before them. I think the clerk should read the amendments again, giving the Members an opportunity to write them into the bills, and then have an opportunity to examine them for a few moments before they are voted upon. We could move that the bill be laid on the table or else that the Chair could let the matter go over and take it up later.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will instruct the Clerk to read the amendments again.

The amendments were read by the Clerk.

Mr. WOODSIDE. May I make reference, Mr. Speaker, to the fact that this is the Congressional appointment bill, Printers No. 292 of the Senate file.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the bill as it is now amended before this House makes very little change in the state of Pennsylvania in relation to the Congressional districts. The bill as it was reported by the Committee to this House leaves the Congressional districts in the state the same as they were heretofore, and as a matter of fact now are, with the exception of four counties. The bill as it is before the House affects the counties of Berks, Lehigh, Montgomery and Bucks, making the counties of Berks and Lehigh one Congressional district, and the counties of Bucks and Montgomery one Congressional district.

In those four counties heretofore there have been three Congressional districts. We have approached the problem with the thought of causing the least amount of disturbance in the state of Pennsylvania. As the members know, of course, the State of Pennsylvania will be losing one congressman. We have felt that political ties, familiarity with territory, the close cooperation between the individuals living in the respective counties in the present Congressional districts, should be considered. It is true, of course, we were put in the position that there was necessarily an adjustment,—it could not be otherwise when you lose a Congressman. I believe the bill as it was reported from the Committee of this House has really solved the problem of causing the least amount of disturbance in the state of Pennsylvania. If you were to accept the amendments before you, you would proceed to disrupt a number of counties mentioned in the amendments and you would not only do that, you would cause a disruption in those counties and a change of political ties and lineups without having accomplished anything. In other words you would be just shifting around the counties. Of course these people could get acquainted with the new faces, new individuals and new public officials without having solved any problem of moment, and I am saying to the membership of this House that these amendments should be defeated and I am asking you to vote "no" on them.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, in offering the amendments now before you, I wish to state that they too do not create any disturbance among the counties because my amendments propose simply to shift the counties in the five districts as they are now composed. The amendments change the lineup of the counties in the sixteenth, twentieth, twenty-third, twenty-sixth and twenty-eighth districts as they are listed in the bill now before the House for consideration.

These five districts at the present time are always represented by Republican congressmen. Under the proposed amendments that I offer here, each district will still remain a Republican district. I believe that it is the purpose of the Congressional Reapportionment Act to make at least some little attempt to apportion our state equitably and justly and not politically.

Under the present bill before the House, the Sixteenth Congressional District will have a total population of 244,920; under my amendment it will have a population of 285,117.

The Nineteenth District under the bill now being considered will have a population of 324,857; under my amendment, they will have a population of 290,465.

The Twenty-third District in the bill now before you has a population of 285,060; under my amendment it will have a population of 321,156.

In the Twenty-sixth District, in the bill now before the House, and this is my own district, the population is 428,490, the second largest in Pennsylvania. Under the amendments, which I have proposed, it will have a population of 305,553. The Twenty-eighth District in the bill before the House now has a population of 252,533, and under my amendments the population would be 295,422.

I believe, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, this is a better arrangement of the districts, a more equitable arrangement, and I ask the Members of the House to vote for these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

The section was agreed to.

The second, third and fourth sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 64) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties

Section 1 Short Title Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Corporate Net Income Tax Act"

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Corporation" A corporation having capital stock joint-stock association or limited partnership either organized under the laws of this Commonwealth the United States or any other state territory or foreign country or dependency and doing business in his Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation The word "corporation" shall not include building and loan associations banks bank and trust companies national banks savings institutions trust companies title insurance companies beneficial life and limited life insurance companies mutual fire mutual casualty and mutual life insurance companies and foreign stock companies registered in this Commonwealth and therein engaged in doing business as life fire and casualty insurance companies and surety companies

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Net income" 1 In case the entire business of the corporation is transacted within this Commonwealth net income for the calendar year or fiscal year as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government subject however to any correction thereof for fraud evasion or error as finally ascertained by the Federal Government Provided That additional deductions shall be allowed from net income on account of any Federal taxes paid during such calendar or fiscal year for the preceding calendar or fiscal year or accrued during such calendar or fiscal year for such year as the case may be and on account of any dividends received from any other corporation And provided further That in the case of stock life fire casualty and indemnity insurance companies doing business on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policyholders out of net income

2 In case the entire business of any corporation other than a corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows

(a) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The remainder of such net income shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributable to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employees and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employees

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from

(1) sales fees and commissions except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

3 In case the entire business of any corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as shall be attributed to business transacted within this Commonwealth by multiplying such net income by a fraction of which the numerator is the gross premiums received from business transacted within the Commonwealth as hereinafter defined and of which the denominator is the amount of the gross premiums received from all its business "Gross Premiums" shall mean the amount of dues fees and premiums stated in the policy contracts and shall include gross premiums of every character and description received during the taxable year from all underwriting activities whether said premiums were received in money or in the form of notes credits or any other substitute for money less the following deductions

(a) All premiums returned on policies cancelled or not taken

(b) In the case of stock companies with participating features an additional deduction for that portion of the premiums returned to the policyholders

(c) In the case of life insurance companies an additional deduction for dividends declared and actually used by policyholders in payment of renewal premiums

"Gross premiums received from business transacted in the Commonwealth" shall mean gross premiums received from policies and annuities written on property or risks located or resident in this Commonwealth whether such premiums were collected in this Commonwealth or elsewhere

The tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws

Section 4 Report and Payment of Tax For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty [and] one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two and one thousand nine hundred forty-three to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department a report under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act Such report shall set forth

(a) A true copy of its return to the Federal Government of the annual net income arising or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portions of said return as the department may designate

(b) If no return was filed with the Federal Government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and

(c) Such other information as the department may require

The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

Every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until sixty (60) days after settlement and thereafter at the rate of twelve (12) per centum per annum until paid except that any taxes found due as the result of an appeal to the court of common pleas or any appellate court shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date such taxes are due and payable until paid Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

If any corporation closes its fiscal year not upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and reports to the Federal Government as of such other date or would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government such corporation shall certify such fact to the Department of Revenue and shall make the report herein required within thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all other respects to the provisions of this act

If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly a majority of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income Provided That consolidated reports may be made only by corporations making consolidated returns to the Federal Government

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to hear and determine any petition for the resettlement of taxes alleged to have been overpaid and upon the allowance of such petition to resettle such taxes Wherever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law

Section 10 Retention of Records by Corporations Penalty Each corporation shall maintain and keep for a period of three (3) years after any report is filed under this act such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth for the period covered by such report and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Penalties (a) Any person who shall wilfully make a false and fraudulent return of net income made taxable by this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

(b) Any person who wilfully fails neglects or refuses to make a report or to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books papers and records of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

Section 12 Constitutional Construction The provisions of this act are serviceable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 13 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes on net income of corporations for the [six] eight calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-five one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one and one thousand nine hundred forty-two or for the [six] eight fiscal years ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty [and] one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two and one thousand nine hundred forty-three

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 233, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 640), entitled "An act to provide revenue by levying a tax upon the shares of stock of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of the act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate from loss by reason of defective titles liens and encumbrances and of companies entitled to the benefits of and of companies having any of the powers of companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled 'An act conferring upon certain fidelity insurance safety deposit trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of the supplements thereto' approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five commonly known as title insurance or trust companies" by continuing the increased rate of tax for a further limited period of time and reducing the rate of tax after such limited period of time

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 640) entitled "An act to provide revenue by levying a tax upon the shares of stock of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate from loss by reason of defective titles liens and encumbrances and of companies entitled to the benefits of and of companies having any of the powers of companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled 'An act conferring upon certain fidelity insurance safety deposit trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of the supplements thereto' approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five commonly known as title insurance or trust companies" as last amended by the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 48) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act every company incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and its supplements or any other act of Assembly heretofore or hereafter approved for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate from loss by reason of defective titles liens and encumbrances and every company entitled to benefits of and every company having any of the powers of companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled "An act conferring upon certain fidelity insurance safety deposit trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of the supplements thereto' approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five commonly known as title insurance or trust companies and every company organized as a bank and trust company or as a trust company under any act of Assembly heretofore or hereafter approved except any such companies all of the shares of capital stock of which (other than shares necessary to qualify directors) are owned by a company which is liable to pay to the Commonwealth a tax on shares shall on or before the fifteenth day of February in each and every year make to the Department of Revenue a report in writing setting forth the full number of shares of the capital stock subscribed for or issued by such company and the actual value thereof as of December thirty-first preceding which shall be ascertained as hereinafter provided and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue for the calendar years ending December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-six December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine [and] December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-two to assess such shares for taxation at the rate of eight mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof and thereafter at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof the actual value of each share of stock to be ascertained and fixed by adding together the amount of capital stock paid in the surplus and undivided profits and dividing this amount by the number of shares

It shall be the duty of every such company within a period of sixty days after the date of such settlement by the Department of Revenue to collect the amount of said tax from its shareholders and pay the same to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue Provided That upon the payment of the tax fixed by this act into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue the shares and so much of the capital stock surplus profits and deposits of such company as shall not be invested in real estate shall be exempt from all other taxation under the laws of this Commonwealth. The procedure in case the Department of Revenue be not satisfied with the report made by any title insurance or trust company and the penalties for failing to make such report and pay the tax shall be as provided by law.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MOUL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday this House of Representatives received a minority report from the minority member of the committee investigating the operation of the State Soil Conservation Board and Extension Service of State College.

Certain statements of facts have been made in that minority report, statements that according to the testimony which the committee has been taking during the many weeks of the investigation, which are contained in more than a thousand sheets of testimony do not sustain, and in fairness to the Members of the House, who will be asked to form their opinion on the basis of the reports that have been submitted, I would like to show that certain statements made in the minority report are not correct.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Snyder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SNYDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, when the minority report was written, I would like to ask, did the gentleman not have a copy of the proceedings, a copy of the testimony and the evidence that was submitted during the hearing?

MR. REUBEN E. COHEN IN THE CHAIR

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, naturally my report was based on the testimony given at the hearing.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, on the third page of the gentleman's report, one of the very first statements which his report contains states:

"Immediately upon the opening of hearings upon the subject it became evident that the Chairman of the committee entered upon his duties with a predetermined opinion and that he would not permit that opinion to be changed in spite of any testimony, with the result that there is justification for the charge that the hearings were resolved into an attempt at prosecution of those persons who were officially associated with the operation of Act No. 557 rather than an investigation of their official acts."

Does the gentleman have a copy of the testimony that was taken on the first day's hearing and a copy of the testimony on the second day's hearing?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the copy of the testimony here, but I recall in a general way what took place at the hearing.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, what does the gentleman recall in a general way that took place on those two days?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I recall that the witnesses that were called from the beginning were all hand-picked, and naturally would favor what the chairman of the committee had in mind when he started this investigation.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman does not have his copy, will he permit me to read the opening remarks of each day's session?

Mr. SNYDER. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, the opening remarks of the hearing held at two p. m. on March 3, 1941, the very first statement that was made was this:

"The meeting will come to order. We have quite a number of gentlemen here today from the counties of York and Lancaster. Gentlemen, who are interested in soil erosion control. You have some first hand knowledge of the way the Soil Erosion Control programmes have been handled from the beginning. We would appreciate it if each one of you would feel perfectly free to present whatever testimony you may have. We have been asked to investigate the soil erosion work in Pennsylvania and the extension service as it applies to the state as a whole and make a report to the House of Representatives. You are at liberty to present any facts that you may have. We hope that you will not talk too fast so that we can get the notes in detail. You may present your own ideas first, then if any members of the committee have any questions, you will be asked then if you have presented your side of the story."

Following that, is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that fifteen farmers testified on that first day's special hearing, they being farmers who came from the counties of York and Lancaster?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, in regard to the first statement by the gentleman from York, he says that we have been asked by the House to make this investigation. He made that statement, but what he meant was that the House had concurred in the desire of the gentleman from York to start an investigation on soil erosion.

In reply to the second part of the gentleman's question I would say, and as he states, these were farmers, approximately fifteen. However, upon interrogation we found that most of these people were connected with this soil erosion project and were supervisors or officials connected with it—the majority of them, not all of them. Perhaps the majority of them were concerned about their per diem salary, their mileage and so forth and the jobs that they held. That is what I meant, when I said that they were hand-picked.

Mr. MOUL. May I ask the gentleman how many supervisors according to the testimony presented, are there in any one district?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question I am not sure that was mentioned in the testimony, just how many there were. I think the act provides for that the gentleman from York knows. However, I reiterate the statement that I made previously, that a majority of them were employes and were hand picked.

Mr. MOUL. That is correct, Mr. Speaker. There is nobody at the present time on any salary in any of the districts, and even if there would be, there could only be three, and there were fifteen people who testified from the two districts, and I can give their testimony in a minute.

I also want to quote the statement that was made in the beginning of the second day's session, as shown on page two:

"We do not want to influence your testimony in any way. We want you to give us the information you have and then when you are through, we will ask the questions."

On the second day there were eleven more farmers who testified. They came from the counties of Indiana, and Jefferson and in the two days that gave us a total of twenty-six farmers. Would the gentleman say that any of the people who testified during that period were being lead or mislead in making any statements which were not their own?

Mr. SNYDER. No, Mr. Speaker, I would not say that they were mislead at the hearing. However, there is no question in my mind that they knew what the hearing was about and what they were supposed to testify to when they came before the committee, which again reiterates the statement I previously made, that they were hand-picked.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman, as a minority member, have an opportunity to question those gentlemen?

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reuben E. Cohen, for presiding.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question I would say that as a minority member of that committee, I usually did have, and the reason I use the word "usually" is because the chairman of that committee in some of his interrogations later in the hearings continued to interrogate during the entire time of the hearing, and the minority member, as the chairman will recall, was frequently reprimanded for butting in, as the chairman of the committee said, in order to have a chance to interrogate. However, Mr. Speaker, I will say, during the first part of these proceedings, we as members of that committee, were permitted to interrogate the witnesses, but not during the latter part of the proceedings.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SNYDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOUL. Does the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, have a copy of his own report before him?

Mr. SNYDER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOUL. Will the gentleman tell us, Mr. Speaker, what he means on page twenty-two, the very last paragraph.

"5. That we recognize the right of any educational institution to develop its policies without political domination or interference and recommend that no strings be attached to any college appropriation."

When he says, "We recognize the right," whom does the gentleman mean by "we"?

Mr. SNYDER. The citizens of Pennsylvania, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOUL. May I ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, is it not his report?

Mr. SNYDER. It is, Mr. Speaker, but I think a question as important as this, which affects one of our great institutions of the State, should not be considered or examined by a group from this House, three members on a committee.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, I ask consent to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman through with his interrogation?

Mr. MOUL. I am, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, I think I can save some time by making a statement instead of interrogation. The gentleman from Tioga had ample opportunity to question all the witnesses that came before the committee and this is shown by an analysis of the first two days to which I refer. On those first two days twenty-six farmers came before the committee and gave their picture as they saw it. They were people who were interested in soil erosion because they came from districts where they could see it working, and they were people who were vitally interested in seeing that the State Board gave them some assistance which they said they were not receiving. Those twenty-six gentlemen who came there were perfectly free to say what they wanted.

I did know a few of the men who came from York county, but I assure you I didn't know any of those people who came from other counties than York; I didn't even know who was going to be there, and further I did not know who was going to question these gentlemen, because upon analysis you will find that on the first day out of the number of questions asked, the minority member asked forty-one questions, the chairman asked thirty-one questions and my colleague, Mr. Haberlen asked nineteen questions of the witnesses, which meant that Mr. Snyder, the minority member, had asked four-ninths of all the questions that were asked on that first day's hearing.

An analysis will show that it is equally true on other days that the gentleman had ample opportunity to ask questions of the witnesses, anything that he wished to ask them.

On the third page this statement is made:

"The records do not show one instance in all the testimony offered in which the present State Soil Conservation Board failed to perform its function."

We have ample statements made by the individuals who were there, and who are individuals who should know and individuals who did know that such was the case. I would like to cite that on pages 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 13, 16, 23, 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30 of the first day's report there are definite statements made by those people that the State Board did not cooperate.

I also want to read a letter which was submitted at the time which shows very definitely they did not cooperate, and this was a letter that was written before this present House was elected. It was written on October 30, 1940, and it was presented by one of the gentlemen who was before the committee. It reads in this manner:

"Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Dear Governor James: "At a meeting of the four organized Pennsylvania Soil Conservation Districts held October 16, 1940, a motion was made by John H. Stephens Jr. of Black Lick Soil Conservation District, seconded by C. V. Curll of the Clarion Soil Conservation District,

"Believing that our Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as well as we, the supervisors of the four organized Pennsylvania Soil Conservation Districts representing 12,000 farmers who own and farm approximately 1,200,000 acres of land, is interested in the conserving of our natural resources, we do hereby petition our Honorable Arthur H. James, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to concern himself with the attitude of the State Board of Soil Conservation [set up under Act 557, and amended by the last Legislature, and known as Act No. 366] towards the organization of other soil conservation districts, namely Westmoreland, Lehigh, Franklin and Adams. Respectfully yours Arthur E. Brown, Secretary of Treasury."

That was submitted to our investigating committee as evidence that the four boards now in existence had written to the Governor and asked him to do something about it. So, we might go on. The report is full of misrepresentations as I have given it here, and if it were not for the time which we are consuming when the Members want to go home, I would like very much to give the picture and show there is misrepresentation in the minority report from one end of it to the other. I hope all of you will take an opportunity to check the records as suggested in the minority report and see for yourself how far that misrepresentation has gone.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SNYDER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from York, I only wish to say that I think the minority report covers a lot more of the testimony given at these hearings than does the majority report, which again leads me to believe that this report, the majority report, could have been written by the chairman of the committee before any testimony was given, because he knew before he started this investigation, who he wanted to persecute and the two persons that he had included in his majority report are the two that he had made up his mind, as he stated, were the culprits before he started this investigation. I rest my case on the minority report and say this, if at any time the Members of this House want to be bored by the majority report or the minority report, I am willing to proceed.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 663, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from current revenues levied assessed collectible and accruing during such two fiscal years defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto providing for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans and making an appropriation

Whereas The present session of the General Assembly has provided revenues of the Commonwealth amounting to four hundred twenty-six million dollars ($426,000,000) for general purposes for the biennial fiscal period beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and

Whereas Such revenues though levied and assessed will not be available in large part for the current and other expenses of the State government until the later parts of the two fiscal years respectively of the said biennial fiscal period and the collectible revenues will not be sufficient to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the earlier parts of such fiscal years respectively and

Whereas In order that the obligations of the Commonwealth may be met promptly and in order that the State government might not fail through lack of funds it is necessary temporarily to obtain funds to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the fiscal period aforesaid until the revenues that are subsequent accruing to the State Treasury during said fiscal period are available for this purpose

Section 1 The Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby authorized and directed during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one from time to time to borrow on the credit of the current revenues of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania such sums of money not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of one hundred seventy-five million dollars ($175,000,000) as may be necessary to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during such fiscal years

Section 2 (a) Such loans shall be evidenced by notes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania All of said notes shall mature not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three Such notes are hereby declared to be tax anticipation notes Such notes or renewals thereof shall be issued from time to time for such total amounts in such sums and subject to such terms and conditions rates of interest not in excess of four and one-half per centum (4½%) per annum and time of payment of interest as the Governor Auditor General and State Treasurer shall determine and direct

(b) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall bear either the signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer or the facsimile signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in which latter event such notes shall be countersigned by two officers of the Philadelphia National Bank (Loan and Transfer Agent of the Commonwealth) All such notes shall bear a facsimile of the great seal of the Commonwealth

(c) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall have the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of the Commonwealth

(d) The current revenues of the biennial fiscal period beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one are pledged for the payment of principal and interest of such notes which shall be payable in lawful money of the United States All notes issued under the provisions of this act shall be exempt from taxation for State and local purposes

Section 3 The proceeds derived from the negotiation of loans under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the General Fund of the State Treasury and shall be used for the payment of appropriations made from such fund to defray the current and other expenses of the State government for the biennial fiscal period beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one

Section 4 Any loans negotiated under the provisions of this act shall be secured by the current revenues levied and assessed for revenue purposes of every kind or character accruing to the General Fund of the State Treasury during the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and shall be paid out of such revenues and so much of such revenues as may be necessary for the payment of the principal and interest of such loans are hereby specifically appropriated The Department of Revenue shall allocate such revenues to said payments

Section 5 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions are held unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gerard.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GERARD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I notice that this bill was amended in Committee after second reading, as reported yesterday, by changing the first "Whereas" clause, striking out the sum of $413,000,000 and inserting in lieu thereof the sum of $426,000,000. This represents the amount which the General Assembly has appropriated revenues for the Commonwealth for the biennial fiscal period beginning June 1, 1941. I should like to inquire from the gentleman whether they are his own figures.

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker. The figures which have been inserted in lieu of the $413,000,000 were furnished by the Appropriations Committee to the Committee on Ways and Means, and represent the revenues that the Commonwealth will receive during the coming biennium.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I was interested in interrogating the chairman or the vice-chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and not the Appropriations Committee chairman. However, do I understand from the gentleman from Monroe, that the Appropriations Committee furnished this information to the Committee on Ways and Means?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, we furnished the information.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I still think I should be entitled to interrogate the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee or the vice chairman of the Ways and Means Committee because I am interested in that.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gerard, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GERARD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to advise me whether the information which he has used in his amendment was information received from the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. GERARD. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the Ways and Means Committee made no investigation whatsoever in arriving at that figure?

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, only through the chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, do I understand there was no sub-committee appointed by the Ways and Means Committee to make any estimates of the revenues and that the Chairman himself made no estimates of revenue and that the committee itself made no study of the estimates of revenue except that which was given to them by the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, is that correct?

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Dauphin, I would say I requested the chairman of the Appropriations Committee to give me the necessary information in connection with this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, this bill now before us is an extremely important one. It was introduced by the gentleman from McKean, Mr. McDowell on behalf of the administration on March 3rd, 1941. It has been in the Ways and Means Committee from that date up until the present time. The bill is necessary under the method of financing which has been in use in this Commonwealth for some years in order that the obligations for the borrowings made from special funds be repaid. Until this bill is passed and signed by the Governor and until the tax anticipation notes are sold, it will be impossible to repay the special funds. That is a fact which has been known to the other side for some time. It is a fact that has always been before them, but on April 7th, 1941, I wrote a letter to the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, a copy of which I gave to the majority floor leader. In that letter I stated as follows:

"The Budget Office has called to my attention that House Bill No. 663, introduced by Mr. McDowell on March 4th and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means of which you are Chairman, should be passed promptly if the Tax Anticipation Notes are to be floated early in June. Until this bill is enacted into law the Budget Office cannot proceed with its plans to float the Tax Anticipation Notes authorized by it. As it will take several weeks to get ready and several weeks to advertise the notice, any further delay in acting upon this bill may result in delay of the repayment of all special funds.

I am sure that it is the intention of the Legislature as a body and of all of us individually, that all sums borrowed from the Special Fund be repaid as early in June as humanly possible. This can only be done if the Tax Anticipation Notes are sold early in June.

I would appreciate your giving this matter your prompt attention.

Thanking you for your consideration of it, I am

Very truly yours,

Robert E. Woodside, Jr."

As a result of this no action was taken either with the tax bill or with the tax anticipation note bill and I say very frankly there is very little value in the passing of the tax anticipation note bill until at least a fair share of the taxes are enacted into law.

Again a short time ago, I called attention to the fact that the House, the majority of this House, was unduly delaying all the budget items. I called attention to the fact that the tax program was passed in 1935 on March 19; in 1937 it was passed on March 8; and in 1939 it was passed on March 28. I further called attention to the fact that in 1941 the tax program has been in the Ways and Means Committee without action since February 12. I also called attention to the fact that the Appropriations Committee had the budget in its possession for a longer period of time than any other Appropriations Committee in the history of the Commonwealth ever had a budget. In 1935 and 1937 it was sixty-three days between the submitting of the budget and the reporting of the general appropriation bill to the House. In 1939 it was 79 days, but in 1941 it was 107 days before the general appropriation bill was reported to this House.

Mr. Speaker, as a result of the failure of the majority of this House to face the issue and meet the problems of this Commonwealth either because they did not realize what the situation was or because they did not understand the problem, or because they deliberately and maliciously sabotaged the financial status of the Commonwealth, they have delayed in passing these vitally important measures until a time when the Commonwealth is bound to suffer and the people on relief are bound to suffer; when all the employees and all the expenses of the government cannot be met as they fall due. The firemen, the municipalities and the counties and the other people who are interested in the special funds, very patriotically were willing to wait a period of time until those people on relief could be fed, and that no new taxes would be necessary in this Commonwealth. But it is not fair to them to ask them to continue to wait while the committee holds the bills for a longer period of time than they have ever been held before and while they play politics with these measures. The appropriation bill, the tax bills, the tax anticipation notes bill are now before the House. The tax bills and the tax anticipation notes bill will be passed, I think, all of them today and sent over to the Senate.

After keeping these bills in their possession for approximately fifteen weeks the majority of this House is now saying to the Senate and to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, "We are now submitting an alternative program, an alternative matter which we want you to consider for a matter of five days or else you will interfere with the people receiving relief."

I say to you gentlemen if on June 2nd, as appears evident today, the relief checks do not go out, you have nobody to blame for the delay which you have caused for one hundred and seven days in holding the bills, but yourselves. You have nobody to blame but yourselves for holding these tax bills, this tax anticipation note bill, and you have put the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in a position where there will be no money available for relief during the first part of the month of June. If the Senate gives the consideration to these bills they should give as a deliberative body, the people of Pennsylvania will be out of relief during the greater part of the month of June. What have you done about it? Nothing at all. That is the situation which you have developed. You cry and you bleed for the people on relief but when it is a matter of political strategy you are willing to play politics, with them. You will sit on these bills until the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will not have money available for relief. Mr. Speaker, every day from the time two or three weeks ago when I made a speech about the situation on the floor of the House, every day's delay, I stated at that time, which was caused by the Democrats in holding these bills, meant an additional day's delay in the payment to the firemen of the money borrowed from them; a delay in the payments to the cities, to the boroughs and the townships of the Liquor License tax; a delay in the payments to the counties of the liquid fuel tax; a delay in payment to the Highway Department in carrying out the road construction program; a delay in payment to the school districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of the first, second and third class; a delay in payment to the state-aided hospitals that are asking for their money; a delay in the payment to the state-aided institutions of this Commonwealth.

All of the delays which are taking place now and which take place during the month of June, can be placed on the doorstep of the majority of this House and upon the doorstep of no other person. If they had carried out the program or if they had suggested an alternative program which could have been considered, studied and determined upon prior to the thirty-first day of May, it would have been possible to meet all the situations prior to this time.

Again I call your attention, Members of the House, to the fact that in order to float these tax anticipation notes there must be printed a prospectus, that prospectus must contain a copy of the act, this Tax Anticipation Note Bill which is now before us, signed by the Governor. There must be also an opinion of the Attorney General of Pennsylvania. Then there must be time given for the bankers to organize their syndicate and arrange to bid on these tax anticipation notes. Even if that can't be done, there must be an opinion made by a firm of lawyers in the City of New York for the bankers before they will consider bidding on these tax anticipation notes. That takes time, that cannot be done over night. The last prospectus was prepared, I think, on May 10 and was in circulation on May 15, in order that bids could be received on June 2, which in turn meant that the money would be received by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by June 5. You can all see that that is impossible now. You can all see that the money from the sale of these tax anticipation notes, regardless of how rapidly the Senate should act on them, cannot possibly result in obtaining that money before the middle of June. It is not fair to the Senate to ask them to accept a program which you want to stuff down their throats in a matter of five days after you have spent one hundred seven days considering the program of the Governor as submitted to you in his budget message. But supposing that the Senate would swallow the program or amend it now or agree to it and that the bill would be passed. There would still be the delay that exists today and which can no longer be remedied.

It was not that you did not know about it, you should have known about it on your own account, but not taking any chances about it I wrote a letter and made sure you had that information. I made this situation clear in the House of Representatives in plenty of time so that the situation could be understood not only by this House but by all the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

But that is not all the story; that is not nearly all the story. There is other evidence of sabotaging the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the people of Pennsylvania and the people on relief; about whom you cry and bleed so much. You gentlemen all know, or well should know, that there is only one official estimating body in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and that is the Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth.

I refer you to an opinion of the Attorney General known as Formal Opinion No. 51. I read from it as follows:

"It is an incontrovertible fact that the only agency of the State Government which is in a position, from first-hand information and experience to make a comprehensive estimate of the revenues which should be collected during any given period, is the Department of Revenue.

"That this is so was argued at length in Commonwealth vs. Liveright et al., and apparently the majority of the Supreme Court endorsed the soundness of this position. That part of the opinion which we have quoted begins by stating that 'The balance of estimated revenues for the biennium after the regular session of the Legislature, was $192,915,000.' This was the estimate submitted to the Governor by the Budget Secretary at the close of the regular 1931 session of the Legislature. It includes the estimate of revenue furnished by the Department of Revenue and surplus on hand as calculated by the office of the Budget Secretary.

"Therefore we are of the opinion that the only official estimate of revenues which can be recognized by the fiscal offices in the performance of their duties is that submitted to the Governor through the Budget Secretary by the Department of Revenue."

Mr. Speaker, that is a formal opinion of the Commonwealth made by its Attorney General, it is an opinion that binds the Governor of this Commonwealth, it is an opinion that binds the Auditor General and the State Treasurer of this Commonwealth, and it will be impossible for the Governor of this Commonwealth to sign bills in excess of the revenue as estimated by the Department of Revenue. It will be impossible for him to sign any appropriation bills which would be in excess of the estimates as submitted to him through his budget office by the Secretary of Revenue. If he should happen to do that there would be as you all know, an abatement of payments made to the hospitals and various other institutions of that type, which you and I know we do not want to happen. That is the opinion upon which, and that is the law upon which the Governor of this Commonwealth must act.

Now, Mr. Speaker, what has the majority done? The Appropriations Committee.—well now, gentleman the Appropriations Committee is the law of the land. Brother Achterman is the law of the land, he is the spender, he is the one that spends money. They have nothing to do actually with the estimating of the revenues. Tony Gerard down there has charge of the estimating of the revenues. he is the one that has to do with the raising of the money. His committee, the Committee on Ways and Means, is the committee that must make the estimates. It is not the Appropriations Committee, but the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, who is the majority floor leader and chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who has taken it upon himself to make the estimates. I don't know of any time that the Appropriations Committee adopted those estimates. I have tried to attend those meetings. They had one the other day lasting for six minutes that I was unable to get to until it was over. I don't think there was anything done at that meeting of the Appropriations Committee. None of the Committee have ever as far as I know, and I think I am correct, made any official estimate or have ever attempted to vote on an estimate. I am in error in suggesting that the Committee could make an official estimate. They never even attempted as a Committee to make any estimates, so we have here the situation, the Department of Revenue bound under the law to make estimates and under the law the only place where an official and legal estimate of the revenues can be made, and having made its estimate we then have coming in here a report from a Committee containing a new estimate on revenue. Where does that come from? Not even from a Committee, it comes from an individual, a member of this House, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. He gives the figures of estimated revenue to the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and the Committee on Ways and Means takes a bill and puts it out on the floor of the House as amended, containing that figure in it.

Now, gentlemen, what are the bankers going to do about it? You know as well as I do, you may be able to fool the people of Pennsylvania but you are not fooling yourselves, you are not fooling us. You know full well the bankers will never put a single bid on a tax anticipation note sale with this bill in the form it is in today. The bankers when this bill was first passed, suggested it was necessary and advisable to put in the "whereas" clause containing the estimate of revenues, and there has been used the official estimate of revenue of the Department of Revenue. Yet you put in this bill an amount that is different from that which is made officially, and which is the only official estimate of revenue in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and you want the Senate to pass it and the Governor to sign it. Then you know what is going to happen. You know that the bankers are not going to buy the tax anticipation notes. You know we are going to have to advertise and maybe in the meantime adjourn and then there would be no tax anticipation notes sold. Then you would duck, you would run around over the Commonwealth and you would cry out that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is in such a terrible condition, the financing of the James administration is in a terrible condition and that the bankers of the country will no longer buy the bonds.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I say that you are deliberately sabotaging not only the financial program of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, you are not only delaying, you are not only sabotaging it, you are trying to cripple it and you are trying to cripple it at the cost of those people that need the support of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I am going to vote for this bill. I am going to ask all the Members of the House to vote for this bill because there should be no more delay than is absolutely necessary. The tax program must go through, the tax anticipation note program must go through in order that the special funds can be repaid, and in order that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will have money to continue to operate. Therefore, we are not taking any chance of delay, we are all going to vote for this tax anticipation note bill, I am sure. But I am hoping that the Senate will amend this bill to such a form that the bankers of the country will buy the tax anticipation notes when they are offered for sale and that this House will, in its wisdom, see fit to go along with the Senate on that amendment in order that the people of Pennsylvania may be fed and in order that the functions of the government may continue.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is complaining about the length of time it has taken the Committee to make the study that we found was essential and necessary to make. May I state, Mr. Speaker, that never to my knowledge, and I believe I am safe in saying that never in the history of this House has there been a more studied, malicious effort by any party to misguide and mislead the Members of the Legislature in the budget subject. The thing that is startling and surprising to me is the fact that even to this day, that effort to misguide and mislead the Members of the House continues.

Mr. Speaker, we heard just a few moments ago from the minority leader of this House that his party, with the proceeds of this $413,000,000 estimate they intend to repay to the special funds from which they have borrowed, the money that they borrowed.

Mr. Speaker, I say to the Members of the House, that was not their intention and I believe I am safe in saying that still is not their intention. I give you as authority for my statement the budget message of the Governor himself. If you will turn to page 2 of that budget message, you will find $413,000,000 that they referred to under the heading of "1941-1943 biennium." You will note that out of that $413,000,000 all they expected to pay back from the transferred fund was the sum of $59,000,000. But, Mr. Speaker, every Member of this House knows that the amount of money borrowed was in excess of that, that the amount is somewhat in excess of $70,000,000. I am saying to the minority Members of this House, and I will go further than that, I am saying to the people of Pennsylvania that the budget we are submitting and which we are asking both this House and the Senate to adopt, is going to repay the borrowed money, not part, but all. If there is any further doubt in the minds of the minority Members in that respect, whether that was the Governor's intention, may I turn to his own message where he said "As I already explained if an additional appropriation is necessary for assistance for this biennium, the amount will have to be taken from the $131,000,000. In other words, what does he propose doing? In his message to you, he proposed taking relief moneys for the coming biennium in order to pay back the funds that he borrowed from the transfers or through the transfers. That is how he expects to do it. He said he is going to pay it back. Why not be fair? Why not be honest with the membership of this House and tell what you intend to do with the money? Why say to the membership, "It is from these tax anticipation notes we expect to pay back the various funds when you know it is not the true story, when you know it does not give to the Members of the House and the people of Pennsylvania the complete and true picture?"

They say that the hospitals have not received their appropriations. What has the coming biennium to do with the payments that they did not make in February of this year and that they are not going to make in May of this year? What do the revenues for the coming biennium have to do with that? Why are not the hospitals receiving their money? Why, of course it has been used for other purposes. What kind of purposes? For example, examine your salary payrolls and you will find them higher than they ever were in the history of Pennsylvania. Then go back and justify yourselves you and the Republican administration, try and justify yourselves to the people of Pennsylvania by falsely accusing the Democratic party of refusing to go along with the budget such as was submitted to this House by the Republican party. The minority of this House is complaining that they will not have funds. The remaining tax bills will be leaving this House today. Ample time will be given to the Senate to pass them and moneys will continue to come in, Mr. Speaker. Of course, I presume that the Senate has not been doing what the House did do. The Democratic Members of this House made an honest and sincere study of the financial condition in Pennsylvania. They had the same number of days to make the same study in the Senate. If the Senate on the contrary has been dawdling over there, if their Finance Committee has not felt that the subject of financing and the subject of budget was of importance until after the tax measures reach their House, I am saying to the minority Members of this House that in the Republican Senate lies the blame if action cannot be had on these bills tomorrow. Then, and this is the surprising thing to me, then the scare is tried to be thrown into this House that we have no power to estimate the receipts in revenues from the tax bills we pass.

The gentleman from Dauphin quoted the Attorney General of this State. There are Appellate Court decisions on the matter, Mr. Speaker. It is an odd thing, they do not agree with what the gentleman quoted. As a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, the Supreme Court of this State has held a contrary position. I anticipated that the very question now thrown into the discussion would be raised. After all this chicanery with the rest of the budget one could not help but imagine that it would be. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, for the record, I wish to read formally an opinion that will perhaps help the Attorney General change his mind.

Under Article 6, Section 601 and 602 of the Administrative Code of 1929, P. L. 177, 71 PS 221-222, it is the power and duty of the Governor to submit to the General Assembly a budget embracing the amounts recommended by him to be appropriated, the estimated revenues and receipts from any and all sources, and an estimated amount to be raised by taxation or otherwise.

The question has arisen as to how far the Governor's estimates of incoming revenue and amounts to be raised by taxation or otherwise are binding upon the General Assembly.

In view of the fundamental nature of the State Government, whereby the legislative, executive and judicial branches are separate and distinct, it seems clear that the Governor's functions with respect to estimating revenues and amounts to be raised by taxation or otherwise, are merely advisory.

Under Article 2, Section 1 of our Constitution, the legislative power is vested exclusively in the General Assembly. The making of appropriations, and the raising of revenues, is solely a legislative function. There is no provision anywhere in the Constitution which would authorize the Governor to make estimates of revenues or amounts to be collected by taxation, which would be binding upon the General Assembly. Any statute which would limit or restrict the fundamental power of the Legislature in these respects would, therefore, be unconstitutional. Even if those provisions of the Administrative Code above referred to were to be so construed as to make the Governor's estimates binding, it is well established that statutes enacted by one Legislature cannot bind subsequent Legislatures. Accordingly, whatever may have been intended by these provisions of the Administrative Code, it is entirely within the power of the present session of the General Assembly to enact whatever legislation it deems proper regarding appropriations and taxes, regardless of any estimates which may have been submitted by the Governor.

The broad powers of the Legislature with respect to appropriations and taxes, were clearly recognized by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court in the case of Comm. ex rel. Schnader v. Liveright, 308 Pa. 35 (1932). Among other questions raised in that case, was the question as to whether an appropriation of $10,000,000 for relief purposes violated Article 9, Section 4 of the Pennsylvania Constitution. That constitutional provision prohibited the creation of a state debt in excess of $1,000,000 except for certain specific purposes. It was contended that the estimated revenues for the biennium involved, were $192,915,000, and that the authorized appropriations, prior to the appropriation for relief, were $192,394,000. Since the appropriation for relief, plus certain others made at the Special Session, totaled $10,716,000, it was argued that the excess over the estimated receipts constituted a debt in violation of the Constitution, and was invalid. The Court sustained the $10,000,000 appropriation for relief, and held in brief that the Legislature's power over financial matters was supreme, but that if appropriations actually exceeded income during any biennium, the appropriation must be abated to the extent required by the actual receipts. In connection with this decision, the court made the following comment:

"Legislative power is vested in the General Assembly by article II, section 1, and its power is supreme on all such subjects, unless limited by the Constitution. The control of the state's finances is entirely in the legislature, subject only to these constitutional limitations; and, except as thus restricted, is absolute. Unless expressly prohibited or otherwise directed by that instrument, appropriations may be made for whatever purposes and in whatever amounts the law-making body finds desirable. The legislature in appropriating is supreme within the limits of the revenue any moneys at its disposal."

In view of this case, the conclusion seems inevitable that the Legislature may make an appropriation and levy any taxes it sees fit, regardless of the Governor's estimates. However, if the actual receipts turn out to be insufficient to meet the appropriations made, they must be abated. Under the case just referred to, the order of abatement is set forth, but this is not essential in the present connection. Of course, the Governor is given power under Article 4, Section 16, to disapprove appropriations, and unless such appropriations are thereafter passed over his disapproval, the Governor's action in this respect is final.

A question somewhat similar to one involving the force and effect of the Governor's estimates, arose in the case of Woodward v. Phila. ex rel. 333 Pa. 80 (1938). In this case, the question involved was the force and effect of the city controller's estimates of receipts from taxes and from other sources. The court held the controller's estimates of receipts from taxes were not binding on the city council, but that his estimates of receipts from miscellaneous sources were binding. However, the ruling in this case was dictated by the specific provision of the City Charter Act, which is, of course, binding upon both controller and council.

Except for constitutional provisions, the General Assembly is not bound in any way.

In conclusion it may be stated that it is entirely within the power of the General Assembly to make any appropriations, or pass any tax legislation which it sees fit, regardless of any estimates which the Governor may have submitted along with his budget as to the incoming revenues and the amounts to be raised by taxation or otherwise.

Mr. Speaker, may I in conclusion, add this remark, the tax measures are now going through the House, you will have the tax anticipation note bill before you in a moment, the budget you will consider next week, the entire fiscal problem facing the state of Pennsylvania has been studied completely, you are receiving an honest and a truthful report of the decisions that face the Commonwealth. I realize how difficult it must be for the minority Members of this House to be put in the position of knowing that their party ran over the entire State of Pennsylvania some two years or more ago complaining bitterly to the people of Pennsylvania about the tax bills that the Democrats had passed. I know how bitter it must have been to find yourselves in the position that you reenacted those bills, that the very thing that you condemned to the high heavens you took unto yourselves as your own child. I know how bitter you must now feel to realize that you have told the people of Pennsylvania "we are going to give you tax reductions," and then find that the powers in your party are so motivated by a desire to spend money, that they do not desire to give the people tax reduction, and that it remains for the party that enacted those taxes, and to the party that said that when they did enact those taxes "at the first possible moment we will give you relief," to correct the existing situation. In the Democratic administration we did give relief to the tune of some twenty five million dollars. We are coming before the people of Pennsylvania and telling them that we will continue in the purpose of relieving the people of Pennsylvania from these emergency taxes at the very earliest moment, and that very earliest moment, is now, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if I did not feel that the gentleman does not understand the situation, I would accuse him of deliberately misrepresenting one very important fact, and that is the question of the repayment of the special funds. The gentleman gets up here on the floor of this House without any provocation, without any cause, and being in a position in which he should know it is not true, and suggests that the administration by anything in the budget or anything in their remarks or anything in their actions or anything that they have done or said does not intend to repay the special funds. He suggested the administration intends to deliberately violate the law by not repaying these special funds. He should know, if he does not, that that statement is absolutely false. There is no ground for making that statement. He reads figures out of the budget and says that we all know there is more money that will come in than is contained in the budget. That is a deliberate misrepresentation, Members of the House. All of the Members of this House know that the budget was submitted to this House on February 3d, and that since that time it developed, it was necessary to make additional borrowings. The gentleman well knows that in that bill which the Governor signed, there was a clause requiring the repayment of those funds. The gentleman well knows that they have deliberately sabotaged the program so as to prevent the repayment of those funds within the time limit in which they were promised, and which we as Members on this side of the House as well as the Governor intend to repay. They made every effort it was possible to make by their acts and by their thoughts to prevent the repayment of those funds within the time limit in which we agreed to repay them.

They have already delayed by a matter of weeks the repayment of those funds. Then they come along and try to tell the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the Governor deliberately intends not to repay those funds. That is not right; and the gentlemen on the other side know, if they have any understanding at all, that it is not a true statement of the situation.

And now, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman wants to know what the moneys of the next biennium have to do with the repayment of these funds to schools and hospitals and things of that sort. I will tell you what they have to do with it. The estimates of revenue which were submitted by the gentleman were a little too high for the last biennium, and as a result of that there is not enough money to keep on paying relief, nor will there be enough money, not only in May but in June, for the payment of relief if there are no appropriations made to pay it. It is necessary to withhold a certain amount of cash money from these people, every one of them would be paid today,—I am referring now to the hospitals and homes and first, second and third class school districts,—they would be paid today, had the gentlemen on the other side passed the tax bills and the tax anticipation note bill in time to have them signed by the Governor before this date.

The gentleman has entered into a long legal argument suggesting that the opinion of the Attorney General was wrong, that he did not know what he was talking about and the Supreme Court has decided otherwise. As a matter of fact what the opinion of the Attorney General is doing is interpreting the opinion of the Supreme Court that he was reading. Mr. Speaker, this opinion is not the opinion of the present Attorney General as he would lead you to suggest, or as he would lead you to believe. This opinion No. 51 was in effect and recognized as the law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by George Earle during the four years that he was Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This is an opinion which was written by the Honorable William H. Schnader. But casting all that aside, let us say that the gentleman has something in his argument, although I will not admit there is anything in it because in fact and in truth there isn't, but let us say now for the sake of this argument there is something in it, it still does not change the situation which I have argued on the floor of the House and which the gentlemen on the other side well know exists. That is this, if there would be a material doubt in the minds of the bankers, what would they do? What would a title searcher do if there is a material doubt as to whether or not a transfer was legal or not? He would say, "No.". What does any attorney who passes upon bond issues do if there is any doubt? He says, "No.". The bankers would not touch them and the gentleman well knows that. Even if the situation as suggested by the gentleman is true, even if there were any element of sound law in it, still the bankers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania if there were any doubt at all would say, "No.", and there would be no bids on the tax anticipation notes and the gentleman well knows it.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the situation as it definitely was stated by him, is such that no matter what you do you are causing delays in the payment to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to which they are entitled. Imagine, the gentleman on the other side studying this matter for one hundred seven days, comes before the people of Pennsylvania and says, "Why, this program ought to be passed by the Senate". When? Tomorrow, one day; tomorrow - we are going to start in on it. There are no grounds for assuming that the Senate will start on these bills tomorrow and get them passed by May 31st. Imagine suggesting that a deliberative body of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should accept a program which they first saw today and accept that program and pass it within five days, after one hundred seven days work consumed by you in studying the program. What would they think the gentleman on the other side would likely do? What would the gentleman expect from the other side. On the basis of the gentleman's faith, hope and charity speech they would expect that the gentleman would say, "Well, the revenues are not high enough". They would expect that the gentleman on the other side would say, "Additional revenue is necessary in order to carry out this budget," instead of coming in here and saying, "There is a lot of revenue here; there is all and more than we need." That was his opinion. What has been the change in that situation? What has been the change in the situation between the day the gentleman on the other side made that famous faith, hope, and charity speech, and today when he is putting in an estimate of revenue without any basis of fact? I will tell you what the change has been. The change has been that the revenues, which were expected to be brought in during that period are falling millions and millions of dollars below the amount which was expected. There have been changes, certainly there have been changes, but what have those changes been? Those changes have been an indication that the estimate of revenues made on the day that the Governor gave his budget message, and on the day that the gentleman from Monroe made his famous faith, hope, and charity speech, are falling below what they were expected to be on that day. So, the Senate faced with an absolutely new problem, faced with the alternative brought out after one hundred seven days, is asked by the gentleman on the other side to swallow this program, which I am sure will eventually be shown to be absolutely and maliciously false, to swallow this program in a matter of five days.

Mr. Speaker, I do not believe you can convince the people of Pennsylvania that you are playing fair, not only with the Senate, but I do not believe you can convince the people of Pennsylvania you are playing fair with them.

One other thing. The gentleman talked about a bitter pill. I admit it was a bitter pill to swallow all of these emergency taxes in 1939 and, Mr. Speaker, I admit it is a bitter pill to swallow these emergency taxes again. That is a long story, and I am only going to talk about it very briefly. I want to call the attention of the gentlemen on the other side and the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the fact that had it not been for the vast economies made during the present administration, had it not been for the postponement of moneys, had it not been for the raw deal given to Pennsylvania by the New Deal in reference to the amount of W. P. A. help, it would not have been necessary to reenact many of the emergency taxes at this session of the Legislature. It would not have been necessary to enact much more than the emergency taxes at this Session of the Legislature. What has taken place in recent months? The number of people on W. P. A. has been reduced from around 147,000 at the time the budget message was given, to around 95,000 at the present time. Has the reduction in this country been anything like that? Certainly not. It is discrimination against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Every effort has been made by the New Deal, both in Washington and in Pennsylvania, to ruin the opportunity of Governor James to carry out his promises not to increase taxes for Pennsylvania. Then it becomes a matter of interest—don't you remember the 1939 session how the gentlemen on that side, particularly the floor leader, the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, paced up and down that aisle and shouted about the need for additional taxes and how we would have to call a Special Session in order that additional taxes could be added on. And there were none. And don't you remember in the Special Session of 1940 when we were transferring funds, that the people on the other side got up and talked about how this was not the way to meet the situation? Don't you remember the very last speech made by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, on this program, and he finally came out with an alternative program? What was it? That we should put on additional taxes because in 1941 we would be called in here to put on the additional taxes. All of you Members who served in this House during the 1940 session remember that speech. You remember how in the very final speech of that program he finally came out with the true situation. It was the proposition that there had to be additional taxes in 1941.

That was in 1940. That was not so long ago. That was their position at that time. You recall what the Governor said about it at that time in his message. The Governor said:

"Likewise, we are told that the administration would levy a hundred million dollars in new taxes during 1939. When that year ended without a cent of new taxation, the prophets revised their forecasts to say the new taxes were inevitable during 1940.

"Now that the present session has been summoned without any mention of new taxes in the call, I note from the newspapers that the prophets have again revised their predictions and are saying that new taxes are inevitable during the spring of 1941."

Mr. Speaker, new taxes were not enacted in 1939. They were not enacted in 1940 and they are not necessary in 1941. In spite of that fact the gentleman gets up and gives a long oration immediately after the budget message in which he talks about the unwarranted hope that existed in the estimate of revenues, as contained on February 3rd in the budget as presented by the Governor of this Commonwealth. That budget stands today as it stood then, as a sound financial program for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, without endeavoring to answer categorically everything the gentleman said in his last statement, I want only to make this comment in relation to his allegation that the Democrats both here in Harrisburg and in Washington, are doing everything they could to ruin the James Administration, we don't have to do anything to ruin the James administration. All we have to do is let the James administration, the Republican administration, continue on skyrocketing the payroll like they have been doing, and ignoring the people on the problem of tax relief, and they will ruin the administration without any effort on our part.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if it is the thought of the gentleman from Monroe that the James administration is going to ruin itself, why doesn't he adopt the budget suggested by the James administration and then let the people of Pennsylvania decide whether the James budget ruins the Republican administration or not.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to do something more than that, but I realize that I and my party do represent the people of Pennsylvania, and someone has to come to their aid.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 8 Petition for Reassessment Appeal (a) Any resident against whom an assessment is made may petition the department for a reassessment Notice of an intention to file such a petition or to appear and be heard shall be given to the department within ninety (90) days after notice of such assessment is given or sent by the department to the taxpayer as provided in this act The department shall hold such hearings as may be necessary to hear and determine petitions for reassessment at such places and at such times as may be determined by rules and regulations of the department and each petitioner who has duly notified the department of an intention to file a petition for reassessment or to appear and be heard shall be notified by the department of the time when and the place where such hearings shall be held All such petitions shall set forth specifically and in detail the grounds upon which it is claimed the assessment is erroneous or unlawful and shall be accompanied by an affidavit under oath or affirmation certifying to the correctness of the facts stated therein If no petition for reassessment is filed with the department the petitioner may in lieu thereof appear at the hearing and present his petition orally in which event all testimony or statements of facts shall be made under oath or affirmation

(b) If such petitioner is dissatisfied with the action of the department on his petition for reassessment he shall have the right to appeal to the court of common pleas of the county where he resides at any time within sixty (60) days after notice of such action is given to him by the department. If any resident shall fail to give due notice of an intention to petition for reassessment and to file a petition for reassessment or to appear and be heard after due notice of his intention to do so or to appeal to the court of common pleas within the time and in the manner herein set forth the right to do so shall be forever barred and any such resident so failing shall not thereafter be permitted in a suit for the recovery of such tax to set up any ground of defense which might have been determined either by the department or the court of common pleas as aforesaid. In all cases of petitions for reassessment and appeals the burden of proof shall be on the petitioner or appellant as the case may be and every appeal to the court of common pleas under this section shall specify all the objections to the assessment and any objection not specified in the appeal shall not be considered by the court.

Section 9 Information at Source Reports (a) The executor of every will and administrator of every estate at the time of filing with the register of wills or clerk of the orphans court the inventory and appraisal of such estate or of any affidavit setting forth the real and personal estate of such decedent for the purpose of determining the transfer inheritance tax imposed thereon by existing law shall in addition thereto file with such register of wills or clerk of the orphans court a statement in duplicate under oath or affirmation setting forth the items included in such inventory or affidavit which may be liable to the tax imposed by the third section of this act. The register or clerk with whom the same is filed shall forthwith send one copy thereof to the department. It shall be the duty of the department to proceed at once to assess the tax due from such decedent with interest as heretofore provided in this act and to present a claim therefor through the Department of Justice to the orphans court of the proper county or to proceed by action or suit at law through the Department of Justice in any court of competent jurisdiction for the recovery thereof or to take any or all appropriate steps or procedure necessary for the collection of such tax.

(b) It shall be the duty of the recorder of deeds in each and every county in this Commonwealth to keep a daily record separate and apart from all other records of every mortgage or article of agreement given to secure the payment of money entered in his office for recording which record shall set forth the following information to wit: The date of the mortgage or agreement the names of the parties thereto the just sum of money secured the precise residence of the mortgagee or person to whom interest is payable a brief description of the real estate upon which such mortgage is secured and the date or several dates when the said sum or portion of the said sum shall become due and payable and a like daily record of every assignment of a mortgage or an article of agreement given to secure the payment of money and also the number of mortgages and agreements together with the amount of same and the names of the parties thereto which shall have been that day satisfied of record. For the purpose of obtaining with accuracy the precise residence of all mortgagees assignees and persons to whom interest is payable on articles of agreement it shall be the duty of the recorder of deeds in each county whenever a mortgage assignment or agreement given to secure the payment of money shall be presented to him for record to refuse the same unless the mortgage assignment or agreement has attached thereto and made part thereof a certificate signed by the mortgagee assignee or person entitled to interest or his duly authorized attorney or agent setting forth the precise residence of such mortgagee assignee or person entitled to interest and such certificate shall be recorded with the mortgage assignment or agreement. Every recorder of deeds on the first Monday of each month shall file the aforesaid daily record or a copy thereof with the department.

(c) It shall be the duty of the prothonotary or clerk of the court of common pleas in each and every county in this Commonwealth forthwith upon the passage of this act to keep a daily record separate and apart from all other records of every single bill bond judgment or other instrument securing a debt entered of record in his office. Such daily record shall set forth the following information to wit: The date of the instrument the names of the plaintiff and defendant together with the precise residence of the plaintiff or person to whose use such bill bond judgment or other obligation to pay money is marked whenever such residence can be ascertained the just sum secured and the date or several dates when the said sum or portion of the same shall become due and payable with the further information whether any of said bonds or judgments are accompanied with mortgages and also the number of every single bill bond judgment or other instrument securing a debt together with the amount of same and the names of the plaintiff and defendant thereto which shall have been that day satisfied. The prothonotary or clerk of the court of common pleas shall file the aforesaid daily record or a copy thereof with the department on the first Monday of each month.

The several recorders of deeds prothonotaries and court clerks as aforesaid shall be entitled to receive ten cents for each and every mortgage judgment or lien assignment.

Section 10 Compensation of Recorders and Prothonotaries or satisfaction thereof reported to the department as heretofore required in this act. Such fees shall be paid by the respective county treasurers on the presentation of proper vouchers certified by the department and shall be applied in like manner as other fees received by such recorders prothonotaries or clerks. Provided That no fee shall be allowed in any case where the residence of any plaintiff mortgagee or assignee is omitted in such reports. And provided further That the amount allowed any prothonotary or clerk or recorder of deeds under this act shall not exceed the sum of six hundred dollars ($600.00) per annum.

Section 11 Due Date. All taxes imposed by the third section of this act shall be due and payable on the fifteenth day of February of each year.

Section 12 Interest. The tax imposed by the third section of this act shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date such tax is due and payable until thirty (30) days after the department shall make an assessment and thereafter at the rate of twelve per centum per annum until paid except that any tax found due as the result of an appeal to the court of common pleas or any appellate court shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date the tax was originally due and payable until paid.

Section 13 Lien of Taxes (a) All taxes imposed under the third section of this act together with all penalties and interest shall be considered a public account after becoming due and payable in the manner prescribed in this act and as such shall be a lien upon the franchises and real property of the resident against whom the same are assessed after the same has been entered and docketed of record by the prothonotary of the county where the resident's franchises or property are situated.

(b) The department may at any time transmit to the prothonotaries of the respective counties of the Commonwealth to be by them entered of record certified copies of all liens for taxes imposed by the third section of this act and penalties and interest upon which record it shall be lawful for writs of scire facias to issue and be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the same manner as such writs are ordinarily employed.

Section 14 Credits for Overpayment. The Board of Finance and Revenue may allow a credit for any taxes imposed by the third section of this act and penalties and interest thereon paid to the Commonwealth to which the Commonwealth is not rightfully or equitably entitled. Claims for such credits shall be made in accordance with the provisions of "The Fiscal Code" relative to petitions for refunds of taxes. No petition for such credit shall be considered by the board unless filed with the board within two (2) years of the payment alleged to have been erroneously made.

Upon the allowance of any such petition the credit so determined may be applied against any amount due or subsequently becoming due by such petitioner on account of taxes imposed by the third section of this act and penalties and interest thereon or may be assigned in whole or in part to any other taxable resident to be applied against any amount due or subsequent becoming due by such resident on account of taxes imposed by the third section of this act and penalties and interest thereon. Upon the allowance of a petition for credit the board shall issue its certificate under its hand and seal and no credit claimed whether assigned or not shall be allowed unless evidenced by such certificate.

Section 15 Penalties Costs (a) Every person or officer who shall wilfully and corruptly make a false and fraudulent return of property made taxable by the third section of this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law.

(b) Any wilful failure on the part of recorders of deeds or prothonotaries or clerks to carry out the duties imposed upon them by section nine of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof the person or persons so failing to comply shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one (1) year or both in the discretion of the court.

(c) Every register of wills who shall fail to send copies of affidavits filed with him by executors or administrators to the department as required by section nine of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof the register so failing shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one (1) year or both in the discretion of the court.

(d) Every executor or administrator who wilfully fails to file the affidavit with the register of wills as required by section nine of this act shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the first day and ten dollars ($10.00) for each succeeding day during which such affidavit is not filed to be collected by the department through the Department of Justice in the same manner as debts are by law collected.

(e) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county.

Section 16 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act.

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records of any resident in order to verify the accuracy of any return made or if no return was made to ascertain and assess the tax imposed by the third section of this act. Every such resident is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized. The department is hereby authorized to examine any person under oath concerning any property which was or should have been returned for taxation and to this end may compel the production of books papers and records and the attendance of all persons whether as parties or witnesses whom it believes have knowledge of such property. The procedure for such hearing or examination shall be the same as that provided by "The Fiscal Code" relating to inquisitorial powers of fiscal officers.

Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations hearings or verifications required or authorized by this act and any information gained by the county commissioners board of revision of taxes or board for the assessment and revision of taxes as the result of duplicate returns received from the department shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person or agent divulging such information shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not in excess of five hundred dollars ($500.00) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than three (3) years or both in the discretion of the court.

(c) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law.

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill providing for the reduction of the personal property tax from four mills to three mills. Some question has been raised whether or not there was a necessity for the sake of uniformity to make a similar reduction in Section 17 of the corporate loans tax act. I point out to the membership of this House that the ascertainment of the base on which the tax is placed is different in regard to corporate loans in relation to what is known purely as personal property tax. We are of the opinion that we have not violated the law in relation to uniformity. However, may I say when the question is placed before the Senate, in the event they come to a different conclusion, we will be prepared to discuss it with the Senate, and if necessary the budget figures as submitted by our party will indicate, or I believe will indicate that that reduction can also be made.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON FIRST READING

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will return to the first reading calendar. The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 571, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance, for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and providing for certain allocations from such appropriation by the Department of Public Assistance and also by the Governor, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer or the majority thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1025

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1025, Printer's No. 608, entitled

An Act relating to attorneys-at-law; regulating the admission of persons to said office, by prescribing the conditions upon which, and the method by which law colleges and schools shall be entitled to receive certificates of approval as institutions of learning, properly qualified to prepare registered law students for admission to any final examination for the practice of law in this Commonwealth, and the effect thereof upon such law students and upon examining boards or commissions: authorizing the collection of fees for services to be rendered hereunder; prohibiting certain acts or omissions; and imposing penalties; prescribing the procedure by which such approval may be enforced, suspended, revoked and reinstated; limiting the construction of this act; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

was declared by the House to be unconstitutional on Thursday, May 5th, 1941, be reconsidered.

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Heatherington, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Owens, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am going to ask the House to agree to reconsider the action taken on last Thursday for the reason that I was accused of being rather unfair in taking advantage of a light House and without giving proper notice to some of the Members. I did not intend to do that. I thought when we stayed here, we did so to transact business. The question of whether the House is light is of no concern to the business transacted. However, since I have been accused of being unfair,—the thought that should characterize the actions of all the Members should be the question of fairness and opportunity to study,—while I am of the opinion today that I was on last Thursday that the bill is unconstitutional, I am not going to oppose the motion to reconsider the vote. I believe it has been my experience here that in many instances we have given the courtesy of reconsideration, although we did not necessarily recede from our positions. That is the position I take on this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I have asked the House to recede from its position of having declared this bill unconstitutional so that it may be placed on the calendar for whatever disposition the House wishes to make of it. I do not yield in my position, however, that the bill is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown withdraw his constitutional point of order?

Mr. BROWN. I do, Mr. Speaker. I hereby withdraw my point of order on the question of constitutionality raised last Thursday on the bill.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in our efforts yesterday the House overlooked one of the greatest events that has occurred in Pennsylvania. I realize we have been derelict in our duty, and I now ask, Mr. Speaker, leave to offer a resolution to correct that dereliction.

Mr. ACHTERMAN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1941.

There comes a great day in the life of every good man—that day, scarcely considered in early youth, then dreamed of, hoped for, worried over, and finally becoming a reality—the day when the first child is born

To a member of the Legislative Correspondents' Association and his faithful spouse this thrill that comes but once in a lifetime has just occurred. At the Harrisburg Hospital, on May 21st, 1941, was born Gerry Lee Wilcove, the eight pound son of Ray Wilcove, a familiar figure about the legislative halls, a representative of the International News Service, and a mighty fine fellow; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilcove on the birth of their son, and wish the married couple, who have now assumed the dignity of the status of a family, much health and happiness; and hereby direct the Chief Clerk to transmit a copy of this Resolution to them at their residence, 1622 Sycamore Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. AUKER. Can the Speaker inform me whether it is not a time honored and well established custom that those to whom a first child is born generally furnish cigars to those who congratulate them?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman the new father passed around several boxes yesterday.

Mr. AUKER. I didn't get any, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. And you will not now.

SENATE MESSAGE

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 376

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, nonconcurring in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 376, entitled:

An Act To amend section eight hundred sixty-five of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by prohibiting the sale which has been used and re-refined unless such oil exposing for sale and offering for sale of certain lubricants in a manner to deceive the purchaser and the disguising and camouflaging of equipment used for marketing liquid fuels lubricating oils and similar products.

SENATE

MONDAY, May 26, 1941.

The Senate met at 3:30 o'clock p. m., E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the prayer was offered by the Senator from Berks, Dr. RUTH.

Almighty God, Our Heavenly Father, we come to Thee today to start a new week after having had the opportunity to refresh our spirits and souls at that fountain that has no limits, and we pray as we come to Thee this week that Thou wilt guide us that we may assume our tasks with honor and that we may perform our duties with glory, not for ourselves but for Thee and for the people whom we represent. We ask it in the Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MILLER and Mr. COLEMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING USE OF SENATE CHAMBER FOR PUBLIC HEARING ON PUBLIC UTILITIES

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MALLERY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 26, 1941.

Resolved, That the Committee on Public Utilities of the Senate of Pennsylvania be granted the use of the Senate Chamber for a public hearing on Senate Bills Nos. 103, 107, 108, 189, 237 and 783, to be held on Monday, May 26, 1941, at 8:00 o'clock p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FARRELL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 26, 1941.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 2, 1941, at 3:30 o'clock p. m. (Eastern Standard Time), and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 2, 1941, at 8 o'clock p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

RESOLUTION URGING ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, May 26, 1941.

Resolved, (if the House concur), that the Senate adjourn sine die on Thursday, the 12th day of June, A. D. 1941, at 5 o'clock, n. m., Eastern Standard Time.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 39

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I object.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman state the reason for his objection to this adjournment resolution?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, the only reason I have for objecting to immediate consideration of this resolution is that we have not the slightest idea at this time as to when we can adjourn. We are just getting the tax bills and the tax program over from the House, where they might just as well have been in a vault, it seems to me, for a great many weeks, because apparently nothing of any consequence was done with them, and no one can tell at this time, unless he is a mental wizard, with all due respect to our colleague from Philadelphia, as to when is the proper time for an adjournment resolution to become effective.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the gentleman aware of the fact that the general appropriation bill will be here on Wednesday, and that the relief bill will be here on Tuesday for action by the Senate, and that in effect practically cleans up all the work the House can do with respect to the fiscal program of the Senate.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I believe my colleague from Philadelphia County asked me if I was aware of that fact. I certainly am not, because after all these weeks and weeks and weeks, it seems to me that we cannot be aware of anything or certain of anything until we have it right in our hands.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I can understand the weakness of the Republican Party, and I am not making a speech on that subject now. What I am trying to find out from the gentleman from Allegheny is whether it will make any difference to him, as to this adjournment resolution and action on it now, if the bill for the general appropriation would come to the Senate on Wednesday, and the relief appropriation bill arrives here tomorrow.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I explained my reason for my objection to immediate consideration, and I do not see any need for further interrogation in connection therewith.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is the gentleman's privilege, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. There has been objection to immediate consideration of the resolution presented by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE BILL No. 1004 CALLED UP ON SECOND READING

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1004 on Page 27 of the Calendar, said bill covering the special relief appropriation on second reading.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1004, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance, and providing for certain allocations therefrom, for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the purpose of clearing the record on this bill, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gertz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand this bill was introduced for the purpose of taking care of relief for the months of June and July, 1941.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, this bill was introduced for the purpose of insuring the continuance of relief after the end of this biennium.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Which means, Mr. President, for the months of June and July, 1941?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, there is no specification as to June and July; that was not the intention.

Mr. SHAPIRO. But, Mr. President, it was the intention that it should begin with the fiscal year.

Mr. GELTZ. That is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The reason I said June and July, Mr. President, was because in conversation in committee it was brought out that it was intended to provide for the months of June and July, if it took that long to finish, and I would like to call attention of the Senate to the fact that this bill does not confine itself to the next biennium, but deals, on page 2, line 5, with "the payment of assistance, administrative expenses, expenses of liquidating the State Emergency Relief Board attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid May 31, 1941."

Now, Mr. President, that may be a common phrase in all previous bills, but in my opinion it is not a phrase or a provision which belongs in a bill which is to take care of expenses for the beginning of the next biennium, and if that is necessary in this bill, before we vote on this bill we ought to know how much money is necessary for the balance of the biennium. As I understand it, Mr. President, and I hope the gentleman from Allegheny will correct me if I am wrong, this bill is specifically intended to cover the expenses for the administration and the cost of relief from June 1, 1941. If that is so, by the terms of this bill it is not carrying out that intention.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, this bill, as I stated before, endeavors to make certain that relief will not be stopped at the end of the biennium. I believe this is the regular wording that is inserted in relief bills; I do not know at this time but in all probability it is necessary that that wording be included in the bill to carry on relief over into the next biennium. However, I think that can be easily ascertained before this bill is up for final passage tomorrow, and we will endeavor to do so.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my purpose in calling it to the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny is that this matter be corrected before we come to vote on this bill finally. This is not the usual phrase in section one, because section one is a special phrase dealing with something that has not happened before; it deals with provision being made for the next biennium, and in that provision if you look at the act, you will see it is made for the two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1941, and then there is added after that a provision for any deficiency in the 1939-1941 biennium, which I think is wrong and should not be in this bill.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I wish to thank my colleague from Philadelphia for raising the question.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE BILL No. 930 (HOUSE BILL No. 1588) CALLED UP ON SECOND READING

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 930, (House Bill No. 1588) on second reading, page 27 of the Calendar. This bill relates to school taxes for the Philadelphia and Allegheny school districts.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 930, (House Bill No. 1588), entitled:

An Act to amend and reenact section five hundred and twenty-four of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the methods of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended, by limiting to eleven and three-quarter mills the total school tax for any one year in school districts of the first class; and prescribing the method of fixing the levy of school taxes in such districts.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Section 13 Rejection of Applicant Hearing The commission may refuse to examine any applicant or if examined may refuse to certify after examination as eligible anyone who is found to lack any of the minimum qualifications for examination prescribed in the rules and regulations adopted for the position or employment for which he has applied or who is physically disabled and unfit for the performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks employment or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors or drugs or who has been guilty of any crime involving moral turpitude or of infamous or notorious disgraceful conduct or who has been dismissed from public service for delinquency or misconduct in office or who is affiliated with any group whose policies or activities are subversive to the form of government set forth in the constitutions and laws of the United States and Pennsylvania

If any applicant or person feels himself aggrieved by the action of the commission in refusing to examine him or to certify him as eligible after examination the commission shall at the request of such person within ten (10) days appoint a time and place where he may appear personally and by counsel whereupon the commission shall then review its refusal to make such examination or certification and take such testimony as may be offered The decision of the commission shall be final

Section 14 Manner of Filling Appointments Every position or employment except that of Chief of Police or equivalent official unless filled by promotion re-instatement or reduction shall be filled only in the following manner the appointing officer or body of the municipality shall notify the commission of any vacancy in the police force which is to be filled and shall request the certification of a list of eligibles The commission shall certify for each existing vacancy from the eligible list the names of three persons thereon who have received the highest average in the last preceding examination held within a period of one year next preceding the date of the request for such eligibles The appointing officer or body shall thereupon with sole reference to the merits and fitness of the candidates make an appointment from the three names certified unless he or they make objections to the commission as to one or more of the persons so certified for any of the reasons stated in section 13 of this act Should such objections be sustained by the commission as provided in said section the commission shall thereupon strike the name of such person from the eligible list and certify the next highest name for each name stricken off As each subsequent vacancy occurs in the same or another position precisely the same procedure shall be followed

In the case of a vacancy in the office of Chief of Police or equivalent official the appointive power may nominate a person to the Commission It shall thereupon become the duty of the Commission to subject such person to a noncompetitive examination and if such person shall be certified by the Commission as qualified he may then be appointed to such position and thereafter shall be subject to all of the provisions of this act

Section 15 Age Applicants Residence No person shall be eligible to apply for examination unless he is more than twenty-one years of age at the date of application and has been a resident of the municipality for at least one year preceding immediately his application unless no resident applicants are available

Section 16 Probationary Period All original appointments to any position in the police force shall be for a probationary period of six months but during the probationary period an appointee may be dismissed only for a cause specified in section 13 of this act If at the close of a probationary period the conduct or fitness of the probationer has not been satisfactory to the appointing officer or body the probationer shall be notified in writing that he will not receive a permanent appointment Thereupon his appointment shall cease otherwise his retention shall be equivalent to a permanent appointment

Section 17 Provisional Appointments Whenever there are urgent reasons for the filling of a vacancy in any position in the police force and there are no names on the eligible list for such appointment the appointing officer or body may nominate a person to the commission for non-competitive examination and if such nominee shall be certified by the commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy It shall thereupon become the duty of the Commission within three weeks to hold a competitive examination and certify a list of eligibles and a regular appointment shall then be made from the name or names submitted by the Commission Provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the appointment without examination of persons temporarily as police officers in emergency cases for the suppression of riots tumults in times of war pestilence conflagration or public celebration

Section 18 Promotions Promotions shall be based on merits to be ascertained by examinations to be prescribed by the commission All questions relative to promotions shall be practical in character and such as will fairly test the merit and fitness of persons seeking promotion

The appointing officer or body shall have power to determine in each instance whether an increase in salary shall constitute a promotion

Section 19 Physical Examination All applicants for examination shall undergo a physical examination which shall be conducted under the supervision of a doctor of medicine appointed by the civil service commission No person shall be eligible to take an examination until said doctor certifies that the applicant is free from any bodily or mental defects deformity or disease that might incapacitate him from the discharge of the duties of the position desired

Section 20 Removals No person employed in any police department of any political subdivision shall be suspended removed or reduced in rank except for the following reasons (1) physical or mental disability affecting his ability to continue in service in which cases the persons shall receive an honorable discharge from service (2) neglect or violation of any official duty (3) violation of any law of this Commonwealth which provides that such violation constitutes a misdemeanor or felony (4) inefficiency neglect intemperance disobedience of orders or conduct unbecoming an officer (5) intoxication while on duty (6) engage or participate in the conducting of any political or election campaign otherwise than to exercise his own right of suffrage A person so employed shall not be removed for religious racial or political reasons A written statement of any charges made against any person so employed shall be furnished to such person within five days after the same are filed

If for reasons of economy or other reasons it shall be deemed necessary by any municipality to reduce the number of paid employees of the police department then such political subdivision shall apply the following procedure (a) if there are any employees eligible for retirement under the terms of any retirement or pension law then such reduction in numbers shall be made by retirement if the party to be retired is sixty-five years of age or over (b) if the number of paid employees in the police force eligible to retirement is insufficient to effect the necessary reduction in numbers or if there are no persons eligible for retirement or if no retirements or pension fund exist then the reduction shall be affected by furloughing the men or men including probationers last appointed to said police force

Such removal shall be accomplished by furloughing in numerical order commencing with the man last appointed until such reduction shall have been accomplished. In the event the said police force shall again be increased the employes furloughed shall be reinstated in the order of their seniority in the service.

Section 21 Hearings on Dismissals and Reduction. If the person sought to be suspended removed or reduced in rank shall demand a hearing by the commission the demand shall be made to the commission. Such person may make written answers to any charges filed against him. The commission shall grant him a hearing which shall be held within a period of ten days from the filing of charges in writing and written answers thereto filed within five days and may be continued by the commission for cause or at the request of the accused. At any such hearing the person against whom the charges are made may be present in person and by counsel. The appointing officer or body may suspend any such person without pay pending the determination of the charges against him but in the event the commission fails to uphold the charges then the person sought to be suspended removed or demoted shall be reinstated with full pay for the period during which he was suspended and no charges shall be officially recorded against his record.

A written record of all testimony taken at such hearings shall be filed with and preserved by the commission which record shall be sealed and not be available for public inspection in the event the charges are dismissed.

In the event the commission shall sustain the charges and order the suspension removal or reduction in rank the person suspended removed or reduced in rank shall have immediate right of appeal to the court of common pleas of the county and the case there determined as the court deems proper. No order of suspension made by the commission shall be for a longer period than one year. Such appeal shall be taken within sixty days from the date of entry by the commission of its final order and shall be by petition. Upon such appeal being taken and docketed the court of common pleas shall fix a day for a hearing and shall proceed to hear the appeal on the original record and such additional proof or testimony as the person sought to be suspended removed or reduced in rank may desire to offer in evidence shall be permitted to be introduced. The decision of the court affirming or reversing the decision of the commission shall be final and the employe shall be suspended discharged demoted or reinstated in accordance with the order of the court.

The appointing officer or body and the person sought to be suspended removed or demoted shall at all times have the right to employ counsel before the commission and upon appeal to the court of common pleas.

Section 22 Present Employes Exempted. All appointments in the police force of municipalities including the Chief of Police or equivalent official upon the effective date of this act shall continue to hold their positions and shall not be required to take any examination under the provisions of this act except such as may be required for promotion. Provided however that this section shall not be construed to apply to persons employed temporarily in emergency cases.

Section 23 Discrimination on Account of Political or Religious Affiliations. No question in any form of application for examination or in any examination shall be so framed as to elicit information concerning the political or religious opinions of any application nor shall inquiry be made concerning such opinion or affiliations and all disclosures thereof shall be discountenanced.

No discrimination shall be exercised threatened or promised by any person against or in favor of any applicant or employe because of political or religious opinions or affiliations or race and no offer or promise of reward favor or benefit directly or indirectly and shall be made to or received by any person for any act done or duty omitted or to be done under this act.

Section 24 Penalty. Any councilman or township commissioner who by his vote causes to be appointed any person to the police force of any municipality contrary to the provisions of this act or any councilman township commissioner or member of the commission who wilfully refuses to comply with or conform to the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or suffer imprisonment not exceeding three months or both.

Section 25 Salaries of Civil Service Commission. The civil service commissioners of municipalities shall receive no compensation.

Section 26 Repeal and Construction. Except as provided in section 1 all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

It is the purpose of this act to furnish a complete and exclusive system for the appointment promotion reduction suspension or removal of members of the police force in every borough incorporated town and township of the first class within this Commonwealth which maintains a police force.

Section 27 Police Force Defined. Police force as used in this act shall mean a police force organized and operating as prescribed by law the members of which devote their normal working hours to police duty or duty in connection with the bureau agencies and services connected with police protection work and who are paid a stated salary or compensation for such work by the municipality.

Section 28 Effective Date. This act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and forty-one.

SENATE BILL No. 495 (HOUSE BILL No. 524)

CALLED UP

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 945, (House Bill No. 524), on concurrence in House amendments recalled from the Governor, postponed, on page 2 of the Calendar.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 495, (House Bill No. 524), entitled:

An Act to further amend section two hundred and ten of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448), entitled "An act relating to fish; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth," by prohibiting the purchase sale or exposure for sale of striped bass or rock fish under eighteen inches in length.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

MOTION THAT SENATE NON-CONCUR IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 414, (HOUSE BILL No. 616), RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 414, (House Bill No. 616), entitled:

An Act to amend section seven of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, (P. L. 427) entitled "An Act to Consolidate, Revise, and Amend the Laws of this Commonwealth relating to Penal Proceedings and Pleadings," providing for the fixing of bail and the admission to bail by magistrates, committing magistrates, justices of the peace or aldermen and coroners in certain cases involving involuntary manslaughter be recalled from the Governor.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in the absence of the sponsor, may I ask to have action on Senate Bill No. 414, deferred until tomorrow.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I have no objection, but I can not see the advantage, because it will go into a conference committee, as it is, if that is satisfactory.

Mr. STIEFEL. The reason I ask this, Mr. President, is that I was requested by a group of citizens from my district to ask for deferment of action on this bill until tomorrow, in order that they may come here in the morning and express their views on these amendments.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I request that Senate Bill No. 414, (House Bill No. 616), go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

It was agreed to.

MOTION THAT SENATE CONCUR IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL No. 542, (HOUSE BILL No. 666)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 542, (House Bill No. 666).

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 46, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," authorizing the county treasurer to appoint a solicitor and providing for his salary payable by the county

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 185, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of, and to add section two and one-tenth to, the act, approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127), entitled "An act relating to adoption," further regulating adoption proceedings as to the consent of, and notice to be given to, parents of the person proposed to be adopted

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 262, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 335) entitled "An act creating a temporary commission to examine report upon and recommend measures to improve the economic cultural health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the State and making an appropriation of the expenses of such commission" by extending the term of such commission until the next regular session of the General Assembly and making an appropriation.

Section 1 The existence of the temporary State commission created under the provisions of the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 335) entitled "An act creating a temporary commission to examine report upon and recommend measures to improve the economic cultural health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the State and making an appropriation of the expenses of such commission" and the powers and duties granted such commission are hereby extended until the next regular session of the General Assembly

Section 2 The sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated from any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated payable on requisition of the chairman of such commission on the warrant and audit of the Auditor General

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, Senate Bill 262, is a supplement to the act passed at the Session of 1939. That act provides for the creation of a temporary commission to examine, report upon and recommend measures to improve the economic, cultural, health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the state, and making an appropriation of the expenses of such a commission, and it carried an appropriation of ten thousand dollars. The bill provided for fifteen thousand dollars, but the Governor cut it down to the sum of ten thousand dollars.

As the act was passed in the 1939 Session, it was passed as a temporary measure. I understand that today a report was filed by that commission.

This bill on the Calendar tonight provides for an extension and also for an additional appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars. The Governor has said many times that the financial cupboard is bare, in other words, it is hard to get money to carry on the ordinary functions of government. If this legislature is going to rebel against the wishes of the Governor and pass bills carrying large appropriations for all kinds of measures such as this, then I am afraid that bankruptcy is not far away. If we have lots of money to hand out in cases of this nature, we can employ it to far better advantage even for the colored people. I would suggest that if we have money to expend on the colored people of this state, that we follow the suggestion of the fine president of the colored university known as Lincoln University, who requests in his letter of April 4, 1941, to the Senate, that if we have additional money, we increase the appropriation to his fine colored college, and in connection with that request he sets forth in a short statement, which became an editorial in the Philadelphia Evening Ledger of March 18, 1941, the following:

"A WORTHY INSTITUTION

"Although the watchword of both Governor James and the Legislature is economy in the spending of taxpayers' money, there are times when making more than the customary allotment to a public institution is greater economy than holding down the appropriation. A case in point is Lincoln University, which has been the recipient of $50,000 in past bienniums. This session it is asking for $100,000 for the two years beginning June 1, next.

"Perhaps if the legislators understood more about Lincoln University they would be inclined to grant the request and the Governor to approve it. Few realize that this oldest institution in the United States for the higher education of Negro young men is the only one of its kind north of the Mason and Dixon line and east of the Ohio River. It stands alone to serve more than 1,250,000 negroes in the whole populous Northeastern United States.

"Intended for the accommodation of 200 students, it is inadequate for the 390 now attending the university. And it is forced to turn away 100 Pennsylvania Negro men every year. It is to the advantage of both the white and black races for these youths to receive proper education so they may promote the welfare and advancement of their race. The State ought to be willing to provide the modest sum asked for Lincoln University, which has educational standards of the highest. They should be preserved and encouraged."

In a report submitted to the Senators today, which I hurriedly glanced over, I find that one of the outstanding subjects for consideration is education. Now, if education is what this committee is generally concerned with, then why not give the money, if we have it, to Lincoln University, where education we know will be promoted; but to hand out money for investigation purposes, my experience as a Senator has led me to believe that in most cases that money is just thrown away, and I believe this bill should be voted down on that account. I do not believe it will serve the purpose it is intended to serve. Ten thousand dollars has already been spent in this effort and now fifteen thousand dollars more is requested. I believe we can use that money to far better advantage, and if we have money to spend to help the negro people, I say give it to Lincoln University, as its president has requested.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, education is one of the fields investigated by this commission, but it is not necessarily the most important field. I feel the most important field is that of employment, and the employment of negroes. The commission has made an investigation of this field and that has not been completed, and it seems to me it is false economy to stop an investigation of this sort, which might be very helpful to the colored population in urban centers, right in the middle of it; it is just like throwing your ten thousand dollars away; therefore, the investigation should be completed so that maybe a solution will be presented to the problem of negro unemployment.

Mr. President, in making these remarks, I do not mean I am against increasing the appropriation to Lincoln University, which I think should be increased, but in addition to education, there is the field of negro housing which needs to be investigated, and this Commission has only partially completed its investigation of that; also there is the question of negro crime and delinquency.

As I said before, to stop halfway is simply throwing away what has already been done. This commission is under the guidance of Lawrence Foster, a professor of Lincoln University, and it is attempting to do a good job in this direction, and it should be perpetuated for at least two more years, so that it may complete its preliminary work.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, there is also another phase of this question just discussed that I think we ought to give some thought to.

I wonder what this legislature can do after this money is spent and the commission has made this investigation. Suppose they make a report stating that the conditions of the urban negroes of this state are deplorable. What can we do about it? We might go out in this Commonwealth and investigate the conditions of the Poles of the state and find that probably in our urban districts they might be living under the same conditions. We might go out to investigate the conditions of the Italians, the English, the French, the Irish, the Germans and all of them.

Now, Mr. President, I can not see any useful purpose that an investigation of this kind can result in. I agree with my colleague from Washington County that what we need to spend this money for is for education, and if we make education available to these colored people, give them the same opportunities that are given to the white people, they will improve their own conditions, but truthfully, if you weigh this problem, what can we do after we have spent this money and do get a report from this commission? Suppose they come in and tell us conditions are bad that these negroes live in. We can go throughout this state and find a lot of white people who are living under very deplorable conditions, and what can we do about it and what do we intend to do?

I do not like the idea of segregation here; it is not consistent with our philosophy of democracy, and if you are going to start to pass legislation to investigate conditions under which the negroes live and then the others, just where are we going to get to? The money is merely thrown away, because we can do nothing about the report of the commission after we get it. We can not pass any legislation applying specifically to the colored population and leave the rest of the population out. This appears to be special legislation and I think, as somebody has suggested, political. I have sympathy with my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, if he has a large negro population in his district and if this bill may increase his political stock to that extent, but I say this is money badly spent and should not be spent for this purpose.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I have been swayed by the oratory of my colleagues, so, Mr. President, I suggest that this bill go over in order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in order; it ought to be voted on and disposed of.

If they want to refer this bill back to the committee for further study, I am in favor of that, but simply putting it over in order so we may have the same argument tomorrow does not appeal to me as a helpful proposition.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I have great respect for the opinions of the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reed; I believe they are deeply rooted in the soil and they should always be taken with great respect, but when it comes to a question which pertains to city dwellers, especially in districts represented by Senators wherein there is a heavy colored population, I believe that a study of this kind is very urgent.

There was a philosopher who said once: "Conceptions without perception are blind, and perceptions without conceptions are empty."

Mr. President, how can the legislature form opinions as to ameliorative actions without first undertaking a study.

Now, Mr. President, comparing the expenses of the state, several thousands of dollars spent in that study, even if they do not result in action, will eventually inure to the benefit of the Commonwealth. Whether the legislature is going to take action upon a report later or not, a study of that kind will be helpful in those districts where the colored population offers certain problems, and for that reason, Mr. President, I feel as does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, representing a district where in of all its component parts, fifty-two per cent of its population is colored, a study of this kind will be of great help not only to the city of Philadelphia but to the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have some colored voters in my district, where I live—and the subject of where I live has been gone into so thoroughly heretofore I do not think it requires much discussion—in both places where I am supposed to live I have a colored population, but I am convinced this is not the way to handle this problem.

In the first place, here is a committee which has had ten thousand dollars, and it has held only three meetings and has given no report as to what happened to the ten thousand dollars. I am quite sure this measure would be short lived if it bore the name of a Democratic sponsor because no Democrat on this side of the Assembly could get fifteen thousand dollars after having had ten thousand dollars, without making any report, and I do not believe in kidding the colored people about this.

There are a lot of bills in this Senate tonight, in committee, that would relieve some of the ills from which colored people are suffering, that will never see the light of day. There is no sense in paying fifteen thousand dollars to hide our delinquency in that respect.

In the city of Philadelphia living conditions of the colored people could be relieved without the necessity of investing this fifteen thousand dollars, by having a little more light fall on our councilmanic members to get them to see that a housing project, even though sponsored by a federal program, is a good thing and could bring about some relief in the slum districts for these colored people.

Now, Mr. President, I have listened tonight in committee about the dire consequences that are going to happen to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania if we take over the mental institutions or if we decrease the taxes, because the government needs every dollar, and now we are going to vote fifteen thousand dollars to take care of some local situation, for a few individuals who happen to have colored people living in their neighborhood, and if that is consistency I do not know what the word "consistency" means.

There is no reason for an additional fifteen thousand dollars, Mr. President. There is no report as to why or for what purpose the original ten thousand dollars was spent. Committees have worked for longer periods than has this one, held more meetings and brought about some results, certainly more than we see here, and have not spent that much money, and it seems to me a sin and a crime, just because somebody lives in a district where there are a lot of colored people, to give them an excuse to put off the doing of something for them for another two years. This commission has been in existence for two years and today is the first time they have filed a report and contemporaneously with the filing of that report, and even before, we have this bill asking for another fifteen thousand dollars, to file another report. I can stand here on this Senate floor and in twenty-five minutes tell you more than that report tells you, and get just as far, which is nowhere, because nothing has been done and nothing will be done, by this committee.

Mr. President, look at the bills we have here in the Senate; pass one or two of those and add a few thousand dollars more to grants to colleges to give these people an opportunity to educate themselves and break down some of the discrimination against them, give them a little more freedom of action than they have, give them a chance to lift up their heads and you will not have to make any investigation; they will prosper, they will get better and they will become better citizens. I am opposed to the bill for those reasons.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I agree in great part with what has been said by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reed. If we can get more money for Lincoln University I will be more than happy and will vote for it, but I think this ten thousand dollars has been probably the best ten thousand dollars spent in the last biennium. I happen to represent a vast majority of the colored people in the City of Pittsburgh. This ten thousand dollars has made the city fathers of Pittsburgh conscious of the needs of the colored race in our county.

In the fifth ward of the City of Pittsburgh, which houses approximately fourteen or fifteen thousand colored residents, we have now, mainly I say on account of this commission which was appointed here two years ago, the Bedford Dwellings and the Terrace Villages, one and two, which have done more for the welfare of the colored people of Allegheny County than any other thing and, like my predecessor, Senator Kilgallen, I will be more than happy to vote for this appropriation.

Mr. WOODWARD. Well, Mr. President, I guess I misunderstood. I understood my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, to reflect on the committee for not having issued a report. It seems to me the report came out yesterday and I was very grateful because it made a good bedside story because I see in the report that in Bryn Mawr College there are no negroes and I shall vote for the bill, Mr. President, because I am looking forward to a full report so that I may have another evening of reading.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, since the last session of the General Assembly I was appointed a member of this commission by the President Pro Tempore, Mr. Gelder. I have attended most of the meetings of the commission down to the time when the Legislature got into the general session, and I want to say for my colleagues that they have taken hold of their work earnestly, they have taken hold of their work in all sincerity and I think with scholarly ability.

My own belief is it would be a mistake to give up this work just in the middle and while I do not just see at the present moment where the money will come from nevertheless this seems to me one of the things to a certain extent we must take on faith, that when the time comes the Governor will find sufficient funds to allow the work to go on. I would count myself remiss in my duty if I did not say I think this commission has done a good job so far.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, when my colleagues to the left, the gentleman from Washington, Senator Reed, and the gentleman from Fayette, Senator Cavalcante, talk about economy, I always listen with interest. In my senatorial district, comprising Blair and Huntingdon Counties, we do not have a great many colored people but we do have some splendid colored people.

I feel that my duty as a Senator should concern me more about the entire state. I realize that in the large cities of Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties there are a great many colored people, and I feel that I should be concerned about them. I have at least learned from my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Barr, what this committee has already done at bestirring the city fathers in Pittsburgh to do something for the colored people there and I believe, while the state may be in need of funds, that the sum of fifteen thousand dollars is not too large a sum if we can do some good for the great numbers of colored people throughout the state and therefore, while I am interested in economy, I think that I will do well in supporting this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—40

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Kephart,	Taylor,
Bartlett,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Thomas,
Becker,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Tyler,

NAYS—6

Cavalcante, Reed, Snowden, Stevenson,
Heyburn, Shapiro,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 292, (House Bill No. 382) on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns and townships to appropriate money for the establishment or continuance of Federal Surplus Commodities Stamp plans therein, and to borrow money and issue bonds for said purpose.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 443, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred and four and to further amend sections one thousand one hundred and five, one thousand one hundred and twenty-one and one thousand one hundred and twenty-seven of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," providing for and regulating the tenure of office and salaries of county and assistant county superintendents.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments: Page 3, line 17, remove the light-face brackets before and after the letter "b" and insert in lieu thereof parenthesis, "(b)".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 443, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EDMONDS, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1010, (House Bill No. 234), entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 292), entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation," by increasing the rate of tax for a further limited period of time.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1016, entitled:

An Act providing that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania enter into the interstate compact to conserve oil and gas with other States of the United States of America, which are signatories thereto.

PRELIMINARY REPORT, CONDITIONS OF URBAN COLORED POPULATION

The PRESIDENT. The Chair lays before the Senate preliminary report of the Pennsylvania State Temporary Commission on the Conditions of the Urban Colored Population, to the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which report is dated May, 1941, and which will be noted in the Journal. Copies of the report have been placed on the desks of the Senators.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1007, (House Bill No. 230), entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 414), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment collection and lien of the same and the distribution of the proceeds thereof imposing duties on executors administrators registers of wills recorders of deeds probators and court clerks and on persons copartnerships associations banks national banks trust companies and other corporations receiving deposits of money and on certain corporations and limited partnerships conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments imposing penalties and making an appropriation," as previously reenacted and amended by continuing the State personal property tax and the emergency rate of tax on scrip bonds certificates and evidences of indebtedness assumed or on which interest is paid by corporations for a further limited period of time exempting casualty insurance corporations not having capital stock and relieving life insurance corporations from the duty of reporting and paying tax under section seventeen of said act.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 454, (House Bill No. 107), entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 395), entitled "An act empowering the Department of Highways to acquire certain toll bridges within the Commonwealth, providing the procedure therefor providing for the reimbursement of the Commonwealth from tolls and charges and making an appropriation," as amended, by providing that certain of such toll bridges heretofore or hereafter acquired by the Department of Highways may be free bridges from the effective date of this act or from the date they are so acquired.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment: Amend page 4, line 5, by removing the dark-face brackets before and after the word "shall" and insert in lieu thereof light-face brackets before and after the word "shall".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I request the bill now go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in its order at this time. It has been on the Calendar for some time and I would like to get it disposed of one way or the other. As I understand the amendment presented by the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, on page four of the bill, lines four and five, the dark face brackets around the word "shall" are changed to light face brackets and the word "shall" remains out of the bill and the word "may" still remains in it. I have no objection to that amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, at the request of Mr. Cavalcante, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 491, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to protect property by making criminal certain unlawful entries on injuries to and interference with property and attempts or conspiracies to do so; and providing penalties

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS RECOMMMITTED

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 500, (House Bill No. 708), on third reading, entitled:

An Act enabling city county poor institution district ward school borough and township tax collectors their executors and administrators if they are deceased or either surety or sureties to collect taxes for the payment of which they have become personally liable without having collected the same by the expiration of the authority of their respective warrants or by the expiration of their terms of office extending the time for the collection of the same for a period of two years from the passage of this act and validating collections and proceedings for collections made or commenced without previous authority be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government for the purpose of further study.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 502, (House Bill No. 895), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to authorize counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships school districts poor districts and county institution districts to file tax and municipal claims not filed within the time specified by law and to file suggestions of nonpayment and averments of default or to sue out writs of scire facias on certain tax or municipal claims and to revive judgments where the lien of such claims or the judgments thereon have been lost and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government for the purpose of further study.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand this bill had already been re-referred to the same committee for the purpose of investigating the question of whether or not there was a saving clause in this proposed act to protect intervening rights between the time of the filing of the original lien and the effective date of this act.

Mr. GELTZ. I believe that is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I understand, Mr. President, that after that this bill was reported out by the same committee?

Mr. GELTZ. That too I believe is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state the purpose of recommitting the bill again?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President. There are three or four bills on the calendar now which appear to be similar in some respects, to the bill which I have just requested be recommitted and one or two following later on the Calendar, and it is our purpose to have all of these bills recommitted so that the committee may make a study of the group and make any adjustments necessary so there shall be no conflict or overlapping.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Is it not true, Mr. President, that all of these bills were also re-referred to the same committee for the very purpose the gentleman from Allegheny is now stating as his purpose for having them recommitted?

Mr. GELTZ. I am not certain about that, Mr. President; they may have been rereferred at different times and now we would like to rerefer them all at one time and do the job properly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I understand that you have, as I have said frequently, the twenty-six votes necessary to do so, but I think we are coming to the point some time where we all agree this Session will end, I hope. Every one of these bills on the Calendar today were at some time by the request of the gentleman from Montgomery rereferred to committee, and I arose and asked the gentleman the purpose of rereferring them to committee and there were two purposes; first, to see whether or not a saving clause was present in each of the bills to protect intervening rights and, secondly, to see whether or not the bills conflicted with each other or covered the same subject matter.

Now, Mr. President, I see these bills are out again, re-reported by the same committee. It may very well be that what the gentleman from Allegheny says is correct, that they have to be gone over again, but I suggest that it is certainly not any great credit to the committee which is passing on these bills to have them go into that committee for the purpose of coming out again and then being sent back again for the same purpose.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I say to our colleague from Philadelphia the two other bills to which the gentleman from Allegheny has referred are on page nine of today's Calendar, Senate Bill No. 649, and on page seventeen, Senate Bill No. 501, and if he looks at Senate Bill No. 501 he will find in there a very happy phrase has been inserted which safeguards the rights of prior liens, and one of the objects in referring the bills back to committee is to see whether or not that phrase might not be inserted in all of these bills.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I repeat, Mr. President, I understand the purpose of the matter at present may be a very laudable one, but these bills were in that committee for that very same purpose previously.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 522, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the third day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 242), entitled "An act to promote the public health and safety by providing for examination and registration of those who desire to engage in the occupation of beauty culture; defining beauty culture, and regulating beauty culture shops, schools, students, apprentices, teachers, managers and operators; conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Public Instruction; providing for appeals to certain courts by applicants and licensees; and providing penalties," by eliminating apprentices, and setting-up classification of junior operators; further regulating operators, junior operators and beauty parlors; setting-up new period for expiration of certificates issued by board; and imposing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Education, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher.

The President. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Will the gentleman from Lancaster tell me just why he wants to send this bill back to committee?

Mr. HOMSHER. I will, Mr. President. When this bill was first introduced it had as a companion bill Senate Bill No. 523, for setting up a board of examiners for the beauty culture business and this bill, No. 522, was a companion bill regulating the operations of the board.

The proponents of the bill, which is an organization of six hundred members, appeared before our committee and were heard. They were the proponents of the bill. The opponents have had no opportunity to be heard.

At this meeting before the committee the proponents of the bill agreed to have the bill amended so that there would be no board of examiners appointed, but the licensure board now existent would continue. That necessitated a great many amendments being put in the bill and I suggested the bill should be rewritten, but it was agreed that this bill should be reported out of committee, with amendments, which was done and it was subsequently amended. It was brought out of committee for the purpose of amending it so that it could be studied and reported back to committee for further study.

Objections to this bill have arisen and for that reason I request that the bill be referred back to committee so that the opponents of the bill may be given a chance to be heard.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, did I understand the gentleman from Lancaster to say the proponents of this bill had been heard and not the opponents.

Mr. HOMSHER. The proponents only were heard.

Mr. HALUSKA. Isn't it a fact that at the public hearing, Mr. President, both the proponents and the opponents were heard.

Mr. HOMSHER. No, Mr. President, that is not true, because there was only one lady who appeared before the committee who objected to the bill; the sole purpose of the hearing was to hear the proponents of the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. But is it not a fact that the committee also heard all the opponents?

Mr. HOMSHER. No, Mr. President, we did not hear all of the opponents to the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. It is a fact, Mr. President, the lady stated she was speaking for an organization?

Mr. HOMSHER. I did not understand that to be the case.

Mr. HALUSKA. Is it a fact, Mr. President, the lady opposed to the bill, from Philadelphia, stated at the committee meeting she was speaking for the organization she represented?

Mr. HOMSHER. She represented a Philadelphia organization, the Pennsylvania Hairdressers Association, but there are other objectors to the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Lancaster have any amendments in mind?

Mr. HOMSHER. I do not have any amendments in mind, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. What is wrong with keeping the bill on the Calendar and then tomorrow, if the gentleman from Lancaster desires to offer amendments, he may do so, but keep the bill on the Calendar.

Mr. HOMSHER. I do not have any amendments to offer, Mr. President. My mind is open on the matter and the future of the bill depends largely on the action of the committee after hearing the opponents to the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, this bill has been on the Calendar now for two weeks. Last Wednesday I had the bill go over in its order. In fact, I had the vote reconsidered by which it passed second reading, and then Wednesday afternoon it went over in order. I might say, Mr. President, we have in the State of Pennsylvania some thirty-five thousand hairdressers combined with beauty parlor workers, and up until the present time I have heard of only one person who has offered any objection, and I dare say ninety-nine percent of those affected by this bill are in favor of this measure.

Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator from Lancaster show me more than one per cent of those interested that are opposed to this bill.

However, it is true that since last Wednesday there came into this Chamber a few high powered lobbyists, men that are interested in selling equipment to these young kids, I might say, who come out of school, and they come from Allegheny County, and they have made their brags in the open that they will defeat this bill.

I say if we are guided by one man, one man in this Commonwealth, who openly makes his brags he can defeat a certain bill, God bless this Commonwealth.

This bill has been on the Calendar, and it has been amended. I want to be fair about it and if my good friend from Lancaster has any amendments to offer I ask him to permit the bill to go over in its order and let him offer amendments tomorrow or the next day, but I see no good reason, no good motive in mind to have this bill go back to committee for further study. It has been on the Calendar since last week, and I am wondering whether any member outside of the chairman of this committee has devoted much time to this bill. I am very willing to discuss, to debate any phase of the bill and if I can not answer your questions in an intelligent way, I will be only too happy to have the bill go back to committee for further study, but I think the bill should be either defeated or passed tonight.

The opponents of this bill have had the same opportunity as the proponents have had. This bill was introduced last month, almost two months ago, and if there was any opposition to it up to this time we would have heard of it, but the only opposition I know of comes from one source, and that is from a great supply house in Pittsburgh.

I think it is unfair to thirty-five thousand workers who have invested their life savings in this type of work and who have come to us and asked this legislature to strengthen our laws to give them a chance to make a livelihood.

I can not discuss the bill, possibly, because the gentleman has made a motion to recommit it, but I would like to have the opportunity of being interrogated by anyone on this bill, and once I am interrogated I feel satisfied my colleagues on both sides will vote favorably for this bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I object to this bill going back to committee for further study.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I also object to the bill going back to committee, Mr. President, because since I have been in this Senate during the past seven years, bills affecting opticians, beauticians and morticians have been going in and coming out of committees time off and time on, and when these bills appeared on the Calendar they would stay on the Calendar for a couple of days and then go back to committee and then come out of committee. There seems to be a peculiar way in which these particular special bills are being treated and I suggest if this bill is to be acted on, it should be acted on, either passed or defeated, and that this business of sending these special bills back and forth from committee had better stop because some day the whole truth may come out about them.

Mr. HOMSHER. I might say, Mr. President, there was an understanding in the committee that when this bill was reported out, it was to be reported out for the purpose of having amendments inserted and then it would be re-referred to the committee because there were a great many changes necessitated.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I think if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has any dark and mysterious secret about this bill he ought to tell the Senators about it. I do not think this bill means anything very much to most of the Senators but if there is anything in his veiled insinuations that there is something nefarious back of this, let us get it out in the light; if there is any dark and mysterious force back of this bill let it out; if he knows anything about it let us get it out on the floor.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, has asked any member to interrogate him that cares to do so. I do not care to interrogate the gentleman, but I suggest that if he wants to know how to get a bill passed in this mad age in expenditure of public money, if he would attach an appropriation paragraph to the bill of about fifteen thousand dollars, it would go right through, under this administration.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman from Lancaster whether he knows Mr. Jerome Edlis of Allegheny County?

Mr. HOMSHER. I do not, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I would suggest to the gentleman from Lancaster that he invite him down, if he is looking for opponents to the bill.

Mr. HOMSHER. I want to say right here, Mr. President, I have received no objections from anybody who manufactures merchandise or equipment to sell to beauty shop owners.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALKER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Tyler,
Becker,	Farrell,	Miller,	Wade,
Carr,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Stevenson,	Watkins,
Crider,	Homsher,	Tallman,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crowe,	James,	Taylor,	Wilson, T. B.,
Deitrick,	Kephart,	Thomas,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	Letzler,

NAYS—15

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McQuiddy,	Snowden,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Jaspan,	Ruth,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 529, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to taxation in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth classes; designating the subjects, property and person subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; creating a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; defining the powers and duties of such boards; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county, borough, town, township, school and institution district purposes; regulating the office of ward, borough, town and township assessors; authorizing the appointment of a chief assessor assistants and other employees; providing for their compensation payable by such counties and abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 559, on third reading, entitled:

An Act creating a joint legislative commission to be known as the Educational Survey Commission; prescribing its powers and duties; conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued; imposing duties on departments and agencies of the State government and on colleges and universities; and making an appropriation.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 599, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act, approved the twenty-third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five (P. L. 607), entitled "An act for the better management of the Allegheny county prison," by requiring all contracts involving an expenditure of one hundred dollars to be in writing and prohibiting the making of any contract involving the expenditure of over five hundred dollars unless made with the lowest and best bidder after due advertising and requiring all purchases to be made through the purchasing department of the county.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments: Amend, Section 3, page 2, line 23, by striking out after the word "controller" and before the word "if" the following: "when directed by the board"; amend Section 3, page 2, line 23, by striking out after the word "he" the word "approved" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "approves".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 614, (House Bill No. 1126), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend part of section three hundred and two to amend section three hundred and seven and part of section fifteen hundred and one of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I voted "aye" on this bill, but I should like to call attention to the sponsor of this bill that they amended in committee that the title does not conform to the amendment. The bill originally provided for the reduction or remission of the dues and they now provide for payment of the dues by the club, which is not indicated in the title.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 628, (House Bill No. 762), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections eleven and twelve of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 552) entitled as amended "An act relating to dogs and the protection of live stock poultry and game birds raised in captivity from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock poultry and game birds by dogs and for live stock killed by or dying from rabies and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and providing penalties" by providing for the issuance of metal tags with kennel certificates requiring such tags to be kept on dogs kept in kennels permitting dogs kept in a kennel to be taken out for hunting training exercise or entry in field trials and dog shows and requiring keepers of kennels to maintain certain records.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 4, line 15, by striking out after the word "shall" the following: "at all"; Amend Sec. 1, page 4, line 18, by striking out the word "times" at the beginning of the line; Amend Sec. 1, page 4, line 18, by inserting after the word "certificate" the following: "when and during such time as such dog is without the kennel"; Amend Sec. 1, page 4, line 19, by striking out after the word "another" the following: "within the kennel"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there seems to be some question as to which line the amendments applies.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I withdraw my amendments. The amendments were withdrawn.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 628, (House Bill No. 762), on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 649, (House Bill No. 971), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections fifteen and fifteen and three-tenths and to repeal sections fifteen and one-tenth and fifteen and two-tenths of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 207), entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six month before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly," as amended by providing for the renewal extension and continuation of liens for taxes and water lighting power and sewer rates until such taxes and rates are fully paid and satisfied and authorizing the filing and revival of liens heretofore lost and in certain cases reviving validating preserving and extending liens.

be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government for the purpose of further study.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny has not indicated his reasons for wishing that this bill be recommitted; I certainly hope it is not for the purpose of pickling. This bill to my mind is of paramount importance because of the fact that prior to 1939, when municipal liens could be revived at the end of a five year period under the 1939 amendments, once taxes on municipal liens were filed they became valid liens for a period of five years and after that time they expired and they were never collected.

If the law would remain as it is today it would mean every taxing authority in this Commonwealth within a period of five years would have to sell all the real estate on which there were liens in order to protect itself from surcharge. It is a good act and certainly deserving of passage in this Senate this evening.

I object to the bill being committed, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The bill was recommitted before objection was made.

Mr. COX. No, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Therefore the proper procedure would be for the gentleman from Allegheny to move to reconsider the action.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER RECOMMITTAL OF SENATE BILL No. 649

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 649 was re-committed.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The CHAIR. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the vote by which this bill was recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government be reconsidered. I voted "aye," Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. I second the motion, Mr. President.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. My point of order, Mr. President, is that the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order. There is already a motion on the floor made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, did not state he voted in the affirmative and therefore he cannot make such a motion.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I certainly cannot say I voted in the affirmative. I did not have an opportunity to vote and the position of the Chair is absolutely correct.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is not questioning the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia but certainly the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, did not vote in the affirmative.

Mr. COX. I say the Chair is absolutely correct.

The PRESIDENT. Therefore the Chair cannot entertain such a motion. If the Senators insist that the rolls be called they will be called. The Chair wants to help the Senator from Allegheny but the records must be kept correctly and in accordance with the rules and until that is done the Chair must take the position that he has taken.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, agrees with the Chair.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Butler will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, when the Chair in stating a motion asks if there is any objection, is that not equivalent to asking for unanimous consent? As long as no one raises an objection is not every Senator considered as voting in the affirmative?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, when this motion was made I was on my feet trying to attract the attention of the Chair.

Mr. SHAPIRO. There is a motion before the Senate, Mr. President, which has been seconded.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is going to insist upon proper procedure. There is a motion before the Senate, made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, which was seconded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspán, that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 649 was recommitted be reconsidered.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I might state for the information of the Senators, it was explained a short time ago when the request was made that a companion bill be recommitted, that the same request would be made in connection with this bill, not for the purpose of killing them, but for the purpose of further study of the whole subject so that there might not be any confusion. These bills deal with the same subject and I do not believe there is any intention to kill the bill, but we do not want to have it hastily passed.

I would suggest, Mr. President, that the Senators agree to allow the bill to be recommitted.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like in withdrawing my motion to make the suggestion that, whether because it is late or because the other side thinks they have a majority and do not have to pay any attention to this side, we would get along much better if you did not have that attitude.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, was not aware that this was one of the bills which was to be recommitted, about which an explanation had been made. He wanted to know something about it and if there had not been so much technicality about this bill being recommitted by the other side you could have told him and we would not have had this motion.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. SHAPIRO. Therefore, Mr. President, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I second the withdrawal of motion.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, who made the motion, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspán, who seconded, have withdrawn the motion.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I just want to say in answer to the comments of my colleague from Philadelphia that I would have been very glad to have answered any questions asked me by my colleague from Allegheny, but none were asked.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I can not forget, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, that last week when I sincerely asked that a bill go over in its order instead of being recommitted, my request was refused and the bill was recommitted, when it was my purpose at that time to ascertain certain things relative to its contents, which was my reason for making the motion in this case.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no interest whatever in the bill in question. The procedure by which this bill went over in its order was the procedure which has been in vogue here in the Senate since the Chair has been presiding. When the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, objected, the bill had already been recommitted, and the only possible action was to have that action reconsidered. That was the position the Chair took. The Chair has no desire to prevent discussion or debate.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I find no fault with the action the Chair has taken. I do not want the Chair to think I have been critical. I have not. It just so happens the position I have on the floor of this Senate is so far removed from the Chair it is very difficult for the Chair to hear me and to know I am on my feet.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not believe that is altogether correct; the Chair may be partly responsible in trying to hasten the disposition or passage on the bills before the Senate. However, if the Senate does not wish to proceed in the method and order which has been followed since the Chair has been the presiding officer, the Chair is perfectly satisfied and will adhere to the rules strictly.

As previously stated, Senate Bill, No. 649, (House Bill No. 971), is recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. SCARLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 26, 1941

The House met at 8 p. m.

The CHIEF CLERK (Thomas J. Callahan) in the Chair.

The CHIEF CLERK. I am directed by the Speaker to call the House to order and to request the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, to preside until the Speaker returns to the Chair this evening.

MR. TURNER IN THE CHAIR

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, our heavenly Father, we pause to thank Thee for our homes, and for the revelation they bring to us of the power of love. In them we enter into the mysteries of forgiveness, of long-suffering, and of patient love. In them we find that sweet security from a busy and uncaring world which fills us with anticipation of the joys of heaven. Guard our homes from evil, protect them from enemies without and within, and give each of us, as chosen men to represent this great commonwealth, or as citizens of this our beloved State, the spirit that shall maintain these homes from which we have come, as centers of light and of life, of joy and of peace.

God, do bless our Nation and our State. Make us ever conscious of the fact that if the home fails then the State and the Nation shall fail. Help us ever to be mindful of Thee in our relationships within our homes. In Thy name we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, May 22, 1941.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, May 22, 1941, when, on motion of Mr. RHEA, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1355, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" changing the conditions of eligibility for election or appointment as county district assistant county or district superintendent and associate superintendent and the term of county superintendents

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section one thousand one hundred three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by section twenty-two of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 243) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1103 No person shall be eligible for election or appointment as a county district or assistant county or district superintendent or associate superintendent unless he holds a diploma from a college or other institution approved by the State Council of Education of this Commonwealth and unless he has had not less than six years successful teaching experience at least three years of which shall have been in a supervisory or administrative capacity or he has had not less than four years successful teaching experience and has successfully completed twenty-four semester hours of graduate courses in education in a college or university approved by the State Council of Education Provided That serving either as county district or assistant county or district superintendent or associate superintendent in this Commonwealth at the time this act becomes effective shall be considered sufficient qualification for any of the aforesaid offices

[Provided That no person shall be elected or appointed a county district or assistant county or district superintendent or associate superintendent who has not had six years successful teaching experience not less than three of which shall have been in a supervisory or administrative capacity And provided further That he has completed in a college or university a graduate course in education approved by the State Council of Education And provided further That serving either as county district or assistant county or district superintendent or associate superintendent in this Commonwealth at the time this act becomes effective shall be considered sufficient qualification for any of the aforesaid offices]

Section 2 Section one thousand one hundred four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1104 Every [four] six years there shall be elected as herein provided in every county in this Commonwealth a person to be known as the county superintendent

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goodwin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOODWIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goodwin, to refer to page 2, section 1103 of the bill and to read with me this particular section which says,

"No person shall be eligible for election or appointment as a county district or assistant county or district superintendent or associate superintendent unless he holds a diploma from a college or other institution approved by the State Council of Education of this Commonwealth and unless he has had not less than six years successful teaching experience at least three years of which shall have been in a supervisory or administrative capacity or he has had not less than four years successful teaching experience and has successfully completed twenty-four semester hours of graduate courses in education in a college or university approved by the State Council of Education provided that serving either as county district or assistant county or district superintendent or associate superintendent or association superintendent in this Commonwealth at the time this act becomes effective shall be considered sufficient qualification for any of the aforesaid offices."

In anticipating a final vote on this bill I read it for the first time. I would like to have the gentleman from Allegheny explain the purport of the language beginning with the words "Provided" in line 27, and I would like to ask the gentleman whether that last provision which provides that a person may be eligible "who has served as a county, district or assistant county or district superintendent or as a associate superintendent of this Commonwealth", does not mean that it would be possible for a person who has served in that capacity as an assistant but who has but very little teaching experience, possibly a year or so, to be eligible to the office of county superintendent?

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Van Allsburg, I think the bill as presented is very clear. It provides as follows:

"Providing that serving either as county district or assistant county or district superintendent or associate superintendent in this Commonwealth at the time this act becomes effective shall be considered sufficient qualification for any of the aforesaid offices".

I believe that anybody in any of these capacities will have served more than one year.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I fail to understand the bill that way. The original bill provides that no person shall be eligible for this position unless he holds a diploma from a college or other institution approved by the State Council of Education of this Commonwealth. Then you amend it by providing an additional qualification, "unless he has had not less than six years of successful teaching experience, not less than three of which shall have been in a supervisory or administrative capacity." The bill further provides as follows:

"Unless he has had not less than four years of successful teaching experience and has successfully completed twenty-four semester hours of graduate courses in education in a college or university approved by the State Council of Education."

Then the bill provides however that regardless of the amendment up to this point, if he has had experience as an assistant to a county superintendent of a year or two—there is no specification of the length of time of experience that he must have as an assistant,—he is ready and eligible to be promoted or elected to the superintendency of a county. It seems to me that is a very dangerous provision.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, I gather then, that is the law today.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, it is not the law today. Those words are underscored which I just read.

Mr. GOODWIN. That is the provision today. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, that provision is a new part of the law, it is apart of the amendment to the law. Will the gentleman please answer me directly whether it is not a fact that a person whose qualifications as provided for under the law, that is, he must hold a diploma from a college or from an "approved institution", that he can without the experience spoken of become a county superintendent, and can be eligible with almost no experience provided he has a little experience as an assistant county superintendent?

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, I hold that that is the intention of this amendment. Why should those people who fill the position as stated here be deprived of an opportunity to become a superintendent of schools, if they have the other qualifications. Is the superintendency at the present time a closed corporation and is it so scared that nobody else may be permitted to be a candidate for that office?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman further if he infers, for example, a year or two of experience as a certified teacher, is equivalent to what you are providing for in the first part of the amendment, namely six years of experience as a teacher of which three years have been in a supervisory capacity.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, if there is no objection I would like to yield to the gentleman from Cambria Mr. O'Connor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'CONNOR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. O'Connor a question about the proviso clause at the end of page 609 in the amendment. What I am fearful of is that this amendment would make it possible for a person with very limited teaching experience to become county superintendent, as a result of merely having possibly a short experience as an assistant county superintendent.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Erie, if he will refer to the beginning of section 1103 he will find the qualifications for an assistant county superintendent are identical with the qualifications for the county superintendent, which would of itself eliminate any such happening as he suggests. The purpose of the proviso in the bill, as I understand it, and I had charge of the bill in the sub-committee is that anyone now serving in the capacity of assistant county superintendent who has not had the additional semester hours of training would be eligible without taking those additional semester hours of training.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the gentleman's attention to the fact that although any person now serving as assistant county superintendent may have the qualifications provided for in the terms of the old law as referred to by the gentleman from Cambria, nevertheless I cannot read anything else into this proviso clause than that if a person with those educational qualifications had no more experience than a year or two, which would be possible but not probable, with no other teaching experience, than that he would be eligible to be promoted to the position of county superintendent.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, to my knowledge under the present law in Pennsylvania no one can be an assistant county superintendent unless he has qualifications for being a superintendent, no one can be a superintendent unless he has experience. In 1931 the law relating to the qualifications for a county superintendent was changed.

We have quite a number of assistant county superintendents in Pennsylvania serving today who served prior to 1931. This amendment it to protect those people who have served,—one for instance to my knowledge has served for eighteen years as assistant county superintendent. If this bill should not be enacted into law that particular teacher with eighteen years experience could not become county superintendent.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I see very well what the gentleman wishes to accomplish for one who has had long experience but I am talking about the man who has qualified to the degree that he has completed such requirements as approved by the State Council but has not had the experience as approved by the State Council.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman I might say that is impossible under the present law, and under this bill he must have four years experience at least. An inexperienced teacher could not become a superintendent or assistant county superintendent under the provisions of this law.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman is right about this.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1406, (Senate Bill No. 588), entitled:

An Act to protect the debtors obligors or guarantors of debts for which judgments are entered or may be entered and owners of real property affected thereby and others indirectly liable for the payment thereof prescribing the method of fixing the fair market value of such property and limiting the amount collectible thereafter on such judgments

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Whenever any real property has heretofore been or is hereafter sold directly or indirectly to the plaintiff in execution proceedings and the price for which such property has been sold was or is not sufficient to satisfy the amount of the judgment interest and costs and the plaintiff seeks to collect the balance due on said judgment interest and costs the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall petition the court having jurisdiction to fix the fair market value of the real property sold as aforesaid Said petition shall be signed and sworn to by the plaintiff or plaintiffs

Section 2 The petition (a) shall set forth the location and description of the real property sold and the name or names of all persons known to petitioner to be or who may be directly or indirectly liable to petitioner or any other person for the payment of the debt for which the judgment was entered

(b) Shall contain a statement of the fair market value of said property and

(c) Shall name as respondents the debtors obligors and guarantors and any other persons directly or indirectly liable to petitioner or any other person for the payment of said debt and the owners of the property affected thereby together with the addresses of such persons to the extent that such addresses are known to petitioner or may have been ascertainable upon reasonable inquiry and an affidavit that he does not know and after reasonable inquiry has been unable to ascertain the residence or business address of the others

Section 3 The court shall thereupon fix a date for hearing on said petition not less than fifteen days after the filing thereof and said petition shall be served upon each of the persons named therein as respondents at least ten days prior to the date fixed for hearing At any time prior to the hearing any respondent or other person in interest may appear and answer setting up in his answer the nature and extent of his interest in the proceedings and answering the averments of the petition

Section 4 Said petition may be served by the sheriff of the County or by the sheriff of any other county specially deputized for that purpose upon the respondents named therein

(a) By handing an exact copy thereof to each of them personally or

(b) By leaving an exact copy thereof at the residence of each of them with an adult member of his family or

(c) If service cannot be had in either of the above methods the court may direct service by publishing in the legal newspaper of the county and one newspaper of general circulation in the county at least fifteen days prior to the day fixed for the hearing of such petition a notice to the said respondent or respondents of the filing of said petition and the date fixed for hearing thereon If there is no legal newspaper in the county then publication in one newspaper of general circulation in said county shall be sufficient

Any debtor obligor guarantor mortgagor and any other person directly or indirectly liable to the petitioner for the payment of the debt and any owner or owners of the property affected thereby who is not named in said petition nor served with a copy thereof or notice of the filing thereof as provided in this section shall be deemed to be discharged from all personal liability to the petitioner on the debt interest and costs but any such failure to name such person in said petition or to serve the petition or notice of the filing thereof shall not prevent proceedings against respondent or respondents named and served

Section 5 Return of the service of any petition shall set forth particularly the time place and manner of service and shall be filed before the time fixed for hearing No hearing shall be had until the court shall be satisfied that service has been made upon all the respondents in any of the methods herein provided

Section 6 At such hearings the only issue before the court shall be the fair market value of the property sold and any party in interest may introduce into evidence testimony of such fair market value

If no answer is filed within the time provided for in this act or if an answer is filed which does not controvert the allegation of the fair market value of the property as averred in the petition the court shall determine and fix as the fair market value of the property sold the amount thereof alleged in the petition to be the fair market value

If an answer is filed controverting the averment in the petition as to the fair market value of the property but no testimony is produced at the hearing supporting such denial of the fair market value the court shall determine and fix as the fair market value of the property the amount thereof alleged in the petition to be the fair market value thereupon enter a decree directing the petitioner to file release of the debtors obligors guarantors or any other persons directly or indirectly liable for the debts to the extent of the fair value so fixed whereupon execution may be issued for the balance of the debt

If an answer is filed alleging as the fair market value an amount in excess of the fair market value of the property as averred in the petition the plaintiff or plaintiffs may agree to accept as the fair market value of the property the value set up in the answer and in such case may file a stipulation releasing the debtors obligors and guarantors and any other persons liable directly or indirectly for the debt and the owners of the property affected thereby from personal liability to the plaintiff to the extent of the fair market value as averred in the answer less the amount of any prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims not discharged by the sale and also less the amount of any such items paid as distribution on the sale If an answer shall be filed and testimony produced setting forth that the fair market value of the property is more than the value stated in the petition the court shall determine and fix the fair market value of the property which shall in no event exceed the amount of the debt interest costs taxes and municipal claims

After the hearing and the determination by the court of the debtor obligor guarantor and any other person liable directly or indirectly to the plaintiff or plaintiffs for the payment of the debt shall be released and discharged of such liability to the plaintiff to the extent of the fair market value of said property as previously agreed to by the plaintiff or plaintiffs or determined by the court less the amount of all prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims not discharged by the sale and also less the amount of any such items paid the distribution on the sale and shall also be released and discharged of such liability to the extent of any amount by which the sale price less such prior liens costs taxes and municipal claims exceeds the fair market value as agreed to by the plaintiff or plaintiffs or fixed and determined by the court as aforesaid and thereupon petitioner may proceed by appropriate proceedings to collect the balance of the debt

Section 7 The plaintiff or plaintiffs shall file all petitions in accordance with section one and section two of this act not later than six months after the sale of any real property provided however that if the sale occurred prior to the effective date of this act the plaintiff shall file such petition within six months after the effective date of this act In the event no petition is filed within such period the debtor obligor guarantor and any other person liable directly or indirectly to the plaintiff or plaintiffs for the payment of the debt shall be released and discharged of such liability to the plaintiff or plaintiffs

Section 8 Nothing in this act shall be construed to affect present procedure for the public sale of real estate or the private sale thereof under order of court except to the extent herein expressly provided or necessary for the purpose of giving proper effect to the provisions hereof

Section 9 Nothing in this act shall be construed to affect the right of any person liable directly or indirectly for the payment of the debt to the benefit of any amount realized on any execution sale in excess of the fair market value fixed or agreed to in accordance with the provisions of this act and nothing in this act shall be construed to effect a release or discharge of any person otherwise than nor to any greater extent than as herein expressly provided

Section 10 It shall be incompetent for any debtor obligor or guarantor at any time either before or after or at the time of incurring any obligation to waive the benefits of this act or to release any obligee from compliance with the provisions thereof Any such waiver or release shall be absolutely void unenforceable and of no effect

Section 11 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any section provision or clause thereof shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to affect or impair any other section provision or clause of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been enacted had such unconstitutional section provision or clause not been included therein In the event the provisions of this act as applied to the sales of real property held prior to the effective date of this act are held to be unconstitutional it is the intention of the Legislature that this act then apply only to all sales of real property held after the effective date of this act in the event the provisions of this act as applied to obligations created prior to the effective date of this act are held to be unconstitutional it is the intention of the legislature that this act do then apply only to obligations created after the effective date of this act

Section 12 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

NAYS 0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 931, as follows:

An Act to further amend section six of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2603) entitled "An act relating to vocational education creating vocational school districts for the purpose of conducting systems of vocational schools departments or classes providing for their government prescribing their powers and duties conferring powers and imposing duties on school districts and on the State Board of Vocational Education and providing for referendum in certain cases" fixing the rate of the annual tax levy on real estate and authorizing the computation and entry for collection purposes in tax duplicates of the county or school districts of the taxes due to vocational school districts and the separate accounting and return thereof and making further provision with reference to the bond of tax collectors.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section six of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2603) entitled "An act relating to vocational education creating vocational school districts for the purpose of conducting systems of vocational schools departments or classes providing for their government prescribing their powers and duties conferring powers and imposing duties on school districts and on the State Board for Vocational Education and providing for referendum in certain cases" as amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 800) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 6 The board of directors of vocational schools of each vocational school district shall have power if and when necessary to levy an annual tax [on all property within the district taxable for such school purposes on the assessed valuation used for county tax purposes] not more than three mills on the dollar of the total assessment of all real property assessed and certified for taxation in the territory constituting the district. Said taxes shall be levied and assessed due and payable at the same time and in the same manner as school taxes are levied and assessed and due and payable in the respective school districts and the same shall be included in the school tax item on the tax notice as rendered. The boards of directors shall prepare duplicates of such taxes and provide for the collection of such taxes by issuing warrants to the respective collectors of taxes in each city borough incorporated town and township within the districts. The compensation for the collection of such taxes shall be fixed by the board of directors. In the collection of such taxes the respective tax collectors shall have all the powers of collectors of county taxes. If any collector of taxes shall refuse or neglect to collect such district taxes or for fifteen days after notice so to do neglect or refuse to furnish a bond as herein provided the board of directors shall have power to appoint a tax collector for such district. Each tax collector shall give [a separate] bond annually to the Commonwealth for the use of said district in such amount as the board of directors may fix. Such bond may cover the collection of vocational school district taxes only or may cover the collection of such taxes and the taxes of other political subdivisions that are collected by the same tax collector. The same discounts for prompt payment and the same penalties for delinquency shall apply to such taxes as in the case of county taxes and exonerations of district taxes may be allowed by the directors thereof in the same manner as other taxes are now exonerated. Delinquent taxes of the district may be collected by return and county treasurer's sale thereon or by lein filed in the office of the prothonotary in the same manner as county taxes.

In order to enable the board of directors of vocational schools to assess and levy the annual tax hereby authorized the said board is hereby authorized to enter into suitable arrangements either with the county commissioners or with the various school districts or tax collectors of the municipal subdivisions involved whereby the taxes due to the vocational school district shall be computed and entered for collection purposes in separate columns either in the county or school tax duplicates. The various tax collectors shall make separate accounting and returns covering the taxes due the vocational school districts.

The Commonwealth shall reimburse the vocational school districts herein established in the same manner and to the same extent as is provided by existing law for salaries of teachers transportation and tuition of pupils and any other reimbursement to which school districts are now or shall hereafter be entitled. Provided That any vocational school district [consisting of all the school districts that are under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent] shall be reimbursed to an amount which when added to all other items of reimbursement from the Commonwealth as provided by law shall total eighty per centum (80%) of the sum expended for approved salaries and travel of the teaching supervisory and administrative staffs for the transportation and tuition of pupils during the previous year and any other reimbursements to which school districts are now or shall hereafter be entitled.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1489, as follows:

An Act to amend section six eleven twelve sixteen and twenty-one of the act approved the twenty-first day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 318) entitled "An act relating to the protection of agriculture and horticulture including all field crops vegetables trees shrubs vines florist and nursery stock and all other plants and parts or products thereof from plant pests and revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto defining the powers and duties of the Department of Agriculture relating thereto providing penalties and repealing present laws" further regulating the business of dealing in and the transportation and sale of nursery stock coming from without the Commonwealth.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Sections six eleven twelve sixteen and twenty-one of the act approved the twenty-first day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 318) entitled "An act relating to the protection of agriculture and horticulture including all field crops vegetables trees shrubs vines florist and nursery stock and all other plants and parts or products thereof from plant pests and revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto defining the powers and duties of the Department of Agriculture relating thereto providing penalties and repealing present laws" are hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 6 The department shall cause to be issued to nurserymen in this State after the nursery stock in their nurseries has been officially inspected as provided in this act and found to be apparently free from any plant pests a certificate of inspection setting forth the fact of such inspection and the number of acres or fraction thereof inspected. Said certificate shall be valid not to exceed one year from October first and shall not be transferable or used to cover uninspected infested or infested nursery stock from any source.

The department shall in addition thereto provide regulations under which nursery stock brought into the Commonwealth may be sold under the above provided certificate and in accordance with the further provisions of this act and it shall be unlawful after the promulgation of such regulations for any person or common carrier to transport nursery stock in violation of the same.

Section 11 Nurserymen dealers or other persons residing or doing business outside the State desiring to solicit orders for nursery stock in the State shall upon filing with the department a certified copy of their original current resident State certificate together with a statement setting forth the exact acreage owned by the applicants and the acreage being grown for them on contract and the payment of the fee to be fixed by the Secretary be entitled to a certificate permitting such persons to solicit orders for nursery stock in this State. The Secretary shall fix and collect a fee from each such applicant in the same amount as the State in which such applicant resides or doing business requires from nurserymen dealers or other persons residing in this Commonwealth who desire to solicit orders for nursery stock in said State.

Section 12 (a) All nursery agents selling nursery stock or soliciting orders for nursery stock for any nurseryman or dealer located within the State or outside the State shall be required to secure and carry a nursery agent's certificate bearing a copy of the certificate held by the principal. Said agent's certificate shall be issued by the department only to persons authorized by their principal or upon request of their principal and such agent selling or soliciting orders for a nurseryman or dealer located in another state shall pay the same fee for such certificate as a similar agent is required to pay for selling or soliciting orders in such other state for nurserymen or dealers located in this State. Names and addresses of such agents shall not be divulged by the department or any of its agents.

(b) Every person selling nursery stock in the State shall if requested furnish the department with copies of his order forms contracts and agreements with his customers which are furnished for the use of nursery agents or customers or both.

Section 16 In case of nursery stock brought or shipped into the Commonwealth from without the Secretary shall provide by regulation for the acceptance of proper certificates from other states and when so accepted shall issue an official tag designating the fact and nursery stock carrying the same may be reshipped under the certificate above provided for. It shall be unlawful for any person to bring or cause to be brought into the Commonwealth from any other state territory district or country any nursery stock unless there is plainly and legibly marked thereon or affixed thereto or on or to the car or other vehicle carrying or on the bundle package or other container of the same in a conspicuous place a statement or tag or other device showing the names and addresses of the consignor or shipper and the consignee or the person to whom shipped the general nature of the contents together with a certificate of inspection of the proper official of the state territory district or country from which it was brought or shipped showing that such nursery stock was found or believed to be free from plant pests the official tag hereinbefore provided for. In case any nursery stock is shipped or transported into the Commonwealth from another state territory district or country without a valid certificate such official tag plainly affixed as aforesaid the fact must be promptly reported to the department or an inspector by the person carrying the same or the person receiving the same together with the names of the consignor and consignee and the nature of the shipment and such person carrying or receiving such stock shall immediately return such stock to the consignor or shall hold such stock subject to inspection by or instructions from the department and while awaiting such inspection or instruction shall not remove such stock from the original box bundle package or other container. This section shall not be so construed as to affect the action of common carriers in the transportation of nursery stock under the provisions of interstate commerce.

Section 21 Any person copartnership association or corporation violating neglecting or failing to comply with any provision or requirement of this act or any quarantine rule or regulation made or of any notice given pursuant thereto or who shall forge alter counterfeit deface destroy or wrongfully use any permit tag or certificate or copy thereof offered or used in lieu of any original valid permit tag or certificate provided for in this act or in any order rule or regulation made pursuant thereto upon conviction thereof in summary proceeding shall be subject to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each offense and in case of nonpayment of said fine and costs to undergo an imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which such conviction takes place for a period of one day for each dollar of fine imposed. Provided That any person so convicted shall have the right of appeal as in other cases of summary conviction. The fines collected under this act shall be paid to the department and by it shall be paid into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KEENAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Keenan, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. KEENAN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 2, line 5 of the title, by inserting after the word "to" and before the "provide" the word "further".

Amend page 2, line 5 of the title, by inserting after the word "of" and before the word "the" the following: "and liability for".

Amend page 2, line 7 of the title, by inserting after the word "Court" and before the word "by" the following: "by certain persons and".

Amend page 2, line 8 of the title, by inserting after "strict" and before the word "liability" the following: "or county".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. SHAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1521, Printers No. 642, on page 31, of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1521, as follows:

An Act to amend section two and clause (b) of section four of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" as amended eliminating from said act the provisions requiring milk to be furnished as a necessary part of assistance

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section two and clause (b) of section four of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 1089) and by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 1091) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 Definitions As used in this act unless otherwise indicated

"Assistance" means assistance in money [milk] goods shelter medical care or services provided from or with State or Federal funds for indigent persons who reside in Pennsylvania and need assistance to enable them to maintain for themselves and their dependents a decent and healthful standard of living and for indigent homeless or transient persons The word assistance shall be construed to include pensions for those blind persons who are entitled to pensions as provided in this act and to include also burial for those indigent persons who were receiving assistance at the time of their death

"General Assistance" means assistance provided from or with State funds only to persons entitled under this act to assistance other than dependent children aged persons and blind persons

"Local Board" means any county board of assistance established under the provisions of this act

The masculine pronoun includes the feminine

Section 4 General Powers and Duties of Department of Public Assistance

The Department of Public Assistance shall have the power and its duties shall be

* * * * *

(b) To establish with the approval of the State Board of Public Assistance rules regulations and standards consistent with the law as to eligibility for assistance and as to its nature and extent [Provided however That such rules and regulations shall provide that in any case in which the report of the investigating or interviewing employee shall disclose that there are dependent children of the applicant for assistance or when it shall appear from such report that any other person who is an applicant requires the use of milk for his physical welfare fresh fluid milk shall be provided through orders to milk dealers of the relief recipients' selection holding permits from the State Department of Health and the cost thereof shall be a charge against the allowance awarded to the applicant for assistance]

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. D'ORTONA. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1521 repeals that part of the Assistance Law which compels families on assistance rolls to take, as a part of their grants, one pint of fresh milk each day for each member of the family 16 years of age or under. This law was enacted in 1939 on the pretext that it would help the poor children.

In an effort to beat the law a number of rackets have grown up such as one whereby a person receiving 3 quarts of milk each day and having use for not more than two quarts arranges with the milk driver to deliver two quarts while the family is on relief rolls and the balance to be delivered after the family has left the rolls. Another is the selling of the milk orders for considerably less than the face value. These incidents show the necessity for repeal of this law insofar as they go.

That this law has proved impractical and unenforceable is further shown by the fact that most of the County Assistance Boards and the public-spirited agencies, as well as large numbers of our citizens have petitioned for its repeal. The cost to the Commonwealth for administering this law has been $360,000 for the biennium while the loss due to Federal non-participation in the program amounts to $1,080,000 for this period.

The reasons advanced for adoption of this part of the law were plausible, but in reality the law was designed to help certain interests and not the poor children.

Adoption of this provision was really a return to the old commodity relief system abandoned in 1936. We enact laws in order to promote the well-being of our citizens and to prevent rackets. When, as in this case such results are not achieved then such a law should immediately be repealed. I ask this House to support this view and vote for House Bill 1521, thus enabling those on assistance rolls to regain the right to spend their grants to the best advantage.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, in rising to oppose this bill I feel that my remarks should possibly come under the heading of "personal privilege." As many of the Members of this House know I was sponsor of the relief milk act. A barrage of abuse has been leveled at the act and at myself personally, and many misstatements have been made as to the purposes of this act and as to my purpose and intent in introducing the bill, as well as to my statements made in regard to the bill.

If this relief milk act is bad of course, it should be repealed, but I am not satisfied that it is bad. I desire to call attention to the statement contained in the "Rural Legislator" of May 19th, 1941, purporting to be signed by the Chairman of the House Welfare Committee in which it discusses at considerable length this relief milk measure. It says: "Most of the people on relief rolls spend their money in the corner taproom for beer and liquor." I desire to say, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, that I never made any such statement and I would ask the gentlemen who are responsible for this article to produce the quotation or the statement on my part from which that is alleged to have been a quotation. That does not represent my views and never did. It is my belief and it always has been that most of the people, the great majority of people on relief rolls are honest, conscientious and good citizens of this country who are on those rolls because of misfortune and because of the times which did not enable them to obtain enough to make a living. It was never my intention to say that most of the people on relief rolls, and I never made such a statement, so spent their money.

I desire to just briefly quote one of the few published statements that I have made in relation to this law which was made at the time the bill was on second reading in 1939, when I was interrogated by Mr. Shaw. This is what I said in relation to the liquor question

"While I don't want to slander or malign anyone who is on relief, because I know we have very worthy people who are on relief at the present time for the reason that they are unfortunate and can't find work, yet I also know that there are a great many others on our relief rolls for the reason that the head of the family, the man who should be taking care of the family, is too lazy and shiftless to do his job, and when he gets his relief check, in a great many instances, he spends it at the corner taproom for whiskey and beer for himself, rather than for milk for his children."

That was my statement at that time. I stand by that statement and I do not retract a single line of it. Those of you who know the internes and nurses or the people connected with hospitals will tell you that those hospitals can tell without reading about it when the relief checks go out, by reason of tremens cases and the alcoholic cases which come into those hospitals. I say that a great deal of the relief funds are misused, but I never said that most of the people on relief do that and I do not believe they do. There has been a great deal said and a great many arguments advanced in regard to this relief milk act but the fact remains and it cannot be answered, and cannot be denied that practically every medical authority in the country says that a growing child, a small child, an infant, needs one quart of milk, not one pint of milk, a day, in order to properly grow and properly develop the bones, muscles, teeth and mind. I could refer you by taking time to many authorities, I could refer you to "Good House-keeping Institute," which fixes one quart as an absolute minimum.

I could refer you to many other cases but the fact remains that prior to the passage of this bill a great many children on relief were not getting a quart of milk, they were not getting a pint of milk, they were not getting any milk per day. It has been said that that act was introduced for the sake of the milk dealers. In "Social Legislation" published by the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania, it says

"The truth of the matter is that the Bartlett Bill would deprive a small group of milk dealers of a very lucrative source of income which at the present time is made possible because food is being taken out of the mouths of children on relief. The Eckles Milk Act, which we are anxious to have repealed, was not conceived as a measure to improve the nutrition of families, on relief; it was and should be labeled as a bill to provide relief for the milk dealers."

Mr. Speaker, I think having introduced that act and having conceived it, I stated at the time it was under discussion here that the primary object I had in mind was the welfare of children in relief families, and if this object could not be justified, the act could not be justified. I said then and I say now, while it undoubtedly does help the farmer and does help those in the milk business, my primary object was the welfare of the children on relief, and I ask the Members of this House who know me to believe that I am sincere in that statement.

There was a statement made over a year ago by a Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States

Public Health Service, whose ideas, I believe, are entitled to respect from this House, particularly from the Democratic Members of the House, in which he says

"A new kind of starvation—due to faulty nutrition—is gripping more than one-third of the Nation, Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service said to-day.

Declaring 'More than 40 per cent of the people of the country are not getting a diet adequate to maintain good health and vigor,' he said in a lecture as Massachusetts Institute of Technology that improved nutrition should be recognized as a 'National Problem.'

"The new kind of starvation," said he, "may be even worse in its ultimate social effect than the ancient famines which periodically killed off a large part of the population.

"The foods of which the nation has an apparent surplus he said, 'are those in which the national dietary is deficient—milk and milk products, citrus fruits, green vegetables, and meats.'"

I am not going to prolong this debate. I have heard many arguments against the act which I believe will not hold water. There are one or two arguments against the act which are bona fide but which in my opinion do not balance the benefit that has come from the act. I have letters and I have been interviewed by teachers and by public health nurses and others who have told of the improved conditions they found.

I desire to correct one other thing that has been said tonight, and that is that the law provides that one pint be given a child. The law does not provide the quantity to be given each child. The law merely provides that milk shall be given to children in relief families in instances where milk is needed, and it leaves to the Department of Public Assistance the discretion to say how much milk. I say under this law the Department of Public Assistance has the right to remedy any of the so-called cases of hardship that might occur or might have occurred under this act. If the situation should arise that the quota of the family should be too large the Department of Public Assistance has the right and has the duty to correct that situation.

My attention has been called to the issue of today's Evening Bulletin of Philadelphia on page 8 under the heading "Health Yardstick set up for U. S.," and the yardstick includes, "one pint of milk for an adult and more for a child a serving of meat, of which the cheaper cuts are just as nutritious as the more expensive ones."

Probably there will be something said about the food stamp question. I believe that is unfortunate, and I believe perhaps it could be worked out properly but I do not believe the bad effects of that nearly balances the good effects of this act.

Something will be said about the cost of this relief administration, and I desire to say to you, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, that I am not concerned very much with that argument, because we spend money on schools, and if by spending money on behalf of these children of families on relief we can assure these children of relief families that they will grow up with decent health in bone and teeth and mind, I say that this money will be well spent. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that argument is not very effective.

I will not take up any more time because I think all these matters have been gone into very thoroughly and have been well discussed. I simply desire to say, I make no apology for introducing the act. I believe it has done some good and it has helped to give strength. If it has helped in the growth or has helped in the maturing of some child of a relief family, then I feel it has served a good purpose.

Mr. SHAW. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Eckels.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ECKELS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAW. Will the gentleman from Crawford tell this House whether or not he considers the various county assistance boards are good judges as to the enforcibility and desirability of this law, which they have tried to enforce for the past two years.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, while I would admit that undoubtedly the Department of Public Assistance should have some knowledge of these things, nevertheless I say that the Department of Public Assistance and the Relief Boards throughout the state were prejudiced for the reason that they opposed this act when it was first passed, and they have consistently opposed it ever since, and have done everything they could to foster a movement to have it repealed. I believe their objections to this bill go to something more and something different than the merits of the bill itself.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Crawford conversant with the attitude of the various county boards of assistance throughout the Commonwealth?

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, I understand that the majority, that is the great majority, of the boards have expressed themselves as being in favor of the repeal of this bill. I understand that some of them would not go along with that attitude even though considerable pressure was brought to get them to do so.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Crawford conversant with the fact that a large majority of the public spirited agencies are on record as in favor of the repeal of the Eckels Milk Bill?

Mr. ECKELS. I am not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHAW. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FRENCH. Mr. Speaker, according to the best authorities, there is more food value in a quart of milk than anything that we can buy or use of the same bulk. They tell me, and I guess it is true, that milk has a little bit of everything in it that is needed for the benefit of young life, the growth of children or animals or anything else along that line. Now, we all know, and I guess we will agree that there are a few chiselers in anything that is undertaken in any line; we will find chiselers wherever we go. It seems to me that the people who are in favor of the bill that is before us at the present time, and who want to do away with what we know as the Eckels Bill are the ones that would like to get hold of that money in bulk to use it to their own choosing. It is my experience as having been a member of the Poor Board in my County for four years, and I have been up against these things and I know that these people desire to use this money for their own purposes rather than for the children they are raising, and they are willing to let the children do without.

The purpose of the Eckels Bill, as I understand it, is to compel those parents that do not care a "doggone" about their children, to take this milk and give it to their kiddies. If that act is repealed, Mr. Speaker, those children will go hungry and suffer for the want of the very thing that is needed for their development and growth, both in body and in mind.

I believe the larger proportion of the people who are receiving this milk are mighty glad they are receiving it, and it is only a very few that want to receive this money in bulk to spend for their own benefit or advantage in some other manner.

Another thing, for the last three months or more the Members of this House have been falling all over themselves, Mr. Speaker, in an effort to help the farmers. Now they are talking about doing something that is going to be a detriment to the farmer, something which without a doubt cannot help but pile up a surplus of milk which we have already, and add to the surplus of milk that we have in this State by doing away with the relief milk. It is only adding to the surplus, and in that way it will surely reduce the price of the milk to the farmer if we vote this bill in tonight and vote the Eckels Act out. There isn't much use in our trying to kid the farmer any longer. Here we have a chance to help the farmer and keep down the surplus of milk that he has on his hands, but by voting on this bill favorably it will only increase the surplus to the detriment of the farmers. If we do that we might as well not try to kid the farmers any longer that we are attempting to do anything for them. I suggest that we vote down this bill.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. D'Ortona.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. D'ORTONA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill what part of the Act of 1939 known as the Eckels bill provides what quantity of milk shall be given each child each day.

Mr. D'ORTONA. Mr. Speaker, I didn't state in my speech that they were supposed to buy a certain quantity, but I know that they cannot buy less than one pint.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what law on the statute books of Pennsylvania today provides what quantity of milk shall be purchased for or supplied to any child whose parents are on relief.

Mr. D'Ortona. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I will say this, that they are served a certain amount of milk and that is taken out of their grant. Some families are compelled to buy two quarts of milk.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has not answered my question by telling me what law we have in Pennsylvania today that states what quantity of milk, if any, must be purchased or supplied for any child on relief, and that is the question I would like to have answered.

Mr. D'ORTONA. Mr. Speaker, there is no law, but it is a rule under the Eckels Act for the Department of Public Assistance to carry on.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman, that is all.

Mr. Speaker, on the 22nd day of May, 1939, when I voted for the notorious, world-famous Eckels Milk Bill, I voted for it with a great feeling of pride and satisfaction, that I, as the father of a family, had the opportunity to help my neighbors, not only in my own county, but throughout this Commonwealth, to provide the most essential food for their children. I wish to state tonight in rising to oppose the present bill that nothing is to be gained to my knowledge by stating that the Eckels Bill provides that a certain quantity of milk must be furnished for each child. To my knowledge, there is no statute in Pennsylvania which requires that. Repealing the Eckels Bill is like cutting off the head of an individual because there is a pimple on his nose. There is no question if we repeal this bill that milk will not be furnished to those who need it, and since we are trying to secure the distribution of the milk to the recipients of relief, it is very evident that the source of the trouble is in the administration of the law.

The Eckels Law does not require a pint or a quart or a glass or any particular quantity of milk to be furnished. The Eckels Law provides for the very humane practice of seeing or making it possible for the proper authorities to provide the milk for the children on relief, and to repeal this bill would be in my opinion a step backward.

I wish to say, Mr. Speaker and Members of this House, that I am very proud of the fact that I stand before you and say that in Cambria County, which I have the honor to represent, no parent, no father, no mother has asked me to vote to repeal the Eckels Bill, and I believe that no honest father of a family will vote to repeal the Eckels Bill. I thank you.

Mr. D'ORTONA. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. O'Connor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'CONNOR. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. D'ORTONA. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cambria whether he would say that his County Board of Assistance is well versed in coming in contact with the relief recipients.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to say "yes" in response to that question, and state to the gentleman from Philadelphia that they are interested in the distribution of the milk from the financial point of view and not from the necessity of it for the children.

Mr. D'ORTONA. That is all, Mr. Speaker, I wish to bring to the attention of the Members of this House that in Cambria County the Cambria County Board of Assistance adopted the following resolution at a meeting on April 26, 1940:

"Whereas, Many assistance recipients have expressed their objections to this milk program to members of the Board and their staff, and

"Whereas, Upon investigation of these complaints and objections to the milk program by members of the Board and their staff they have found many of these valid and well founded, and

"Whereas, It is unfair exercise of power over the less fortunate members of society in dictating the type and form of milk to be purchased from their assistance grant, and

"Whereas, Many families in normal and better financial circumstances do not habitually purchase this quantity, type, or form of milk, and

"Whereas, Many recipient families are at a loss as to how to cook with fresh whole fluid milk because of the experience and training received from other agencies in planning low budget meals with canned milk and milk substitutes, and

"Whereas, In many assistance families there are no refrigeration facilities available, the excess milk spoils, is unhealthful, and is wasted, and

"Whereas, In some rural sections, deliveries of milk are irregular and often at a distance from the home, thus exposing the milk to the weather until collected by a member of the family, and

"Whereas, Assistance families could increase their already minimized purchasing power by being permitted to purchase milk in any form they choose, and

"Whereas, This program increases the cost of an already expensive governmental function, defeating the object of economy and providing no additional benefits to the indigent of Pennsylvania in spite of the added administrative cost, therefore

"Be it Resolved, That the Cambria County Board of Assistance respectfully recommends that Act No. 383, approved June 26, 1939, be modified at the earliest session of the General Assembly possible, and

"Be it Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, Speaker of the House, the Honorable Howard L. Russell, Secretary of the Department of Public Assistance, Senator from Cambria County, Assemblymen from Cambria County, State Board of Assistance, all County Boards of Assistance, and interested charitable agencies."

Now, Mr. Speaker, we have heard arguments pro and con on the repeal of this act. In my first speech here tonight I spoke of the racket that was created by the Eckels Milk Bill, and no man responded to that argument by trying to prove that there was no racket. As far as saying that milk is nutritious, as the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. O'Connor, stated, that no decent father would vote for the repeal of this act, I want to say this, that any decent father does not need a law to compel him to give his son milk. My only reason for introducing this bill at this time is because of the racket that is going on between the people who cannot use milk and the people that sell the milk.

We all love our children, and I do not believe there is any mother or father that I know of that would deprive their children of any type of food that would be of benefit to them. They want this act repealed. I have a record here of every County Board in the state of Pennsylvania, excluding one, Juniata County, and every County Board includes a report as to what they found. We all well know, people that are on relief will not come to any individual and make a complaint, they feel the place to make the complaint is when the visitor visits them at their homes, and I say to the Members of this House, that we as Members, being here to legislate it is up to us to see that laws are enacted so that no rackets can come from them. Therefore, I ask for the support of this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. O'Connor.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe I used the term "decent parent" in my remarks, and therefore I desire to correct that. I believe the term I used was "honest parent." I am acquainted with the members of the Assistance Board in my own county, nine of them. I praise them for the great job they have done, but I also am not going to stand up here before the membership of this House and say they are infallible because I know they are not. The argument presented to me by those interested in the distribution of milk to recipients of relief in my county is not that milk should not be used and not that there has been a racket,—that term has not been used,—but that they would substitute for the fluid milk which is now being supplied either canned or condensed or powdered milk so that they would eliminate the waste. That there is waste in the use of milk, no one who has investigated it can deny, by the fact that there has been waste in the distribution is no reason why in my opinion the needy should be denied the right and opportunity and privilege of getting milk, and I therefore ask you to defeat this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I am interested in helping the farmer, I am interested in doing anything that is right to improve their economic condition and I agree with the gentleman from Mifflin, that the passage of this bill is going to be harmful to the farmer. I think this bill contains a principle that extends much further than that. It seems to me that the question to be decided in the passage of this bill is whether we are interested in doing everything in our power to see that the youth of Pennsylvania will grow up to be stronger men and women or whether we are going to be satisfied to let them grow up as many have been growing up in the past, and as it appears today from the defense authorities or growing up without the proper food and proper nutrition.

It seems to me we have this evening before us a matter of primary importance in which we are interested, namely, the health of the boys and girls of Pennsylvania who most need our help. I think we should vote down this bill today. I know these relief boards. I think my own relief board has had a considerable amount of difficulty. My colleague, Mr. Habbyshaw, and I sat down with the board and went over their difficulties with them. I realize that there are certain questions which are difficult in the administration of this bill. I realize there are certain things which are very expensive in connection with the administration of the bill, and because of the difficulty of administration and because of the fact that it is more expensive they are hunting an easy way out and they say "It will be much easier for us if we are able to sit down and send out our checks without bothering with this double bookkeeping and without the trouble of working out this milk distribution." But I say, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, the easiest way is not always the best way. The various boards in their interest to administer relief as economically as possible, have been hunting the easiest way rather than the best way. I think we all know that a pint of milk is not too much for a child. I think we all realize that except in a very few isolated cases a pint of milk each day per child can very profitably be used by any family. In a few isolated cases where there are difficulties of distribution and there is the necessity to keep the milk over a period of time, it might work some hardship, but it is within the power of the Department of Public Assistance in Harrisburg and particularly the Boards in the various counties to work out a solution.

I know what our Board did. There was one case they pointed out where milk was not distributed within a mile and a half or two miles or a little farther from the party receiving the relief, but they worked out a system that that milk was not given to those who were in that particular situation. If there are such situations, they can be worked out by the Boards under the law, but for this body to go on record and say that the milk we are giving to those children whose parents are on relief is a waste of money and is a waste of effort and is a false move, and I say to you, Members of the House, that is not said with the interest of the boys and girls of Pennsylvania at heart.

We are entering into a great and important stage in this country. We are interested in the health of the boys and girls of this country. We are finding as we never found before the fact that large numbers of people are not in proper health as the result of not having had proper food, particularly when they were young. So I say, Members of the House, we at this time ought to be careful to do everything in our power to help these boys and girls to be fed properly. I do not believe anybody can seriously contend that they could receive better food than the milk that they would receive under these orders, and therefore, I think that this bill should be defeated.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, like the minority leader, I also feel very, very keenly about those who get milk to preserve their health, and when the minority leader or any other Member of this House can tell me when and where relief recipients will get enough money for shoes, for warm clothes, for proper shelter, for good schools, for all the other things needed to be healthy, for playgrounds and such, I am perfectly willing to be in favor of the principle of buying milk, but unless you can show me where they can get these things necessary for the health of the children of this Commonwealth I am against this sop which is thrown to the poor people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. VINCENT. Mr. Speaker, I have heard a lot of farmers in here, so called farmers, and a lot more too speaking on milk, but I just want to ask all the Members one question, are they considering the poor and also the farmers? When you cut out this relief milk I want to tell you one thing, we have a Milk Control Board, and they classify milk. We have seven different classes under which the farmer sells his milk in this state, and when we cut out the relief milk that goes to these children, we are cutting out hundreds of thousands of gallons of milk that goes to the children and that affects the producers. You farmers beware of what you are doing tonight; you are going to take all of that milk out of class 1 and put it in,—I don't know what class, 6 or 7, and you want to consider what you are doing. When you say that you are giving this milk, that is true, you are giving meat and you are giving potatoes. I have talked to several members in this House and they said they do not believe in forcing on the poor a certain commodity. Why force bread and meat or potatoes? Milk is one of the essential foods. A quart of milk equals a pound of beef steak; a quart of milk equals a dozen eggs. As far as the nutrition of this product is concerned it far surpasses any other food that we are putting on the market.

Therefore, I say to you do not only consider the poor, but consider the poor farmer who is producing this essential food. It may be that this bill, the Eckels bill, is considered a Republican bill, but that doesn't make any difference to me. I want to see the poor getting what is coming to them; I want to see the farmer that must toil from six to six get what is coming to him. Having been a dairyman for the last forty years I know what it is to get up at four o'clock in the morning and milk cows, and I hope every Member in this House will vote against the repeal of this bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to speak on this bill. I fought this bill during the last session when the bill was passed. I listened to the debate this evening on this particular bill, and I have commenced to wonder who is on relief. Maybe it is the farmers we should put on relief and take the other people off, because it seems to me we are fighting here to protect the farmers in this particular piece of legislation.

I said when this bill was passed that the farmers wouldn't get any more money for their milk than they did before. I still feel the same, that if you repeal the bill the farmers will never notice any difference. I rise to support this bill because I think it is wrong that we should ask any people, regardless of whether they are on relief or not, to except milk or any other commodity. I feel that the relief money should be given to the people on relief. I feel that the fathers and mothers of the state are capable of buying milk for their children if they are in need of it. I feel that the principle is wrong when we legislate that people on relief must take a certain quantity of milk anymore than we legislate any other commodity. Therefore I ask for the support of this bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, we have listened to a lot of figures tonight. It costs $360,000 for administration expenses. We lose a million and a half of Federal grants, the relief recipient loses a considerable amount of money in not being able to use the purchasing power in the surplus food orders. When we add it all up, we see that it would come close to around four or five million dollars that it might be said must be spent to give a pint of milk to a relief recipient. I believe that brings the cost of a pint of milk up to a very exorbitant price, and I would suggest to the Members of this House who are farmers, the Members who are interested in the relief recipients, that with that four million dollars I could buy enough cows to give all the people in Pennsylvania milk free.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am amazed at the statements coming from some of the gentlemen in this House, counting the cost of the distribution of this milk, and the cost of the milk itself for the benefit of the children of Pennsylvania. I have listened for a number of years to many statements that we are putting property rights above human rights, that when human rights are being effected, we are counting the dollars rather than human rights. Yet here is one of the very fundamental things, because if these children are going to get this milk, then it seems to me the people on relief would not be complaining because no one can say whether the law provides or whether the law does not provide that milk shall be given. No one can say that a pint of milk a day is too much milk for any child.

You are talking now about spending some twelve million dollars by the state for the care of the insane; you are talking about the spending of hundreds of thousands of dollars by our school districts to supply milk for the underprivileged and undernourished children in our schools. The Federal Government is spending millions of dollars upon health campaigns; you are going into all kinds of regulation of business; you are getting down into the intimate details of administration of business. Yet here is something that vitally affects the future citizens of Pennsylvania, that vitally affects the administrative cost of our homes and hospitals and affects perhaps some of the costs of the county hospitals for accomplishing something that will raise our children, the children of Pennsylvania to be healthy children in the future and not charges upon the State; that will make them citizens able to take their place in the workshop and in industry and business of the Commonwealth, something that is going to help them do that. Yet you are here talking about the cost; you are here talking about the difficulties of administration; you are here talking about forcing something on our population, but we are supporting that part of the population, and we as citizens of Pennsylvania and taxpayers, I will say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, have a right to say to those people who are receiving relief from Pennsylvania, paid for out of the taxpayers money, —we have a right to say "You shall feed your children that which will make them stronger in the future, that which will enable them to advance in their schools and absorb the learning that is extended to them."

We say the children of the Commonwealth must go to school until they reach a certain age; we say they must remain until they reach a certain status in our schools and we say other things pertaining to the children of the Commonwealth. The Department of Welfare and the Child Welfare Department of the federal government are taking a great interest in our children. Our state government and departments of our state government are taking a great interest in the children who are under-privileged and under-nourished, and we are saying to the people of Pennsylvania on relief, "We are giving you this milk in order to insure that the children of the people who are on relief shall receive what is proper."

Who cannot count the cost. What if the cost is $2,-000,000! Who can count the benefit to the children of Pennsylvania in dollars and cents. I am surprised that here in this House there should be a bill presented that would wipe out this benefit to the children, and that we should count the cost of administration, or that we should count the difficulties of administration, or that we should be concerned with the question of whether we are going to inconvenience some people and say perhaps they ought to have the right to buy what they want. You go out in the country where there are large gatherings, where there are a lot of children, and see some of the things that are fed to our children at times. Lots of our fathers and mothers need to have education forced upon them, because we have a stake in the children and we have a right to demand it because the future of Pennsylvania, the future of the nation, the future of democracy and the future of the world is dependent upon the kind of children we raise.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware think that children live on milk alone?

Mr. TURNER. No, I know they do not, Mr. Speaker. I have raised five.

Mr. LOVETT. If the gentleman thinks, Mr. Speaker, that if they do not live on milk alone, does he not think there are other commodities they should have?

Mr. TURNER. I do think that there are other commodities they should get, but I think of all commodities milk is the most essential and will supply most of the food values that they should receive. I would rather see my children drink milk in large quantities, even after they have grown up.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman believe, Mr. Speaker, in having the Department of Public Assistance supply the other commodities?

Mr. TURNER. That question, Mr. Speaker, was passed on a long time ago, because it seems to be the policy of those administering relief and those passing the laws that we should get away from the distribution of food. I don't know, but I think at times there are some reasons why we should supply certain kinds of food in order that our people should have a certain kind of nourishing food.

Mr. LOVETT. If the gentleman felt that way about it, Mr. Speaker, then two years ago why did he not vote that way and have the relief boards supply all kinds of commodities?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I did not change it two years ago. It was changed longer ago than that. It was changed in the Democratic administration.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, it was two years ago that we introduced the Eckles Milk Bill.

Mr. TURNER. That is a different proposition, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, at the same time they supply milk, does the gentleman not think that it would be proper for them to supply other commodities?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman and I could get into a long debate as to food and other commodities. At the start we undertook to supply food and other things, but after that they supplied money, mostly because of the agitation of the people getting food orders and because of the cost of administration on the part of those administering relief.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman think that was a good thing?

Mr. TURNER. What was a good thing, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LOVETT. To supply them with relief checks and let them buy their own, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. I would say, Mr. Speaker, outside of the complications that might arise, there may be many times when it might be well for us to supply food. The Federal Government supplies food.

Mr. LOVETT. They do, Mr. Speaker, but it does not come out of the relief checks.

Mr. TURNER. That is a different proposition, that is in addition to it.

Mr. LOVETT. Well, Mr. Speaker, I am certainly willing to give them all the food requirements.

Mr. TURNER. Oh no, Mr. Speaker, milk contains so many of the elements that are necessary that if they get milk they do not need a lot of other kinds of food.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I did not raise the question of cost particularly. I stressed the idea of forcing any commodity on relief recipients as being wrong. If we want to educate our people, if we want to teach our people that milk is good for them, let us put on a campaign, but let us not through the Department of Public Assistance say to the individual family on relief, "You must use so much milk." Now, that is the point I raised, that the principle is wrong, and we therefore should repeal this bill and educate the people that milk is good for them and that they should buy it out of their relief checks.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware tell me whether or not the question of supplying milk relief recipients was a subject of study by the Joint State Government Commission in the past two years?

Mr. TURNER. It came up in the study on relief. It was discussed in reference to that subject, yes.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. And does the gentleman recall, Mr. Speaker, what the recommendation was of the State Government Commission with regard to that subject?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I don't remember exactly what the Commission did say on relief milk. It is my recollection that there was no special recommendation on that subject.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. May I suggest to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that the recommendation of the Joint State Government Commission was that the distribution of milk to relief recipients was wrong economically, and was wrong in every other respect and the recommendation was that the Eckels Milk Bill be repealed? Would the gentleman not state that that is so according to the report of the Joint State Government Commission?

Mr. TURNER. My recollection, Mr. Speaker, is that the Joint State Government Commission felt that there might be some variation in order to take care of the hard cases but I recollect no such recommendation as the gentleman states.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman make an agreement with me that at some future time we will pore over the report of the Joint State Government Commission and if either of us finds he is wrong he will make such a statement on the floor?

Mr. TURNER. Absolutely, Mr. Speaker, I will always make such a statement, and if that recommendation is as the gentleman states I will say that I was wrong then and that I am right now.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, it is absolutely unnecessary to prolong the debate, but I do want to challenge the thought as I gather it from some of the remarks of my learned friend, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner. In the 1939 Session I opposed the Eckels Milk Bill. In the 1940 Special Session I presented a bill to repeal the Eckels Milk Bill. I have taken no part in the discussion tonight, but I would like to call to the attention of the members the very thing in this bill which should defeat it, and that is the question of class legislation. I say class legislation because it applies only to those who are on relief. It is true, as the gentleman from Delaware says, we are compelling children to go to school; we are compelling all of the children to go to school. There is a vast difference between legislation by this House or any other body that compels all of the people to do one thing and another Law that compels certain people to do another thing. This bill is undemocratic; it is unscientific; it compels a person to buy a certain amount of milk because he is on relief and only because he is on relief. If you can pass legislation of this kind you can compel people on relief to wear a certain shirt, to wear certain shoes, to live in a certain house. We may have the power should have no part in a free House of Representatives.

Mr. D'ORTONA. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to prolong this argument, but there were a few remarks made by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, which I would like to answer. As long as I have been in this House, since January, this has been the first time I have heard they were not worrying about the cost of money, after their cry about economy. I want to say that every member who opposed this bill brought up the question that children needed milk, and they were all worrying about the children. I wonder when this bill was passed in 1939 whether they were worrying about the children, to see that they received milk so that they could grow up and be good children and healthy children for this nation, and whether they ever gave it a thought that in compelling these people to buy their milk they might raise their relief grants and force them to buy milk. I know that some of the people who have been worrying about these children who are receiving milk and who want them to be helped by House Bill 1401, when we desired to give the parents of these children the right to go out and earn a few extra dollars so they could feed their children a lot better to make them healthy, they opposed the bill. Now they want the parents to feed these children with their own money. In 1939 the Department of Public Assistance gave a certain grant to a family and after they forced them to buy milk, they still received the same grant and took the amount of money for the milk from the grant they gave them. Yes, we can feed them, and we can say, "You must give your children milk; you pay for it." I say if they want to give them milk, let the Department of Public Assistance pay for it, if they are not worrying about the cost.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken, Messrs. Woodside, Snyder and Taylor asked for a verification of the roll. The roll was verified and was as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. BRETH.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 891, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," by requiring the Department of Revenue to establish a system for the permanent registration of hunters revising the provisions of said act relating to the issuance of licenses and eliminating the power of justices of the peace, magistrates, and notaries public to receive applications therefor.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. COCHRAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cochran vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. COCHRAN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 7 of title, by inserting after the word "hunters" the following: "and."

Amend title, page 1, line 9 to 11 of title, by striking out the following "and eliminating the power of" in line 9, all of lines 10 and 11.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 302), page 2, lines 20 and 23, by striking out the light-face bracket before the word "or" in line 20, and after the word "authorized" in line 23.

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 305), page 7, lines 2 and 4, by striking out the light-face bracket before the word "for" in line 2, and after the part-word "tions" in line 4.

Amend Sec. 5, page 9, lines 1 and 2, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 6, page 9, line 3, by striking out the figure "6" and inserting in lieu thereof: "5."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and received unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, This evening this House passed on first reading the General Appropriation Bill, and in connection with that bill I desire on behalf of the Appropriation Committee to make a report of our studies, and at the same time read a prepared statement with relation to that report.

On the third day of February last, Governor James delivered to this General Assembly his Budget Message for the fiscal biennium June 1, 1941 to May 31, 1943, with the account of the revenues which he estimated would be collected.

We believed then, and as a consequence of our investigations have confirmed that belief, that these estimates of revenue were not arrived at as a result of the application of any accepted formula, rule, or method upon which future incomes can accurately be gauged.

Having determined this fact, the majority in the House of Representatives and the minority in the Senate pledged themselves to a thorough and intensive study in order that they might determine the amount which logically can be expected in the form of revenue for the biennium June 1, 1941 to May 31, 1943.

Inasmuch as the Budget Office has no acceptable formula for estimating revenues we were obliged to determine our own yardstick of projection in order to scientifically measure the future amounts to be received from Normal Taxes, Bonus, Licenses and Fees, Miscellaneous Revenues, and Emergency Taxes. There can be no question of the soundness of the system we adopted and which I now outline:

First, an examination of the records for the past ten years shows that the income of the State of Pennsylvania bears an average ratio of 8.2 per cent to the National Income.

Secondly, it has been estimated by the fiscal authorities of the United States Government that the National income for the year 1941 will amount to $90,000,000,000, Thirdly, the application of the fixed factor of 8.2 per cent to the estimated National income of $90,000,000,000 in 1941 gives conclusive evidence that the State income for that year will amount to approximately $7,380,000,000.

Fourth, a comparison of this estimated income for Pennsylvania for the year 1941 to the known income for 1940 which amounted to $6,036,000,000 shows a 21 per cent increase.

Having determined by this method the factors upon which can be based increased revenues in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the fiscal years 1941-1943, we made a close study of the actual receipts for the present and past fiscal years in order to determine which revenues remain static.

We also determined those receipts which show a normal, steady year by year growth and applied to them the factor of 7.7 per cent increase, which is based on the average for the seven years from 1933 to 1940.

Having thus determined all the factors which can properly be taken into consideration, in order to arrive at a correct estimate of tax revenue for the next biennium, we applied these formulas to the respective taxes affected and determined the following results:

That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will receive in Normal Taxes, for the biennium 1941-1943, the sum of $174,609,944 or an amount $8,933,344 greater than the estimate for these same revenues contained in the Governor's Budget message.

That through Special Emergency Taxes the Commonwealth will receive, for the biennium 1941-1943, the sum of $192,131,624 or an amount $7,556,124 greater than the estimated revenue from this source contained in the Governor's Budget Message.

It is to be noted here that these figures represent income estimated for the coming biennium after the reduction in taxes later herein referred to.

From Liquor Store profits we estimate that during the coming biennium the Commonwealth will receive the sum of $40,000,000 an increase of $4,000,000 over the estimate contained in the Governor's Budget Message, after allowance has been made for certain increases of salaries to employees.

It is thus disclosed that for the biennium 1941-1943 the Commonwealth's income will approximate $427,598,510 or $14,202,153 in excess of the sum estimated in the Governor's Budget Message.

With these facts and figures before us, the conclusion must be drawn that there is no honest reason or necessity for the acquiescence of the Legislature in the Governor's request for postponement of additional aid to the school districts of the Commonwealth approved by previous Sessions of the Legislature; namely:

Act 485, July 1, 1937, which provides for the State's payment of the cost of Supervisors of Special Education in the various school districts of the Commonwealth. We, therefore, recommend an appropriation in the amount of $200,410 to carry out the provisions of this act, for the coming biennium.

Act 483, July 1, 1937, which provides for the State's payment of transportation costs for students in various school districts of the Commonwealth. We, therefore, recommend an appropriation of $1,729,500 for this purpose during the coming biennium.

Act 141, May 7, 1937, which provides for the State's payment of the cost of education in high schools of students resident in districts where high schools are not operated. We, therefore, recommend an appropriation of $4,388,280 for this purpose during the coming biennium.

The Governor's request for further postponement of the assumption by the Commonwealth of responsibility for the care and maintenance of the insane, feeble minded, and epileptic, raises one of the most important questions with which this Commonwealth has been faced during the past decade. Every authority, not only in Pennsylvania but throughout the Country, is in agreement that the responsibility for the maintenance of the insane, feeble minded, and epileptics is properly that of the State. Were we to acquiesce in the Governor's request for a further postponement of the State's assumption of this obligation, we would deliberately contribute to the continuance of a policy which fails to provide maximum opportunity for recovery where possible of those mentally ill, and the maximum care of those most unfortunate citizens of our State who are destined to be so stricken all the days of their lives.

We have, therefore, determined that not only is it financially possible for the State to carry out this obligation but it would be gross neglect were we to do otherwise. We, therefore, make the following recommendation:

Act 21, approved September 29, 1938, which provides for the assumption of control by the State of County Mental Institutions now existent, shall be made effective as of the first day of the biennium. We have provided $6,100,000 to cover the cost thereof. The State, however, as a result of the above expenditures, will save the sum of $2,545,000.

Act 25, approved October 1, 1938, which relieves counties of the responsibility for contributing to the maintenance of indigent, feeble minded, and epileptics in State institutions, shall also be made effective as of the first day of the biennium. This will effect a great saving to the taxpayers in very one of the sixty-seven counties of the State, and will cost the State the sum of $6,500,000 as a result of the loss of income in Institutional Reimbursement collections from counties.

May I digress for a moment from my prepared statement in that particular. To advise the House that today a representative of the Department of Welfare told me that their department is now resigned to the acceptance of this responsibility. A responsibility, Mr. Speaker, that the Democratic Party has forced the Republican administration to acknowledge.

Having provided adequately for the assumption by the Commonwealth of those duties which are a proper charge against the State, we have determined that it is still possible at this time to reduce the tax burden. After careful study we arrived at the conclusion that the first tax to which a reduction should be applied, on the basis of making the taxes in the Commonwealth more equitable, is the elimination, where possible, of taxes now levied on non-revenue producing property. We, therefore, provided a reduction of 25% in the state personal property tax and the related tax on Shares of banks and trust companies, thereby effecting a saving of $7,650,000 to the taxpayers of the Commonwealth during the coming biennium.

During the Special Session of 1940, the Legislature borrowed $59,550,000 from Special Funds. To this was added $6,400,000 in February, 1941, and $4,150,000 in April, 1941, making a total of $70,100,000 which must be repaid by June 30, 1941. We have made provision in our budget for repaying these Special Fund borrowings.

The total appropriations recommended by us for the 1941-1943 biennium amount to $355,085,436.50. While this reflects an increase of $12,593,029 over the appropriations recommended by the Governor, it includes the cost of taking over the mental institutions and the additional aid to school districts previously outlined.

We do this because we feel that even though this is increased spending, it appears to be a sounder method of financing to make adequate provision from the beginning and to maintain a balanced budget than short-change appropriations in the name of so-called economy which in effect is false, because it would require deficiency appropriations at later sessions.

During the past few months we have sought and received the cooperation of the secretaries of the various departments, commissions and bureaus of the State and to them we desire to express our thanks. Their assistance, except in a few instances, has been of considerable help in aiding us to ascertain the adequate provisions which would be necessary for State needs consistent with good government.

Attached to the statement, Mr. Speaker, we have outlined in detail our budget recommendations as well as our analysis of receipts and revenue. The entire statement, Mr. Speaker, I ask to be made a part of the official record of this House.

The SPEAKER. The report on the budget presented by the Committee on Appropriations will be noted in the Journals of the House and printed in the appendix to the Legislative Journal, as requested by the chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Achterman.

Copies of this report are available, have been distributed and placed upon the desks of all the Members.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 709, Printer's No. 456, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four hundred and twelve of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled, as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," by further defining the sales of malt or brewed beverages on page 29 of today's Calendar, bills on final passage postponed, be extended five days.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, after sixteen weeks with the budget we now have the suggestions made by the Democratic Party. I am not going to attempt to go over many of the items tonight, because I know that the hour is late and I haven't had an opportunity to examine the budget in any detail.

I do want to call your attention, however, to the fourth paragraph in the gentleman's statement, in which he refers to the fact that "inasmuch as the budget office has no acceptable formula for estimating revenues we are obliged"—etc. May I again call to the confused gentleman that the budget office does not make the estimate of revenues and that under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania there is only one official estimate of revenues upon which the Auditor General can pass and check and that is the Department of Revenue.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make reference to just two or three estimates of taxes contained in the budget which have not been previously referred to in the debate on the floor of the House. Let us take for example the corporate loan tax, and we find that the original figure in the budget estimate was $5,250,000, and the New Deal estimate, $6,150,000.

Now, what does the record show about the figure that the gentleman submitted? They show that in 1938 the amount received by the Commonwealth was $3,300,000; in 1939 it was $2,900,000 and in 1940 $2,700,000; and in 1941 it was $2,600,000, and yet they say that in spite of that trend we are now going to receive a lot more money.

Let us look at the transfer inheritance tax. The transfer inheritance tax in the 1935-1937 biennium was $34,682,000. In 1937-1939 it went up to $47,953,000. Of course all of us acquainted with the budget know that the reason for that was that it was the time that the twelve million dollars plus of the Mellon Estate came into the transfer inheritance tax fund, so that the amount used in the budget was thirty-five million dollars, the same as in the present biennium. But what happened to that item? In spite of an estimate of thirty-five million dollars plus we will receive in the end of the biennium how much? Over $5,500,000 less than the estimate of $33,675,000, and in spite of that official estimate, and in spite of the knowledge that we were going to be $5,500,000 short, their figure was $43,217,000, the gentleman with the knowledge that the sum was $5,500,000 too high for this estimate, turns around and increases that estimate to $43,000,000 plus.

What did New York State do? They are comparable to Pennsylvania; they make an intelligent attempt to estimate their budget,—what do they do?

For 1940, and by that I mean the year ending June 30, their estimate was $27,900,000. In 1941, $25,000,000, and in 1942 the New York state estimate was the same? No. Was it more? Certainly not, it was $24,000,000.

Now, what does the Federal Government record show in that regard? They show in 1938 $382,000,000; in 1939 $332,000,000, in 1940 $330,000,000 and in 1941 $317,000,000.

I think the gentlemen of this House know that there are no longer any real large estates in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is very likely that there will not again in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or at least in our time, be a transfer inheritance tax payment of over $5,000,000, and yet in spite of all this experience, in spite of that six months additional information, which the gentleman have got and ought to be able to use to arrive at a just estimate, in spite of the decreasing revenues they have increased the estimate of revenues.

Mr. Speaker, just one more point, let us take the personal property tax, and what has experience shown on that? It has shown that in 1938 there was $11,900,000; in 1939 there was $12,100,000; in 1940 it was down again to $11,500,000 and in 1941 it was $11,000,000 or $2,500,000 short of what it was believed would be realized when this budget was made up.

All this experience at the time when the gentleman on the other side had the budget has indicated that the amount of revenue received from the personal property tax will be less than what was estimated at that time, and specifically less because not only has the amount realized as of January 1st of this year been $2,500,000 less than it was expected to be, but the stock market has gone down approximately 16 per cent from the day the estimates were made to the present time. So that every bit of experience that has been accumulated from the time the Governor's budget was given to the time of the New Deal estimate given here today would indicate that the estimates made by the Governor were not too high but were in fact too low, but there is no indication that the other side on these taxes or any other took into consideration the experiences which have occurred during this period, nor have they adjusted their tax estimate in accordance with those experiences.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, after the interrogation a short while ago I promised the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner and the Members of the House that the truth should be known. I have before me the corpus delicti, the report on relief prepared by the Joint State Government Commission and published in January 1941. Page 81 reads as follows:—this comes after recommendations of the State Government Commission on Milk Orders:

"The cost of the milk program should also be considered by the legislature. Under the existing laws and regulations which require that every child under sixteen for which state aid is provided receive a pint of milk per day, the state's monthly milk bill amounts to approximately $375,000. There are other factors that also should be considered. Members of county boards complain that in some cases the granting of milk has become nothing more than a milk graft by some companies. It was also shown that many recipients of milk trade or sell the milk for other commodities or money. However, in thousands of cases the result of the operation of this law has been to build healthier children. This is an important factor, as the Federal Government pays no part of the cost of milk grants, whereas similar grants in cash would be borne by both the State and the Federal Government on all A. D. C. Cases, thereby reducing in some measure Pennsylvania's overall cost for relief."

I will refer to the recommendations on page "V" under section "C".

"Consideration should be given to amending the milk order law enacted in 1939 to meet valid objections. However, it is imperative that children of families on relief should receive an adequate supply of milk.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in all fairness to the gentleman I thought I should read this statement which I think refutes in some measure his statement and substantiates the statement I made.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to thank the gentleman for his very fair action in reading from the reports. What he has read there exactly carries out what I said on the floor of the House in answer to his interrogation, that my recollection was that the Commission felt that there should be some amendment or change to meet the objections, and to meet some of the things that might be considered expensive. In other words as I recall the investigation on that subject, when it came before the Commission we felt that perhaps in some instances the order that provided for a pint of milk to every child in a family, where the family was large and under certain conditions might not work out, might be an arbitrary rule, some changes are necessary. But, I want to point out to the gentleman from Philadelphia it does not state what he said on the floor of the House, that it should be repealed and something further in reference to the milk order. I am positive that the language is just about as I understand it, and my interpretation of the language is the interpretation that I had in mind.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does the Legislative Journal contain fiction?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman should know.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I thought up until now it contained facts and not fiction. It seems to me that the report which the gentleman from Monroe is spreading upon the pages of the Journal is phantasy and fiction.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, at this late hour I rather hesitate to characterize what the Governor said back in February. Perhaps the old story of pulling the wool over our eyes, giving misinformation to the House—call it fiction if you wish, or just another bubble burst perhaps, Mr. Speaker. I believe if the gentleman desires to characterize it as fiction, it is the kind of fiction that is coming home to plague them, next year.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House in three words.

Mr. Speaker, "Hope, Faith and Charity."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I thought the gentleman from Dauphin was going to sing the first lines of a quite well known popular air, but I realized afterwards it couldn't be in three words. The words are "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles" and it seems to me the gentleman from Monroe. Mr. Achterman is engaged in that practice now. He has talked a lot to us since back in February, I think it was, when the Governor gave the budget to the legislature, about the deceit and the phantasy of the Governor's budget and about the untruths in it, but after struggling these one hundred seven days and laboring so hard, all of the things that they were going to find, I don't see that the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman has produced anything. In other words the mountain has labored and produced a mouse.

It was amusing to me to see in a number of newspaper that the Democratic State Chairman said that the Democratic Party,—he and Mr. Kelly had had a meeting and what the Democratic Party was going to do in line with its well known policy, which was that it was going to reduce those taxes which affected the people the most, and hit the hardest upon those least able to pay.

And then I took a look back in the journal. I have a pretty good memory for things said on the floor of the House that later appear in the Journal. I found when that four mill tax was proposed, that is the four mill state tax on top of the four mill county tax, that George Earle said there was too much wealth in Pennsylvania that was escaping, and the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman came on the floor with a sort of chorus to the same tune, and talked about how they were going to levy this tax in Pennsylvania on the wealth that was escaping, and escaping too long its fair share of taxes.

I have been wondering since I read that statement by the State Chairman that they were going to take this one mill from those least able to pay, whether that was some of this phantasy and fiction on the part of the Democratic Party, whether the Earles, the Bullits, the Drexels and Biddles and the rest of the moneyed people in the Democratic Party—whether that association has now changed the entire policy of the Democratic Party. Where are they taking this tax off? We in the Republican Party didn't like that four mill tax; we always wanted them to take it off. Are they taking it off the bank shares and off personal property? They say it was a "soak the rich" tax which they were placing upon the people. It seems to me in talking about deception, and in waving the flag, I know they say it will come back and haunt the Republican Party, but it will not haunt the Republican Party a bit. If we get into a situation such as we had in 1938, the Republican Party will have to extricate them as it has done in the last two years.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained permission to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was amused over the word "fantasy." I recall a few years ago the Republican Party campaigning over this State. That you will recall, Mr. Speaker. I will not take a lot of time to tell how they denounced the tax measures of the Democrats including these particular tax measures, the tax measures that passed just last week; the tax measures that now the Republicans love so well and that just a few short years ago they were going to destroy, iniquitous tax measures. Remember that? Remember how they cried against them? Talk about fantasies and mirages. Can you imagine them, the same party standing on the floor of this House and raising that question? After all, who is going to pay these taxes? Who has started to reduce them The Republicans? No, Mr. Speaker, we had to force them to do it; they never would do away with them if they were allowed to follow their own desires and their own inclinations. It required the Democratic Party to point the way.

Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, in three words that they will need hope, faith and charity in 1942.

PUBLIC HEARING

There will be a Public Hearing before the Committee on Ways and Means on House Bill No. 1403 on Tuesday, May 27, at 7:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, in the New House Caucus Room.

DINNER

Reservations are still available for the dinner to be held at Hershey Hotel on Wednesday, May 28th, in honor of the Majority Floor Leader. Tickets for the dinner may be procured from Walter Miller in the Chief Clerk's Office. Transportation will be available for those who do not intend to drive. The evening of May 28th will be devoted to the consumption of fine food and the dissemination of good fellowship. There will be no talk of budgets or anything of that kind, and since none of the money from the tickets is going into the Democratic Party coffers I expect to see a great many Republicans there.

JOINT HEARING ON HOUSE BILLS Nos. 1671 AND 1403

The Committee on Education will hold a Joint Hearing on H. B. 1671, now substituted for H. B. No. 1, on Tuesday, May 27 at 7:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, with the Ways and Means Committee which will hold a hearing on H. B. 1403 at the same time, in the New House Caucus Room—Main Floor.

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 27, 1941

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock noon, E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain the prayer was offered by the Senator from Berks, Dr. RUTH.

Almighty God, Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this new day and we pray that Thy spirit will guide us today, that we may understand our fellowman as being our brothers that we may live our lives amongst them. As the poet said:

Let me live in a house by the side of a road,
Where the races of men go by,
The men that are good and the men that are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban,
Let me live in a house by the side of a road,
And be a friend to man.

We ask it in Thy holy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. CARR and Mr. WALKER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITION

The PRESIDENT. The Chair lays before the Senate a communication from the Civic Club of Allegheny County urging passage of fair and just Senatorial and Legislative reapportionment, which will be noted in the Journal.

An Act to further amend section thirty-one as renumbered section thirty-two of the act, approved the third day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 252), entitled, as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt and brewed beverages, as herein defined; providing for the licensing of the manufacture, transportation, sale and distribution of such beverages; imposing license and permit fees, and providing for collection and distribution thereof; restricting ownership and interest in licensed places; permitting municipalities and townships, by vote of the electors, to prevent the licensing therein of places where such beverages may be sold for consumption on the premises, and regulating elections for this purpose; imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, quarter sessions courts, district attorneys, the Department of Justice, proper authorities of political subdivisions of the State and election officers; providing penalties; and repealing existing acts," changing the date for the exercise of local option.

He also, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 669, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections five hundred one and five hundred two of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled, as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practice in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," by changing the time for submission of the question of local option.

Mr. MILLER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 904, (House Bill No. 1543), entitled:

An Act providing a method for supplying, perfecting and recording birth records of certain persons whose births have not heretofore been made a public record, or whose record of birth is incomplete or incorrect; making such records competent legal evidence; prescribing fees; and imposing certain duties upon the orphans' court.

Mr. MALLERY, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 690, (House Bill No. 1088), entitled:

An Act prohibiting the employment of or the acceptance of employment by any female for the purpose of tending bar over which bar alcoholic, malt or vinous beverages are sold; excepting on-sale licensees and the wives of on-sale licensees; providing penalties for a violation thereof; repealing all inconsistent legislation.

Mr. STIEFEL, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 729, (House Bill No. 393), entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 266), entitled "An act to protect trademark owners, distributors, and the public against injuries and uneconomic practices in the distribution of articles of standard quality under a distinguished trade-mark, brand or name," by extending the provisions thereof to vending equipment used in distributing such articles and further defining parties having a right of action for unfair competition.

He also, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 996, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 452) entitled, as amended, "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, improve, equip, furnish and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees, rentals, and charges for the use thereof; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority, and providing for the payment of such bonds, and the rights of the holders thereof; and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency; and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant, assign, convey, or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein, and to acquire lands therefor; granting the right of eminent domain; and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act;" empowering the General State Authority through the exercise of its powers under existing law to construct, equip, furnish, maintain and operate an official residence in the City of Harrisburg for the use of the Governor of the Commonwealth.

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," authorizing the county treasurer to appoint a solicitor and providing for his salary payable by the county.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments.

Amend title, page 1, between lines 8 and 9, after the word "the" in line 8, and before the word "classes" in line 9, by striking out the words: "second third and fourth"; and inserting in lieu thereof the following words: "fifth sixth seventh and eighth"; amend Section 1, page 2, line 4, after the word "the" and before the word "classes" by taking out the words: "second third and fourth"; and inserting in lieu thereof the following words: "fifth sixth seventh and eighth"; amend Section 1, page 2, line 7, after the word "board" and before the word "and", by taking out the bold-faced bracket; amend Section 1, page 2, line 2, after the word "commissioners" and before the word "Such", by taking out the bold-faced bracket.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I object to the amendments as offered.

The PRESIDENT. There is objection.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, may we have the amendments read again?

The clerk again read the amendments.

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. CHAPMAN. I withdraw the amendments, Mr. President.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 46, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 185, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of, and to add section two and one-tenth to, the act, approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127), entitled "An act relating to adoption," further regulating adoption proceedings as to consent of, and notice to be given to, parents of the person proposed to be adopted.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 292, (House Bill No. 382), on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships to appropriate money for the establishment or continuance of Federal Surplus Commodities Stamp plans therein and to borrow money and issue bonds for said purpose

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, this bill is a companion bill to Senate Bill 614, on page five of the Calendar, and a committee has been appointed to check some of the phrases in the wording of the two bills.

SENATE BILL No. 1004 CALLED UP ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1004, on page 11 of the Calendar, on third reading. This is the special relief appropriation bill, and we desire that action be taken promptly, so that it may be sent to the House as quickly as possible.

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with that bill, I called attention to the fact yesterday that this bill, which was stated to be a bill to provide sufficient funds to carry the relief program through from the first of June, 1941, also contained provisions providing for relief for the balance of this biennium.

I had intended to offer amendments this morning. I am told by the majority leader on the other side that there is no serious objection to these amendments, but in view of the fact that this bill is now on third reading, it will lose a day in its passage if I offer these amendments now. I have therefore determined to make a record of the fact that I wanted to offer the amendments, but I think the matter can be taken care of in the House when the bill comes up.

I therefore ask that my colleagues join in voting for this bill.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, just so we keep the record straight, I do not recall having said to my colleague from Philadelphia that there were no serious objections to the amendments. I did say to him I did not see the necessity of the amendments. The part to which he objected is the same wording as is contained in every relief appropriation bill, and the purpose of that is to take care of any bills which come in subsequent to the end of the biennium, which would permit the Department of Public Assistance to pay bills, incurred during this biennium but which do not come in until the next biennium.

Therefore, Mr. President, I can not see any serious objection to the bill in its present form, but I do appreciate the consideration of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in not insisting on his amendments at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1004, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of eleven million dollars ($11,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Public Assistance for the payment of assistance administrative expenses and expenses of liquidating the State Emergency Relief Board as provided by the Public Assistance Law and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Department of Public Assistance for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and for the payment of assistance administrative expenses expenses of liquidating the State Emergency Relief Board attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one

Section 2 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time for the several assistance programs (old age assistance aid to dependent children pensions for the blind general assistance and other programs provided by the Public Assistance Law) for administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance for such administrative expenses incurred by the department which are chargeable to such boards and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Barr,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Stiefel,
Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Tallman,
Becker,	Farrell,	McCreesh,	Taylor,
Carr,	Frey,	McGinnis,	Thomas,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 443, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred and four and to further amend sections one thousand one hundred and five, one thousand one hundred and twenty-one and one thousand one hundred and twenty-seven of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof, providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws, general, special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith," providing for and regulating the tenure of office and salaries of county and assistant county superintendents.

go over in its order; the bill not being up from the printer.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 454, (House Bill No. 107), as follows:

An Act to amend section eleven of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 395) entitled "An act empowering the Department of Highways to acquire certain toll bridges within the Commonwealth providing the procedure therefor providing for the reimbursement of the Commonwealth from tolls and charges and making an appropriation" as amended by providing that certain of such toll bridges heretofore or hereafter acquired by the Department of Highways may be free bridges from the effective date of this act or from the date they are so acquired

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section eleven of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 395) entitled "An act empowering the Department of Highways to acquire certain toll bridges within the Commonwealth providing the procedure therefor providing for the reimbursement of the Commonwealth from tolls and charges and making an appropriation" as amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 644) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 11 The Secretary of Highways upon acquiring any such toll bridge is hereby directed to continue the collection of tolls and charges on such bridge or bridges or reconstructed bridges except as hereinafter provided until the Commonwealth has been reimbursed to the full extent of the original cost of acquiring any and all of such bridges or as many thereof as may be acquired by the Secretary of Highways within his discretion and in any event as may be acquired at a cost not exceeding in the aggregate the authorized sum of ten million dollars together with such interest thereon as shall have been expended by the Commonwealth and the cost of compensation of toll collectors All tolls and charges collected by the Secretary of Highways shall be paid into the Motor License Fund The Department of Highways shall reconstruct maintain and repair such bridges in the manner provided by law relating to State highways and bridges In case of the reconstruction of any such bridge the Secretary of Highways with the approval of the Governor may reconstruct such bridge on the same location or on a location within one mile thereof

Whenever the tolls collected from such bridges as may be so acquired after deduction of all moneys expended by the department for the cost of compensation of toll collectors shall have become sufficient to reimburse the Commonwealth in full for the cost of acquiring all of such bridges as may have been so acquired with interest thereon as aforesaid then all of such bridges so acquired shall become and be thereafter free bridges Such bridges shall thereafter remain in the charge and be under the control of the Department of Highways and shall be thereafter maintained and kept in repair and be rebuilt by the Commonwealth in accordance with the laws relating to State highways and bridges and the State shall take over and succeed to all agreements made with any public service company for the use by the public service company of such bridges The cost of such reconstruction maintenance and repair of said bridges after the same have been freed shall be paid out of moneys appropriated to the Department of Highways for the construction reconstruction and improvement of State highways

The Secretary of Highways is hereby authorized to adjust readjust and fix from time to time the amount of tolls and charges on such bridge or bridges as may be acquired under the provisions of this act for the purpose of causing each such bridge so acquired to bear as nearly as conditions and traffic will permit its proportionate share of the aggregate annual revenues to be received by the Commonwealth from toll bridges so acquired based on the cost thereof Provided however That whenever any toll bridge is acquired by the Secretary of Highways at a cost of less than three hundred thousand dollars the said Secretary of Highways may immediately discontinue the collection of tolls and charges on such bridge and such bridge shall be a free bridge The cost of maintenance and repair of said bridge after the same has been acquired by the Department of Highways shall be paid out of moneys appropriated to the Department of Highways for the construction reconstruction and improvement of State highways

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 614, (House Bill No. 1126), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend part of section three hundred and two, to amend section three hundred and seven and part of section fifteen hundred and one of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," establishing the Surplus Commodities Stamp Fund; and authorizing the State Treasurer to disburse money from said fund upon requisition of the Secretary of Public Assistance.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 628, (House Bill No. 762), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections eleven and twelve of the act, approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 552), entitled as amended "An act relating to dogs, and the protection of live stock, poultry, and game birds raised in captivity from damage by dogs; providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture; providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors; regulating the keeping of dogs, and authorizing their destruction in certain cases; providing for the protection of licensed dogs, and for dogs temporarily imported for trial, show, and breeding purposes; prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners; providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock, poultry, and game birds by dogs, and for live stock killed by, or dying from, rabies, and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs, and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth; imposing powers and duties on certain State, county, city, borough, town, and township officers and employees, directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury; and providing penalties" by providing for the issuance of metal tags with kennel certificates, requiring such tags to be kept on dogs kept in kennels permitting dogs kept in a kennel to be taken out for hunting training exercise or entry in field trials and dog shows and requiring keepers of kennels to maintain certain records.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 4, line 15, by striking out after the word "shall" the following words: "at all"; amend Section 1, page 4, line 18, by striking out before the word "keep" the following word: "times"; amend Section 1, page 4, line 18, after the word "certificate" and before the word "Such", by inserting the following words: "when and during such time as such dog is without the kennel"; amend Section 1, page 4, line 19, after the word "another" and before the word "whenever", by striking out the following words: "within the kennel".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 653

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 653, entitled:

An Act regulating and improving the civil service departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls, imposing duties upon certain officers and employees of the Commonwealth, authorizing service to political sub-divisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service, defining certain crimes and misdemeanors, imposing penalties, making an appropriation and repealing certain acts and parts thereof.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I voted "nay".

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I voted "nay".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object, and ask that the roll be called.

(During the calling of the roll)

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

The PRESIDENT. It has been requested that the roll be verified. The Clerk will read the names of those voting in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those voting in the affirmative as follows:

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Miller,	Walker,
Becker,	Geltz,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Carr,	Heyburn,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crider,	James,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Tallman,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Tyler,	Ziesenheim,
Edmonds,	Mallery,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The affirmative vote will stand as verified.

The Clerk read the names of those voting in the negative as follows:

Barr,	Dent,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,
Cavalcante,	DiSilvestro,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Chapman,	Frey,	McQuiddy,	Taylor,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Reed,	Thomas,
Cox,	Jaspan,	Shapiro,	Wade,
Deltrick,	Lanius,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative vote will stand as verified.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I desire permission to explain my vote.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Bucks will proceed.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I desire to explain that I voted in the affirmative on this motion out of courtesy to my colleague, and wish to state this does not bind me from considering the bill, when it comes up for action, on its merits.

The PRESIDENT. The vote on the motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 653, failed on final passage, is: Yeas—26; Nays—22. Therefore the motion prevails and the bill will be restored to the third reading Calendar.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Miller,	Walker,
Becker,	Geltz,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Carr,	Heyburn,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crider,	James,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Tallman,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Tyler,	Ziesenheim,
Edmonds,	Mallery,

NAYS—22

Barr,	Dent,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,
Cavalcante,	DiSilvestro,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Chapman,	Frey,	McQuiddy,	Taylor,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Reed,	Thomas,
Cox,	Jaspan,	Shapiro,	Wade,
Deltrick,	Lanius,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

SENATE BILL No. 653 CALLED UP ON THIRD READING

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 653, on third reading, entitled:

An Act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth, vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls, imposing duties upon certain officers and employees of the Commonwealth, authorizing service to political sub-divisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making an appropriation and repealing certain acts and parts thereof.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, requests that Senate Bill 653 be called up for action.

Mr. GELTZ. I object, Mr. President, and ask for a roll call.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is out of order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wants to be fair. The motion was to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill 653 failed on final passage, and since the motion prevailed the bill is now as it was before it was originally voted on.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, calls it up, just the same as he would any other bill on the Calendar, and the vote will be on that, but a roll call is in order.

Mr. GELTZ. The roll call is on what, Mr. President? The PRESIDENT. On the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the vote by which this bill was defeated was reconsidered, and that is why this bill is now on the postponed Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. It is not on the postponed Calendar. Was it on the postponed Calendar before?

Mr. SHAPIRO. It was taken off, Mr. President; it could not have been on the postponed Calendar. It was taken off and voted on. It is now on the Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The position of the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is correct, if the bill was taken off the postponed Calendar when it was acted on.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Assuming that it was, Mr. President, I have now moved that it be called up for action, and it is on the Calendar, and therefore it does not make any difference whether it was on the postponed Calendar or not.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I understand my colleague from Philadelphia has asked that the bill be now considered. I now ask that the bill go over in order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. We will have to dispose of the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, first.

Mr. GELTZ. There was not any motion made, if I understood the matter correctly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny is in order in asking that the bill go over in order. I now object to the request that the bill go over in order and he can now make a motion to that effect.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill 653 go over in its order.

Mr. WOODWARD. I second the motion, Mr. President. On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. In order to keep the record straight, the Chair understands that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, called up the bill. Now, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, moves, seconded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, that the bill go over in order.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object and ask that the roll be called.

(During the calling of the roll)

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be verified.

The PRESIDENT. It has been requested that the roll be verified. The Clerk will read the names of those voting in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those voting in the affirmative as follows:

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Tyler,
Becker,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Wade,
Carr,	Geltz,	Miller,	Walker,
Chapman,	Haluska,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crowe,	Homsher,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
Detrick,	James,	Tallman,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Ziesenheim,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The affirmative vote will stand as verified.

The Clerk read the names of those voting in the negative as follows:

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Coleman,	Jaspan,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Lanius,	Reed,	Thomas,
Dent,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative vote will stand as verified.

The PRESIDENT. The vote on the motion for the bill to go over in its order is: Yeas—32; Nays—17. The bill will appear on the Third Reading Calendar tomorrow.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—32

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Tyler,
Becker,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Wade,
Carr,	Geltz,	Miller,	Walker,
Chapman,	Haluska,	Ruth,	Watkins,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crowe,	Homsher,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
Detrick,	James,	Tallman,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Kephart,	Taylor,	Ziesenheim,

NAYS—17

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Coleman,	Jaspan,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Lanius,	Reed,	Thomas,
Dent,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I wish to explain my vote, why I voted "aye"; it is only a matter of courtesy that I wish to extend to my colleagues, which they failed to extend to me yesterday in connection with Senate Bill No. 522.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 654, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred two and four hundred fifty-two of the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges, abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards and commissions, defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," as amended, in order to establish the State Civil Service Commission as a departmental administrative commission in the Executive Department

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 655, entitled:

An Act to amend the first paragraph of section one of the act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 570), entitled "An act fixing the salaries and providing for the expenses of county commissioners in the counties of this Commonwealth," by increasing the salary of county commissioners in eighth class counties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments: Amend title, page 1, line 7 of title, by striking out the word "eight" and inserting in lieu thereof "eighth"; amend sec. 1, page 2, line 8, by striking out the word "eight" and inserting in lieu thereof: "eighth"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 658, (House Bill No. 510), as follows:

An Act to amend section five of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 599) entitled "An act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours and also during other hours unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws" by changing the method and time whereby future referendums be initiated and held

Section 1 Section five of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 599) entitled "An act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours and also during other hours unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 Further Referendums In any municipality the will of the electors with respect to the conducting staging and exhibiting of motion pictures and sound motion pictures on Sunday may after the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (1935) but not oftener than once in four years be ascertained and the question as provided in section 3 of this act shall be submitted to the electors of any municipality at any municipal election upon demand in writing of petitioners equal to at least twenty per centum (20%) of the highest vote cast for any candidates in the municipality at the last preceding general or municipal election Such petition shall be filed with the corporate authorities at least sixty (60) days before the day of any [general or] municipal election at which the question is to be submitted and if the petition is signed by the requisite number of petitioners it shall thereupon be certified to the county commissioners who shall cause such question to be submitted in the same manner as is provided in this act for the election in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (1935)

If a majority of the voters in any municipality in which motion picture exhibitions are permitted from and after two o'clock postmeridian on Sunday to which an admission charge is made or is incidental are not in favor of the continuance of such exhibitions then upon the certification of such election return to the acting chief executive officer of such municipality as is provided in section four of this act it shall thereafter be unlawful to conduct stage manage operate or engage in such exhibitions after two o'clock postmeridian on Sunday but if a majority of the electors in any such municipality which has not heretofore permitted such motion picture exhibitions after two o'clock postmeridian on Sunday or which has not theretofore voted on such question are in favor of such exhibitions then upon the certification of such fact to the acting chief executive officer of such municipality as is provided in section 4 of this act such exhibitions shall thereafter be lawful

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill as it originally came from the House increased the number of petitioners to I think fifty-five per cent of the population to get a referendum; it has been changed to twenty per cent. Now, that is not any serious change, in my opinion, but what I think is a serious change by the amendment offered in this Senate is that they throw it into the municipal election instead of the primaries, as it was before, and creates an issue in what might be an important election which might reflect the effect of the results of the votes upon other more important matters, and for that reason I propose to vote "no" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Taylor,
Becker,	Edmonds,	McGinnis,	Tyler,
Coleman,	Geltz,	McQuiddy,	Wade,
Cox,	Heyburn,	Miller,	Walker,
Crider,	James,	Scarlett,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Snowden,	Wilson, H. I.,
Deltrick,	Lanius,	Tallman,	Ziesenheim,
Dent,	Letzler,

NAYS—20

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Carr,	Frey,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Reed,	Thomas,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Ruth,	Wilson, T. B.,
Ealy,	Jaspan,	Shapiro,	Woodward,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 787, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed, or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies, and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," by further defining the terms "common carrier by motor vehicle" and "contract carrier by motor vehicle"; giving the commission additional authority over the alteration, relocation or abolition of crossings; further regulating the right to render service as a contract carrier by motor vehicle; prohibiting the imposition of costs upon the commission in appeals to the Superior Court; subjecting persons and corporations to certain civil penalties for violating the act; prohibiting motor carriers, common carriers, by airplane and any operator or employe of such carriers, and brokers from exceeding the authority of the certificate of public convenience granted such carriers and brokers; and changing the penalty with respect thereto; and eliminating the requirement that certain attempts to evade or defeat regulation for carriers or brokers must be fraudulent in order to be punishable.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments: Amend sec. 3, page 8, line 18, by inserting a dark-faced bracket at the beginning of the line; amend sec. 3, page 8, line 29, by inserting a dark-faced bracket at the end of the line; amend sec. 3, page 9, line 1, by inserting a dark-faced bracket at the beginning of the line; amend sec. 3, page 9, line 9, by inserting a dark-faced bracket at the end of the line; amend sec. 4, page 10, line 21, by striking out the numeral "4" and inserting in lieu thereof: "3"; amend sec. 5, page 13, line 27, by striking out the numeral "5" and inserting in lieu thereof: "4"; amend sec. 6, page 14, line 27, by striking out the numeral "6" and inserting in lieu thereof: "5"; amend sec. 7, page 15, line 25, by striking out the numeral "7" and inserting in lieu thereof: "6"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I was attempting to do my routine work here a few minutes ago and someone followed me into the cloak room and started to annoy me about a bill. I explained to him I was busy and while I was absent for a few moments, I understand from persons who heard, that this man was talking in a very derogatory fashion.

Mr. President, I ask the Chair to see that these men are kept off the floor, because I do not intend to get into any litigation with any of them.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to repeat what he has formerly stated; that the rooms in the rear of the rostrum are for members only.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 788, as follows:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1647) entitled "An act relating to the registration of motor vehicles and the licensing of certain operators thereof and providing for the suspension of the registration of any motor vehicle or of the operators license of any operator of a motor vehicle by the Secretary of Revenue for violation of the provisions of the public utility company law authorizing the rescission of such suspension and providing for the disposition of fees" by extending the provisions thereof to contract carriers by motor vehicle

Section 1 Sections one and two of the act approved the eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1647) entitled "An act relating to the registration of motor vehicles and the licensing of certain operators thereof and providing for the suspension of the registration of any motor vehicle or of the operator's license of any operator of a motor vehicle by the Secretary of Revenue for violation of the provisions of the public service company law authorizing the rescission of such suspension and providing for the disposition of fees" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Secretary of Revenue shall suspend the registration of any motor vehicle upon the presentation to said secretary of a certificate of the Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania setting forth that after hearing and investigation the [Public Service Commission] Public Utility Commission has found and determined that said motor vehicle has been operated as a common carrier by motor vehicle within this Commonwealth without the approval of such operation by the Public Utility Commission

Section 2 The Secretary of Revenue shall suspend the operator's license of any operator of a motor vehicle upon the presentation to said secretary of a certificate from the Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania setting forth that after hearing and investigation the Public Utility Commission has found and determined that said operator has operated a motor vehicle as a common carrier or contract carrier by motor vehicle without the approval of the Public Utility Commission

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill has been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 818, (House Bill No. 1324), entitled:

An Act to further amend section thirty-two of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" further providing for ascertaining the change of classification of counties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I agree with the purpose of this bill, but I am afraid the framers have created a situation that may react unfairly. This bill was intended to exclude from the tabulations of population those persons who live on land ceded to the Federal Government. Now, Mr. President, that may be all right now, if those persons were included in the census. It may be from now on people who are not included in the census will be living on land ceded to the Federal Government, and yet the townships trying to get a higher classification will have deducted from their population people who should not have been deducted, because they were not even included in the original census.

It seems to me, Mr. President, this bill ought to be amended so as to provide that where the people were included in the original census, those who live on such land should not be included in the classification. I suggest, therefore, that the bill go over in order so that the proper amendments can be made if necessary.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 818, (House Bill No. 1324) on third reading go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. CHAPMAN (at the request of the sponsor). Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 838, on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire on behalf of the Commonwealth, the site of Fort Zeller in Lebanon County and land adjacent thereto, as a recreational spot for the people of the Commonwealth.

be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of further study.

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 839, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 7 of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 374) entitled "An act providing for the licensing and regulation of corporations co-partnerships associations and individuals engaged in the business of receiving payments or contributions to be held or used in any plan of accumulation or investment or of issuing negotiating offering for sale or selling any certificates securities contracts or other choses in actions evidenced by writing on the partial payment or instalment plan or of assuming fixed obligations or issuing in connection therewith a contract based upon payments being made upon instalments or single payments under which all or part of the total amount received is to be repaid at some future time with or without profit and imposing penalties" requiring corporations and persons licensed under said act to deposit additional security with the Commission for the fulfillment of their contracts

Section 1 Section 7 of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 374) entitled "An act providing for the licensing and regulation of corporations copartnerships associations and individuals engaged in the business of receiving payments or contributions to be held or used in any plan of accumulation or investment or of issuing negotiating offering for sale or selling any certificates securities contracts or other choses in actions evidenced by writing on the partial payment or instalment plan or of assuming fixed obligations or issuing in connection therewith a contract based upon payments being made upon instalments or single payments under which all or part of the total amount received is to be repaid at some future time with or without profit and imposing penalties" as amended by the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 788) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 7 The Commission may require every corporation or person licensed under the provisions of this act to set apart a fund as additional security for the fulfillment of its contracts Such fund shall be invested in bonds of the character described in Section 4 of this Act or in such other securities as the Commission may from time to time designate by rule or regulation and forthwith deposited with the commission in the same manner and under the same terms as prescribed by said section provided such corporations or person may deposit cash with the commission in lieu of securities The commission may require every corporation or person licensed hereunder to file with it the names and addressers of contract holders in Pennsylvania together with the liability of such corporation or person to such contract holders

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 843, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two hundred nine of an act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for the reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, board, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by further prescribing the compensation of the Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth and recommitting to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAYLOR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Dauphin state the reason for recommitting this bill to the Appropriation Committee?

Mr. TAYLOR. At the request of the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not think there is more than four thousand dollars involved in this matter, and it seems to me with a budget somewhere in the neighborhood of millions—is it not—we should not worry about four thousand dollars.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that this bill ought to go back. I know it is embarrassing to the chairman to take any action on these bills when they come up, particularly this bill, because he has no interest in it, but, on the other hand, I object to the referring of this bill to the Appropriations Committee unless the gentleman will tell us he has no money.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I requested that the bill be referred to the Committee on Appropriations, not for the purpose of killing the bill, but to see how much money we have left a little later in the session.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 930, (House Bill No. 1588), as follows:

An Act to amend and reenact section five hundred and twenty-four of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 787

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 787 entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed, or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, or reform, revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies, and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violation of the provisions of this act, and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," by further defining the terms "common carrier by motor vehicle" and "contract carrier by motor vehicles;" giving the commission additional authority over the alteration, relocation or abolition of crossings; further regulating the right to render service as a contract carrier by motor vehicle; prohibiting the imposition of costs upon the commission in appeals to the Superior Court; subjecting persons and corporations to certain civil penalties for violating the act; prohibiting motor carriers, common carriers by airplane and any operator or employe of such carriers, and brokers from exceeding the authority of the certificate of public convenience granted such carriers and brokers; and changing the penalty with respect thereto; and eliminating the requirement that certain attempts to evade or defeat regulation for carriers or brokers must be fraudulent in order to be punishable passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, this bill was previously amended today and will appear on the Calendar for tomorrow on final passage as amended. The Chair understands the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, now desires to offer additional amendments; is that correct?

Mr. KEPHART. I desire to offer further amendments to the bill, Mr. President.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the bill in the possession of the Clerk?

The PRESIDENT. It is.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I wish to suggest that it is impossible to follow the amendments and I want to suggest that this is getting to be a pretty bad way in which to amend the bills. I remember we just got through amending this bill, taking from the commission the authority over the alteration and relocation of crossings and so on. Mr. President, I do not see any reference to this subject in the title, and if we are going to amend these bills in this fashion, I feel we are going to have them in such shape that we will be printing them four or five times. I think this bill ought to go back to committee, if that is the situation, and have the amendments discussed in committee instead of this way; when the bill will have to be printed four times now.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, as far as the title is concerned the amendments I just introduced are covered by a part of page 3 which further defines the term, "common carrier motor vehicles."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this does not define the term "common carrier"; this defines a different kind of carrier.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object to the present amendments, because the bill as amended is not on my desk.

The PRESIDENT. The bill is in the same status as it was before it was amended, and the Chair is of the opinion that additional amendments can be offered by unanimous consent, as has been done previously.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the amendments made by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, were made to the bill and those amendments are not on my desk at this time, and I do not know in what respect these amendments may alter or affect the previous amendments. I have no way of knowing.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the point of order raised by the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is well taken.

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 787 be recommitted to the Committee on Public Utilities.

Mr. MALLERY. I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, are there some amendments which have been submitted?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I would like to request the sponsor of those amendments to withdraw them.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would say the amendments are not pending for the reason that a point of order was raised by the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, and his point of order was sustained. Therefore, the amendments are not before us.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 567 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING, POSTPONED

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 567, on second reading, postponed, Page 31, of the Calendar.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 567 DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 567, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections one and two of the act, approved the twenty-first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1982), entitled, "An act authorizing the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to prescribe rules of practice and procedure in civil actions at law and in equity in certain courts of this Commonwealth, to prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct of any general business, either civil or criminal, by judges of any court of record; authorizing the courts of common pleas to prescribe and adopt local rules, not inconsistent with such general rules of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to appoint a Procedural Rules Committee, and to fix and define its powers and duties; imposing duties on judges and other officers of every court of record;" empowering the Supreme Court to prescribe rules of practice and procedure and for the conduct of the business of the Orphans' Court be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I recall this bill it gives the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth the same right to make uniform rules, for the Orphans Courts which we gave in the 1937 Session, I think it was, to the Supreme Court, to make for the Common Pleas Courts.

The various judges of the Orphans Courts have been in consultation and communication with most of the members of the Senate. There are a number of conflicting rules in the Orphans Courts which are creating considerable difficulty, in attempting to facilitate the business of the courts. If anywhere they need a codification of rules they need it in the Orphans Court. In every county of the Commonwealth there seems to be different rules and there has been a committee organized which I understand is to frame rules, which seem to have met with the approval of all the Orphans Courts of the various counties. The rules were made by a committee consisting of judges of the Orphans Courts.

I do not know why this motion was made, but if there is any real reason for it I would be glad to be advised as to the reason.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I spoke to the sponsors of this bill and they were not opposed to the motion because this bill has been considered, I think, by all the lawyers of this body. It is time that some power is left with the local districts. In my little county we have a fine system of Orphans Court procedure and I know in the counties surrounding me we have very fine rules of procedure.

Why take from the various counties the power to make their own rules and give it to the Supreme Court? This is home rule in the finest sense of the term. We know in Washington County what rules we want; Philadelphia may know what rules they want but that is a matter, as I see it, for every local county district and that is why I am against this form of procedure.

I voted against the bill in 1937, and I have had lots of lawyers tell me now who were in favor of it at that time that they made a mistake in voting for the bill. If you will look at the advance sheets, particularly the District-County Reports today, you will see dozens of decisions trying to construe those rules and for that reason I see no purpose in giving the Supreme Court further power in making rules and procedure for the various local Orphans Courts in this state and I think the majority of lawyers who come from the various small districts will agree with these statements.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. REED and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—45

RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 124 CALLED UP

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, at this time I call up for action Senate concurrent resolution number 124, which is found on page 241 of the Senate History. This is a resolution memorializing Congress to liberalize action by the Federal Government in connection with our pensions to the blind.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Resolution was as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE

ASSISTANCE TO BLIND PERSONS

In the Senate, April 14, 1941.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania recognizing the duty of the Commonwealth to provide for its unfortunate blind citizens has provided for the payment to them of a pension; and

Whereas, The Federal Government contributes toward the care of blind persons but insists that moneys apportioned to any state for such purpose must and can only be contributed on a basis of the actual need of the blind; and

Whereas, This Commonwealth receives no part of Federal funds apportioned for blind persons because its system of assistance for the blind is on a liberal pension basis instead of the basis of actual need as required by the Federal Social Security Act; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the Congress of the United States is hereby memorialized to amend the Social Security Law of the Federal Government by providing for the contribution of Federal funds for assistance to blind persons to states which provide for such assistance either on a basis of actual need or on a pension basis; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy hereof be transmitted to the President and Vice President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to the Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States from this Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

URGING SENATE TO ENDORSE
JUNE DAIRY MONTH

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Scarlett and myself, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WADE and SCARLETT offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, May 27, 1941.

Whereas, Nationally organized milk and dairy products interests have proclaimed the month of June, 1941—the first to thirtieth, inclusive—as JUNE DAIRY MONTH; and

Whereas, This event is designed to increase the consumption of milk and dairy products during the period of peak production and thereby decrease the milk surplus that depresses the milk markets, such surplus milk adversely affecting the dairy farmer's cash income; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania is a leader in the dollar value of milk produced annually; and

Whereas, Milk purchased from dairy farms in Pennsylvania's sixty-seven counties exceeds $100,000,000 annually, the largest single cash farm income received by the farmer; and

Whereas, There are more than 125,000 farmers owning cattle herds producing milk in every one of Pennsylvania's sixty-seven counties; and

Whereas, Milk manufacturers and distributors, grocery, drug and variety stores, restaurant and hotel operators, and various other vendors in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have organized for the purpose of co-operating with milk producing farmers in this intensive JUNE DAIRY MONTH Campaign.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved: That the State Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania endorses JUNE DAIRY MONTH and calls upon the consumers of the State to help Pennsylvania's milk producing farmers materially increase their market for milk and dairy products during JUNE DAIRY MONTH.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 39

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Butler will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the boys who are just leaving the gallery to please return.

It seems I am a little late with my request, Mr. President, as some of the boys have left the gallery, but I just want to call to the attention of the Senate the fact that these boys are members of the band which gave such a delightful concert in the lobby of the Capitol at the noon hour. This band is from my district. It is the Kittanning High School band from Armstrong County and I am very proud to have them with us today.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Butler permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARR. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I desire to ask the gentleman from Butler to state whether this band is also from the same district as was ex-Senator Sipe?

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, this band comes from the same county in which my distinguished predecessor resides, but not from the same county in which the Butler T. B. Sanatorium is located.

RESOLUTION RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 66
FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 27, 1941.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 66, Printer's No. 51, entitled "An act to further amend the last paragraph of section four hundred thirty-nine of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled 'An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto' imposing additional duties on and providing for additional compensation of veterans' grave registrars", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Fayette explain the reason he has introduced this resolution?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this bill has passed both houses and it was sent to the Governor, who in turn delivered it to the Attorney General for inspection and the Attorney General has forwarded to me this resolution, with a letter addressed to me which says "Enclosed please find recall resolution on Senate Bill 66, together with proposed amendments as discussed." Both the Governor and the Attorney General think this bill should be amended in some particulars, and I have the amendments, as soon as the bill has been returned to us.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Warren will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President,

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE UNITED STATES

As the late Will Rogers said "All I know is what I read in the newspapers", but during this past week, I have not been able to derive much comfort from what I have read. War clouds seem to lower much more ominously than they have and the outlook today for the vanquishment of Hitler and all he expresses seems to be more drear than for weeks.

A new type of war has been unleashed. War from the air in which parachutists have dropped from the clouds, gliders have been guided to the shores of Crete and even artillery has been unloaded from airplanes for the men landed. It is a new sort of war. German made, with devilish ingenuity. And it seemingly is successful. The RAF has had to withdraw under the preponderance of German air might and the Nazis are supreme commanders of the air. The soldiers of Hitler have died by thousands but still on they come in the face of a slaughter that would appall any but a blood crazed despot. Lives mean nothing to Hitler. Blood is his delight and death is his comrade.

And in the face of the death dealing hordes from the air where is vaunted "all out aid for Britain"? Where are the planes that our factories were to turn out in clouds until Hitler's fliers were driven from the skies? The British have relied on the smooth words of our leaders at Washington; have placed dependence on their promises and have turned a hopeful eye toward our shores.

For months Americans shocked at the pitiful slaughter of women and children in British cities, spoke loudly of help for Britain. Parlor patriots clicked needles and rolled bandages while they drank tea and ate English biscuits. All very society, you know. But somehow this spirit has cooled. Needles still click and some bandages are rolled but the inspired spirit of help for Britain has had the edge taken off.

Instead there has grown a feeling under the speeches of Lindbergh, Nye, Wheeler and others that we just shouldn't mix into the affair too deeply and the British had better make peace while she has some possessions left. The feeling now is that we should become impregnable and if Hitler wants to attack us we will show him something. It is dangerous propaganda.

In Washington there has grown up a mob of favored employees, men placed in key positions through pull and influence and strikes have been condoned in high places and sympathy expressed for the poor workers who are demanding big wages and short hours. Our President talks of sacrifices but his bureaucrats create [sinecures and] soft berths for their friends.

What is needed in this country today is leadership. It looks to me as if the vast millions appropriated for defense may find themselves used for the perpetuating of a dynasty of first ladies and captains as went the unearmarked millions that were voted for relief. Most of them were earmarked "On to Chicago", and our defense millions may well be earmarked "Stay in Washington". It is high time [that that nation let the Administration and its bungling cohorts in the Nation's capitol know] that action and not "fireside chats" is what is wanted.

And one of the prime offenders is Madam Perkins. She should resign and do it quickly. The demand should ring from coast to coast and in clarion tones that she place her resignation in the hands of the President and allow someone with at least a speaking knowledge of what her office demands to be in her place at the cabinet table. Ignorant of the needs of labor; wholly unaware of the needs of the Nation, she has harbored Reds and pampered parlor pinks. She has no place in the councils of Nation on the verge of war.

Much, due to Madam Perkins there has grown a rift between labor and capital. Much, due to her, there has been a reign of strikes in industry. She has caused friction and distrust to be roused in the ranks of labor and capital. Both have rights that must not be infringed upon and those rights should be preserved, but the attitude of Madam Perkins has been such that she had no balm with which to heal the wounds of either party and smooth out their differences. Today the cabinet of the President of the United States has no room for such a person as Madam Perkins and she should go.

There should be in our Nation's capitol, men in whom the people at large trust implicitly. Men of integrity; men of [that] Americanism who place their country before all other interests. It is a time when placing of political favorites in places of trust where they fit as well as a square peg in a round hole, must be halted.

Candidly, I am alarmed at the outlook. I feel that our Nation has the men; has the money; the factories and mechanics to turn out the machines of war, if they are not hampered by red tape and one man decisions. I read recently that the burdens of the day were wearing on the President. Why should all final decisions rest on his shoulders? Make a plan and stick to it, should be the order of the day. I cannot feel that all knowledge, all good judgment and all final decisions should be encompassed in one man [the mind of Franklin D. Roosevelt.] [His past performances are not such as to give one the desire to exclaim "Well done, good and faithful servant".]

We have all read, that by the middle of 1941, war munitions should be streaming out of American plants in a manner that would make their influence felt in the battle with Hitler. It is now close to the middle of 1941 and just the other day I picked up my paper and read that by June, 1942, we would be in stride and the supplies would be forthcoming.

Why are they not parading out of the factories now? This is the date set for the pouring forth of the material that would crush the despots. You and I can well remember the days of 1917-18 when the press was filled with the stories of the Liberty motor which was to send airplanes speeding over the German lines. And how many Liberty motors ever reached France? I have never read anywhere that one arrived at its destination. Our efforts then were a flat failure and our troops by thousands bore British arms into battle, fired French artillery and flew Italian planes. Is history being repeated?

They tell us that we are weak and that while we have the most valiant men in the world, they are not equipped to meet the mechanized divisions of the dictators on the battle field. England's Aussies, who in the World War beat the Germans every time and place were routed in Greece by the preponderance of German machines. Brave bodies are no match for iron and steel.

Hitler and his minions get for a dime what it is costing us a dollar to secure. His slaves do his bidding and the work day is from sunrise to sunset. In our Nation they are prating that all should sacrifice and work, but on the other side of their lips, they whisper encouragement to labor leaders who are seizing the opportunity to erect a vast organization that some of these days may be a danger to the heart of our liberties. Aye, even now a [beetle browed] leader says he may tie up the defense program by calling a strike of followers who give him blind allegiance.

I may have the wrong picture in my mind of conditions in our land, but I have had that picture painted by reading of the American newspapers which I have found at all times to be fearless and truthful. Thank God no way has yet been found to keep our newspaper from printing the truth. When they do our liberty is at an end.

I have appealed to the men of this Senate to carry home to their people the picture of the defense scheme of this Nation: Of how it has been allowed to lag and drag beneath political chicanery. The people of Pennsylvania, descendants of the men of '76 who in Philadelphia decided to band together for liberty, are ready to fight if need be to preserve their independence, but if they are being misled by a coterie of incompetent leaders, they should be told the truth. The need of America today more than any other one thing is a leader in the high ranks in whom the people have implicit trust.

BILLS SIGNED

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, May 27, 1941

The House met at 12 m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, teach us, we pray Thee, the more excellent way of love. Help us to realize the power, the beauty, and the enduring worth of love. Rebuke us for our loveless living and for our trust in forces alien to the life of the Spirit.

Remind us of the danger of dreaming and not daring, of resolving and not acting. Give unto each of us a freshness of Spirit that together we may do good to all men.

We pray Thee, our heavenly Father, that Thy healing hand may touch the body of Representative Welsh of Fayette, of whom it was reported met with an accident. May we, not only as Representatives, but as Thy children, give thanks to Thee this day for the measure of health and strength that is ours. This we ask in the name of Him from whom we learned that God is love. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. POWERS, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1537, Senate Bill No. 381, Printer's No. 233, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1524.

Mr. McINTOSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1524, Printer's No. 534, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (Act No. 17), entitled "An act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county (except counties of the second class), city (except cities of the first and second class), borough, town, township, school district (except school districts of the first class), poor district (except in counties of the second class), and county institution district (except in counties of the second class) taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof," eliminating the provision authorizing the rejection of the provisions of the act.

was defeated on Final Passage on Tuesday, May 20th, be reconsidered.

Mr. WOLF. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. McIntosh vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. McINTOSH. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Wolf vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WOLF. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to call to the attention of the Members of the House that this is a bill providing for a compulsory tax abatement. In the confusion which exists in connection with this type of motion, I think the Members may not be fully acquainted with what is before them and I merely desire to call the attention of the Members to what is before them at this time.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. McIntosh.

The Speaker. Will the gentleman from Cumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McINTOSH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. McIntosh if the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill failed of passage is made for the purpose of reconsidering the vote by which the bill passed third reading? I understand you are going to amend the bill?

Mr. McINTOSH. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cumberland yields to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEISS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland will proceed.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I will say we are considering some amendments.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss, if they are going to amend the bill before it is brought up again for final passage?

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, the possibility is that there will be some amendments before final passage.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss, just what those amendments may be?

Mr. WEISS. We haven't definitely decided what they will be as yet. However, we have them in mind at the present time.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss. In view of the fact that the proponents of this measure have signified their intention of amending the bill I will not oppose the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appeared to have it. Whereupon, a division was called for ninety-eight members having voted in the affirmative, thirty-eight in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will declare a recess for thirty minutes for the purpose of holding a caucus of the Democratic Members in the new House caucus room, and also for the purpose of holding a caucus of the Republican Members in the Senate caucus room. The Chair hears no objection and declares a recess for thirty minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 1004. (HOUSE BILL No. 1724).

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 708, on page 10 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 573, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 2, page 33, line 14 by striking out, with boldface brackets, after the word "[six]" and before the word "hundred" the word: "[five]" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "six".

Amend section 2, page 33, line 15, by striking out, with boldface brackets, at the beginning of the line, the following: "[($500,000)]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "($600,000)".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the particular amendment offered by the gentleman from Dauphin. The effect of this amendment would be to give to the various licensing boards an increase in appropriation from five hundred thousand dollars to six hundred thousand dollars. May I state our examination disclosed that the boards operated with reasonable efficiency on five hundred thousand dollars in the past biennium. Of course, you know, it is the old effort of the boards to try to get as much money as they possibly can. I am surprised that this happens to be the only amendment that is offered to this particular bill to cut down what our party has seen fit to appropriate. May I say, however, that the sum of five hundred thousand dollars to which this appropriation has been cut, is adequate and sufficient for the boards to operate upon and I ask the Members of the House to defeat the amendment.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the amendment merely puts back into the bill the recommendation made by the Governor and I ask for a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. Woodside, Winner and Eckels.

Messrs. Woodside, Taylor and David P. Reese asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TROUT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House concerning the verification of the roll.

Mr. Speaker, during the calling of the roll the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Royer and myself were engaged in the Governor's office. If we had been here, we would have voted in the affirmative. Whether we can be recorded now is for the Chair to decide.

The SPEAKER. The rules provide that a Member cannot be recorded unless he is present in the hall of the House during the calling of the ayes and nays. The statement of the gentleman will be noted upon the record.

The section was agreed to.

The third, fourth and fifth sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, for a number of months there have been discussions in this House on questions of subversive and unAmerican activities. The question of the teachings of patriotism, of the American way of living and American ideals has been before us on a number of occasions. The question of subversive teachers has been before this House. The question of subversive and unAmerican text books has been before this House, but Mr. Speaker, we have had during the past week a very clear indication of the kind of unAmerican sabotage that can be practiced in this Commonwealth.

On Thursday of last week one of the greatest annual events in this country was held; it was the Shad Planking contest. At that contest I was supposed to be the chief judge. I was down in the courts of Delaware County on the day the contest was held; I was delayed in getting to the contest. When I arrived at that place I found this saboteur taking charge of the proceedings. I tried to protest that as chief judge I should preside. How can you have a court without the judge? How can you have judging without the judge? But notwithstanding my protests, notwithstanding the points of order which I raised, I was steamrollered, I was squelched, I was sat down in my place, and Mr. Speaker, this is no time for levity—my feelings have been hurt.

Now, Mr. Speaker, if I had presided, you would have been certain of a fair and a square decision, not tinged with partisanship, but this saboteur of our American system of living, a component part of the government, the courts,—the courts that we respect—this saboteur brought disrespect upon the courts by presiding and by excluding any judge. Not only did he preside and exclude the judge, but he fixed the thing so that the man he represented as his publicity agent man won the first prize, and the Honorable Senator of Pennsylvania was ruled out on a technicality.

I talked to this Senator last night and he said there was something fishy about the decision. Now, Mr. Speaker, I say to you that this saboteur, who is in the House, the Honorable John M. Cummings, an alleged Columnist and newspaperman is in the House, and I think he should be brought to the bar of the House and cited for contempt; contempt,—I know he will say he has the utmost contempt for the speaker,—that is the man who is addressing the House, not for the Chair. Nevertheless, on that occasion he had contempt for this legislative body and the courts, that is two-thirds of the branches of government, the Legislature being one-third and the courts being one-third, and I certainly think he should be found guilty of contempt, and I ask that he be brought before the Bar of the House.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Delaware, the Speaker attended that Shad Dinner. We had word that there was collusion between the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, and the Senator from Chester, therefore, for that reason he was disqualified. We also heard his favorite dish is mud-cooked shad, therefore, I most regretfully say it is a "shad," "shad" story.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I want to know whether you are not muddying the waters so we cannot get down to the real issue of mud-cooked shad which was far, according to all the people that I interviewed, and that was one person, better than any of the rest, but that is not the issue, whether I was prejudiced or not.

If I were ruled out then the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cummings, a Fifth Columnist,—I mean the columnist of one of our newspapers, was certainly more partisan than I ever thought of being.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will direct the Sergeant-At-Arms to escort the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cummings, to the Bar of the House to answer to the charge that has been brought against him.

Mr. John M. Cummings was brought before the Bar of the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that either the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen or the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy be appointed by the Speaker to represent this saboteur, because I think he is in such a terrible hole that he will need a Philadelphia lawyer to get him out.

The SPEAKER. Is there a good Philadelphia lawyer in the House? The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, whom the Chair appoints as counsel to represent the accused.

Mr. JOHN H. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, we will try to artistically dress up the gentleman who normally needs no defense, but if the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, is trying to pick a bone I suggest that he stick to the plank of the Republican Party and leave the shad alone.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will meet me in room 1016 of the Harrisburger tonight, dealer's choice, we might get down to the question of the fee, but if he wants to move into the sixteenth or the twentieth wards, then I will have to represent him free of charge the same as I do all the others.

Mr. JOHN M. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as I understand it, this bill of indictment has been drawn by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, the first time I ever heard of a Republican from Delaware County complaining about the judicial process or its subsequent developments. A charge of that kind emanating from Delaware County will not hold water.

The SPEAKER. There is a leak somewhere.

Mr. JOHN M. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, you are acquainted with the occasion in question; there was a judge selected, a head judge or a chief judge. Mr. Turner says he was supposed to have been the judge. Well, there is a great difference between a supposition and an actual fact, but whether he was a judge in his own mind or a judge by actual appointment makes little difference. He was very late in appearing. The shad had been consumed then. He was not competent to judge for himself the quality of the shad.

The question that arose was a technical one, and not so technical at that. Senator Scarlett, one of the competitors, was detected in the act of stealing a piece of ice. The rules of International Shad Contests adopted at Geneva in 1898, requires that every contestant come fully provided with the proper facilities for cooking the shad. Senator Scarlett failed to fulfill that rule, and he was ruled out of order and out of the contest, and the decision was rendered by the Speaker of this House after consultation with his Parliamentarian. He was afraid to do that on his own hook, so he called in the Parliamentarian.

The decision was that Senator Scarlett was ruled out of the contest. The first prize was awarded to John Young of York, a great and distinguished shad plunker. The second prize went to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Zimmer Platt, who also turned out a very nice product.

I have no fault to find with Senator Scarlett; he is a very nice man, but rules are rules. This House,—where would it be without its rules? Where is it anyhow with its rules? We have been here since last January with all your rules, and you haven't done anything except try to steal Joe Widener's art from Philadelphia and put it down in Washington.

The distinguished counsel that you have appointed here, if I may digress for a moment on that subject, Mr. Cohen, who has been appointed counsel for me,—I appreciate his kind services; he comes from the sixteenth or twentieth ward in Philadelphia, where there are great connoisseurs of art. The great Dave Lane came from the twentieth ward and he worked with Mr. Widener in building up the great fortune that enabled Mr. Widener to buy this art collection.

Mr. Widener was a butcher and Mr. Lane helped him out in selling his meat. We in Philadelphia have consumed hundreds of tons of Joe Weidener's lamb to help him accumulate this great art collection. Afterwards Mr. Weidener, through his friend Dave Lane, acquired a lot of franchises and as we rode the trolley cars and helped with our nickels and dimes and tokens to accumulate this great art collection.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BREThERICK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. BREThERICK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not talking on the subject of fish.

Mr. JOHN M. CUMMINGS. Yes, Mr. Speaker, we are getting down to fish.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed to fish.

Mr. JOHN M. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the kind of fish we are now discussing concern some of Mr. Wagner's art. If you ever saw some of this art down there, the nudes, are some of the finest in the country. Now, a nude can be presentable and cannot be presentable. Some of the nudes that some of these old timers painted, why even the Speaker of the House would not go around the corner to see.

The SPEAKER. Don't be sure about that.

Mr. JOHN M. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, getting back to the charges that have been levelled here today, the contents at Round Top, as the Speaker will testify, was conducted on the level and I for myself move you, Mr. Speaker, that I be discharged from the contempt proceedings of the House, which I in turn hold in contempt, and be returned to my seat.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House, the real reason the Senator from Chester was disqualified was that there were about sixty people present and he only had one shad.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I don't know what Senator Scarlett had to do with the shad, but on behalf of myself and my client, I plead guilty and I throw myself on the mercy of the court.

The SPEAKER. The Lord have mercy on his soul.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, I think someone ought to arise in defense of a colleague from his own county. If the gentleman from Delaware had not been floundering around with a lot of sharks from Philadelphia and some sucker from Allegheny who would drive eighty miles an hour on the Pike, he might have presided. While there were many croakers present, a "whale" of a time was had by all.

The SPEAKER. That was a very fine talk, it even "smelt" good. The proceedings under the contempt charge are dismissed.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 364, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 566) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled as amended 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties' as reenacted and amended providing for the payment of compensation to volunteer firemen or their dependents" amplifying the provisions thereof as to persons entitled to such payments

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 566) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled as amended 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the termination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties' as reenacted and amended providing for the payment of compensation to volunteer firemen or their dependents" is hereby amended to read as follows

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1021, as follows:

An Act to add section six hundred seventeen and one-tenth to the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" authorizing school districts under certain conditions to appropriate money to non-profit corporations established for the purpose of constructing school buildings for the use of the district

Section 1 The act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended by adding immediately after section six hundred and seventeen thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 617.1 Whenever any school building or buildings have been rendered totally unfit for use by reason of fire acts of God obsolescence overcrowding inadequacy or lack of facilities or other unforeseen cause the board of school directors of any school district shall have power to appropriate money out of the general fund of the school district to any non-profit corporation established for the purpose of constructing school buildings for the use of the school district Provided That before any such money is paid over the corporation shall have entered into a lease with the school district for the buildings proposed to be erected whereby the school district shall have the right to renew such lease at stated periods at a stipulated rental and at any time during the continuance of the lease to purchase the buildings from the corporation at a stipulated price provided however that none of the powers granted by this act shall be used by the board of school directors of said school district without the specific and written approval of the State Department of Public Instruction

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1098, as follows:

An Act to amend section four hundred eight of article four of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1449) entitled "An act establishing a court of record in the County of Allegheny for control care guidance treatment trial placement and commitment of delinquent neglected and dependent children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging delinquency neglect or dependency of children defining the jurisdiction and powers of the court and regulating procedure therein providing for the transfer thereto of certain powers functions and duties from other courts providing for the election of judges thereof the appointment of probation officers other necessary staff officials and assistants providing for housing of same and providing for detention facilities making the contributing to or encouraging of the delinquency neglect or dependency of children a misdemeanor and providing penalties" to further provide for the payment of and liability for the costs of maintenance of children under care of the Juvenile Court by certain persons and by the city or county institution district or county liability to be determined on the basis of the legal settlement of such child at the time of assumption of jurisdiction by the court

Section 1 Section four hundred eight of article four of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1449) entitled "An act establishing a court of record in the County of Allegheny for control care guidance treatment trial placement and commitment of delinquent neglected and dependent children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging delinquency neglect or dependency of children defining the jurisdiction and powers of the court and regulating procedure therein providing for the transfer thereto of certain powers functions and duties from other courts providing for the election of judges thereof the appointment of probation officers other necessary staff officials and assistants providing for housing of same and providing for detention facilities making the contributing to or encouraging of the delinquency neglect or dependency of children a misdemeanor and providing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 408 Support Orders The court may in any case make an order upon the parent or parents guardian or other relative legally responsible for the support of such child to contribute such sum for the support of the child as it may determine The court shall have power to enforce any such support order in like manner as courts of quarter sessions may enforce orders for support under the laws of this Commonwealth

Where a child is placed in a suitable family home or institution for child care not maintained by the county or State and the payment of board and other support is required in case provision is not made for such board and other support by voluntary contribution or court order on the parent or parents guardian or other relative legally responsible for the support of such child the court [may] shall direct that such board and the expense of clothing and necessary medical and surgical care be paid either by the city or county institution district liability to be determined on the basis of the legal settlement of the child at the time of assumption of jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court until provision is made for the placing of such child in a suitable family home without payment of board In all cases of children now being maintained in family homes or institutions for child care the judge of the Juvenile Court shall make a finding as to the legal settlement of the child at the time of assumption of jurisdiction by the Court and shall make an order effective January 1 1942 upon the appropriate city or county institution district for the future board and other support of such child

In the case of the commitment of a child to an industrial training school or other correctional institution the court [may] order the county to pay for the board and clothing and of necessary medical and surgical attendance upon and the care of such child and its maintenance generally and the necessary expenses of placing and replacing the child and may fix the amount which shall be paid for the child Provided That in all cases of commitments to industrial training schools that are not exclusively under State control or that are exclusively under State control the amount of the order for maintenance clothing instruction medical and surgical care shall be fixed according to existing legislation governing the payment of expenses of maintenance clothing instruction medical and surgical care of children committed to such institution

In all cases where the cost of board or care and maintenance of a child has been ordered paid by the city or county institution district or county [it] said city or county institution district or county shall be directly liable to the person family association society or institution having the care guidance and control of the child but the city or county institution district or county shall in all cases have full course to recover the amounts so paid from the person or persons or institution districts or poor district liable for the support of such child

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 849, Printer's No. 707, on page 14, of today's calendar, bills on final passage, for the purpose of amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 849, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the nineteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1356), entitled, "An act to regulate the sale and delivery of solid fuel, as herein defined; providing for appointments of licensed weighmasters; prescribing their powers and duties; authorizing substitute licensed weighmasters imposing certain duties on the Department of Internal Affairs; and providing penalties," further regulating the issuing to and revocation and suspension of licenses of weighmasters; requiring the use of suitable scales; regulating the issuing, use and keeping of weighmaster's certificates; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State, city, and county inspectors of weights and measures and the Department of Internal Affairs; declaring certain proofs to constitute prima facie evidence of a violation of the act; extending the provisions of said act to cases heretofore exempted; and prescribing additional and increased penalties.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was agreed to on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger vote on agreeing to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rosenfeld vote on agreeing to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend as follows: Section 1, Section 8.2, Page 13, lines 15 to 19 inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 8), page 13, by inserting between lines 6 and 7, the following: "In cities of the first class, all hearings shall be held before a magistrate who shall hear such purported violations for one month only, and thereafter another magistrate shall be assigned to hear such cases until all magistrates of such city have been assigned to such hearings. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that there be a rotation of magistrates assigned to such hearings in the same manner as that provided by section eleven of the "Magistrates' Court Act of 1937," approved the fifteenth day of June (P. L. 1743).

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

HOUSE BILL No. 571 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 571, Printer's No. 697, on page 24 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, be made a special order of business immediately.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 571, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and providing for certain allocations from such appropriation by the Department of Public Assistance and also by the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer or the majority thereof

Section 1 The sum of one hundred thirty million three hundred seventy thousand dollars ($130,370,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Public Assistance for the payment of assistance administrative expenses and expenses of liquidating the State Emergency Relief Board as provided by the Public Assistance Law and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Department of Public Assistance for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and for the payment of assistant administrative expenses of liquidating the State Emergency Relief Board attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one

Section 2 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time for the several assistance programs (old age assistance aid to dependent children pensions for the blind general assistance and other programs provided by the Public Assistance Law) for administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance for such administrative expenses incurred by the department which are chargeable to such boards and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department

Section 3 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer or the majority thereof shall from time to time allocate to the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department respectively such sums as may be deemed necessary to pay the administrative expenses of the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department in auditing and disbursing appropriations for or relating to public assistance including any Federal funds supplementing such appropriations.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman whether he feels in his set-up of the budget there is available for appropriation at this time the amount that is contained in this bill.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. I would like to know from the gentleman whether he has taken into account the appropriation that was made for relief for the remainder of this biennium since the budget message was delivered to the House on February third.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman whether he realizes that the general appropriation and all appropriations that are for relief have been used during the present administration and the last administration as items which would be up or down in order to generally balance the budget?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, answering that, it is rather difficult to tell what the Governor expected out of the one hundred and thirty-one million dollars plus. I notice he is going to pay some particular borrowings this year out of this particular fund. So I suppose he uses it as some form of barometer, goodness knows what.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Monroe, has not answered my question as apparently he does not understand it. I want to know from the gentleman whether he realizes in the making up of the budget the Governor always uses the appropriation for relief as the final bill concerning appropriations.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I doubt, Mr. Speaker, if it makes a great deal of difference, due to the fact that I computed the budget on the money that is available, the tax program.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is going into a matter that I would like to debate with him for the next ten hours if he wishes to do so.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I answer that second question or shall I complete the answer to the first one?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I asked a question which the gentleman is now dodging, but if he wishes to answer it I will be glad to have him do so.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman means do I know what the Governor's custom was, no, I do not know what his custom was.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman whether he knows what the custom was in making up all budgets, not only during the present administration but in the past. Of course the gentleman does not seem to know, so we will pass that matter over.

I would like to know from the gentleman whether or not he considers now that the one hundred thirty-one million dollars will be a sufficient appropriation to carry relief all through the present biennium.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Answering that Mr. Speaker, on the basis of the amount which the present administration is giving to those individuals unfortunate enough to be on relief, I would say that very likely the amount would be sufficient, especially in view of the fact that the defense program has fortunately removed some of them from the relief rolls. I would say at least with the standards which they are furnishing that the amount should be sufficient to carry it into the next regular session of the Legislature.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that the present trend would indicate that the $131,000,000 will be sufficient to carry through the biennium?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I believe I have already given an answer to that by saying that I believe it will be sufficient at least to carry it into the next regular session of the Legislature, that is 1943, so that there will be no need for a special session of the Legislature.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I assume from that that the gentleman feels there will not be sufficient to carry through until the end of the biennium, but that it will be sufficient only to carry to the next regular session of the Legislature, that is 1943, is that correct?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has no right to assume that. If the National Defense Program continues at the rate at which it is now going, and if three shifts become the regular order of the day for employment then I would say that the $131,000,000 provided for in the bill will be more than adequate and that there will be a saving, an actual saving, a recapture out of the amount provided for in the bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. At the end of the biennium, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, under the conditions which I mentioned.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the conditions which the gentleman has mentioned are that the present economic condition will continue in the same status in which it is at the present time?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. No, Mr. Speaker, I stated that if the program of rearmament will finally result in the employment of three shifts per day the amount of employment should be sufficient to take off every one that is now on relief that is capable of working.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, and if everybody is taken off relief that is capable of working, what would the gentleman say the monthly amount payable for relief under the present standard of payment would be?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I can only base my figures on that which has been given to me by the Secretary of the Department of Public Assistance. His figures indicate possibly five million dollars a month or one hundred and twenty million dollars for the biennium. However, even there, frankly the figures were not necessarily static because the change of conditions of employables in the family might remove certain recipients of old-age assistance and of other forms of assistance from the rolls. It is a rather difficult question to answer without making reservations to the answer.

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is all for the moment, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, after approximately four months we have been hearing from the other side statements that the budget of the Governor was not honest. I am interested in how the dishonesty of the budget results.

The first statement of the gentleman, and this is the "charity" part of that famous "faith, hope, and charity" speech, was that the budget was not honest in that it did not provide sufficient funds for relief, and so he put in a bill to provide for two hundred million dollars for relief. He says that the budget of the Governor is dishonest; it is dishonest because it does not provide sufficient money for relief. Then, time marches on, and now they turn around and say, "Oh, yes, the situation is different. We now expect that this will be enough money to pay for relief during the entire biennium. As a matter of fact, there might even be some left over at the end of the biennium." Therefore, this budget which they say is dishonest in not providing a sufficient amount for relief on February 3rd, by estimating the cost of relief at seventeen million dollars less than what the gentlemen on the other side felt it should be, it now develops that it contains sufficient money for relief. So, taking this shift in the "hope" attitude of the gentleman's famous "faith, hope, and charity" speech, we now have a complete turn-around in the "charity" part of that speech. As I say, this dishonest budget which happened to be dishonest on the one side on February 3rd, now is turned around and is dishonest on the other side of the picture. So we come along, first on one side and then on the other, first it is too high, then it is too low; first it is too much, then it is not enough.

As a matter of fact, the gentleman is passing here on budget items which do not fit into the budget picture at all, as the gentleman well knows. I mean by that that the unofficial budget which the gentleman from Monroe has submitted to this House does not fit into the picture at all. It is the Governor's budget item for relief made up as it was on February 3, containing an item which was in fact a cushion at that time. The amount appropriated as absolutely necessary during the biennium on February 3 when the budget was submitted was $120,000,000 and $11,000,000 as a cushion item which was added on to it because if there was any additional amount of course it should be added to the relief appropriation because it is impossible to estimate with any great degree of accuracy exactly how much money was going to be needed for relief. Of course, this Defense Program which the gentleman has talked about, the economic situation as it exists today is not as promising as it was thought to be eight or ten months ago; it is not as promising as it was three or four months ago, as a matter of fact. Relief, therefore, still continues to be a larger burden than we hoped it would be. Of course, it is necessary to make appropriations for relief of as much money as is available in the State funds, and we propose to do it. But when this whole budget picture is set up the gentleman on the other side is going to see, as I think in fact he sees at the present time, that under this set-up there is not now available for relief the sum of $131,000,000 or any sum near that amount. The gentleman on the other side, if he would be honest with the Members of this House and with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would tell you that fact today, but he is playing the old game, "We are going to decrease the taxes, we are to charge an increased amount of deficit, we are going to increase the appropriations, we are going to say to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 'Look at what we have done, we have given you your cake, we have permitted you to eat it and yet you still have it'".

That is the kind of budget which the Democrats in this House, or rather the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, is presenting to this House in his budget recommendation.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I assumed in our figures that certain tax measures would be enacted by not only this House but by the Senate, especially in view of the fact that the particular tax measures are now the adopted children of the Republican Party. True they are emergency measures which will die on the last day of May and need re-enactment in order that there will be revenue produced for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but since they are so close to the Republican party I have little doubt that they will become effective measures again and that the funds will then be available. The position of this House is not out of line with the ordinary procedure in matters of this kind. Tax measures are now in the Senate and I assume are receiving consideration since they are Republican tax measures, with certain reductions that are Democratic ideas upon the subject, so that the passage of this measure over to the Senate is only a part of companion legislation, and the tax legislation certainly cannot be condemned or criticized at this moment. If we want to follow the thoughts of the gentleman perhaps we would have to hold up the relief measures and the general appropriations bill as a matter of course until not only the Senate has passed the tax measures but the Governor has actually signed them. That has never been the custom in this House, as the gentleman well knows, and we do not intend to change the usual procedure in this House just because the gentleman might wish it so.

Mr. Speaker, in relation to the amount, may I say to the membership of this House that employment in Pennsylvania is in excess of three million four hundred thousand individuals, an increase in the year of over forty-four per cent? May I add that the greater portion, or a substantial portion of that increase has occurred in the last three or four months, making a completely different picture of the situation than that which we viewed at the beginning of this year.

May I say frankly that the figures we originally advanced were found to be in error, and finding them in error we treated them honestly, we have so admitted and have so stated and we are passing legislation in line with the facts as we find them now to be. In other words, perhaps it wouldn't hurt the Republican party, finding their estimates to be in error, and they are in error, to admit frankly that "the situation has changed materially from the time we first prepared and presented our figures and we are ready to concede that we are in error, an honest error, of course, but an error that changes the entire set up." The gentleman says, "Oh, it is wrong to pass this measure at this time." May I say that the Senate passed a bill for eleven million dollars devoted to the same subject for the coming biennium. Certainly there is nothing wrong with that and I do not criticize it, but if we were to follow the philosophy of the gentleman from Dauphin, if we were to use the same logic, we would say, these bills should not proceed. Wait until we see where the money is coming from; wait until the emergency tax bills are passed in the House."

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from

Monroe has put words into my mouth which I did not use. I did not say that this bill should not be passed; I did not say that there should be no relief appropriation made at this time; I did not say it was necessary for the House to wait until the tax bills were passed before we passed the appropriation bill. What I did say was that the gentleman in his own personal budget which he submitted to the House last night is not fair and honest in stating that the amount available for this appropriation is one hundred thirty-one million dollars or anything near that sum, because as a matter of fact it is not. I am saying that the majority party of this House is trying to fool the people on relief; trying to fool the taxpayers and the people of Pennsylvania by stating to them that there is available for relief under their unofficial budget the sum of one hundred thirty-one million dollars. Of course, we have got to provide money for relief.

The gentleman has raised a question on the bill which has just come over from the Senate and which the Appropriations Committee has reported out to be read for the first time today. It has always been the custom of this House in the Appropriations Committee of the House to see that relief would not break down, but does the gentleman have any concern about it? No, and it was necessary to introduce the bill in the Senate and put it through in order that relief would not break down on June 2d. The gentlemen knew about it. I called their attention to it several times. I called their attention to it on the floor of the House on more than one occasion. It is absolutely necessary to have signed by the Governor by June 2d an appropriation bill for relief or else relief checks on June 2d will not go out. Yet, the gentlemen did nothing about it. They held this appropriation bill, they knew that this item was in the budget from the third day of February of this year, and yet they did nothing about it until this day when they now pass over to the Senate this bill.

I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that this whole program should have gone over to the Senate long ago.

I stood here and I warned the gentleman as to what was coming. But, no, you were not concerned about it, you were going to hold up these bills until the time relief would break down, and then you would go up and down the state of Pennsylvania and say, "See what we told you in our campaign in 1938, that Arthur James would not take care of you on relief." You were willing to let the whole system break down, you were trying to put the Republican party in a box, you were trying to put the people of Pennsylvania in a box and by so doing you would place the Republican party in a box. You had no concern about the people who were going to be without relief on June 2nd; you held this bill in committee from the time it was introduced—I don't know when, but early in February or March; you knew about the amount recommended in the budget on February 3, your Appropriations Committee knew about that. Did you put in any special bill to take care of the emergency? No sir, you were going to pass today a bill which was in your committee, the amount of which you knew from the third day of February, and today you are going to pass that bill over to the Senate and say, "Here is a matter of grave importance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that ought to be passed before June 2." You are going to ask the Senate to sit here on Saturday, I suppose, to pass this bill, to stay over for three consecutive days to consider a matter which you had in your committee for four months. That is not fair to the Senate, that is not fair to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You had an alternative in the matter and I called your attention to that alternative some time ago. That was to put in another bill, you could put it through in order that there would be temporary relief. You had no concern about it, you did nothing about it. You passed it over to the Senate and you are now taking action on this bill for the first time, with the hope of getting it passed so that the people on relief will be able to get their checks in June.

It was the action of the Senate which made that possible. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, we are not complaining about the amount of appropriation for relief, we are not saying that the Appropriation Bill should not be passed in the sum of $130,000,000; there is not a man in this House who is going to vote against the Appropriation Bill, I am sure, but I say to you that the amount which has been set forth in that bill by the Appropriations Committee at this time in their consideration, and mark you this, this is important, in consideration of the other items contained in your unofficial budget, there is not now available for relief the amount which is contained in this bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I sort of sympathize with the minority floor leader for being placed in the position where his blood pressure has gone up quite a few degrees because he finds himself in the position that was so ably described in an editorial appearing in the Pittsburgh Press last night. The heading of the editorial is "Mr. James' Dilemma." The article then goes on as follows:

"Governor Arthur H. James was elected on a platform calling for economy and reduction of taxes, and never made good on either. Not one of the "emergency taxes" enacted during the administration of his predecessor, Governor George H. Earle, has been eliminated or reduced.

"Now it is indicated that tax revenue during his administration will be approximately 91 million dollars greater than during that of Mr. Earle due to economic recovery and particularly to the defense program. Thus, even without cutting expenditures, it would seem that Mr. James could finally make good on some portion of his pledge to reduce taxes. But still he has made no move.

"The Democratic House of Representatives has seized on this situation as a reason for cutting the personal property tax levy by one mill and the tax on bank shares by the same amount. Which leaves Mr. James in a pretty sorry position. If he opposes this reduction—in face of the fact that improved business has raised revenues by many millions—then it is a complete admission that he wasn't anywhere near right in his pre-election pledges. And if he doesn't oppose the cuts he gives to the Democrats the credit for taking the first practical step to carry out the platform upon which he was elected.

"All of which again demonstrates that nobody is doing such effective work to kill the Republican party in this state as are the leaders of that party."

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to speak on this question because I felt that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, had covered the ground so well and so ably, it did not need any further comment. But the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, leave me no other alternative than to say two or three things that were in my mind last night, but because of the lateness of the hour I did not want to continue the debate at that time with the gentleman from Monroe.

In the first place, I would like to ask all these experts on economy, all these experts on State financing, what they would have cut in the last two years in order to have reduced the total expenditures of the state government? The Governor did cut within his own department those amounts which he could cut and which by reason of the personnel and other arrangements he could make a reduction. The Governor was left with two things, a deficit first, and in the second place he was left with increased expenditures that had been placed upon the state during the former administration. I am not going to argue whether those were proper or not, but on the pure question of supplying the necessary appropriations for the General State Authority, for the buildings which have been erected, the amounts of increased expenditures in the state, practically wiped out the savings which the Governor had in mind and which the Governor could have made. Now, anyone can reduce taxes if they use the simple expedient used by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, simply waving your hand and increasing the estimate of the amount of revenue which you expect to get. That would be a very fine way. I say to you if you want to do it on that basis why don't you wipe out the entire four mill tax? Why this puny little one mill reduction? Why not pass a bill wiping out the four mill tax entirely?

The gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, talks about ninety billion dollars income in Pennsylvania which he expects during 1941. I have read where the administration in Washington expects to have one hundred billion dollars income during the next year or two by raising taxation that is necessary in the United States. It is that vicious circle, you borrow more money, you spend more money, you increase the national income, you increase the amount of taxes, and then you get it back. I do not know how I can follow that kind of wisdom, it never sounded like common sense to me. The efforts of the gentleman from Monroe and the efforts of the Democratic party and the efforts of the defenders of the Democratic party, according to this sort of statement which the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, has read, is the same sort of expedient that anyone can use. However, if you are actually going to carry on the state government, you do not carry it on estimates, you carry it on the actual amount of money which is in the treasury and the actual amount of money which you receive from taxation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the actual amount which is collected and returned into the treasury of the Commonwealth. That is what you have to go on. It may be all right to figure that you can take the percentage of national income, that you can take the percentage of increase of the national income figure that increase, and then take the amount of increase in certain taxes during the last two years, and on that you can prognosticate that you will have enough money in the next year in order that you can make tax reductions, but that is not common sense. I think anyone who knows anything about state government, state financing, anyone who knows anything in a common sense way about finances any money and taxes and the cost of government, ought to know that that you can not do it with that kind of method. You must arrive at the actual facts, using hard-headed methods, and in the end there is only one thing that counts, and that is, can you get enough money in to run the business of the government? If you cannot, you will have a deficit, you must abate certain appropriations, and you would be in an awful mess.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, complained about the short amount of time that the Senate would have to consider this measure if they were to pass it to be effective on June 2nd. May I state, Mr. Speaker, that the Senate has had the same length of time to consider not only the budget but the relief problem as has the House. Both the Houses were in session; they knew that this problem was theirs as much as it was ours. We had every right to assume that they would devote the same time and study to it as we did. Apparently they have not. I confine my remarks to the mere assertion that they have not had enough time. In that respect may I point to the particular stop-gap bill which they passed and sent to this House, involving some eleven million dollars, which would seem to indicate that they feel that they need approximately two months more to study the problem. Had we presented different tax measures, had we presented different subjects for consideration other than those that were in the Governor's budget, then perhaps I could understand why they would need more time for study, but the subjects that we studied are the same subjects that they should have studied, and certainly it comes with poor grace to now say that the Senate is not ready to proceed, that it needs more time to study, apparently two months more of time to study.

May I say to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, that he might be surprised as to the method the Revenue Department uses in computing or anticipating taxes. Odd to say, they endeavor to estimate improved conditions, and have recourse to charts indicating an upswing or a down-swing in business. One thing they do not do, they stop their consideration at one particular day without any thought as to whether the business trend will continue or whether it will level off at one particular point. That happens to be the error in the budget estimates, as the Governor has submitted them to this House.

Therefore, after all, Mr. Speaker, what the Democratic party did in estimating receipts and revenues, is sound business practice, far more sound than the practice followed for two years by the Republican party while they were running the state through the wringer in order to reduce expenses, with an expenditure far in excess of any that we have ever had in any Administration heretofore. We understand their methods and we know where they could have made cuts and have saved millions. In other words, they should have made a decrease in expenditures which they spoke about at the beginning of their campaign, a decrease of twenty percent,—a twenty percent decrease that never has occurred. Instead of that what do we have? Increased payrolls, increased expenditures of money, increases shown by their own study.

Mr. Speaker, that is one of the reasons why they find themselves short, with an increased deficit at the end of the biennium instead of wiping out what they term a deficit. If they had practiced the economy they promised they would not be compelled to come in every once in a while and say, "We found another deficit that the Earle administration left us." I am saying, in other words, Mr. Speaker, they would not need to attempt to charge a 20 million, then 30 million, then 60 million and then 70 million deficit. They would have been able to level off. I am saying that the deficit they now have is the deficit of their own party and not ours.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I expected to make some of these remarks later on concerning the budget, but since the question has revolved pretty much around the budget I will discuss that phase of it now with the consent of the House.

In the first place let me say the gentleman has mentioned in his argument that the salaries in the public administration have been high, that we could have saved money if we had cut them down. The gentleman knows that that statement is absolutely not true; that just is not the situation. I have produced a number of times in the record statistics to prove that fact. I know that they are correct and there has been no answer made to that fact. That again is some of the dust that is being thrown by the gentleman on the other side.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I have here the tenth biennial budget as unofficially prepared by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, I am referring to page 2 of his statement. If the gentleman will get it he can follow along better.

Mr. Speaker, I refer the gentleman to the fourth paragraph on page two which states as follows:

"Having determined by this method the factors upon which can be based increased revenues in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the fiscal years, 1941-1943, we made a close study of the actual receipts for the present and past fiscal years in order to determine which revenue remains static."

I ask the gentleman which revenues he found that remained static?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, those revenues in the back of the report, section 2, we have not increased, pages 1, 2 and 3 in the back of the report.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman found any revenues which have a history of decreasing rather than of remaining static?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, we found one in the emergency field with a decrease. In connection with that decrease may I say that the Revenue Department indicated that possibly with a few more investigators they could collect a half million dollars more. I am speaking of the personal property tax. May I add in connection with that that the city of Philadelphia, the county of Philadelphia, has shown something like one half million dollars increase in receipts over the past year. I am wondering whether the fact that there is a decrease in the receipts for this biennium may not be due to the Revenue Department rather than to a lack of taxable property upon which they could receive revenue? However, we treated it in the same manner in which the Governor's office treated it.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman of course is going far afield. I might refer to something which I am sure would help him along a little bit in the consideration of that great opportunity which Appropriations Committee had to decrease the appropriations to the Department of Revenue. Does the gentleman find any other revenues which show a history of bringing in a less amount each year?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in some minor items, yes.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman decrease any of the estimates of revenue as a result of those findings?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I believe in one or two instances I did.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman point out where?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I know in terms of totals there were specific items where same reductions were made, but I am unable to find them at the moment. However I specifically recall reductions that were made in the items over the Governor's estimate.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman states in his next paragraph as follows:

"We also determined those receipts which show a normal, steady year by year growth and applied to them the factor of 7.7% increase, which is based on the average for the seven years from 1933 to 1940."

Do we understand from that that the gentleman has taken the revenues all except those which he has stated are static and found that they have an over-all increase of 7.7 per cent between 1933 and 1940?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Not all, Mr. Speaker. There were certain taxes where the income from the taxes bore direct relationship to the income of the Commonwealth rather than showing an average increase. In those particular fields, as I have stated, particularly in the emergency field, you will find a twenty per cent increase. I think we discussed that not once, but many times, on the floor of this House.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, what does the gentleman refer to them in his paragraph seven in which he states:

"We also determined those receipts which show a normal, steady year by year growth and applied to them the factor of 7.7% increase which is based on the average for the seven years from 1933 to 1940."

What does the gentleman mean by that?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman will find certain tax receipts that are increased on the basis of that percentage, or approximately that percentage.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman give me those taxes?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Yes, the capital stock tax, domestic and foreign; domestic in particular.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman is using 7.7 per cent it ought to be "yes" or "no."

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I am saying "yes," Mr. Speaker, the capital stock tax, domestic and foreign; domestic in particular is one of the fields. Loans tax, corporation—domestic, is another. The insurance premium field is another, and the same in the savings fund field. Those are the fields in which it mostly applies.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, are there any others?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the mercantile field with its license taxes, the business license taxes, wholesale mercantile. Those are the fields that you will find it in.

May I state that I just happened to discover one instance of a reduction that was made in the gross receipts involving boxing and wrestling, although I admit there are several other fields in which there were reductions made.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that was a reduction of two or three thousand dollars?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Four thousand dollars, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the items are negligible in every instance, are they not?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Generally, the income was more or less negligible.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, getting back to the 7 per cent increase, do I understand that those fields that the gentleman has just given have all been increased by the 7.7 per cent, or that the overall of that field is 7?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I am speaking of the overall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has taken and apparently has based a great deal upon the national income. The gentleman has stated here that they have examined the records for the past ten years, showing that the income in the state of Pennsylvania bears an average ratio of 8.2 per cent to the national income.

May I say to the gentlemen on the other side, first, that the national income, even in the past is a matter of estimate. It is not a factual matter and nobody knows what the national income was in 1939. Nobody knows what the national income was in 1938, nobody knows what the national income was in any other year. It is only an estimate, it is only a guess. They have certain calculations upon which they base their estimates, but that is still only an estimate, it is still only a guess, because nobody can tell exactly what the national income is. It is a whole lot more difficult to determine what the income of any particular state is, so that when the gentleman says he is safe in his estimate of facts, he is basing his estimates on fiction because nobody knows those answers. Furthermore, he says that the estimates of the fiscal authority of the national government show that the national income for the year 1942 will be ninety million dollars. If there ever was a guess, that is a guess. That is a guess based on what? On previous figures which were made as to what the national income was at that time. Yet the gentleman says, "Having considered all the factors that enter into the problem"—I could go on but I am only going to ask the gentleman one more question, whether he won't supply for me by tomorrow all of the statistics concerning the national income upon which he bases his estimates; all of the statistics relative to state income from which he takes the estimates, and the variation of the percentages of total taxes as related to the total income.

Mr. Speaker, I realize that the hour is getting late and the House and the Speaker would like to adjourn. I would like to carry on the debate further, but in consideration of the desire of the Speaker and the Members of the House to get the business of the House completed, I am not going to go any further with this debate at the present time. I hope to take it up a little more later.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent for House Bill No. 1724 (Senate Bill No. 1004) to be read for the first time.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1742, (Senate Bill No. 1004) entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one.

And said bill having been read at length the first time Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Messrs. WEISS, PETROSKY, MAXWELL LESKO and HABERLEN offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 27, 1941

John Lovett, brother of the Hon. James H. Lovett, died Monday, May 26, 1941, at his home in East McKeesport. To the citizens of East McKeesport, his sudden passing leaves a profound sense of sorrow; to his friends and his fellow workers comes the great shock of learning that their friend and co-worker will no longer be with them. John Lovett was not a great statesman or outstanding leader, but his was the greatest of all gifts, a congenial happy nature and the gift of friendship with all the people he knew. He was a devoted husband, a splendid and sympathetic father and a true friend.

Since those who knew him can now only offer inadequate words as their last tribute; therefore be it

Resolved, That with this resolution we commend John Lovett to the memory of his fellowmen; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House transmit a copy of this resolution to the wife, children and brother of the deceased.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain the prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Dr. RUTH.

Almighty God, God of our fathers and our God, in these days of emergency we come to Thee knowing that Thou art the way and the truth and the light. May we, as did our forefathers, follow in Thy way; may we accept Thee as the only truth and may we go in Thy light to meet the difficulties that come upon us here in our legislative duty, in our homes, and as citizens of this nation, so that when we follow in Thy steps the determination of the end will always be right. In the Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. JAMES and Mr. EALY, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

CONDOLENCE ON DEATH OF BROTHER-IN-LAW OF SENATOR JOHN H. DENT

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. COLEMAN, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 29, 1941.

Whereas, The angel of Death has removed from our midst Patsy Joseph Dent, brother-in-law of our colleague, Honorable John H. Dent of Westmoreland County, and Whereas, His untimely death resulted from being struck by lightning last Thursday while enjoying the sport of fishing, which brought him so much pleasure during his life, and

Whereas, His passing leaves a void in the City of Jeanette that will be hard to fill, and

Whereas, It can be said of him as Bob Ingersoll said of his brother, "He added to the sum of human joy, and of everyone for whom he had done some loving service were to place a blossom on his grave, he would sleep tonight beneath a wilderness of flowers," and

Whereas, He has left behind him a monument richer than gold and more enduring than granite, and that is the memory of one who, from the standpoint of honest and truthful relations with his fellowmen, never did anything that could be called a small thing, and

Whereas, His sudden passing has left his widow and three children bowed with grief, and

Whereas, While no words of ours could assuage the grief or lessen the sorrow, it must be comforting for his family to be able to cherish during the remaining days of their lives the memory of a devoted husband, a kind father, and a loyal and patriotic American citizen,

Be It Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania expresses its profound sorrow to the bereaved family; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be sent to his widow, Mrs. Patsy Joseph Dent, and to Mrs. John H. Dent, wife of the Senator from Westmoreland County.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in order to conserve time I have reduced my remarks on paper and I request permission to have them included in the Journal.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection it is so ordered.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, some of my colleagues have asked me what these remarks are about and I am constrained briefly to proceed with the remarks. I do not want to be accused of being ignorant of American History and that is the reason I am introducing these remarks, basing them upon information which was furnished by the eminent American historian James Truslow Adams, pertaining to the birthday of Thomas Jefferson. I might say, Mr. President, that we used in our resolution the old style date, which showed that Jefferson was born, according to the old style date, on April 2, 1743. However, Mr. Gibboney, Chairman of the United States Commission, maintains this is a typographical mistake and I wanted to insert in the record a statement the date is celebrated, according to the old style date, on April 2, 1743, and according to the new style date it is celebrated April 13, 1743, and while I am at it I want to say while we celebrate Washington's birthday on February 22nd, the father of our country always celebrated it on February 11th, on account of the difference between the old style and the new style.

The prepared remarks of Senator Stiefel were as follows:

I desire to embrace this opportunity and reconcile a divergence between the date appearing in Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 113 (not printed—Legislative Journal, page 591) introduced by Senator Chapman and myself on March 5, 1941, and the date adopted elsewhere in the United States.

Before introducing Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 113, on March 5, 1941, Senator Chapman and I consulted one of Jefferson's classic biographies written by the eminent American historian, James Truslow Adams, entitled "The Living Jefferson", published by Charles Scribner's Sons in 1936. There we found, inter alia, in Chapter 2 on page 22 that "... Thomas Jefferson was born on April 2, 1743 (Old Style)". Relying upon this passage in that book, Senator Chapman and I stated in a resolution the date of April 2, 1943 as the day of the 200th Anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson. Subsequently, we received a letter from Mr. Stuart J. Gibboney, Chairman of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, wherein he states as follows: "I take it that the statement in your letter that the 200th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson occurs on April 2, 1943 is a typographical error, as Thomas Jefferson was born on April 13, 1743."

Mr. President, there was no typographical error in our resolution. As can be seen from the letter written by Mr. James Truslow Adams, Thomas Jefferson was actually born on April 2, 1743, but that was according to Old Style. When in 1752 a new style was adopted and eleven days had been added, the date of Jefferson's birth became April 13, and not April 2. George Washington, for example, was born on the eleventh day of February, but as we now reckon dates in the New Style, we celebrate his birthday on the twenty-second, although he always continued to celebrate it himself on the eleventh, in spite of the change in the calendar having occurred during his early manhood. For that reason, Mr. President, the date inserted in our resolution is correct, but in arranging for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, our Commission, in order to keep in step with the nation, will have to adopt the date April 13, 1943, as the date of the celebration.

May I therefore, Mr. President, submit for insertion on the record a letter addressed by me in the capacity of the Secretary of the Thomas Jefferson Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania, to Mr. James Truslow Adams, and the answer thereto sent by Mr. James Truslow Adams to our Commission.

"Mr. James Truslow Adams
c/o Charles Scribner's Sons
597 Fifth Avenue
New York City
"Dear Sir:

"May 15, 1941.

"On March 5, 1941, I have introduced in the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, in collaboration with Senator Leroy E. Chapman of Warren County, Pennsylvania, a resolution, providing for the creation of a commission to be known as the "Thomas Jefferson Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania", for the purpose of evolving plans for Pennsylvania's part in the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson.

"Before preparing the draft of the resolution, I consulted your book, entitled "The Living Jefferson" (published by Charles Scribner's Sons in 1936) and found inter alia, in Chapter II, on Page 22 that "... Thomas Jefferson was born on April 2, 1743 (Old Style)". Relying upon this passage in your book, Senator Chapman and I stated in the resolution the date of April 2, 1943 as the day of the 200th Anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson.

"Subsequently, I received a letter from Mr. Stuart G. Gibboney, Chairman of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, wherein he states as follows: "I take it that the statement in your letter that the 200th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson occurs on April 2, 1943, is a typographical error, as Thomas Jefferson was born on April 13, 1743."

"Under the circumstances, may I not take the liberty of asking your help in this matter, in either reconciling the discrepancy between these two dates or advising which of these two dates, in the light of history, is to be preferred?

"I hope you will forgive me for encroaching upon your valuable time. I feel that the much needed clarification is a patriotic duty and will save our Commission from considerable embarrassment.

"Thanking you in advance for your help in this matter, I am

Gratefully yours,

ISRAEL STIEFEL

SECRETARY—"THOMAS JEFFERSON BICENTENNIAL COMMISSION OF PENNSYLVANIA."

"May 20, 1941.

"Hon. Israel Stiefel
Suite 1801-04
12 South 12th Street
Philadelphia, Pa.

"Dear Senator:

"As I am away from home at present on account of illness, your letter has been delayed.

"Briefly in reply I would say that the date of Jefferson's birth as given in my biography of him is I believe correct. I said April 2nd, 1743, Old Style. That is eleven days difference between Old Style and New Style, eleven days having been added to the date in, as I recall it, March 1752, so that these eleven days have to be taken into consideration with regard to any date prior to 1752. This was to bring the calendar into line with the astronomical year, it having got eleven days out of gear in the course of many centuries.

"George Washington, for example, was born on the 11th day of February, but as we now reckon dates in the New Style, we celebrate his birthday on the 22nd, although he always continued to celebrate it himself on the 11th, in spite of the change in the calendar having occurred during his early manhood. This question of Old and New Style is of course understood by historians although unfortunately they do not always note which style they are using, which sometimes leaves it open to question. In my case I stated that the date I used was Old Style, which would mean April 13th New Style. There was no error about that. I think the typographical error that Dr. Gibboney was referring to was your own typographical error in using throughout the year 1943 instead of 1743. Of course it is obvious that the date of Thomas Jefferson's birth was not two years hence from the present date.

"I hope this explains the whole matter and if you will refer to your letter you will see where the difficulty came in.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES TRUSLOW ADAMS."

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMAS, from the Committee on County Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 351, entitled:

An Act authorizing the sheriffs in counties of the sixth, seventh, and eighth classes to appoint a sheriff's solicitor for their respective counties to be paid by the proper county, and prescribing the duties and limiting the compensation of such solicitors.

Mr. TYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

Mr. TYLER, from the Committee on County Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 929, (House Bill No. 1510), entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 369) entitled "An act providing for the appointment by the district attorney in counties having a population of over one million five hundred thousand inhabitants of a chief county detective an assistant chief county detective and special county detectives defining their duties defining their authority fixing their salaries and authorizing the payment of the same together with the necessary traveling expenses by the county" by increasing the compensation of the chief county detective

SENATE BILL No. 1007, (HOUSE No. 230), CALLED UP ON THIRD READING

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1007, (House No. 230), on third reading, page 10 of the Calendar which has some mistakes in it which need correction.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1007, (House Bill No. 230), entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 414), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment, collection, and lien of the same, and the distribution of the proceeds thereof; imposing duties on executors, administrators, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, prothonotaries, and court clerks, and on persons copartnerships, associations, banks, national banks, trust companies, and other corporations receiving deposits of money, and on certain corporations and limited partnerships; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; imposing penalties; and making an appropriation," as previously reenacted and amended, by continuing the State personal property tax and the emergency rate of tax on scrip bonds, certificates and evidences of indebtedness assumed or on which interest is paid by corporations for a further limited period of time exempting casualty insurance corporations not having capital stock and relieving life insurance corporations from the duty of reporting and paying tax under section seventeen of said act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment: Amend section 1 (section 17), page 27, line 1 by inserting after the word "casualty", and before the word "fire" the word: "or"

May I say, Mr. President, the amendment consists of the insertion of the word "or" on the first line of page seven, so as to make it read: "Insurance companies, casualty or fire insurance companies," the "or" that was taken out of the preceding line was not restored as contemplated.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Gladly, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Montgomery state whether that is the only amendment he proposes offering to the bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. That is the only amendment proposed, Mr. President. There are certain places in this printing of the bill in which the printer has transposed the lines, but those transpositions are printer's errors and they can be corrected by the printer in this new printing without action by the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the gentleman look on page thirty-three of the bill, line seven, and tell me whether it is not true the amendment as it appears there now has taken out the imposition of the tax for the years up to 1943?

Mr. EDMONDS. I do not think so, Mr. President. This bill was very carefully scrutinized by Mr. Schockley and he has passed it as being correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to call attention of the Senate to the fact that on page thirty-three of this bill, it provided that this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and be in force for the assessment and collection of taxes under section three of this act for the calendar years beginning with 1938 and included 1941 and then it reads "at the rate of four mills on each dollar of value."

That was stricken out in the House and there was included the years 1942 and 1943 and the words were inserted "at the rate of three mills on each dollar of value," and then thereafter the taxes went on as before.

The amendment has taken out the words "at the rate of three mills on each dollar" and levies no tax for those years.

Now, Mr. President, whether Mr. Schockley went over that very carefully or not, I think it is perfectly obvious the rate of tax is entirely eliminated from the bill under Section 7.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I think that means elimination from the section that deals with the effective date of the bill but there are other sections that impose the taxes. This section relates to the date particularly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it seems to me this is important enough to consider, and since we are going to lose a day on this—this bill is going into a conference committee anyhow—it might be well to leave the matter for the conference committee and you will save a day. If you do not you will have to bring the members of the Senate back tonight somewhere around twelve or one o'clock and I think it would be much better to leave this matter to the conference committee.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, if this bill is amended at this time it still can be printed this afternoon and acted upon later in the day.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I think before we send the bill to the printer it would be well to send for Mr. Schockley and find out what is his point of view, as the legal draftsman, on the question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia. My own feeling is that in this section it deals only with the effective date. This is not a paragraph that imposes the taxes, there are preceding paragraphs which impose the taxes at the proper rate, but it is a technical matter and I think it would be well if we would send for Mr. Schockley.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if we amend this bill in any way it will have to lay over for printing anyway for one day and if you do that you will have to bring the men back here and since we all know this bill is going into a conference committee, would it not be better to allow this matter to be taken care of by the conference committee?

Mr. EDMONDS. It does not necessarily mean a delay of one day, as the correction as suggested is very slight and the chances are we could have the bill here in three or four hours.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as I recollect the status of this bill I had the privilege and pleasure of reporting this bill out of committee and I was directly involved in these amendments and I think out of courtesy to Mr. Schockley all the members of the committee should not duck and say that Mr. Schockley O.K.'d this amendment and therefor if the amendment is not correct Mr. Schockley is left holding the bag. The imposition or the lack of something on page 37 of the bill should be laid at my door instead of at Mr. Schockley's.

However, Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that I read that section with a great deal of care and at first blush my reaction to the amendment was the same as Senator Shapiro's. However, I finally came to the conclusion—and I would like to give that to the gentleman from Philadelphia for whatever it is worth—from limited experience I think that the tax levy made in section three of the bill, on pages four and five of this act, were the sections referred to in section 21 on page 33 of the bill and that the four mills imposition of taxes was the rate set and referred to in section 21 on page 33 of the bill.

Now, Mr. President, I will agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia that perhaps there might be a slight vagueness about it, because, as I say, my first reaction was the same as his, but my final conclusion was that the rate referred to of four mills is set forth on pages four and five of the act—and I do not want the Senate to get the impression this is Mr. Schockley's fault, and I know that is not the impression the gentleman from Montgomery attempted to create.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, perhaps I unfortunately created that impression, but Mr. Schockley is Deputy Attorney General and has been drafting these bills for many years and I quoted him as no mean authority on legislative drafting of bills. I might state to the Senator from Philadelphia that it seems to me to be quite clear in this section, where the rate is at a certain figure for particular years, and that is not the section that imposes the tax, as has been said by the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I understand that, Mr. President and that is correct, but since Mr. Schockley drew this bill in the first instance, or the Attorney General drew the bill in the first instance for the House, and when it came over to the House it did have a provision of a four mills tax and that has now been taken out, it raises a question in my mind whether it was done with his knowledge and fully understood, but it was in there in the first instance and I do not understand why it was taken out.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

SENATE BILL NO. 601 CALLED UP ON SECOND READING

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 601, on second reading, page 18 of the Calendar.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask the indulgence of the Senate for a very few minutes to take up two constitutional amendments pertaining to personal income taxes, because unless they pass the Senate this week they are in danger of being lost in the shuffle in the House. I refer to Senate Bill No. 601, appearing on page 18 of today's calendar and then after that there is the bill of the gentleman from Berks, Dr. Ruth, No. 697, appearing on page 20 of today's Calendar.

It has so happened whenever the Calendar has been gone through as far as Bill No. 601 we have adjourned to go to some party, and I have now been waiting two days and nothing has happened. I ask that these two bills be given second reading at this time but one at a time.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 601, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE BILL NO. 697 CALLED UP ON SECOND READING

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 697, on second reading, page 20 of the Calendar.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 697, entitled:

An Act proposing an amendment to section one, article nine, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

CALENDAR

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed with the consideration of the Calendar, beginning with Senate Bill No. 497, page 1.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate bill No. 497, (House Bill No. 610), entitled:

An Act to amend clause forty-seven of section two thousand four hundred three of the act, approved the twenty-third of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto," changing the qualifications of historical societies to receive appropriations and limiting the amount of such appropriations.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have no particular interest in this bill, but as I read this bill it was intended to make it unnecessary for a historical society to have a building of its own in order to obtain an appropriation, and so this bill was amended to give them the right to have an appropriation provided there was a regular meeting place, when it went over to the House, and it came back here with a limitation on the appropriation which can be made, which is two hundred and fifty dollars, and as the bill is now drawn it limits any organization, even though it has property of its own, to a two hundred and fifty dollars annual appropriation. Obviously a historical society owning a property of its own amounting to anything could not get along on two hundred and fifty dollars a year, and I therefore suggest to those who are interested in the bill it had better be looked into, because it will have an effect on all appropriations to existing institutions owning property.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 497, (House Bill No. 610), on concurrence in house amendments, recalled from the Governor, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 529, on final passage, entitled:

An Act relating to taxation in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth classes; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; creating a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; defining the powers and duties of such boards; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county, borough, town, township, school and institution district purposes; regulating the office of ward, borough, town and township assessors; authorizing the appointment of a chief assessor, assistants and other employees; providing for their compensation payable by such counties and abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 628, (House Bill No. 762), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections eleven and twelve of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 552) entitled as amended "An act relating to dogs and the protection of live stock poultry and game birds raised in captivity from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to live stock poultry and game birds by dogs and for live stock killed by or dying from rabies and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employees directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and providing penalties" by providing for the issuance of metal tags with kennel certificates requiring such tags to be kept on dogs kept in kennels permitting dogs kept in a kennel to be taken out for hunting training exercise or entry in field trials and dog shows and requiring keepers of kennels to maintain certain records.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Barr,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Stiefel,
Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Tallman,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 655, entitled:

An Act to amend the first paragraph of section one of the act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 570), entitled "An act fixing the salaries and providing for the expenses of county commissioners in the counties of this Commonwealth," by increasing the salary of county commissioners in eighth class counties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, this is a salary raising bill and it might not be amiss to call the attention of the Senators to this fact; in these times of grave emergencies, national and state both, it seems to me that no public official should ask for a raise in salary. These days are trying and they are going to be more trying in the future and I think we are setting a bad precedent in starting to raise salaries at this session of the Legislature.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I would like to speak a little on this bill. It simply raises salaries of county commissioners up to five hundred dollars. I have one-eighth class district county in my district, Pike County, which is famous for its rum and rattlesnakes. That county only has an area of 544 square miles, and that is about three times the area of Philadelphia County.

Now, Mr. President, when these poor commissioners have to go around that 544 square miles on the poor roads they have there, they really deserve more than five hundred dollars a year and I think we ought to give it to them. It is not much. There are only eleven counties involved in the entire state and it means an additional cost of $12,900 and it really does something for men that are doing a good job now.

On the other hand, Mr. President, in Pike County, for instance, the sheriff gets sixteen hundred dollars a year and all he has to do is to sit in his office, because we do not have any crime up in that section of the woods and in other counties nearby the commissioners get eighteen hundred dollars a year and they do not work as hard as they do in the eight-class counties, so I leave it to my colleagues in the Senate to do the right thing.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, if that official, the good Senator from Monroe refers to is an outstanding sincere citizen, he would ask that his salary be reduced.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—41

Bartlett,	Ealy.	Mallery,	Stiefel.
Becker,	Edmonds,	McCreesh,	Tallman,

DiSilvestro,	Letzler,	Stevenson,	Woodward,
			Ziesenheim,

NAYS—6

Cavalcante,	Heyburn,	Reed,	Wade,
Haluska,	Lanius,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 46, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," authorizing the county treasurer to appoint a solicitor and providing for his salary payable by the county.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments.

Amend title, page 1, lines 8 and 9 of the title, after the word "county" by taking out the following words: "in counties of the second third and fourth classes"; amend section 1, page 2, line 4, after the word "county" by taking out the following words: "of the second third and fourth classes"; amend section 1, page 2, line 7, before the word "and" by taking out the bold-faced bracket; amend section 1, page 2, line 9, after the word "commissioners" by taking out the bold-faced bracket.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Warren.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Warren permit himself to be interrogated

Mr. CHAPMAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, when this bill first appeared on the Calendar it referred to only second, third and fourth class counties; is that correct?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Referred to all counties.

Mr. HALUSKA. Referred to all counties, Mr. President?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Excepting first-class, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Excepting the first-class?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Originally, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Is there any great necessity for it, Mr. President?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Yes, Mr. President, on account of the tax sales in the various counties, there is such a necessity.

Mr. HALUSKA. Has the gentleman from Warren had any requests from counties of the fourth-class?

Mr. CHAPMAN. From all counties, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. And the gentleman has had requests from counties of the fourth-class?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I think so, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Is the gentleman from Warren sure of that?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Sure? Yes.

Mr. HALUSKA. Would the gentleman from Warren be willing to offer another amendment to take fourth-class counties out of the bill?

Mr. CHAPMAN. No, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Why not?

Mr. CHAPMAN. It has been amended enough, Mr. President. This is just a "may" bill and it is not compulsory; if the county does not want it it does not have to have it.

Mr. HALUSKA. The salary is paid by the county commissioners, is that correct; not by the Commonwealth?

Mr. CHAPMAN. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Wouldn't that mean local taxes for the local communities, Mr. President?

Mr. CHAPMAN. It does not amount to a very large sum of money, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Do they pay the salaries now, Mr. President?

Mr. CHAPMAN. No great amount of money is involved, Mr. President. It is to cover salaries for doing this work on account of the tax sales.

Mr. HALUSKA. However, Mr. President, it does impose a hardship on the counties.

Mr. CHAPMAN. It does not, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. It means they are compelled to hire a solicitor, an attorney, and pay him; is that not correct?

Mr. CHAPMAN. They are not compelled to hire an attorney unless there is a necessity for it.

Mr. HALUSKA. And in case the county does hire a solicitor the county does pay the salary; is that correct?

Mr. CHAPMAN. That is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to say a word on behalf of this bill. I did not have any interest in this bill until this amendment was put in. I have been representing the county treasurer of Philadelphia for two years without any salary and while this will not be a "may" bill because we are right at the end of May, I am going to ask all my colleagues to do something for me now so that for once I can get some compensation, as a result of being in the Senate. It is a good bill and we ought to vote for it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I first would like to inquire of the sponsor of the bill if it is not true the title now will have to be amended? As I understand it the amendment just offered by the gentleman from Warren was to page two, line three of the bill.

The PRESIDENT. I do not believe the clerk has finished reading the amendments.

Mr. WALKER. Pardon me, Mr. President, I understood all the amendments had been read.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask permission to interrogate the Senator who presented the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. It has been suggested that we complete the reading of the amendments.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. My point of order, Mr. President, is that we should have all the amendments read so that we may discuss them.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the gentleman from Allegheny is well taken. The Chair does not believe a Senator may be interrogated on a matter that is not before the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia made a certain remark pertaining to the bill and I think he ought to be interrogated but I will yield until the amendments are read.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated? Does the gentleman from Cambria desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia on a remark he made with reference to the amendments? If the remark was with reference to the bill and the bill is before the Senate the gentleman from Cambria is in order to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, did I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, to say that he was interested in the bill because he happens to be solicitor not heretofore paid, but since the amendment will give him pay he will vote for the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I did not say that, Mr. President; I asked my colleagues to vote for it because I realize I can not.

Mr. HALUSKA. That is what I wanted to know, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, we have all heard of the seven wonders of the world and I think we ought to add an eighth—Senator Shapiro has not been paid.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, the interrogation by the gentleman from Cambria has confused me. If I understand this bill correctly it does not affect the city of Philadelphia. Am I correct in that? In other words, Mr. President, in effect the amendments would permit county treasurers in second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class counties the authority to appoint a solicitor?

I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Warren permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the sponsor of the bill—the fact that he deleted the words "in counties of the second, third and fourth class" has confused the members of the Senate—and I desire to ask him if that does not restore the bill to its original form so that county treasurers in counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes might appoint a solicitor under the terms of this bill.

Mr. CHAPMAN. It does not affect first-class counties, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 54, as follows:

An Act to add clause forty-seven to section one thousand five hundred two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" authorizing the furnishing of meeting rooms to veterans' organizations and the payment of rentals of certain buildings and rooms by such organizations.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one thousand five hundred two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding thereto after clause forty-six a new clause to read as follows

Section 1502 The corporate power of a township of the first class shall be vested in the board of township commissioners. The board shall have power

* * * *

XLVII Veterans' Meeting Rooms To furnish to all organizations of veterans of any war in which the United States has engaged upon application therefor a room or rooms in any public building of such township or to pay the rental of any privately owned building or room sufficient for the meeting of each of such organizations at least once each month and in the case of township owned utilities to furnish same without charge to such rooms and also to buildings occupied by posts camps or veterans of any such war

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—47

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Tallman,
Becker,	Farrell,	McCreesh,	Taylor,

Deitrick,	Kephart,	Snowden,	Woodward,
DiSilvestro,	Lanius,	Stevenson,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Stiefel,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 55, as follows:

An Act to add clause twenty-two to section seven hundred and two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" authorizing the furnishing of meeting rooms to veterans' organizations and the payment of rentals of certain buildings and rooms by such organizations

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section seven hundred and two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding thereto after clause twenty-one a new clause to read as follows for the violation of this act or of such other law or laws

 Section 13 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
 On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this bill is what has been referred to as a sabotage prevention bill. I do not want it to be understood that I am opposed to the bill, which would make sabotage criminal, but I can not see that I can vote for the bill that is now before us. There are some very unusual provisions in this bill. It is a far-reaching bill, a very drastic bill.

However, I do agree that no penalty can be too drastic when applied to an individual who might engage in the work of sabotaging property that is used or operated in the production or manufacture of materials for the defense of this country.

One very unusual provision in this bill appears on page two, line five. If we read section three it reads as follows: "Whoever intentionally destroys, impairs, injures, interferes or tampers with real or personal property within this state with reasonable grounds to believe that such act will hinder, delay or interfere with the preparation of the United States or this or any other state for defense or for war or with the prosecution of war by the United States—" and at that point I pause because here is what I think is very objectionable—"or by any country with which the United States shall then maintain friendly relations is guilty of a felony—" Now, Mr. President, who is going to decide with what country the United States might be on friendly relations? Who decides that problem? A jury, a court or whom? When is the United States on friendly relations with a foreign country? Are we on friendly relations with every country with whom we are not at war?

Now, gentlemen, this bill is a far-reaching bill. That particular part of this section I have mentioned appears in other parts of this bill. There is another section that is not drastic but is meaningless in the bill before us, and that is section ten, pertaining to the rights of labor. In that section it says "Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair, curtail or destroy the rights of employees and their representatives to self-organization, to form, join, or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection."

That is the identical language of the National Labor Relations Act, Section 7. That section is absolutely meaningless; it does not mean anything in this bill when it is not coupled up with the other provisions of the National Relations Act, defining what are unfair labor practices.

I may also note this, that I might be here wasting my breath talking against this bill. I realize there has been party action, and no doubt it will pass over to the House, but I do also feel that the House will never pass a bill of this kind. There is right now on the House list of bills one containing the identical wording, the identical sections, the identical provisions, now in the House, which is in committee.

This bill will be reposing in that committee and will not pass but I feel that if we would take the time here in this Senate to correct the bill to make it acceptable, to make it workable, that the House would find it very difficult not to pass a sabotage prevention bill. We need one, it is very necessary but you cannot draw a bill like this so loosely, so confusing.

If you go to section 2 it defines the words "Public Utilities" and then there is nowhere that that phrase "public utility" appears excepting on page five, connecting it up there with the unlawful entry of property, and it is not coupled up with any other section of the bill.

Mr. President, I inquired of the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. James, for whom I have a great respect, and I did not want to rise to speak on this bill and say that it was poorly drawn, loosely drawn, showing great lack of cohesion in its phrasing and all of that, without making sure that the gentleman from Bucks had not drawn the bill up himself, and I have been assured that he did not himself draw the bill up, and I honestly believe that if the gentleman from Bucks had drawn the bill up himself and used his own language and phraseology I think the bill would have been drawn up a whole lot better.

My suggestion to the sponsor of this bill is to allow the bill to go over in its order and see if we can not work this bill into a good bill. I would like to vote for the bill but I do not want to vote for a bill I know has no chance of passing in the House of Representatives. If I was there I would not vote for a bill of this kind, but I am sincere when I tell you we ought to have a sabotage prevention act and a drastic one, but it ought to be such an act we can understand and not include such things as by any country with which the United States then maintains friendly relations. I might think we are on friendly relations with Japan; I might think we are on friendly relations with Russia at this time, with whom we have many commercial pacts. There are a lot of people that might think we are on friendly relations with France and Spain and all the other countries.

Now, gentleman, you pass a law like this and a man is charged with any of those crimes and he comes in before a jury and you may have men on that jury that might think we are not on friendly relations with some foreign country, when in truth and fact the Department of State of the United States of America may be on very friendly relations with that foreign country.

Mr. President, this bill is not specific and is not a proper kind of a bill and I conclude by telling you I honestly believe we do need a sabotage prevention bill, but I think this bill is very confusing and very uncertain.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not going to go into a general discussion on this bill, but I want to say under a practical application of the provisions of this bill if an innocent worker should happen to stumble while carrying a tray of military defense materials and he should happen to fall and caused some kind of damage he would be fined ten thousand dollars, but if he should happen to stumble and does not fall, then he gets a fine of five thousand dollars.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, it might be of interest to know how this bill came to be drafted. I did not prepare the bill; I did not draft it; it is not in my language.

The Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania sometime ago appointed me as a member of the Crime Commission of Pennsylvania and as a member of that Crime Commission I attended a conference in the City of Washington which was called at the instance of the Attorney General of the United States. That conference was composed of attorneys general of all the states in the Union and members of the Crime Commissions of the various states.

One of the main objectives was to draft legislation in relation to sabotage, and this act of assembly was drawn and prepared by a sub-committee and approved by those distinguished lawyers from all over the country, as the general form of a model or uniform act, with the exception of section ten. Section ten was not included in the act which was suggested at that conference; it was omitted.

In this bill section ten was included for the purpose of protecting, and I think it does protect, the rights of labor and if I felt, Mr. President, that the rights of labor were not protected under this bill as it is drawn I am very frank to state I would withdraw the bill and certainly would not vote for it.

It seems to me the language, broad and comprehensive and while it does not specify individual acts which may be governed by section ten, in its broad comprehension, in its language, it provides and protects labor engaged in concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining for mutual aid or protection.

Mr. President, it seems to me the case cited by my friend from Westmoreland is not in point, for the reason that you will find in this bill there must be an intentional commission of a crime, if it is committed innocently and unintentionally and without deliberate intent to commit the crime of sabotage, then the bill does not apply.

I am very frank to confess that the gentleman from Fayette and myself have spent an hour or two trying to rephrase and reframe this bill, and it may have been possible and possibly could have resulted in redrafting this bill entirely, and if we had redrafted the bill it might have been in better form, but I believe with the approaching end of the session in sight and the importance of this bill that it ought to be passed, especially in the light of the fireside chat to which we listened last night by our President and the proclamation then uttered, and whether it is good or bad I believe it will accomplish the purpose so far as it goes.

Therefore, Mr. President, I appeal to my brethren on both side of the chamber to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. McQUIDDY. Mr. President, both the A. F. O. L. and the C. I. O. organizations have gone over this act very very carefully and we do not want any part of it. We are going to ask those of you who are friends of labor in the State of Pennsylvania and have respect for labor to vote against this bill. It is a dangerous proposition.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bucks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Bucks whether an interpretation of this act will allow a strike, a legitimate strike, to be called in an industry that happens to be doing defense work, without it being called an intentional act or an act of sabotage?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I did not quite hear the interrogation of the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. DENT. I say, Mr. President, is there an interpretation in this act which will alter the present status of employer and employe representation, whereas there might be a strike in an industry producing defense material, would a strike leader come under the provisions of this bill and be called a saboteur.

Mr. JAMES. That is not the intention of the bill, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, labor union attorneys claim that under a strict interpretation of this bill a person who is leading a legitimate strike for legitimate purposes might find himself confronted with the provisions of this act.

Mr. JAMES. I might say to the Senator from Westmoreland if I believed that would be the effect of the bill, that if this bill created that condition, I would vote against the bill.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman from Bucks. I want to say to the Senator, Mr. President, the Federal Government has passed an anti-sabotage act which covers the ground rather thoroughly and federal laws, I think, supersede state laws insofar as matters pertaining to sabotage or national defense are concerned. Therefore I believe that sufficient laws have been passed relative to the subject, whether it effects labor's relationship with the employer or not is a question, and therefore I do not intend to trust the future of innocent men to some judges that I happen to know.

Mr. JAMES. I might say, Mr. President, this act was recommended, as I recall, by the Attorney General of the United States of America at a conference held, as I detailed, in Washington a little while ago. It was the consensus of opinion at the time this act was prepared; it was a general form or model of suggestion to various states to adopt in order to cover the matter of sabotage.

Mr. DENT. I understood that was true in the early part of the year, that was the case, is that correct?

Mr. JAMES. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I understand since there has been a change because of federal acts covering the subject. Now, if the Senator from Bucks can show where the Attorney General of the United States asked that this act be passed I am sure passage of the bill will be made much easier.

Mr. JAMES. I can only repeat, Mr. President, what I have stated. He did not personally, as I recall, ask that this act should be passed, or one exactly like it, but this bill was framed as a result of that convention held at his suggestion, at which he was present, and he certainly implied if not expressly agreed to this form of a bill. He may have changed since that time, I do not know. As I recall, that was my own personal experience at that convention, in which not only the State of Pennsylvania but every state of the United States participated, by its attorneys general and by its members of the Crime Commissions. As I stated previously, and repeat now, if I believed this bill would result as the gentleman from Westmoreland says, disadvantageously to labor, I certainly would not vote for it.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman from Bucks very much. Can the gentleman from Bucks tell me how many states have passed laws similar to this.

Mr. JAMES. I did not hear the question, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Can the gentleman from Bucks tell me how many states have passed laws similar to this?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I cannot answer, Mr. President. I do not know how many states have passed similar legislation, but I understand quite a number of states have done so; some have passed such a bill with modifications. The gentleman from Fayette, Senator Cavalcante,

I think could help me answer that question, because he and I reviewed the statutes of several states. The number I cannot tell you, but I am sure there are quite a number. They are not all drafted exactly as this act, some of them are modifications of this act and I believe some are drafted exactly.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. President. May I now interrogate the gentleman from Fayette?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Fayette have any knowledge of any act passed by other states similar to this one?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, no state as yet has passed any such bill, to my knowledge. My information, which is accurate, is that there are forty-two state legislatures that have met this year, and are still in session, which have bills of this kind in one form or another before them.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I understand the gentleman from Fayette has made somewhat of a study of this problem, together with the gentleman from Bucks, the sponsor. Would the gentleman from Fayette recommend this as a good piece of legislation?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in answer to that question I do not want to be egotistical about this matter. I have devoted considerable time to a study of this bill; I have studied it for practically six days, a half hour an hour or two hours a day studying this bill, studying every word and every phrase of it.

I can not agree with the gentleman from Bucks that this bill will not prevent the calling of legitimate strikes. The reason why it does not exclude that is because there is nothing in the bill to exclude that. As I pointed out, Section 10 is the identical language of Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act, but the Supreme Court of the United States has held that that section in the act, standing alone, means nothing unless you couple that section up with the other sections of the National Labor Relations Act which defines what are unfair labor practices. This bill before us does not define just what labor can do and what labor can not do, and I am sincere when I tell you that if I was in the House of Representatives, as much as I desire a sabotage prevention act and as needy as it is, I would never vote for this bill in its present form. But I would be willing to sit down with any draftsman to go over it and provide a real comprehensive bill and I would make it as drastic as this bill now might appear to be.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish to thank the gentleman from Cambria for his answer.

Mr. JAMES. I might say to the gentleman from Fayette that his suggestion made to me that this bill should be enlarged meets with my hearty approval. His suggestion is that the bill should apply not only to pipe lines and gas lines, water and so on, but he has also suggested that it be enlarged to include manufacturers and other industries and I think that is a very good suggestion, but it was not included in the bill and if there were sufficient time, I think as to that particular phase of this bill, it would be well to have it amended; but as the time is so short, with amendments bringing in those additional utilities, the danger of delay is that no sabotage act at all could be passed, and therefore under the circumstances I would like to ask that this bill be adopted.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Fayette.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Fayette in what respects would he amend this bill so that it would be a good bill in his opinion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. I would amend it, Mr. President, to specifically name as the real and personal property to be protected the property of assembling plants and may I be more specific on that? Let us take for example the Ford automobile factory. They may make one part of an automobile in Detroit, another part in Cleveland and another part somewhere else, and then those parts might be sent to New York or California and there be assembled into the complete product—the automobile.

Now, Mr. President, I do not know that this bill would protect that particular property. The bill does not mention mining properties; which are so essential at this time to the production of coal used in national defense; it does not mention specifically manufacturing plants, properties or places where war materials might be stored.

I would amend this bill, to be specific on that, I would delete from the bill reference to any country with which the United States may then maintain friendly relations. I think that is very confusing in the bill. I would delete from it that portion which makes a difference between a defense committee when the United States is preparing for defense and the same defense committee if we are in war. I think that defense always precedes war, and a person who commits sabotage while we are preparing for war should receive just as severe a penalty as the man who might commit sabotage while we are actually in war, because if we are actually in war and sabotage is committed then it comes more under the heading of treason and we ought to have firing squads for people of that kind when we are actually in war and they try to sabotage us. I would correct the bill so as to wipe out that definition as now made by this bill.

I would then clarify a little better the rights of labor under this bill by connecting up their rights with the statute of the National Labor Relations Act and fitting this section pertaining to rights of labor with the National Act.

I would then phrase or amend this bill as to its operations. I would see that during our preparation for defense this bill, and while we are in war, the bill ought to be effective, but whenever there is no state of war, whenever we are not in preparation for defense, the Governor ought to be given the power to suspend the operations of the act.

Mr. REED. I thank the gentleman from Fayette for his explanation. I would like now, Mr. President, to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bucks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, assuming that the gentleman from Bucks heard the suggested changes in the bill just given by the Senator from Fayette, would he agree to have those changes made?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I may say to the Senator from Washington I regret that this bill was not introduced earlier in the Session. I concur with the Senator from Fayette County that this is not drawn as well as it might be drawn, and it might be improved and could be improved, probably very materially, but as I stated before, if this bill is now referred back to committee to have amendments made, with the approaching close of the Session, I am afraid there would be no sabotage bill passed at all and I would rather have this bill than none.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, it appears from what the gentleman from Fayette said in his first discourse on this bill, that if it went over to the House in its present form we would get no bill at all.

Now, Mr. President, it seems to me, due to the gravity of the situation today and due to the importance of a bill of this nature, that it might be well to take another day and see if we could not put this bill in shape so that it would pass both Houses, and if we could let the bill go over in its order for another day I see no reason why we would not be able to work out a bill that would perhaps be agreeable to both bodies. This is a bill which embodies a very important principle at this time and I would certainly like to see a good bill passed at this Session, but if we get tangled up in the rush of the last few weeks of the Session we might get no bill at all.

Mr. JAMES. That is the danger, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bucks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to know whether or not the Attorney General of the United States, Robert Jackson, recommended legislation of this character?

Mr. JAMES. He did, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. He did?

Mr. JAMES. He did, sir, in his speech, at which time there were present a large number of law officers; in fact this bill was drawn in his office as I understand.

Mr. JASPAN. Has the gentleman from Bucks received a communication from Attorney General Jackson recommending such legislation?

Mr. JAMES. Not personally. He did, as I said, talk to us at the convention about that.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, have any changes been made in the legislation as recommended by the Attorney General?

Mr. JAMES. That I can not tell you, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. The gentleman from Bucks does not know?

Mr. JAMES. No, Mr. President. I know this was a model bill drafted at his suggestion, and I recall, it was drawn in his office or with his approval.

Mr. WALKER. For the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspán, I would like to suggest that I understand the model bill, section ten on page six, was not a part of the model bill, and that is the only change in the model bill that was submitted to the conference of attorneys-general of the various states by the Attorney General of the United States, Robert Jackson.

Mr. President, I understand this bill was urged by Attorney General Jackson at that conference and that he recommended it to the various attorneys-general of all the states attending that conference and to the delegates.

I say very frankly to the Senator from Philadelphia,

Mr. Jaspán, I have the utmost confidence in Attorney-General Jackson and I think he knows what he is doing and I think he is whole-heartedly anxious to have this bill adopted by the various states, and there is no doubt in my mind, in full accord with the present program and the proclamation of the President, and with the knowledge he has of what the administration in Washington is attempting to do, Attorney General Jackson feels this bill is but another step in a history-making epoch-making proclamation that was mentioned in His Excellency's speech last night to the nation at large, and I think out of deference, if nothing else, to the call placed before us by the Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, this bill should receive our very careful consideration.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Gladly, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to know what change was made in the bill following the recommendation made by the Attorney General. Does the gentleman from Allegheny know?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the only change that was made, according to my information, was the insertion of section ten on page six of the bill, from lines nine to fifteen inclusive.

Mr. JASPAN. To what does that refer, Mr. President?

Mr. WALKER. That refers to the rights of labor and it says "nothing in this act shall be construed to impair, curtail or destroy the rights of employes and their representatives to self-organization to form, join,"— and so on. I will read it all into the record if the gentleman from Philadelphia so desires.

Mr. JASPAN. That is all right. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Gladly, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Will the gentleman from Allegheny tell me why labor is then opposed to that particular section?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am sorry I am one of those unfortunate citizens of Pennsylvania that did not start to work in the mines at an early age and in my practice of the law I represent employers and not employes and the leaders of labor have not yet given me their confidence and I do not know why they oppose it. I do not even know, Mr. President, that they do oppose it.

I represent one of the largest industrial districts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I have more manufacturing plants in my district than anywhere else in Pennsylvania and I have gone around talking to fellows who work in the mills, the open hearth mills and the sheet mills, they live on my street and they are friends and members of the same Legion Post, and they are the working men of Pennsylvania, and they have told me they are for this heart and soul because they are against sabotage and they are willing to do anything in their power to stop it and they know the President of the United States and Attorney General Jackson are not going to recommend something that would be detrimental to the working men of Pennsylvania.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I very well appreciate why labor has no confidence in the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, because he is on the wrong side of the fence.

However, Mr. President, as to the last question asked of the gentleman from Allegheny, I feel that the gentleman from Fayette can answer the question and I think that I will put the same question to him, if he sees fit to answer it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think that I am qualified to answer that last question. I am not a working man in the light that I go down in the coal mines any more. I live right around them and I see a lot of the smoke and dust, and I have seen a lot of it; I am now a professional man practicing law and have been out of the mines for some time, but I do have considerable contact with those who are leaders of labor.

Now, let me just make this clear. In answer to the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, let me say that labor and labor leaders that I have spoken to are not opposed to a sabotage prevention act; they are all unanimous in favor, but they are opposed to a confusing act, the way this bill is drawn up, and they are opposed to this section ten, because we know and they know that the Supreme Court of the United States has decided cases under this section, under this language, and the opinion of the Supreme Court is that this section would be meaningless, would mean nothing, unless it is coupled up with other sections of the National Labor Relations Act.

I would like an opportunity to amend this bill in that light, so as to make this section ten clearer than what it is. Labor has no objection to a sabotage prevention act.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, may I say for the information of my friends, as sponsor of this measure I received no protests from any labor organization or people representing labor organizations. On the contrary, in my own town I have been complimented by labor unions, by individual members of labor unions, rather, upon the protection of labor in this bill, and they were for this bill as American citizens.

I may say again for the information of my friends that this bill was not only approved by the Attorney General of the United States at that time, but its passage advocated very earnestly by J. Edgar Hoover, Secret Service head of the United States of America, and he did that in open session where there were at least, I think, one thousand members present.

They have not changed the general purpose of this bill. They may have changed the language in some of the particulars, but as to the end to be accomplished that will not be changed in my opinion, and instead of modifying the bill, as time goes by and the nearer we approach to war, the more drastic will be their recommendation.

Mr. McQUIDDY. Mr. President, I have before me, and I would like to read just a short paragraph on the stand of labor upon this bill.

"This bill is very loosely drawn, so as to be of doubtful value to prevent sabotage in public defense, but it would make it easy for officials to put a stop to union activities and arrest union representatives on trumped-up charges."

"Since defense is a federal responsibility, and the federal authorities are better equipped to handle the problem, it is felt no useful purpose can be served by enacting such legislation in the state."

Now, Mr. President, there is one great field of labor that this bill does not even take into consideration, and that is the field in the railroad line. Now men, I tell you we of labor do not want any sabotage, but we do want this bill drawn and drawn so that we are protected, all branches of labor, the C.I.O., the A.F.O.L. and the Railroad Brotherhoods, and if you will draw up legislation of that kind, you will find us with you, but as this bill is drawn today, we cannot stomach it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE BILL NO. 185 CALLED UP WHICH WENT OVER IN ITS ORDER ON THIRD READING

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 185, on third reading, page 3 of the Calendar, which went over in its order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 185, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of, and to add section two and one-tenth to, the act, approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127), entitled "An act relating to adoption," further regulating adoption proceedings as to consent of, and notice to be given to, parents of the person proposed to be adopted.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendment: Amend Section 2, subsection 2.1, page 3, line 13, by inserting after the word "parents" and before the word "notice" the following: "consent of the parent or parents shall not be necessary and."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 776, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to fix the number of Senators in the General Assembly of the State; to apportion the State into Senatorial districts, as provided by the Constitution; and to regulate the election of, and terms of office of, the present and future elected Senators.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no desire to object to the request, but I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am not certain, but I think I have the floor.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lackwaanna, Mr. Coleman requested that Senate Bill No. 776 go over in its order, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, arose to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, has the floor.

Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COLEMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lackawanna if he would mind giving us his purpose for having the bill go over in order, or the reason for his request? I am deeply interested in this bill, because it effects and make material changes in Allegheny County, something that we have looked forward to for a number of years.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, my answer may be daring in its candor but it is at least refreshing. I am asking that Senate Bill No. 776 go over in its order because I want to talk on the bill and since those of us on the Democratic side would like to have the Senate recess at some reasonable hour this afternoon so that we can trek to Hershey and pay tribute the Majority Floor Leader of the House, I have made that request.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I of course have no desire to interfere with that tribute to the Majority Floor Leader in the House, and I personally made no objection at this time, with the understanding that tomorrow the request will not be repeated, because we are not going to have two days of celebration, or are we?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, while I can not speak for the rest of the Senators on the Democratic side, the gentleman from Allegheny has my positive assurance the request will not be repeated.

Mr. COLEMAN. My definite reason, Mr. President, as I stand before, is that I propose to speak at some length on this bill and I do not want to bore the Senate now, particularly since the revenue raising bill is before us today.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Lackawanna any time he speaks on the floor of this Senate, whether it be on a bill or on just on general principles, he wil never bore the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I object to Senate Bill No. 776 going over in its order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have another reason why this bill should go over in its order, and I would like to state it to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Farrell.

I have been advised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, that he represents the Fourth Senatorial District, and that he is not able to find his district in this bill, and he is uncertain whether they left it in or out of this bill, and I think we owe him the courtesy at least of another day to see whether he can find his district.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, will look in my district, I think he will find it.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I will withdraw my objection until Mr. McCreesh finds his district.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Farrell, removes his objection and therefore the request of the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, that Senate Bill 776 go over in its order is granted.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, with reference to Senate Bill 776, I should like to direct the attention of the clerk to a typographical error affecting my Senatorial District. On page three, line nineteen, I would like to have corrected the spelling of the word "Nuangole." It is spelled "N-u-a-n-g-o-l-a." That might be the means of ruling me out of that particular borough, and I would not like that to happen.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 818, (House Bill No. 1324), entitled:

An Act to further amend section thirty-two of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," further providing for ascertaining the change of classification of counties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is the bill to which I called attention yesterday. I have discussed the bill with Senator Wilson and Senator Deitrick, both of whom are interested, and with House Members, and with their consent I have prepared amendments to the bill which I now propose to offer.

The purpose of these amendments is to provide that in a county which is seeking to have its classification changed, it shall not lose a number of votes in the future that it may be entitled to by reason of the present wording of this act, and it confines the deduction of residents in areas owned by the Federal Government to those persons who are included in the census and are living in the areas at the time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 2 line 8, by inserting after the word "the" and before the word "number" the following: "aggregate"; amend section 1, page 2, line 9, by inserting after the word "persons" and before the word "residing" the following: "who were included in the last preceding decennial United States census and who at the time the said classification is being ascertained and fixed are".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 846, (House Bill No. 228), as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. issue a duplicate permit to the holder of the defaced destroyed or lost permit upon the payment of a fee of fifty cents ($.50)

(d) The department may suspend or after hearing revoke a cigarette permit whenever it finds that the holder thereof has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this act or any rules or regulations of the department prescribed adopted and promulgated under this act Upon suspending or revoking any cigarette permit the department shall request the holder thereof to surrender to it immediately all permits or duplicates thereof issued to him and the holder shall surrender promptly all such permits to the department as requested Whenever the department suspends a cigarette permit it shall notify the holder immediately and afford him a hearing if desired and if a hearing has not already been afforded After such hearing the department shall either rescind its order of suspension or good cause appearing therefor shall continue the suspension or revoke the permit

Section 4 A State excise tax is hereby imposed and assessed upon sales of cigarettes by dealers at the rate of one cent per ten cigarettes or fraction thereof except such sales of cigarettes as are not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the commerce clause of the Constitution of the United States and except such sales as are made to authorized purchasers by commissaries ship's stores and voluntary unincorporated organizations of the Army or the Navy personnel operating under regulations promulgated by the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy Provided That only one sale of the same package of cigarettes shall be used in computing the amount of tax due hereunder

Except as hereinafter provided dealers shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall pay the tax into the State Treasury through the department by purchasing from the department adhesive stamps of such design and denominations as may be prescribed by the department

Manufacturers of cigarettes located either within or outside of this Commonwealth and wholesale dealers in cigarettes located outside of this Commonwealth may purchase stamps from the department and affix such stamps in the manner hereinafter prescribed to packages of cigarettes to be sold within this Commonwealth in which case the dealer within this Commonwealth receiving such stamped packages of cigarettes will not be required to purchase and affix stamps on such packages of cigarettes

Section 5 Each dealer shall affix within the time hereinafter prescribed to each package of cigarettes stamps furnished by and purchased from the department evidencing the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall cancel such stamps before such cigarettes are offered for sale or before they are otherwise disposed of unless stamps have been affixed to such packages of cigarettes before such dealer received them Each wholesale dealer in this Commonwealth shall affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department prior to the delivery of such packages to any retail dealer in this Commonwealth

Each retail dealer in this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under Section 3 (a) hereof shall immediately upon the receipt of any cigarettes at his place of business so affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department or shall immediately mark in ink on each unopened box carton or other container of such cigarettes the word "received" and the month day and year of such receipt and shall affix his signature thereto The retail dealer shall in any event open such box carton or other container and immediately affix such stamps to each package therein and cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department within twenty-four hours after such receipt and prior to the sale of such cigarettes

Whenever any cigarettes are found in the place of business of such retail dealer without the stamps affixed and cancelled or not marked as having been received within the preceding twenty-four hours as required by this section the prima facie presumption shall arise that such cigarettes are kept therein in violation of the provisions of this act

Stamps shall be affixed to each package of cigarettes of an aggregate denomination not less than the amount of the tax upon the contents therein and shall be affixed in such manner that they will be visible to the purchaser. Upon affixing stamps to a package of cigarettes the person affixing them shall cancel them by such method or in such manner as may be prescribed by the Department.

Section 6 The department shall prescribe prepare and furnish adhesive stamps of such denominations and quantities as may be necessary for the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act. The department shall make provisions for the sale of such stamps in such places and at such times as it may deem necessary.

The department shall appoint wholesale dealers in cigarettes within this Commonwealth and may appoint any other persons within or without the Commonwealth as agents to affix the stamps to be used in paying the tax herein imposed upon sales of cigarettes but a wholesale dealer shall at all times have the right to appoint the person who is to affix the stamps to any cigarettes under his control and whenever the department shall sell consign or deliver to any such agent any such stamps such agent shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services and expenses as such agent in affixing such stamps and to retain out of the moneys to be paid by him for such stamps a commission of seven and one-half per centum on the par value thereof if and when such agent has purchased the stamps affixed by him directly from the department. The department is hereby authorized and required to allow such commission or compensation in the settlement of the accounts of such agent upon payment by him into the State Treasury through the department of any moneys which may be or become due to the Commonwealth by reason of the sale delivery or consignment to such agent of such stamps.

Section 7 Every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale within this Commonwealth and every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail within this Commonwealth except commissaries ship's stores and voluntary unincorporated organizations of the Army or of the Navy personnel operating under regulations promulgated by the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy shall maintain and keep for a period of two years such record or records of cigarettes received sold and delivered within this Commonwealth by him together with invoices bills of lading and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department.

The department or any agent appointed in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers invoices and other records the stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are placed stored and sold and equipment of and such wholesale or retail dealer pertaining to the sale and delivery of cigarettes taxable under this act to verify the accuracy of the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act. Every such person is hereby directed and required to give to the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized representative the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations as are hereby provided and required.

Section 8 The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to

(a) The method and the means to be used in the cancellation of stamps

(b) The denominations and sale of stamps

(c) Any other matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act

Section 9 The tax imposed by this act shall be in lieu of the mercantile license tax heretofore imposed upon the business of selling cigarettes

Section 10 Whenever any cigarettes upon which stamps have been placed by a dealer have been sold and shipped by him into another state for sale or use therein or have been sold to commissaries ship's stores and voluntary unincorporated organizations of the Army or of the Navy personnel operating under regulations promulgated by the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy for resale to authorized purchasers or have become unfit for use and consumption or unsaleable or have been destroyed such dealers shall be entitled to a refund of the actual amount of tax paid by him with respect to such cigarettes. If the department is satisfied that any dealer is entitled to a refund it shall certify the proposed amount of such refund to the Board of Finance and Revenue for approval and thereafter shall issue to such dealer stamps of sufficient value to cover the refund as approved by the board. The department is hereby authorized to adopt prescribe and promulgate such rules and regulations with regard to the presentation and proof of claim for refunds as it may deem advisable.

The department may promulgate rules and regulations to relieve manufacturers and dealers from affixing the stamps on such cigarettes as are sold and shipped to points outside the Commonwealth for use outside the Commonwealth or on such cigarettes as are sold to commissaries ship's stores and voluntary unincorporated organizations of the Army or of the Navy personnel operating under regulations promulgated by the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy for resale to authorized purchasers.

Section 11 Every person other than a common carrier or the employes thereof who shall possess or transport any cigarettes upon the public highways roads or streets of this Commonwealth for the purpose of delivery sale or disposition shall be required to have in his actual possession invoices or delivery tickets for such cigarettes. The absence of such invoices or delivery tickets shall be prima facie evidence that such person is a dealer in cigarettes in this Commonwealth and subject to the provisions of this act.

Section 12 (a) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without being the holder of a cigarette permit or permits as required by this act shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment thereof to undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

(b) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without purchasing and affixing stamps to each package thereof as required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced for the first offense to pay a fine of not less than one hundred ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) or to suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court and in the case of a conviction of a second or subsequent offense hereunder shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and to suffer imprisonment for a term not less than six (6) months or more than three (3) years.

(c) Any person who shall fail neglect or refuse to comply with or shall violate the rules and regulations prescribed adopted and promulgated by the department under the provisions of this act or who shall refuse to permit the department or any agent appointed by it in writing to examine his books papers invoices and other records his stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are prepared stored and sold and his equipment pertaining to the sale of cigarettes taxable under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or to suffer imprisonment of not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court.

(d) Any person who falsely or fraudulently makes forges alters or counterfeits any stamp prescribed by the department under the provisions of this act or causes or procures to be falsely or fraudulently made forged altered or counterfeited any such stamp or knowingly and willingly utters publishes passes or tenders as true any such false altered forged or counterfeited stamp or uses more than once any stamp provided for and required by this act for the purpose of evading the tax hereby imposed and assessed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to suffer imprisonment for a term of not less than two (2) years or more than five (5) years

Section 13 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 14 This act shall become effective thirty days after its final enactment and shall continue in effect until and including the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

An Act to amend section 4408 of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" providing for appeals by policemen who are fined suspended or discharged after hearing

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 That section 4408 of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4408 Suspension and Discharge Reduction of Employees Appeals by Policemen All employees subject to civil service shall be subject to suspension by the director of the department for misconduct or violation of any law of this Commonwealth any ordinance of the city or regulation of the department pending action by the city council upon the charges made against any of such employees. On hearing before the city council where they may be represented by counsel they may be fined or suspended for a period not exceeding thirty days with or without pay or they may be discharged by city council if found guilty of the charges made against them. The director of each such department may for misconduct or violation as aforesaid suspend any employee of such department for a period of ten days with or without pay without preferring charges and without a hearing of council. Provided however That if it should become necessary to reduce the number of men in said department for purposes of economy seniority rights shall prevail and any and all removals for such cause or causes shall be from the member last appointed and the member or members serving the shortest time shall be removed first but members with longer times of service may be discharged for cause.

Any policeman aggrieved by the action of the council in fining suspending or discharging him shall have the right to appeal by petition within thirty days after receipt of written notice of such action which it shall be the duty of the council to give to the court of common pleas of the county which court shall hear the charges made against the policeman de novo. The issue before the court shall be whether the action of the council shall be affirmed or be modified in any respect or whether the charges should be dismissed. Where any policeman has been suspended by action of council and the charges are dismissed on appeal the policeman shall receive full compensation for the entire period of suspension.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 917, (House Bill No. 235), as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 13), entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as previously reenacted and amended by extending the provisions thereof for a further limited period of time

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six—P. L. 13) entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 46) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same That the following words terms and phrases used in this act are for the purposes hereof defined as follows

"Liquor" Any alcoholic spirituous vinous fermented or other alcoholic beverage or combination of liquors and mixed liquor a part of which is spirituous vinous fermented or otherwise alcoholic and all drinks or drinkable liquids preparations or mixtures intended for beverage purposes which contain more than one-half of one per centum of alcohol by volume except alcohol and malt or brewed beverage

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth.

"Board" The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board of this Commonwealth.

"Fiscal Month" The monthly period established from time to time by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for the purpose of conducting its business.

Section 2 Until the first day of June one thousand nine hundred "forty-three" an emergency State tax is hereby imposed and assessed at the rate of ten per centum of the net price of all liquors sold by the board. The tax herein imposed shall be collected by the board from the purchasers of the liquor from the board. The amount of such ten per centum so collected by the board under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury through the department in the manner and within the times herein specified and shall be credited to the General Fund.

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the board to transmit to the department on or before the fifteenth day of each calendar month a statement of its receipts from sales of liquor and taxes collected during the preceding fiscal month and such other information as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this act at which time it shall also be the duty of the board to pay to the department the tax imposed upon such liquor by the provisions of this act. Provided however That the board may in its discretion add the tax imposed by this act to the wholesale and retail price at which liquors are sold and eliminate any accounting of such tax separate from sale prices and in such case the amount of the tax for any calendar month shall be ascertained by dividing the entire gross receipts derived from sales at Pennsylvania liquor stores during such month by eleven and the quotient thus obtained shall be deemed the amount of the tax for such month payable over under this section.

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1008. (House Bill No. 231), as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" as previously reenacted and amended by extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 64) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows:

An Act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties.

Section 1 Short Title Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Corporate Net Income Tax Act".

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning.

"Corporation" A corporation having capital stock joint-stock association or limited partnership either organized under the laws of this Commonwealth the United States or any other state territory or foreign country or dependency and doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation. The word "corporation" shall not include building and loan associations banks bank and trust companies national banks savings institutions trust companies title insurance companies beneficial life and limited life insurance companies mutual fire mutual casualty and mutual life insurance companies and foreign stock companies registered in this Commonwealth and therein engaged in doing business as life fire and casualty insurance companies and surety companies.

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth.

"Net income" 1 In case the entire business of the corporation is transacted within this Commonwealth net income for the calendar year or fiscal year as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government subject however to any correction thereof for fraud evasion or error as finally ascertained by the Federal Government. Provided That additional deductions shall be allowed from net income on account of any Federal taxes paid during such calendar or fiscal year for the preceding calendar or fiscal year or accrued during such calendar or fiscal year for such year as the case may be and on account of any dividends received from any other corporation And provided further That in the case of stock life fire casualty and indemnity insurance companies doing business on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policyholders out of net income

2 In case the entire business of any corporation other than a corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows

(a) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The remainder of such net income shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributable to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employees and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employees

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from

(1) sales fees and commissions except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

3 In case the entire business of any corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as shall be attributed to business transacted within this Commonwealth by multiplying such net income by a fraction of which the numerator is the gross premiums received from business transacted within the Commonwealth as hereinafter defined and of which the denominator is the amount of the gross premiums received from all its business "Gross Premiums" shall mean the amount of dues fees and premiums stated in the policy contracts and shall include gross premiums of every character and description received during the taxable year from all underwriting activities whether said premiums were received in money or in the form of notes credits or any other substitute for money less the following deductions

(a) All premiums returned on policies cancelled or not taken

(b) In the case of stock companies with participating features an additional deduction for that portion of the premiums returned to the policyholders

(c) In the case of life insurance companies an additional deduction for dividends declared and actually used by policyholders in payment of renewal premiums

"Gross premiums received from business transacted in the Commonwealth" shall mean gross premiums received from policies and annuities written on property or risks located or resident in this Commonwealth whether such premiums were collected in this Commonwealth or elsewhere

"Persons" Every natural person association or corporation Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation shall be subject to and shall pay for the privilege of doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation a State excise tax at the rate of six per centum per annum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section 4 of this act in which case such tax at the rate of six per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six a similar tax at the rate of ten per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of ten per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and a similar tax at the rate of seven per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one and one thousand nine hundred forty-two except when a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of seven per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one and one thousand nine hundred forty-two

The tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws

Section 4 Report and Payment of Tax For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two and one thousand nine hundred forty-three to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department a report under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act Such report shall set forth

(a) A true copy of its return to the Federal Government of the annual net income arising or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portions of said return as the department may designate

(b) If no return was filed with the Federal Government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and

(c) Such other information as the department may require

The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

Every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until sixty (60) days after settlement and thereafter at the rate of twelve (12) per centum per annum until paid except that any taxes found due as the result of an appeal to the court of common pleas or any appellate court shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date such taxes are due and payable until paid Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

If any corporation closes its fiscal year not upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and reports to the Federal Government as of such other date or would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government such corporation shall certify such fact to the Department of Revenue and shall make the report herein required within thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all other respects to the provisions of this act

If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly a majority of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income Provided That consolidated reports may be made only by corporations making consolidated returns to the Federal Government

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to hear and determine any petition for the resettlement of taxes alleged to have been overpaid and upon the allowance of such petition to resettle such taxes Wherever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation. The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act. The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act. Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized. Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1009, (House Bill No. 233), as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 640) entitled "An act to provide revenue by levying a tax upon the shares of stock of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of the act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate from loss by reason of defective titles liens and encumbrances and of companies entitled to the benefits of and of companies having any of the powers of companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled 'An act conferring upon certain fidelity insurance safety deposit trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of the supplements thereto' approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five commonly known as title insurance or trust companies" by continuing the increased rate of tax for a further limited period of time and reducing the rate of tax after such limited period of time

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 640) entitled "An act to provide revenue by levying a tax upon the shares of stock of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate from loss by reason of defective titles liens and encumbrances and of companies entitled to the benefits of and of companies having any of the powers of companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled 'An act conferring upon certain fidelity insurance safety deposit trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of the supplements thereto' approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five commonly known as title insurance or trust companies" as last amended by the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 48) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act every company incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and its supplements or any other act of Assembly heretofore or hereafter approved for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate from loss by reason of defective titles liens and encumbrances and every company entitled to benefits of and every company having any of the powers of companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled "An act conferring upon certain fidelity insurance safety deposit trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of the supplements thereto" approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five commonly known as title insurance or trust companies and every company organized as a bank and trust company or as a trust company under any act of Assembly heretofore or hereafter approved except any such companies all of the shares of capital stock of which (other than shares necessary to qualify directors) are owned by a company which is liable to pay to the Commonwealth a tax on shares shall on or before the fifteenth day of February in each and every year make to the Department of Revenue a report in writing setting forth the full number of shares of the capital stock subscribed for or issued by such company and the actual value thereof as of December thirty-first preceding which shall be ascertained as hereinafter provided and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue for the calendar years ending December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-six December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-two to assess such shares for taxation at the rate of eight mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof and thereafter at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof the actual value of each share of stock to be ascertained and fixed by adding together the amount of capital stock paid in the surplus and undivided profits and dividing this amount by the number of shares

It shall be the duty of every such company within a period of sixty days after the date of such settlement by the Department of Revenue to collect the amount of said tax from its shareholders and pay the same to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue Provided That upon the payment of the tax fixed by this act into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue the shares and so much of the capital stock surplus profits and deposits of such company as shall not be invested in real estate shall be exempt from all other taxation under the laws of this Commonwealth The procedure in case the Department of Revenue be not satisfied with the report made by any title insurance or trust company and the penalties for failing to make such report and pay the tax shall be as provided by law

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill now has passed the Senate without amendment. It is one of the bills which raises a question as to whether or not—if there is a change in the savings bank and national bank stock tax—whether this bill would not have to bear the same tax rate. Since there is no amendment to this bill, if we now pass it to the House, it will mean that we will not be able to correct this bill as the result of any conference, and I understood it was intended that this bill should be placed on the postponed Calendar to await the result of a conference between the House and the Senate on these tax bills; at least, that was a resolution adopted at a meeting of the Committee on Finance.

Mr. EDMONDS. I do not recall any such resolution in the Finance Committee meeting.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Delaware will recall that when a change was made by the committee, in the personal property tax from three mills to four mills, I raised the question that if that occurred and if the tax were reduced to three mills, whether it is not true you would have to reduce the taxes on trust company stock as well to three mills. I recall the Senator from Montgomery agreed with me, and I then made the suggestion if the bills went into a conference committee this bill would have to be corrected and since this bill, if it has passed third reading without amendment, there would be no cause for a conference committee and we would not be able to get it unless we recalled it from the Governor.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, my strong hope would be that the House would recognize the difficulties. I might say the next bill has an amendment by the Senate, which would relieve the difficulty.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I am afraid they will not do it, Mr. President. The hope of the gentleman from Montgomery is one way and my feeling is different. I am suggesting that this bill ought to be placed on the postponed Calendar.

Mr. EDMONDS. It has already passed, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I think the vote by which it passed should be reconsidered.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Has the Chair announced the vote, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has announced the vote. The only way the bill can be placed on the postponed Calendar is to reconsider the vote by which it has passed third reading.

The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, understands the vote has been announced?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I understand, Mr. President, the vote has been announced.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as Chairman of the Finance Committee does the gentleman recall a resolution which the committee adopted, that this bill on third reading, was to be placed on the postponed Calendar.

Mr. HEYBURN. Yes, I do, Mr. President. I could not quite realize at the time how the Finance Committee could control the action of the Senate, but I do remember the gentleman from Philadelphia offering such a resolution to the committee at that time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. And it was passed, is that correct?

Mr. HEYBURN. It was. I think, however, at the time I raised a question as to whether or not we could control the action of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not asking the committee to control action of the Senate; I am asking that the Senate carry out the desires of the committee, which I am now reporting to this Senate. This is not a question of tactics; it is a question in view of importance of this bill, whether this bill should be changed, in view of the fact the other bills have been amended, and in order to be considered by a conference committee, House Bill 233 must necessarily be changed.

Mr. HEYBURN. That is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Otherwise there would be a question of discrimination in the tax base and tax subjects, and because of that it would be necessary for us to have Senate Bill 233 available for amendment.

Mr. EDMONDS. I think if the Senator from Philadelphia will allow me to so state, he misunderstands the facts as to this trust company shares tax. If this tax were heavier than on the bank shares it would cause no difficulty. If the bank shares were heavier than this tax it would cause a great deal of difficulty. The difficulty the gentleman from Philadelphia has in mind might arise if the tax on the bank shares were heavier than the tax on the trust company shares, but with the situation as here presented I do not see how the difficulty the gentleman from Philadelphia has in mind can arise.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not having any difficulty about it. I realize this is a trust company bill; this is a bill which taxes title insurance company and trust company stock, but the Attorney General and several others with whom the matter has been discussed say it is quite possible, if we fail to have that tax on the same basis as the national bank tax, it will raise a question between banks in Philadelphia and in this state; the banks will say, or small trust companies will say, they are being taxed on one base and another trust company at another rate, different rates on practically the same subject matter, and therefore it was suggested, and I think the gentleman from Montgomery agreed at that time, and Mr. Schockley was there and he agreed, it might be safer to reduce that tax and correct the difference.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the whole subject of these taxes on bank shares is exceedingly complicated and involved along certain lines, but I am impressed that the point of view of the state authorities is not the fear the gentleman from Philadelphia has at all; their fear is that if they tax the banks at a lower rate than the trust company, all of the trust companies in Pennsylvania would reorganize as national banks and will leave us with no state banking institutions. All of these difficulties are difficulties which arise when you have a change in one without a corresponding change in the other and that leads to difficulty of the House on legislation on this subject.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in order to keep the record straight I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, no business has intervened between the vote being announced and the motion now made by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. SHAPIRO. There is no such rule I know of, Mr. President.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the vote has been announced, has it?

The PRESIDENT. It has. The proper procedure would be to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. After some business has intervened, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. To save argument I will make the motion later on, after we have called up another bill.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1010, (House Bill No. 234), as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 292) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" by increasing the rate of tax for a further limited period of time

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 292) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" as last amended by the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 53) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act every bank or savings institution having capital stock incorporated by or under any law of this Commonwealth or under any law of the United States and located within this Commonwealth shall on or before the fifteenth day of February in each and every year make to the Department of Revenue a report in writing verified as required by law setting forth the full number of shares of the capital stock subscribed for or issued as of the preceding thirty-first day of December by such bank or savings institution and the actual value thereof as of the preceding thirty-first day of December which actual value shall be ascertained as hereinafter provided It shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue to assess such shares for taxation at the same rate as that imposed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the State that is to say for the calendar years ending December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-six December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-two at the rate of eight mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof and thereafter at the rate of four mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof the actual value of each share of stock to be ascertained and fixed by adding together the amount of capital stock paid in the surplus and undivided profits and dividing this amount by the number of shares It shall be the duty of every bank or savings institution within a period of sixty days after the date of such settlement by the Department of Revenue to collect the amount of said tax from its shareholders and pay the same to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue Provided That in case any bank or savings institution having capital stock incorporated under the law of this State or of the United States shall collect annually from the shareholders thereof said tax of eight mills or four mills as the case may be on the dollar upon the actual value of all the shares of stock of said bank or savings institution according to the provisions of this act that have been subscribed for or issued and pay the same into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue the shares and so much of the capital and profits of such bank or savings institution as shall not be invested in real estate shall be exempt from local taxation under the laws of this Commonwealth and such bank or savings institution shall not be required to make any report to the local assessor or county commissioners of its personal property owned by it in its own right for purposes of taxation and shall not be required to pay any tax thereon The procedure in case the Department of Revenue be not satisfied with the report made by any bank or savings institution and the penalties for failing to make such report and pay the tax shall be as provided by law

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill is one of a series of bills which the Democratic Administration has determined to reduce because of the position they have taken in connection with the Governor's budget, and while I am one of those who wants to go to the dinner with my colleagues, I still feel the business of the state is of importance, and if necessary I shall have to forego the pleasure of attending the dinner. I feel this is of sufficient importance that we understand just what the position is we take on this bill and for that reason I should like to state it.

From January until now there has been made available to no one, and there is not yet available in any department, the information from which anyone could say with any degree of accuracy how much money the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will receive from personal property taxes, from net corporate income taxes, for the year 1940, notwithstanding the fact that a majority of the corporations in Pennsylvania have made returns of corporate net income, and that the great majority of personal property taxes are already on file with the Department of Revenue now.

Mr. President, we would have been greatly helped in our deliberations if the department had given heed to the Governor's own message, in which he stated that most of the figures he used were probably guesses because there was no accurate information on the subject. I think it would have been a very easy matter for the department to have segregated or added up the figures on the returns they now have on net corporate income and the same with respect to returns on personal property, but they did not do it, and the members of the House, the Democratic Party, and some of the people who are interested in the subject matter went over the budget which the Governor delivered to us, item for item, considered every item according to present receipts, comparing present income on each item with the estimates of the Governor, received information with regard to national income, and considered all of the factors or elements that might enter into the picture.

As an illustration, the collections on the gasoline tax today, in the last four or five months, if the basis of those calculations are taken, there is every reason to believe and every ground to estimate that the gasoline tax will bring in at least thirty-seven millions of dollars instead of the thirty-one millions of dollars which the Governor recommended? I am now using round figures.

When you have information from authoritative sources of the Federal Government that our income will be ninety billions of dollars instead of seventy-three billions of dollars, as last year, and when you know that our income this year will represent close to seven and a half billions of dollars out of ninety billions of dollars, and we have compared it with our income of the previous year, it gives an eleven per cent increase.

Now, Mr. President, allowing for the fact that this is an industrial state, we had the right to take those figures into consideration and we made increases in the budget, increased the estimates in the budget—

Mr. President, I can be heard without using the microphone but I can not be heard with a background of murmuring which I hear myself.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia is entitled to attention. There must be order so that the Senator may be heard.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am really only addressing myself to my colleagues, and the audience does not bother me except when it makes a noise.

We assumed, Mr. President, for instance, the gross receipts tax represents a major portion of the income of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—I mean the business of the thousands of those people who turn into this state gross receipts tax represents major industry. We know what electric current will be consumed and what the steel mills will be doing in the next two years, and yet we increased the Governor's estimates, which were seventeen millions of dollars, only by a million and a half or a million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars on that item.

We increased the Governor's estimate by some six millions of dollars on the gasoline tax, and we increased the Governor's estimate on the liquor tax by four million dollars, and we increased the Governor's estimate on net corporate income tax by six million dollars.

In other words, Mr. President, the Governor said since we collected some fifty-two millions of dollars in net corporate income taxes in 1939-41, he estimated a twenty per cent increase and said we would get sixty-one million dollars.

I think we have every right to take the position that we have taken on these increases. As an illustration I would like to give you some information which comes to me from an authoritative source. I was contending in the conferences in dealing with the tax that the income from corporations for 1940 would be so great that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would receive at least twenty-five millions of dollars a year increase in that tax. My colleagues in the conference would not agree with me. They felt that they would play safe, and they arrived at estimates in a manner which has been described by Mr. Achterman in a statement he issued on the floor of the House. I have made inquiries in the last three or four months and I have now received these figures.

These figures show that there are some 33,867 corporations making returns in Pennsylvania; the Federal Government now has all of the returns except 1,901 of these corporations. They have taken the 1,901 corporations and have assumed that they will make no greater profits than they generally earned for the year 1939, in spite of the fact that all of the other returns show a considerable increase in their corporate profits, and they have added these 1,901 returns to the aggregate amount of returns already received, and they have found that the corporate income will be $875,000,000. Last year from the same corporations the net corporate income was $661,000,000.

These 1,901 corporations, taking them at the same income and adding all those, as I say, gives us $875,000,000. The taxes will be $172,000,000 and the net income available to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for tax purposes will be therefore $703,000,000.

Now, Mr. President, in order to play safe I have ascertained these 1,901 corporations might have to pay an added tax on their increased income, and I have made an allowance based on actual figures of thirty million dollars, so I find that there will be available for taxation purposes, corporate returns for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of $672,000,000.

That is not out of line when you compare the returns to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1939, if you look at those figures, and you will find when you multiply $675,000,000 by seven per cent, which is our income tax, you will get close to $47,000,000 in one year.

I am not sure whether corporations making returns in Pennsylvania are permitted to deduct from their gross income before paying taxes, the capital stock taxes which they pay. If they are and if you take the capital stock tax according to the budget, the domestic corporations pay $43,000,000 and foreign corporations pay $13,000,000 or a total of $56,000,000.

If you deduct that from $670,000,000, you still have $620,000,000, and if you multiply that by seven you still have over $42,000,000 for taxes for one year from corporations.

That means eighty million dollars for two years. The Governor estimated $61,000,000; the Democratic Administration estimated $66,000,000.

Mr. President, I am not dealing in the realm of fantastic figures; I am giving you figures verified by a telegram I received this morning, making sure my figures, were right and I have come to the definite conclusion that in view of that fact, the Democratic Administration is absolutely warranted in saying two things: First, there ought to be the assumption by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of its obligations for important governmental functions, and that means the taking over of the mental hospitals, and in complying with its responsibilities under the 1938 Act for the schools in the transportation of high school students, teachers salaries—rather high school tuition; and, secondly, there ought to be a reduction in taxes and it ought to be now.

Now, I am frank to say that there is a tinge of feeling in my mind, a tinge of politics, and I admit it, but I am afraid the Administration is trying to make a political issue out of this situation. I say that frankly. If I am wrong about it, I am ready to admit it, but I know that the Administration has available to it sources much more readily than I have, which will show what I am saying to be true or false, or let me put it another way—correct or incorrect. I know that these things could have and should have been done before now.

The only reductions we have made in the whole tax structure will amount to $6,750,000 in personal property taxes, and $7,500,000 in the bank shares, and possibly another $1,700,000 for corporate loans, if that is to be reduced.

I see the gentleman from Montgomery shaking his head, so I will repeat: The tax reduction which we have recommended, in the personal property taxes, is $6,750,000, which represents one fourth of $27,000,000, which is the amount of money received from the personal property taxes. In two years it would be one fourth of the total receipts for the two years.

The capital stock tax will represent one eighth of $6,100,000, which it is estimated would be received from capital stock tax, which is $750,000, and the tax on interest bearing debts will amount to one-eighth of the total or $1,750,000.

As the budget is drawn up by the Democratic Administration, there is an excess of close to two million dollars over the amount of appropriations, which will leave sufficient to take care of that—should the Senate and House agree that under the law it will be necessary to reduce from eight to seven mills the corporate loans tax.

I say under those circumstances I am going to vote against any increase or return to the four mills tax, which was reduced in the House to three mills.

Now, I am not trying to make a speech about this thing; I am trying to place on the record for the benefit of my colleagues the figures which we have available, and the basis for those figures, so that you may know when you vote and be able to guide yourselves accordingly.

I have many of the figures that you may want. In my desk I have some of them, many of them in my mind, but I am quite sure an examination of this budget will indicate to you that we have not been dealing in fantasies; we have not been dealing in theory, we have been dealing in facts. I agree with the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, that we have been in the realm of estimates, but our estimates are based on what the Commonwealth is doing today, and according to the figures we have before us, they are basically correct.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, now that the Democratic fiscal proposition has been placed before the Senate, I would like to say a few words with reference in comment thereon.

In the first place, I think that the criticism of the gentleman from Philadelphia about his difficulty in obtaining exact figures from the Department of Revenue is not justified. The Department of Revenue receives in March and April the corporation reports of income, but until those reports are settled—the settlement of those reports and the auditing of the same takes several months, and it will be several months before the state knows definitely what will be received on the corporate returns that were filed this spring, but there is something upon which there is no delay, and from which it was easy to obtain figures from the Department of Revenue.

I have here the figures for the biennium 1939-1941. That biennium is not yet gone, but twenty-three months of it are gone, and those twenty-three months have been compared with twenty-three months of receipts.

The grouping of these returns is somewhat different from the grouping as used in the budget, but I think they will be understandable to all of my colleagues.

Corporation taxes, budget estimate for twenty-three months, $98,403,529; receipts, $96,132,229.

Special taxes, budget for twenty-three months, $13,-814,959; actual collections, $13,683,644.

Special emergency taxes, budget for twenty-three months, $153,512,621; receipts, $154,080,278.

Business licenses, budget estimate for twenty-three months, $6,504,435; actual collections, $6,441,933.

Inheritance taxes, budget estimate for twenty-three months, $37,385,097; receipts, $31,824,080.

Institutional collections, budget estimate for twenty-three months, $13,577,373; actual receipts, $11,903,308.

Liquor store profits, budget estimate for twenty-three months, $29,000,000; receipts, $29,000,000.

All other receipts, budget estimate for twenty-three months, $14,201,158; receipts, $14,191,394.

Total receipts available for appropriation, twenty-three months of this biennium, ending April 30th, the budget estimate of receipts amounted to $366,399,172, and the actual receipts for the same twenty-three months amounted to $357,266,866.

In other words, according to the budget estimate for the twenty-three months ending April 30, 1941, the amount of receipts calculated was $366,399,172, and the actual receipts were $357,266,866, the difference, which is under the budget, being $9,142,306 for the first twenty-three months of this biennium.

Now, Mr. President, it is perfectly clear that there are legitimate reasons for this. Some taxes are up and some taxes are down. As to the inheritance taxes, I think I should call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that with the depletion of the large fortunes from the federal and state inheritance taxes, we can not expect to have those fortunes repeated to us for income purposes, and I think along any line of inheritance taxation we must expect the trend to be downward for a great many years to come.

Now, with regard to the corporate net income tax, upon which the gentleman from Philadelphia relies particularly, I am obliged to say to him again that it is absurd, from the point of view of the fiscal program, to deal with the corporate net income of corporations of Pennsylvania for the next two years without taking into consideration the Federal taxes which will certainly be imposed in the next three months. He and I agree absolutely that the federal taxes are deducted before the tax base for Pennsylvania is reached. If the federal government takes one hundred per cent excess profits tax, then all of the additional gain for the corporations of Pennsylvania disappears, and our corporate income goes down accordingly. It is possible for a corporation to enter into a period in which there will be an increase in net income and yet at the same time a decrease of corporation income taxes for Pennsylvania, and the uncertain factor in there is the uncertain factor as to what the federal government is going to charge in its new tax bill.

Mr. President, we are face to face now with a prophecy from financiers at Washington to the effect that something like a billion dollars more is to be taken out of the corporations of America, and under those circumstances any reliance upon the feeling that the gain of the corporations in the last five or six months will continue for the next two years, as a stable basis of revenue, is absurd.

Now, Mr. President, when we come down to the revenue laws themselves, as they are before us, we find that in the House of Representatives they took off one mill from the personal property tax and that, as the gentleman says, amounts to a saving of something like seven millions of dollars in the biennium. They took off one mill from the bank shares tax and that in the biennium amounts to a saving of about seven hundred thousand dollars. Those two are the savings they represent.

They did not think, however, of the fact that we are already short nine million dollars in this biennium, and that is a deficit which must be made up if we are going to operate on the funds collected.

To my mind the issue in the financial policy is perfectly clear; the Democrats spent the money before they had it and that is why we have these mental hospitals on the state program now, and now they are saving money before they have it and that again to my mind is a vice in fiscal planning.

We on the other hand, Mr. President, might proceed a little more slowly but I do believe that we proceed in a more orderly manner and before we come to the stage where some taxes can be pinched off our states taxes—and nobody would welcome that more strongly than myself—but until we reach that stage we must see some positive signs that the income is there in order that the base of the income will be safely protected and in an orderly way.

We believe it will be necessary, in order that the finances of the biennium may be provided, to restore those taxes in which the reductions were made over in the House, and we have an additional reason for feeling so, because certainly the first of the reductions leads us to a clearly unconstitutional tax and one which would cause this Commonwealth a great deal of difficulty.

The first man on the floor of this Senate who called my attention to its unconstitutionality was the gentleman from Philadelphia himself, namely, that the corporate loans tax and the personal property tax are a part of the one tax measure; the only difference is under the corporation loans tax, the corporations have the tax collected by their treasurer and remit to the Commonwealth, whereas under the personal property tax, the tax is paid to the treasurer of the counties or else to the Department of Revenue direct.

Those two taxes have always been kept on a parity, four mills and eight mills, and when the House reduced the personal property tax to seven mills but at the same time did not reduce the corporate loan tax, it left us in a situation in which there can be an attack upon the tax from every taxpayer of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I have here before me an opinion of the Dauphin County Court, that was handed down only a month or two ago, in the Erie Dry Goods case, and there is a sentence in that opinion which strikes me as very significant in the message it gives to us. In it the court has discussed the relationship of those two taxes and it goes on to say: "Since the tax imposed by Section 3 (personal property tax) and Section 18 (corporate loans tax) is upon the same property, only the mode of collection being different, we think it would be unconstitutional to tax under section 3 at the rate of one mill and under section 18 at the rate of four mills. This would not be uniformity of taxation."

That was an opinion handed down only two months ago. Now, what has happened has been that the House has given us a bill in which they tax under section 3 at seven mills and under section 18 at eight mills. The uniformity therefore disappears and the bill itself becomes open to very serious attack.

I hope it will not be necessary to raise that question, because I am inclined to think that when sensible men on both sides begin to consider the fact that already there has been a shortage of nine millions of dollars in revenue in the first twenty-three months of this biennium, they will see that it is not possible, with revenue conditions going up and down and up and down, it will not be possible for any man to make a positive prophesy as to what the next two years will produce, and consequently we should make our estimates with due caution.

Personally there are some things in which I think perhaps the policy of the Governor might be subject to some criticism, but I think in his financial management of the state he has done his level best to understand the situation, to run the government with a maximum of economy and to produce results which by the end of his term will place this state on a level keel financially.

Those things I think can be done, for my own part I propose to vote in order that it will be possible for him to do it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am glad the gentleman from Montgomery can make such an able defense, but I am sorry the Governor spoils the defense.

In the first place on February 3, 1941, the Governor said "There will be an increase of five million dollars in the estimates of revenue for the current biennium."

That was at a time when he was trying to keep balanced the budget—just make his income equal to the utmost expenses he could put in and not have to put any more in.

You will remember also the Governor's so-called marvelous method of doing business, requiring the calling of a special session of this Legislature, when he shut his eyes to the facts and appropriated $120,000,000 in the face of estimates he received from his own Secretary of Public Assistance, showing he would need at least $180,000,000, and then you will recall I said on this floor that the relief rolls would require at least two hundred millions of dollars, and the special session proved that was so, and yet the Governor went on and made his budget to meet his estimates or to meet what he wanted to spend.

At the beginning of the year he allows $121,000,000 for relief, and says we have a back log of ten millions of dollars and we will have that for additional relief and will only need to transfer fourteen million dollars, or five million dollars less because I will have five million dollars more revenue.

Now, we come along and say to him we have facts and figures to show you that you are wrong. So he told us he has a nine million dollar shortage now, because we want to reduce taxes, the very thing that he promised the people he would do, which got him elected, and he has continually put off since he was elected.

Now, we have had the figures which the Senator from Montgomery talks about because we have kept in daily contact with that situation. I have some later figures, down to as late as May 20th, which I have kept and maintained, and I find the difference between receipts and estimates amounted to nine million dollars, and that the receipts are $162,800,000 and the estimates were $167,000,000, and that does not include the amount of money, which will be considerable, that will come from the personal property tax, because as the gentleman from Montgomery pointed out, the returns are made in March and April and the payments are not always made in full.

For the month of May, up to the twenty-second, $55,000 was received from personal property taxes and there should be very much more than that.

These figures, some of them are as late as the twenty-second of May, we have kept in touch with the situation and we do believe the Governor will receive up to the estimate and more when all of the figures are compiled; we do believe that all of the figures have not been made available even to us, because we know from the collections in some instances or in some departments, we know from the collections, one relating to the other, there should have been more shown as collected.

We are not worrying about the fact that the Governor says we are nine million dollars short; we know from past experience and from what I have just said to you, the Governor makes his estimates to fit his position. There has not been anybody who has as yet pointed out a single instance in which we cannot justify the increases we have suggested.

Now, Mr. President, going back to the next corporate income tax the gentleman from Montgomery said there will be a billion dollars more taxables in the United States; we know Pennsylvania's relationship would be ten per cent, which is a hundred million dollars. If you take that off the $670,000,000, which is known to be income of the corporations in Pennsylvania, you still have $570,000,000 on which to base your estimate, which will give you $72,000,000 for the two years. We have figured only $66,000,000. The Governor himself is not so much worried about the fact that net corporate income will decrease, because he himself added ten million dollars arbitrarily to the estimate he made long before he had any information on this subject, long before he had any reliable information on this subject.

We have what I think is reliable information and we have now taken the $38,000,000 off that he should have, because if you call a special session to raise additional money for relief in one year you can do it in another one if it is necessary. In the meantime these men would have gotten the reduction in taxes he talked so much about and never gave them, saying it is not necessary and will not be necessary to do it. The Governor says he will give them these reductions when they come, if he has to call a special session to do it, and I say give it to them now without the expense of a special session, and I suggest there is no conflict between the two sets of taxes which will make them unconstitutional.

The gentleman from Montgomery is correct when he says we discussed the problem. The gentleman from Montgomery quoted court decisions. There have been decisions by the Supreme Court which disagreed with decisions of lower courts—but the Democratic leadership wanted to play safe and we put ourselves in the position of having made available in these estimates over two million dollars, which will take care of the reduction in the loans tax and we suggested—first I suggested in committee and now I say here on the floor—that the legal minds in the Attorney General's office came to the conclusion that has to be provided for and it can be without affecting the constitutionality of the act.

I made a motion in committee to reduce the tax from eight to seven mills. I suggest the gentleman from Montgomery made his statement on the basis which he said he was going on, namely, he did not think there was enough money. There are twenty-six million dollars more in this budget or estimates than the Governor has estimated. That will allow enough to take care of the sixteen million dollars it will cost to take up the two functions postponed, it will allow enough for the reductions in taxes that have been made in the corporate loans tax—and I suggest that making nice phrases about it will not help the situation.

These are figures and not phrases we are dealing with, and I concede the gentleman from Montgomery from his experience is better able to make beautiful phrases and high-sounding statements, but I am using figures which I merely transmit to you and do not have to put into phrases and flowery language, and that puts me in a position where I can meet the gentleman on a par—on that basis only.

I suggest to the gentleman from Montgomery that he had better look into the Governor's figures and his statements, because we are going to act on this and if we are going to act on it at all, we will act on facts and not on fancies, and when the gentleman looks into these figures, where I find the Governor says in February he has five million dollars more than the estimate, he can not come in now in May and say he is short nine million dollars. This figure of fourteen million dollars, he should explain that and he should explain that along with the fact that in the four years of his administration, in his two budgets he has submitted for the four years, he has spent $85,000,000 more than was spent by the Earle administration and at the same time spent less money for relief. Those are figures—not phrases—and they have been submitted and I have not heard them denied. He had better give some explanation about why, at this late date, when the Governor had an opportunity, to carry out his promises, he brings out something from thin air and tells us he is short nine million dollars, when his own figures show—with a few more weeks to collect, he is only short four million dollars from those estimates—and those are only estimates, and if the gentlemen from Montgomery will ask these various departments, they will give him these figures I got from the federal government. I know I can go to Washington and get figures on the corporate income taxes for Pennsylvania, but I do not see why they are not available right here because this Commonwealth has to file the same reports, because their reports are required to be in at the same time with the federal government, or within thirty days. We are now in the month of May and all these reports are in or should be, I think, except those making returns on fiscal years and they only amounted to 1,900 out of 33,800.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia talks so quickly and fluently about millions I have to admit I am almost stumped. However, I would like to call to the attention of the Senate some figures.

After some revisions, starting out with $372,000,000, the Governor finally got his estimate for the present biennium up to $388,000,000, but at the present time it looks like there is going to be nine million dollars less revenue than anticipated, which means the revenue in the current biennium will be $379,000,000. Now, as far as optimism is concerned, here is some optimism for you.

The Governor estimates the next biennium will return about $413,000,000, in other words, an advance of $34,000,000, whereas the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro—the Shapiro-Achterman, Lawrence-Kelly budget, provides an increase of $48,000,000 for the biennium, which I believe, Mr. President, is a little bit too optimistic.

I notice the Senator from Philadelphia referred several times to the personal property tax. I happened to be talking in the hotel the other night with the former secretary to Governor George H. Earle—he happens to be a good friend of mine—I mean the secretary to the Governor, personally, and we got to talking about estimates of revenue, and he told me for the years 1937-1939 biennium the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, cooperated with them in their estimates, and the budget estimate in the years 1937-1939 biennium by the Honorable George H. Earle for personal property taxes was $34,000,000, and the actual return was $24,000,000. In other words, he over-estimated in that biennium by ten million dollars on one tax and I am just wondering whether or not the Senator from Philadelphia has not been sort of optimistic in a similar fashion with respect to the 1941-1943 budget.

Here are the 1939-1941 figures on personal property taxes: the budget estimate of the Governor, 1939-1941, was $25,000,000; actual and estimated by the department is now $25,000,000; for the first twenty-three months, the return was $22,000,000; in other words we must get three million dollars more in one month.

The estimate in the budget of the Governor for the 1941-1943 biennium is $27,000,000, so I contend, Mr. President, that there is quite some optimism in the present budget of the James administration.

I am thinking probably it would be a little safe to wait until we get the money before we start talking about reducing taxes, and so forth and so on. It seems to me it is not a question of political advantage or anything of the kind. I think every man in this body would like to repeal the personal property tax in its entirety. However, it seems to me certain money is necessary for the proper operation of the state government, and among the emergency taxes is this four mills personal property tax.

Now, Mr. President, I want to talk a minute about wages during the last several years in the state government and then I will sit down. I do not want to prolong this debate because I know the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, wants to go to that dinner.

In the fiscal year ending May 31, 1932, wages were $18,000,000; in 1933 they were $17,000,000; in 1931 they were $16,000,000; in 1935 they were $27,000,000; in 1936 they were $20,000,000, and in 1937 they were $24,000,000. In 1938, the last year of the last biennium, they amounted to $25,000,000. In 1940 they amounted to $16,000,000. So it seems to me, Mr. President, the actual operating expenses of the State Government have been cut considerably and therefore I think if we would just sit down as State Senators and realize our responsibility to furnish a sufficient amount of money to operate the State Government we can pretty soon agree on this tax program and shut up shop and go home where we belong.

Mr. SHAPIRO. May I make a correction, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I had no connection with the making of the 1937-1939 budget—or the 1935-1937 budget. That was just a little statement thrown in gratis by the gentleman from Delaware, but there are a lot of things that happen out in Delaware County and I do not take that too seriously.

However, Mr. President, I do want to call attention to the fact that the budget estimates of the Governor in 1935-1937 were made up and after the income was increased, the Governor of Pennsylvania, Governor Earle, did not cry or promise to reduce taxes; he reduced taxes by twenty-five million dollars.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1011, (House Bill No. 663), as follows:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from current revenues levied assessed collectible and accruing during such two fiscal years defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto providing for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans and making an appropriation

Whereas The present session of the General Assembly has provided revenues of the Commonwealth amounting to four hundred thirteen million dollars ($413,000,000) for general purposes for the biennial fiscal period beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and

Whereas Such revenues though levied and assessed will not be available in large part for the current and other expenses of the State government until the later part of the two fiscal years respectively of the said biennial fiscal period and the collectible revenues will not be sufficient to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the earlier parts of such fiscal years respectively and

Whereas In order that the obligations of the Commonwealth may be met promptly and in order that the State government might not fail through lack of funds it is necessary temporarily to obtain funds to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the fiscal period aforesaid until the revenues that are subsequently accruing to the State Treasury during said fiscal period are available for this purpose

Section 1 The Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby authorized and directed during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one from time to time to borrow on the credit of the current revenues of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania such sum or sums of money not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of one hundred seventy-five million dollars ($175,000,000) as may be necessary to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during such fiscal years

Section 2 (a) Such loans shall be evidenced by notes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania All of said notes shall mature not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three Such notes are hereby declared to be tax anticipation notes Such notes or renewals thereof shall be issued from time to time for such total amounts in such sums and subject to such terms and conditions rates of interest not in excess of four and one-half per centum (4½%) per annum and time of payment of interest as the Governor Auditor General and State Treasurer shall determine and direct

(b) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall bear either the signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer or the facsimile signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in which latter event such notes shall be countersigned by two officers of the Philadelphia National Bank (Loan and Transfer Agent of the Commonwealth) All such notes shall bear a facsimile of the great seal of the Commonwealth

(c) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall have the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of the Commonwealth
